Special to the Indianapolis Journal. MARION, Ind., May 4 .- "If you can't be real quiet, be just as quiet as you can," was the closing injunction and request of City Attorney Swezey to a crowd of nearly thirty-five hundred people at the ball game this afternoon between Indianapolis and Marion. He appealed to the spectators to | St. Paul desist from any unnecessary "rooting," in view of the fact that it was Sunday. He said a great deal depended on the conduct of the crowd as to whether Marion would have Sunday ball in the future. Whether Mr. Swezey's request put a dampening effect upon the crowd or not is not known, -3,457 but it was painful to see the Indianapolis team go down in defeat by a score of 4 to 1, largely because they could not make safe hits at the proper time. Hitting is what causes cheering, and as they was an absence of the former no one in the neighborhood heard much vociferous applause em-

There were many brilliant plays during cheers, especially those made by Sutthoff. Ferguson and Shannon. Sutthoff gathered such a marvelous one it surprised the spectators, and even Sutthoff seemed dazed with the brilliancy of his effort. This sensational play was followed in the last half of the fourth by a similar one by Ferguson. Kuhns had reached first on Lumley's error in right. Woodruff smashed one on the trade mark and Ferguson stuck out his mitt. The ball imbeded in the glove, and, picking it out with his right hand, he threw to first in time to double Kuhns. Shannon's brilliant effort came in the seventh, when he caught a hard fly from Heydon's bat. The fortunes of battle did not smile particularly well on the Hoosier players, and, coupled with bad luck in failing to make some of their hard drives go safe and rather careless fielding at times, St. Paul gathered in a victory. Sutthoff was on the sand pile for Indianapolis, and while the score shows only six hits were made off | hits - Dunkle, Schriver. Double plays him it does not chronicle the fact that two of his gifts were converted into runs and an error and one or two dopey plays ailowed the Saints to lay claim to the victory. Indianapolis hit Ferguson for one more hit than was secured off Sutthoff, but hits at the proper time did not figure in the programme of afternoon sport for the Hooslers.

Owing to Babb being slightly lame as a result of the spiking he received last week at Indianapolis Woodruff was sent to the third sack. He only had two chances, but he accepted them cleanly. He secured one of the hits credited to Indianapolis. Coulter had many hard chances in center, which he gathered in without a flutter, and Kuhns also won admiration by his good fielding. Sutthoff fielded his position without an error, and the same can be said of Ferguson. HOW ST. PAUL WON

Some of the insurrecto leaders FREDERICK WHITNEY HORNE AT conceived the idea of organizing the civil government in that town. So they arranged their plan, sent a delegation to see Gardener at Lucena, succeeded in completely deceiving him and returned with authority to go ahead. They organized a civil government and put none but faithful insurrectos at the head of it. Of course, they ran things to suit themselves. Their principal business was the collection of taxes. There was a poll tax, a house tax, a horse tax, a cariabo tax, a cattle tax, a vehicle tax, a tax on the rice crop, a tax on transfers of property, a tax on marriages and deaths. Every man who came over the bridge into town had to pay a tax. All municipal officers and policemen had to give up half their salaries. #### The President, Mr. Root and Governor Taft Discuss Conditions.

WASHINGTON, May 4.-The President conferred for four hours to-night with Secretary Root and Governor Taft, mainly concerning affairs in the Philippines. The secretary and Miss Root and Governor Taft were guests at dinner and remained Was Invincible in Detroit- at the White House until half past Il o'clock. The dispatch from General Chaffee giving the result of General Davis's campaign in Mindanao was a source of great satisfaction to the officials, although they regretted exceedingly that it became necessary to fight in order to compel submission to the American demands for the surrender of those guilty of the murder of the American soldiers. Secretary Root declined to say whether any additional instructions had been given to General Chaffee for his guidance. It is probable that General Chaffee's future action will be left largely to his own discretion. The President has great respect for General Chaffee's tact. Governor Taft was very well satisfied with the latest news from General Chaffee. It was a cause for congratulation, he said. He believed the effect of what had been accomplished would be beneficent and would settle affairs in Mindanao.

MANILA, May 4 .- The demurrers in the case of the editor of Freedom, who is charged with sedition for publishing remarks censuring the United States Philippine commission rule, were heard yesterday. The defense claims that the articles and remarks in question were neither seditious nor libelous. L. R. Wilfley, the attorney general, argued that the case should not be tried under the authorities quoted, but only under the laws passed by in the Central Insane Hospital. He escaped the commission. The constitution of the labor day committee provides that there must be $1,000 in the treasury as a standing fund which cannot be used for any purpose without a revision of the constitution. This fund is kept to insure against loss for Labor day celebrations. The treasury contained $418.55 over this standing fund and it was given to the labor temple committee with little opposition, although some members wanted more definite information regarding the pro-

A committee of three, consisting of R. E. Groff, Thad. Gurley and John Koch, was appointed to revise the constitution, as is done each year, in order to keep pace with changing conditions. It is said that Central Labor Union still has its eye on the funds of the committee and it may try to press an amendment so that the standing fund may be reduced in order to make more money available for the labor temple movement. However, any change of that sort will certainly bring up the old fight and it is doubtful if the standing fund can be reduced. Some of the members of the committee are in favor of increasing the standing fund, so that the money cannot be touched until there is an amount sufficient to make a big showing towards erecting a labor temple. The committee was organized for the purpose of giving Labor day celebrations and raising money for the building of a labor home, and the latter has long been its ambition. Now that Central Labor Union has taken the project out of the hands of the committee some of the members feel disappointed and would like to devise means to give the committee greater honor in the movement The labor temple committee will at once apply the funds toward the erection of the cottage that is to be raffled off to raise money to start a fund for the building of a labor temple.
