ENCAMPMENT OF G. A. R.

THIRTY-THIRD ANNUAL MEETING WILL BEGIN THIS AFTERNOON.

At the Business Session To-morrow Benjamin Starr Will Be Elected Department Commander.

NEXT MEETING AT ANDERSON

ANNUAL MEETING OF THE WOMAN'S RELIEF CORPS.

An Evening Reception Held at the Hotel English—Various Other Gatherings.

The twenty-third annual encampment of the G. A. R. of Indiana begins this afternoon at 2 o'clock in Tomlinson Hall. Milton Garrigus, commander of the Department of Indiana, will make the opening address, after which committees will be appointed. Of these five in number—the most important will be the committee on resolutions, which will probably express the sentiments of Indiana veterans on state and national issues. The sessions this afternoon and to-morrow will be given up entirely to business. This afternoon in addition to the annual reports of the officers the place for the next encampment will probably be selected. To-morrow morning delegates and alternates to the National Encampment will be named. Indiana is entitled to twenty-two delegates. The reports of the committees, including that of the committee on resolutions, will follow, and afterwards miscellaneous and unfinished business will be considered.

To-morrow afternoon the business of the encampment will be concluded with the election of officers for the ensuing year. Benjamin Starr, of Richmond, will be chosen commander. Anderson will be selected as the place for the encampment of 1920. On Thursday the monument will be dedicated by the G. A. R. with beautiful and impressive services. The programme begins in the morning with the parade of regimental flags, terminating at the monument. Adjutant General Smock estimates that 2500 or 4000 old soldiers will fall in behind the flags of their old regiments. Indications are that no less than 6,000 veterans from all parts of the State will attend the encampment. At 8 o'clock Thursday morning details of ten men from each regiment will report to Adjutant General Smock at the Statehouse. To the color bearers, two in number, the scarred and short-torn flags will be given to be borne in the parade. It is the last time the old flags will ever be taken out of their cases unless by a special act of the Legislature. The squads will form on Capitol avenue according to the numbers of their regiments. The Sixth Indiana Volunteers will lead the parade, followed by the Seventh and the Eight. All veterans along the line of march will be given a salute. The parade will start on New Jersey to Ohio, on Ohio to Meridian, on Meridian to the monument. The parade will be held at the monument at 10 o'clock, the hour when the exercises will begin.

Major Menzies, on behalf of the Board of Regents, will present the monument to Governor Durbin, representing the State, and the Governor will turn it over to the General Service in the Statehouse.

The afternoon Tuesday, the annual parade will be held. It will form on Capitol avenue promptly at 2:30 o'clock. It will go on Washington street to East street, on East to New York, on New York to Meridian and on Meridian to the monument. The parade will be held at the monument at 10 o'clock, the hour when the exercises will begin.

The members of the G. A. R. massed at the monument and will listen to the address of the commander-in-chief and will hold a vesper service. The encampment will close Thursday night with two big camp fires, one in English's Opera House, to be presided over by Admiral Brown; the other in Tomlinson Hall, over which Gov. Durbin will preside. Gen. Eli Torrance, Governor Nash, of Ohio, Representative C. W. Landis and Ira Hiram will be the speakers at both camp fires.

Beginning to-day and continuing until Thursday a number of regimental reunions will be held at various places. The Spanish-American and Philippine war veterans will move westward around the Circle west to-morrow night. General Torrance will be the principal speaker.

NEWS OF THE THEATERS.

Viola Allen and her company will present "The Hunchback" this afternoon and "In the Palace of the King" this evening at English's. James Sheridan Knowles's comedy was acted for the first time in London in 1832. Fanny Kemble was the Julia then, and also a few months later at Philadelphia. Of the play, she wrote her autobiography: "It is a real play with real characters, individuals, human beings; it is a good deal after the fashion of the old plays, but it does not disregard its models. I am delighted with it. Miss Allen will impersonate Julia, Eben Plympton, Master Walter, James Lee, Finney Modus. "In the Palace of the King" is a dramatization of Marlow Crawford's recent novel of the same name. Mr. Plympton has a part in it, too. Miss Allen's company is excellent and the plays well acted.

May Louise, of Cincinnati, will be here tomorrow to visit Mr. and Mrs. Emmett J. Mr. and Mrs. Arthur V. Brown entertained at dinner last night at the University Club in honor of Miss Louise, of Chicago, who is the guest of Miss Florence De Pauw.

Miss Florence De Pauw entertained at luncheon yesterday for her guest, Miss Hill, of Chicago. Sweet pea blossoms adorned the table at which the guests were seated.

The engagement has been announced of Miss Elizabeth McKay, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Horace McKay, and Everett Theodore Steele. The wedding will take place early in June.

Miss Katherine Ayres, Miss Mary Wilson and Miss Stella Adams will leave today for Sewickley, Pa., where they will be guests at a house party which Mrs. Robert Newell, Jr. will give. A number of young people from Pittsburg will also join the party.

The advanced class in cooking of the home department of the Girls' Classical School gave at its final dinner in cooking a "dinner to fathers" last Saturday night. The table decorations were yellow daisies and the name cards bore water colors of the same flowers. The menu every dish of which was voted good by the guests, was as follows: Cream of tomato soup, bread slices, macaroni, asparagus, potatoes, rolls, olives, lemon, salad, brown bread sandwiches, snow pudding, fruit, nuts, coffee. The members of the class are Misses Julia Bourland, Alice Brown, Mary Carson, Mary Chenoweth, Gertrude Fries, Hazel Kinney, Virginia Pickens, Marjorie Potts, Wilmer and Alice Wheeler. Their guests were Mrs. Sewall, Mrs. Francis and Mr. Scot Butler, Mr. M. R. Wilson, John Carson, Mr. L. D. Chenoweth, Mr. F. Potts, Mr. T. C. Day and Mr. A. Adams.

Mrs. Helen Bowen and her daughter, Miss Josephine, who have been traveling the winter in Europe, were in Paris during the last days of April. A brilliant reception was given them at the home of Mrs. Charles Holman Bhack and Mr. Frank Holman. A short musical programme was provided for the guests, including Ducretius, Mlle. Claude, of the Opera Comique, Mrs. Gardner and M. Harry. Among the invited guests were Mrs. and Miss Brockels, Comtesse De Trobriand, Baronne Pannier de Trobriand, Mrs. and Miss Mille, Le Grosse, Miss Rebecca Insley, Comtesse De Roule de Porzie, Miss Pannier, Mrs. Bryant, Mrs. Combs, Mrs. Danesi, Comtesse Pandras, Mme. Lambert, Mrs. and Miss Birch of Chicago, Mrs. and Miss Getty, Mme. De Barois, Miss Emma and Mrs. De Poulart, Baron von Due De Roulan, Mrs. Leon Delafosse, Galland, Mrs. Pannier, Mlle. Leitch, the celebrated Russian pianist, Marquise D'Angles and Chetro.

MR. EBERT-BUCHHEIM'S RECITAL

Pianist Who Has Become a Teacher Here Plays at Propylaeum.

Edward Ebert-Buchheim has been engaged as teacher of piano at the Bellinger School of Music and last evening he gave a recital at the Propylaeum. He spent many years in Europe and recently has been connected with the Cincinnati Conservatory of Music and the Danville (Ind.) Normal School. He first played in this city at the invitation of the board of trustees in the season, and later he gave a recital at Baldwin. On those occasions and last evening he displayed a very comprehensive knowledge of musical literature, clean, patient execution and exact rhythm.

Last evening's programme was widely varied. It began with an arrangement by Busoni of the Bach D minor toccata and fugue, "Berchova's" "Agosto" and "Two Studies" and an intricate and beautiful "Two transcriptions for piano of selections from Wagner's works were played. They were made by Busoni, and followed by Liszt in this, and given the titles "Walhallia" and "Magic Fire." Piano transcriptions of orchestral compositions are informing, at least. The final numbers were Liszt's "Dreams of Love" and "Venetian Sinfonia."

Child Terribly Injured.

The two-year-old daughter of Christian Leukhart, 185 Arrow avenue, was run over by Brightwood car No. 74 yesterday and one hand was severed. She was also hurt internally and is thought to be fatally injured. She was playing in the park, but when she was struck by the car, she ran into the street and was run over. She fell and one little arm was crushed. She was lying on the ground when the car struck her. The wheels crushed it off at the wrist, and Tinsley was called and dressed the wound.

The Artistic Success of Mr. Edward Ebert-Buchheim, the Pianist, at the Propylaeum Last Night.

With the recital last night by Mr. Edward Ebert-Buchheim, the introduction of the Vose grand piano to an Indianapolis audience. It is needless to say anything as to the success of the recital, which was a masterpiece of execution. The piano responded in every way to the artist's wonderfully developed technique and brought out its pure sympathetic tone quality which was truly marvelous.

The Vose grand piano gives promise of a great future in the musical world, and is represented as a "great success" by the Volschner Music Company, of whom you have handled the Vose upright pianos for many years. It is a piano of the assured locally, and it undoubtedly will enjoy the prestige here that it has already attained in the Eastern States.

WOMEN'S RELIEF CORPS.

Evening Reception at the Hotel English—Interesting Gossip.

The department officers of the Women's Relief Corps have established headquarters at the Hotel English. Delegates to the department convention began to arrive yesterday morning, and a successful reunion was held in the afternoon. In attendance about seventy-five of the old cavalrymen. The roster of the regiment shows that over 50 are still living, but of these half are living outside of Indiana, scattered over all the States of the Union.

After hearing the usual reports from the officers and listening to a number of interesting letters of regret the officers for 1920 were elected. Captain Sumner, of Kokomo, was elected president of the regimental organization; T. F. Zion, of Anderson, vice president; E. W. Collis, of Pendleton, secretary; and John R. Sanders, of Lebanon, historian. Company secretaries were elected as follows: Company C, G. W. Woodward; Company A, M. McQuinn; Company D, Allan Gray; Company E, E. E. Floyd; Company F, Albert Fisher; Company H, John R. Sanders. The afternoon session was called to order by the regimental president, Mrs. W. W. Woodward, who made a short address. D. M. Burns, of Lebanon, pronounced the invocation.

As the camp fire on the evening G. W. Woodward made the address. It consisted largely of reminiscences dear to the veterans of the regiment. He spoke in loving terms of the colonel who commanded the Eleventh during the war—"Lightning Bob" Stewart of Terre Haute. He recalled some of the greater battles in which the Eleventh bore a prominent part and where it fought with distinction. Comrade Brown also addressed the veterans with a short reminiscence talk.

"The Last Flag Charge" was recited with spirit by Miss Mary Pavy, and "Tenting on the Old Camp Ground" was rendered by Mrs. J. H. Ely. Mrs. Taylor closed the programme. One of the pleasant features of the reunion was the vim and spirit which the old soldiers threw into the singing in chorus of the old songs "John Brown's Body," "Marching to the Grave," "Marching through Georgia" and "Rally Round the Flag, Boys."

Abraham Lincoln's Hat Box.

Sam Hinkle, of Springfield, Ill., who was a member of Company E, Thirty-third Indiana Regiment, is in the city attending the State encampment of the G. A. R. He has brought with him a relic that is greatly prized by the leather hat box. It was used by President Lincoln when he became the occupant of the White House in 1861. After the death of

INDIANAPOLIS PRESBYTERY.

Adjourned Session Held at the Second Presbyterian Church.

Moderator Walker, of Greencastle, presided over the adjourned meeting of the Indianapolis Presbytery at the Second Presbyterian Church yesterday. The presbytery took action on the request presented from the Acton Church that J. R. Carver, who is preaching at that place and at Boggs-town, be ordained as an evangelist. The request was not granted for the reason that he had not been licensed a sufficient time, and had not graduated from a theological seminary.

Erza Van Nyse, of Franklin, a graduate of Franklin College and a student at Princeton University, was received as a candidate for the ministry. The Rev. Muhanna E. Baratt, a native of Danvers, N. Y., recently graduated in medicine in this city, asked for permission to labor outside the presbytery, and the clerk directed to give him the required letter when he may have connected himself with some other presbytery. The request was granted. The Rev. C. C. McIntyre, of Princeton Theological Seminary, who is spending the summer in the city, as minister, will visit the churches to interest them in the subject of foreign missions.

Activity Among Gamblers.

It was rumored yesterday that the gambling rooms have taken on an air of activity in anticipation of doing large business this week. There will be large crowds here attending the monument dedication. Rooms that have almost grown dusty with inactivity have been renovated and put in good shape for the crowd that is expected.

Superintendent Taffe said he would make a strong effort to keep all gambling houses closed this week. When that a movement was on to reopen several games as he thought it was not true. He said that as soon as he receives definite information that a game is in progress in the city he will send officers to close it and arrest the participants.
