NEW BUILDING PROJECTED AND SCHOOL PLANS COMPLETED.

Wanderings of an Old Letter-Too-Pond Girl Born at Marion-Sever- al Persons Reported Missing.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

WARSAW, Ind., May 14.—W. H. Bast, supervising architect of the Home for Cripple Brethren Ministers, to be erected at Winona lake, to-day advertised for bids for erection of the building. The plans for the structure will call for a two-story building of fifty rooms. Several lots have been secured in the center of the grounds and work on the building will be begun at once.

The Moody memorial building at Winona, erected by the Rev. J. Wilbur Chapman, has been tendered by him to the Winona Agricultural and Technical School, which is to open on Sept. 1. The patrons of the school will erect a building on the grounds in memory of the late Governor Mount, and in it will be located the agricultural department of the school. Efforts are being made to secure an government experiment station. It is said enough funds already have been pledged to pay the faculty for five years.

AFTER TWENTY TWO YEARS.

Letter Returned to Marion to Find the Writer Dead.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

MARION, Ind., May 14.—A letter, yellow and musty with age, has been received from Cleveland by the Wigger Buggy and Harness Company of this city. It was addressed to S. L. Van Dusen, No. 73 St. Clair street, Cleveland, and was written on Aug. 1, 1880, by J. H. Wigger, of whom the present firm is a successor and who died in 1889, of Mr. Van Dusen, in answer to an application for a position in his store in this city. Van Dusen had written to the position and Mr. Wigger answered, telling him to come; that he had a position for him. Mr. Wigger never received a reply.

The letter was returned to the Wiggers by the Cleveland Postoffice, and the old federal building at Cleveland is being torn down, and in this work was involved a letter from a crevice where it had become lodged. An attempt was made to find the address of Cleveland, but without success. The letter was forwarded to the Postoffice Department, which sent it to the firm in this city. After a lapse of twenty-two years, the letter, which was never received, returned to the writer and the firm in this city. It was found that the letter it is supposed that he also died. The letter contained one of the most interesting which were then required to carry a letter.

AMONG THE MISSING.

Several Persons Mysteriously Disappear from Their Friends' View.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

LAFAYETTE, Ind., May 14.—B. J. Kloss, a freshman at Purdue, whose home is in Louisville, Ky., has mysteriously disappeared and the police are hunting for him. His mother arrived here from Louisville this afternoon in response to word announcing the disappearance, and is protesting over the affair. Young Klossman recently figured in a disturbance which led to the arrest of a party of students. No cause, aside from this, can be assigned for his sudden disappearance.

PORTLAND, Ind., May 14.—James Dull, sixteen years old, of Greene, has been gone from home since last Thursday evening. His mother, Mrs. Dull, is looking for him. He was seen working in his field, but he was not seen since then. His father, Levi Dull, has offered a reward for information concerning him.

WABASH, Ind., May 14.—John Gant, for several years, a valuable member of the local police force, but who resigned several months ago, has mysteriously disappeared, leaving his wife and two small children in destitute circumstances. His family and friends are unable to locate him. He was last seen in this city, and there is a fear in some quarters that he has met with foul play. He was a man of about thirty years, of handsome physique and good character.

MIDGET GIRL BORN.

Marion Couple the Parents of a Wee Mite of Humanity.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

MARION, Ind., May 14.—On Sunday morning, at 4 o'clock, Mr. and Mrs. W. Ward became the parents of a two-pound baby girl. On account of the mother's mother, the midget proportions of the baby were not revealed until to-day. The child is fully developed, and will easily fit in a standard baby carriage. The baby's entire length is not one foot, and her weight is about one pound. The father is a well-known here, and is superintendent of the Marion paper company. The parents have been married for twenty years. The mother is Miss Nellie Pearson, of Kokomo.

Two Roads Want Subsidies.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

BLOOMINGTON, Ind., May 14.—There is considerable rivalry between the two roads out of the effort of both the Indianapolis Southern and the proposed Oliver line, from Martinsville to Bedford, to secure a 2 per cent. tax in Bloomington and Perry townships, which will amount to over $80,000. Inasmuch as at six different times the roads have been asked to contribute, they have never been built, the citizens demand that a bond be given. This request the Indianapolis Southern has refused to comply with, and the indications are that the Oliver line will be voted the entire 2 per cent. tax. The Oliver line will have a cash bond of $100,000 and to begin work within thirty days.

New National Bank at Wabash.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

WABASH, Ind., May 14.—This morning Judge Harvey B. Shively, Howard M. Atkinson, Harry C. Pettit, Frank W. Morse, Dr. R. F. Blount and John H. Bireley made application, through Senator Beveridge, for a charter for the National Bank of Wabash, with a capital of $100,000. The new institution will succeed the business of the Farmers' Merchants Bank, a private bank established sixteen months ago by Messrs. Atkinson, Bireley and Morse, and which has succeeded well, having now $120,000 in deposits. Judge Shively will be president and Mr. Atkinson the largest individual stockholder, will be vice president.

Asked Permission of the Church.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

FAIRMOUNT, Ind., May 14.—At the regular session of the Fairmount monthly meeting of the Society of Friends to-day a letter from Charles Arthur Boley, of Cincinnati, was read asking permission of the meeting to marry Isabel Hoskins, a Friend and prominent worker in this city. Boley is a member of the church in Cincinnati and is quite well to do. He met the bride-to-be in this city one year ago while attending a church convention. The consent of the local meeting was secured, and the ceremony will take place this fall in the Friends' Church will be used.

Aged Woman Seeks Divorce.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

GOSHEN, Ind., May 14.—One of the most unusual divorce cases ever filed in the Elkhart Circuit Court was one brought to-day by Amelia McDowell against William McDowell, a wealthy resident of Elkhart, in which she asks $25,000 alimony and $1,000 attorney's fees. The plaintiff is seventy years old, frail and delicate, and her husband in seventy-five years old, weighs 250 pounds and is in this city one year ago. They were married at Central City, Neb.
