

MADE FEW STOPS

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT IN FOUR STATES ON SATURDAY.

Enthusiastically met during the day by the people of West Virginia and Ohio.

ADDRESS ON CORPORATIONS

THAT WAS RECEIVED WITH APPROVAL AT WHEELING.

Most notable utterances made by the President on trusts and how to control them.

ANOTHER REPLY TO CRITICS

HE WILL PRACTICE WHAT HE PREACHES IF GIVEN POWER.

Corporations Necessary in These Days of Great Industries, but Some Require Supervision.

FOR GIVING REBATES

FOUR RAILWAY OFFICIALS INDICTED BY THE GRAND JURY.

They are charged with manipulating rates on flour and feed from Minneapolis.

MINNEAPOLIS, Sept. 6.

Four railroad officials have been indicted by the federal grand jury for manipulation of rates by means of rebates.

At Columbus the President paid a touching tribute to McKinley and at all other places during the rest of his tour into Tennessee.

NOTABLE SPEECH ON TRUSTS.

The President again makes clear his attitude towards corporations.

WHEELING, W. Va., Sept. 6.

President Roosevelt and party arrived over the Baltimore & Ohio at 8:30 o'clock this morning from Washington.

WHEELING, W. Va., Sept. 6.

President Roosevelt and party arrived over the Baltimore & Ohio at 8:30 o'clock this morning from Washington.

WHEELING, W. Va., Sept. 6.

President Roosevelt and party arrived over the Baltimore & Ohio at 8:30 o'clock this morning from Washington.

WHEELING, W. Va., Sept. 6.

President Roosevelt and party arrived over the Baltimore & Ohio at 8:30 o'clock this morning from Washington.

WHEELING, W. Va., Sept. 6.

President Roosevelt and party arrived over the Baltimore & Ohio at 8:30 o'clock this morning from Washington.

WHEELING, W. Va., Sept. 6.

President Roosevelt and party arrived over the Baltimore & Ohio at 8:30 o'clock this morning from Washington.

WHEELING, W. Va., Sept. 6.

President Roosevelt and party arrived over the Baltimore & Ohio at 8:30 o'clock this morning from Washington.

WHEELING, W. Va., Sept. 6.

President Roosevelt and party arrived over the Baltimore & Ohio at 8:30 o'clock this morning from Washington.

WHEELING, W. Va., Sept. 6.

President Roosevelt and party arrived over the Baltimore & Ohio at 8:30 o'clock this morning from Washington.

WHEELING, W. Va., Sept. 6.

President Roosevelt and party arrived over the Baltimore & Ohio at 8:30 o'clock this morning from Washington.

MINISTER WU HAS FORMED A GREAT ATTACHMENT FOR THE UNITED STATES.

SUICIDE OF BARTHOLIN

CHICAGO FUGITIVE'S BODY SUPPOSED TO HAVE BEEN FOUND.

It was lying in a field near Lower, Ia., with a bullet hole in head and revolver near by.

NOTE FOUND IN COAT POCKET

CONFESSING MURDER OF TWO WOMEN, BUT NOT NAMING THEM.

Also letters signed "Minnie Mitchell," the name of William J. Bartholin's fiancée.

CHICAGO, Sept. 6.

The body of a man, thought to be William Bartholin, murderer of his mother and sweetheart in Chicago six weeks ago, was found to-day in a field near Lower, Ia., 200 miles from Chicago.

CHICAGO, Sept. 6.

The body of a man, thought to be William Bartholin, murderer of his mother and sweetheart in Chicago six weeks ago, was found to-day in a field near Lower, Ia., 200 miles from Chicago.

CHICAGO, Sept. 6.

The body of a man, thought to be William Bartholin, murderer of his mother and sweetheart in Chicago six weeks ago, was found to-day in a field near Lower, Ia., 200 miles from Chicago.

CHICAGO, Sept. 6.

The body of a man, thought to be William Bartholin, murderer of his mother and sweetheart in Chicago six weeks ago, was found to-day in a field near Lower, Ia., 200 miles from Chicago.

CHICAGO, Sept. 6.

The body of a man, thought to be William Bartholin, murderer of his mother and sweetheart in Chicago six weeks ago, was found to-day in a field near Lower, Ia., 200 miles from Chicago.

CHICAGO, Sept. 6.

The body of a man, thought to be William Bartholin, murderer of his mother and sweetheart in Chicago six weeks ago, was found to-day in a field near Lower, Ia., 200 miles from Chicago.

CHICAGO, Sept. 6.

The body of a man, thought to be William Bartholin, murderer of his mother and sweetheart in Chicago six weeks ago, was found to-day in a field near Lower, Ia., 200 miles from Chicago.

CHICAGO, Sept. 6.

The body of a man, thought to be William Bartholin, murderer of his mother and sweetheart in Chicago six weeks ago, was found to-day in a field near Lower, Ia., 200 miles from Chicago.

CHICAGO, Sept. 6.

The body of a man, thought to be William Bartholin, murderer of his mother and sweetheart in Chicago six weeks ago, was found to-day in a field near Lower, Ia., 200 miles from Chicago.

CHICAGO, Sept. 6.

The body of a man, thought to be William Bartholin, murderer of his mother and sweetheart in Chicago six weeks ago, was found to-day in a field near Lower, Ia., 200 miles from Chicago.

CONTENTS OF TO-DAY'S JOURNAL

Part One—Twelve Pages.

1—The President's Trip West and South and Another Speech on Trusts; Speeches by Senator Fairbanks, Congressman Landis and Others at Marion Club Jubilee; Supposed Suicide of W. J. Bartholin; J. P. Dunn Nominated for Congress.

2—Carroll County Republican Convention and Other Indiana Political News; Miners and Operators Both Satisfied.

3—London News and Gossip.

4—Work of Anti-Saloonists and Other Indiana News.

5—La Souffriere's Appalling Outbreak; Last Week's Game of War.

6—Sporting News.

7—Sporting News.

8—President's Trip West Continued.

9—City News.

10—Live Stock and Local Produce Markets.

11—Financial and General Produce Markets.

12—Michael B. Rariden Killed by Street Car; A Brother's Treachery.

Part Two—Twelve Pages.

1—London's Water Supply; Koch's Theory Tested; Government Employment.

2—Literary News and Gossip.

3—Personal and Society News.

4—How the Water is Piped; Questions and Answers; A Study of Dante.

5—News of the Theaters; Old-time Variety Stage.

6—Notes of a Visit to Yellowstone Park; Talks on Live Topics.

7—Strange Folk and Queer Things; George Ade's Fable; The Art of Swimming.

J. P. DUNN THE VICTIM

LED UNRESISTING TO SACRIFICIAL ALTAR BY DEMOCRATS.

Nominated for Representative in Congress on First Ballot Over Hooker, Perkins and Stuart.

THOMAS TAGGART IN EVIDENCE

KILLED AN ANTI-NEGRO AMENDMENT OFFERED BY J. L. KEACH.

A Stereotyped Platform Ralls at Trusts, Ship Subsidies and Injunctions—Davis for Joint Senator.

The Seventh district Democrats yesterday nominated Jacob Platt Dunn to make the race for Congress against Representative Jesse Overstreet.

The convention was held in Masonic Hall. It was devoid of any sort of enthusiasm save an occasional feeble cheer when something particularly bitter was said about Republican administration, and about the only excitement in the convention was when Thomas Taggart threatened an attempt on the part of James L. Keach to introduce an amendment to the platform.

This amendment sought to declare the Democratic party the "white man's party."

Chairman Fanning, of the Seventh district, called the convention to order. Thomas Taggart, on motion of Charles Poister, a saloon keeper and Democratic politician, was made the permanent chairman.

Allan Majors, Frank P. Baker and John Reynolds were selected as secretaries. Green Smith, of the committee on resolutions, read the platform, which follows:

"We, the Democrats of the Seventh congressional district of Indiana, urge on the voters of this district the necessity of checking the growing power of trusts and combinations in restraint of trade, and preventing their control of government. If it be admitted that the national executive honestly favored the small measure of reciprocity with Cuba recently asked of Congress, the fact is evident that a Republican Congress defeated that measure at the dictation of the trusts, and its action calls loudly for rebuke.

"The demoralizing influence extends to our sections, and these recipients of governmental favors at the hands of the Republican party notoriously furnish large sums of money for the corruption of votes. In this State, the Republican party has prepared for this debasing use of money by repealing every law on our statute books for the punishment of vote buyers, and has introduced in freight rates, by which they can prevent all legitimate competition.

The last Republican Congress deserves condemnation for its refusal to give the Interstate-commerce Commission power to prevent discrimination in railroad rates, and in the action, as in all other party measures, Representative Overstreet stood with his party.

In the election the people of this district must give approval or condemnation to the branch-banking and asset-currency circulation of freight rates, by which they have been the conspicuous champion for the past five years. We are opposed to that measure and denounce it as providing for a dangerous concentration of banking power, and an equally dangerous inflation of credit money. There is no other financial issue before the people of this district.

The people are confronted by the danger of a new and enormous tax for the benefit of a favored few in the ship subsidy bill. It has passed the Senate, receiving the votes of Senators Fairbanks and Beveridge of this State, and now awaits action in the House of Representatives. We protest against this misrepresentation of the State by our senators, and call on the people of this district to elect a congressman who will in every honorable way oppose the passage of this unjustifiable measure.

We protest against the dangerous and un-American theory that there is, or can be, any territory under the government of the United States to which the Constitution

FEDERAL COURTS.

"We deplore the fact that federal courts in various parts of the country have abused their power in the issuance and enforcement of writs of injunction. In many instances orders of a most extraordinary character, affecting the conduct of citizens, have been made by such courts, and scores of citizens charged with the violation of such orders have been committed to prison on the most flimsy evidence, being denied the right of trial by jury.

"We believe that the petition of scores of thousands of laboring men, from every part of the country, which was presented to Congress at its last session, praying for the limitation of the powers of these courts in this regard, should have been granted, and we denounce our representative in Congress from this district for his failure to take a step or utter a word in behalf of this movement in which organized labor everywhere is so deeply interested. We call attention to the petition of the beef trust, which has no effect other than to stimulate the organization of a most powerful and influential union of laboring men who are engaged in a struggle for life against a law-defying monopoly.

The only effective method in which the people can show their wishes on these national questions at present is by the casting of their votes, and we appeal to the voters of this district to express their sentiments regarding Republican misgovernment existing and in prospect."

KEACH'S AMENDMENT.

The moment the reading of the platform was finished James L. Keach was on his feet with an amendment to be granted, which gave in his hand that "didn't" look (CONTINUED ON PAGE 12, COL. 4.)

MAINE CAMPAIGN OVER

CLOSED WITH A BIG RALLY AT PORTLAND LAST NIGHT.

Speech by Senator Lodge on the Trust Question—Supervision and Publicity the Remedy.

PORTLAND, Me., Sept. 6.—The State campaign was ended to-night by the Republicans with a big rally at which Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, of Massachusetts, was the principal speaker. He gave an address on the trust question. In opening, he urged his hearers to continue in power the Republican party. Referring to the war in the Philippines he said he believed "The embers of insurrection still smolder in Springfield, Groton and Boston."

He said the subject most in the minds of men was that of trusts, and that the President had recently said some wise words on this subject.

Senator Lodge said the President was not at liberty, as he was, to discuss it from a party standpoint. He described the trust in a technical way and said that to 95 per cent. of them there was not the least objection. To undertake to destroy them by rash legislation would bring on at the present time the most disastrous panic that could be imagined. He said that undoubtedly the great combinations present certain dangers and certain evils and that at present the difficulty was in distinguishing among the corporations. He had been asked "What are the evils of the trusts?" and he had replied that they could not be enumerated. First and more serious in that there is a great popular suspicion about them. Somewhere there ought to be some means of a State controlling what it creates. He said this was an evil, because under this government he did not believe that anything a creature of the government should be beyond the government's control.

There had been many schemes proposed to solve the trust question, the senator said, and chief of these was that of legislation. Reckless legislation would be destructive to prosperity. Another solution proposed is that of sweeping away the tariff duties on articles that a trust makes. He said that sounds simple, and would be punitive to doubt. The tariff duty would be to reduce profit. Some trusts would suffer, and Senator Lodge said that he would like to see the meat trust published that way. The steel trust, he said, is organized in a way that every man in the world, while many other companies having been built up under the protective tariff, would be destroyed.

He said that the tariff would be to reduce profit. Some trusts would suffer, and Senator Lodge said that he would like to see the meat trust published that way. The steel trust, he said, is organized in a way that every man in the world, while many other companies having been built up under the protective tariff, would be destroyed.

He said that the tariff would be to reduce profit. Some trusts would suffer, and Senator Lodge said that he would like to see the meat trust published that way. The steel trust, he said, is organized in a way that every man in the world, while many other companies having been built up under the protective tariff, would be destroyed.

He said that the tariff would be to reduce profit. Some trusts would suffer, and Senator Lodge said that he would like to see the meat trust published that way. The steel trust, he said, is organized in a way that every man in the world, while many other companies having been built up under the protective tariff, would be destroyed.

He said that the tariff would be to reduce profit. Some trusts would suffer, and Senator Lodge said that he would like to see the meat trust published that way. The steel trust, he said, is organized in a way that every man in the world, while many other companies having been built up under the protective tariff, would be destroyed.

He said that the tariff would be to reduce profit. Some trusts would suffer, and Senator Lodge said that he would like to see the meat trust published that way. The steel trust, he said, is organized in a way that every man in the world, while many other companies having been built up under the protective tariff, would be destroyed.

He said that the tariff would be to reduce profit. Some trusts would suffer, and Senator Lodge said that he would like to see the meat trust published that way. The steel trust, he said, is organized in a way that every man in the world, while many other companies having been built up under the protective tariff, would be destroyed.

He said that the tariff would be to reduce profit. Some trusts would suffer, and Senator Lodge said that he would like to see the meat trust published that way. The steel trust, he said, is organized in a way that every man in the world, while many other companies having been built up under the protective tariff, would be destroyed.

He said that the tariff would be to reduce profit. Some trusts would suffer, and Senator Lodge said that he would like to see the meat trust published that way. The steel trust, he said, is organized in a way that every man in the world, while many other companies having been built up under the protective tariff, would be destroyed.

He said that the tariff would be to reduce profit. Some trusts would suffer, and Senator Lodge said that he would like to see the meat trust published that way. The steel trust, he said, is organized in a way that every man in the world, while many other companies having been built up under the protective tariff, would be destroyed.

He said that the tariff would be to reduce profit. Some trusts would suffer, and Senator Lodge said that he would like to see the meat trust published that way. The steel trust, he said, is organized in a way that every man in the world, while many other companies having been built up under the protective tariff, would be destroyed.

He said that the tariff would be to reduce profit. Some trusts would suffer, and Senator Lodge said that he would like to see the meat trust published that way. The steel trust, he said, is organized in a way that every man in the world, while many other companies having been built up under the protective tariff, would be destroyed.

He said that the tariff would be to reduce profit. Some trusts would suffer, and Senator Lodge said that he would like to see the meat trust published that way. The steel trust, he said, is organized in a way that every man in the world, while many other companies having been built up under the protective tariff, would be destroyed.

He said that the tariff would be to reduce profit. Some trusts would suffer, and Senator Lodge said that he would like to see the meat trust published that way. The steel trust, he said, is organized in a way that every man in the world, while many other companies having been built up under the protective tariff, would be destroyed.

He said that the tariff would be to reduce profit. Some trusts would suffer, and Senator Lodge said that he would like to see the meat trust published that way. The steel trust, he said, is organized in a way that every man in the world, while many other companies having been built up under the protective tariff, would be destroyed.

He said that the tariff would be to reduce profit. Some trusts would suffer, and Senator Lodge said that he would like to see the meat trust published that way. The steel trust, he said, is organized in a way that every man in the world, while many other companies having been built up under the protective tariff, would be destroyed.

He said that the tariff would be to reduce profit. Some trusts would suffer, and Senator Lodge said that he would like to see the meat trust published that way. The steel trust, he said, is organized in a way that every man in the world, while many other companies having been built up under the protective tariff, would be destroyed.

He said that the tariff would be to reduce profit. Some trusts would suffer, and Senator Lodge said that he would like to see the meat trust published that way. The steel trust, he said, is organized in a way that every man in the world, while many other companies having been built up under the protective tariff, would be destroyed.

He said that the tariff would be to reduce profit. Some trusts would suffer, and Senator Lodge said that he would like to see the meat trust published that way. The steel trust, he said, is organized in a way that every man in the world, while many other companies having been built up under the protective tariff, would be destroyed.

He said that the tariff would be to reduce profit. Some trusts would suffer, and Senator Lodge said that he would like to see the meat trust published that way. The steel trust, he said, is organized in a way that every man in the world, while many other companies having been built up under the protective tariff, would be destroyed.

YOUNG MEN EXULT

MARION CLUB'S JUBILEE RANG WITH JOYFUL UTTERANCES.

Republican's Able Arm Celebrated the Annihilation of its Debt in Memorable Fashion.

SENATOR FAIRBANKS SPOKE

SAID VITALITY OF THE CLUB IS TYPICAL OF THE PARTY.

Declared Republican Triumph is Certain, but that Danger Lurks Always in Overconfidence.

LANDIS'S STIRRING SPEECH

GOVERNOR DURBIN'S LETTER OF REGRET RECEIVED.

Mayor Bookwalter, "Dan" Storms and "Dave" Sherrick Added to the Feast of Oratory.

The smoker and vaudeville entertainment given by the Marion Club last night was without doubt one of the most interesting political events that ever took place in any similar organization in this city. It was an occasion of more than ordinary significance. Besides being a celebration of the club's success in paying off the last of its indebtedness, it was a sort of campaign opener for the city at large, and if the enthusiasm that prevailed was an indication of the spirit that is to animate the Republicans this fall, the campaign that is now on will certainly be a lively one.

The Marion Club certainly has cause for jubilation. As stated by Schuyler Haas, a former president, the club was paid off a debt of $24,000 since 1897. "Twenty-four thousand dollars," declared Representative Landis, commenting on this financial feat in his speech. "Twenty-four thousand dollars since 1897! Why that is marvelous to me. And, by the way, I have a little financial problem myself, that I've been trying to solve for several years, and I'd like to meet the chairman of this financial committee."

One reason why the occasion was significant was because of the presence of some of the best-known men in the Republican party. Senator Fairbanks was there, moving about among the crowd, shaking hands here and there and renewing old acquaintances. The ovation he received when he was led to the platform from the members of the Marion Club must have been flattering. Representative Landis, with the affable smile and genial countenance that have endeared him to the hearts of both Democrats and Republicans of his district, was the figure of the evening. Dan E. Storms, Republican candidate for secretary of state, was in the crowd, fresh from the county convention at Versailles, where there was everything to indicate Republican success. David E. Sherrick, the Republican candidate for State auditor, was with Mr. Storms, and responded to the call for a speech. Mayor Bookwalter, one of the enthusiastic members of the Marion Club, was present and made one of his old-time political talks. From start to finish there was a good natured, but earnest, cheering and good-fellowship. The beaming countenance and shining bald head of Lee Rothschild, who has been a member of the club, was almost an inspiration. The Marion Club has been the "Baron's" one weakness, and he has had a great deal to say in the future for the club that is now about to be fulfilled. The "Baron" was happy, and he made a speech which incidentally made a hit.

ENTERTAINMENT PROVIDED.

The exercises opened at 8:30, although for an hour before that time the rooms were crowded. In one of the quarters visitors found amusement around a large bowl, the contents of which were furnished from the establishment of Louis Schuler, next door. Mr. Schuler himself was present to enjoy the smiles of satisfaction that always followed a turn at the bowl. In the other quarters a stage had been erected and chairs provided for a big crowd. The stage was decorated with American flags and there were great palms on each side. Back of the palms, on a raised platform, a quartet of men in military uniforms, with an orchestra discoursed lively music. One of the features of the musical programme was the work of the Marion quartet, which was excellent. The other features of the vaudeville programme were contributed by Rollins and Reisinger, an unusually clever team.

Thomas Carter, president of the club, called the audience to order. Schuyler Haas told what the occasion meant to the members of the club, and gave a brief history of the club's success. He spoke of the club's debt, and how it was paid off. "This is a time of great rejoicing," said Mr. Haas. He declared that the organization of the club was the result of the efforts of those who are "vaccinated," and gathers into the fold some of those that might be inclined to stray away. These things, and much more of a kindred nature, Mr. Haas spoke of, and he placed particular stress on the work of some of the past presidents. He told of the enthusiasm of Charles S. Whitte, who guided the club through some of its earlier and less prosperous days, and of the efforts of Lee Rothschild, who has had much to do with its financial success. He spoke of the unswerving faith of D. M. Parry, and of that gentleman's generous assistance. He also alluded to the work of some of the other members of the club, and of his subscribing generously for stock in the institution. He said that the club's success was the result of the efforts of those who are "vaccinated," and gathers into the fold some of those that might be inclined to stray away. These things, and much more of a kindred nature, Mr. Haas spoke of, and he placed particular stress on the work of some of the past presidents. He told of the enthusiasm of Charles S. Whitte, who guided the club through some of its earlier and less prosperous days, and of the efforts of Lee Rothschild, who has had much to do with its financial success. He spoke of the unswerving faith of D. M. Parry, and of that gentleman's generous assistance. He also alluded to the work of some of the other members of the club, and of his subscribing generously for stock in the institution. He said that the club's success was the result of the efforts of those who are "vaccinated," and gathers into the fold some of those that might be inclined to stray away. These things, and much more of a kindred nature, Mr. Haas spoke of, and he placed particular stress on the work of some of the past presidents. He told of the enthusiasm of Charles S. Whitte, who guided the club through some of its earlier and less prosperous days, and of the efforts of Lee Rothschild, who has had much to do with its financial success. He spoke of the unswerving faith of D. M. Parry, and of that gentleman's generous assistance. He also alluded to the work of some of the other members of the club, and of his subscribing generously for stock in the institution. He said that the club's success was the result of the efforts of those who are "vaccinated," and gathers into the fold some of those that might be inclined to stray away. These things, and much more of a kindred nature, Mr. Haas spoke of, and he placed particular stress on the work of some of the past presidents. He told of the enthusiasm of Charles S. Whitte, who guided the club through some of its earlier and less prosperous days, and of the efforts of Lee Rothschild, who has had much to do with its financial success. He spoke of the unswerving faith of D. M. Parry, and of that gentleman's generous assistance. He also alluded to the work of some of the other members of the club, and of his subscribing generously for stock in the institution. He said that the club's success was the result of the efforts of those who are "vaccinated," and gathers into the fold some of those that might be inclined to stray away. These things, and much more of a kindred nature, Mr. Haas spoke of, and he placed particular stress on the work of some of the past presidents. He told of the enthusiasm of Charles S. Whitte, who guided the club through some of its earlier and less prosperous days, and of the efforts of Lee Rothschild, who has had much to do with its financial success. He spoke of the unswerving faith of D. M. Parry, and of that gentleman's generous assistance. He also alluded to the work of some of the other members of the club, and of his subscribing generously for stock in the institution. He said that the club's success was the result of the efforts of those who are "vaccinated," and gathers into the fold some of those that might be inclined to stray away. These things, and much more of a kindred nature, Mr. Haas spoke of, and he placed particular stress on the work of some of the past presidents. He told of the enthusiasm of Charles S. Whitte, who guided the club through some of its earlier and less prosperous days, and of the efforts of Lee Rothschild, who has had much to do with its financial success. He spoke of the unswerving faith of D. M. Parry, and of that gentleman's generous assistance. He also alluded to the work of some of the other members of the club, and of his subscribing generously for stock in the institution. He said that the club's success was the result of the efforts of those who are "vaccinated," and gathers into the fold some of those that might be inclined to stray away. These things, and much more of a kindred nature, Mr. Haas spoke of, and he placed particular stress on the work of some of the past presidents. He told of the enthusiasm of Charles S. Whitte, who guided the club through some of its earlier and less prosperous days, and of the efforts of Lee Rothschild, who has had much to do with its financial success. He spoke of the unswerving faith of D. M. Parry, and of that gentleman's generous assistance. He also alluded to the work of some of the other members of the club, and of his subscribing generously for stock in the institution. He said that the club's success was the result of the efforts of those who are "vaccinated," and gathers into the fold some of those that might be inclined to stray away. These things, and much more of a kindred nature, Mr. Haas spoke of, and he placed particular stress on the work of some of the past presidents. He told of the enthusiasm of Charles S. Whitte, who guided the club through some of its earlier and less prosperous days, and of the efforts of Lee Rothschild, who has had much to do with its financial success. He spoke of the unswerving faith of D. M. Parry, and of that gentleman's generous assistance. He also alluded to the work of some of the other members of the club, and of his subscribing generously for stock in the institution. He said that the club's success was the result of the efforts of those who are "vaccinated," and gathers into the fold some of those that might be inclined to stray away. These things, and much more of a kindred nature, Mr. Haas spoke of, and he placed particular stress on the work of some of the past presidents. He told of the enthusiasm of Charles S. Whitte, who guided the club through some of its earlier and less prosperous days, and of the efforts of Lee Rothschild, who has had much to do with its financial success. He spoke of the unswerving faith of D. M. Parry, and of that gentleman's generous assistance. He also alluded to the work of some of the other members of the club, and of his subscribing generously for stock in the institution. He said that the club's success was the result of the efforts of those who are "vaccinated," and gathers into the fold some of those that might be inclined to stray away. These things, and much more of a kindred nature, Mr. Haas spoke of, and he placed particular stress on the work of some of the past presidents. He told of the enthusiasm of Charles S. Whitte, who guided the club through some of its earlier and less prosperous days, and of the efforts of Lee Rothschild, who has had much to do with its financial success. He spoke of the unswerving faith of D. M. Parry, and of that gentleman's generous assistance. He also alluded to the work of some of the other members of the club, and of his subscribing generously for stock in the institution. He said that the club's success was the result of the efforts of those who are "vaccinated," and gathers into the fold some of those that might be inclined to stray away. These things, and much more of a kindred nature, Mr. Haas spoke of, and he placed particular stress on the work of some of the past presidents. He told of the enthusiasm of Charles S. Whitte, who guided the club through some of its earlier and less prosperous days, and of the efforts of Lee Rothschild