Col. D. Jack Foster, of Chicago, is the new commander-in-chief of the National Association of Spanish-American War Veterans. He was elected at the final session of the delegates yesterday afternoon by the unanimous vote of the members of the association. The names of others had been considered, but were withdrawn before the vote was taken.

Colonel Foster is a Chicago man and commands the Sixth Illinois Infantry of the Illinois National Guard. For twenty-five years he has been identified with the militia organization of his State and has occupied every position in the guard from private to brigade commander. In the war with Spain he served with his regiment as a volunteer and participated in the campaigns in Porto Rico and Cuba. He is popular with members of the order.

The other officers elected yesterday for the ensuing year are as follows: Senior Vice Commander—Col. Thomas F. Lynch, New York; Junior Vice Commander—Maj. Harry Hall, Philadelphia; Inspector General—Capt. Ellis Duncan, Louisville, Ky.; Judge Advocate General—Capt. Newton W. Gilbert, Fort Wayne, Ind.; Surgeon General—Maj. William P. Love, Youngstown, O.; Commissary General—L. F. Hubbard, St. Paul, Minn.; Chief Engineer—Capt. Frank S. Clark, Indianapolis; Chief Muster Officer—Capt. Charles J. Schmitz, New York; Chief Signal Officer—Capt. H. John W. McConnell, Chicago; Chief Ordnance Officer—Lieut. John McLehman, Michigan; Chief of Artillery—Wilbur M. Lee, Wisconsin; Chaplain-in-chief—J. C. Schindler.

COMMANDER'S APPOINTMENTS. Captain Frank S. Clark, of this city, declined the appointment as adjutant general, tendered him by the commander-in-chief, and Colonel Foster named Capt. J. J. Cairns, of Chicago, to the office. James A. Freed, of Youngstown, O., was appointed quartermaster general, also an appointive office under the amendment to the constitution in all matters pertaining to the combination. It has authority to adopt a constitution by-law, a budget and to make such other arrangements as may be necessary to complete the organization in all its details.

The committee that was named by Commander Coryell is composed of Gen. W. H. Hines, Capt. E. Dimmick, H. F. Allers, Colonel Bryan, Col. Russell B. Harrison and Capt. J. J. Cairns. The convention received word yesterday that a similar committee had been appointed by the principal subject and similar committee of the other organization, relative to the details of the coalition. This committee has full authority to represent the association in all matters pertaining to the combination. It has authority to adopt a constitution by-law, a budget and to make such other arrangements as may be necessary to complete the organization in all its details.

Fast Commander Coryell stated yesterday that President Roosevelt had said during his brief stay in Indianapolis that he approved the movement to bring about a union of the orders, and that he promised to do all in his power to help the movement along. He suggested to Commander Coryell that something be done immediately.

LILLER APOLOGIZED. William C. Liller was compelled to apologize to the members of the order for his intemperate language Monday, when he saved the lie to Colonel Russell B. Harrison and declared that he would not permit the court-martial to try him, but would, instead, take the matter to the civil courts. Liller had prepared two letters of apology, one for each of the offenses against the dignity of the convention and they were read. A motion to Liller from the Senate Chamber while his case was being considered was debated excitedly, but it was lost.

The court-martial that considered the charges against him took no action other than to present the whole matter to the convention for its action. He was formally acquitted by the order's adjutant general and his resignation, presented later, was accepted by the commander-in-chief. The auditing committee appointed to go over the papers and accounts reported to the convention that his books were in so hopeless a tangle that nothing intelligible could be made of them. There had been no system used in keeping the books and everything was put down helter-skelter. The committee reported that there was ample evidence to show that Liller had received money from the order and for charters of ladies' auxiliary camps without the supplies or the charters being furnished, or an account being made of the transactions. Other details were discovered, not creditable to the former adjutant general. The auditing committee reported that the papers and books be sealed and sent to an expert accountant who shall report on the matter to the order.

Only one city applied for the next annual meeting of the order—Milwaukee, Wis. and it was voted to meet there next year.

THE MORNING SESSION. A Resolution Read Containing Inside History of Liller Trouble.

The morning session of the Spanish-American War Veterans was stormy. The speeches and discussion had for their target William C. Liller, the deposed adjutant general. He was called a scoundrel and various other names synonymous of moral turpitude, and in attempting to defend himself was ruled out of order.

Among the matters which were discussed by the convention yesterday was an interesting resolution passed by the executive committee of the local veterans Aug. 4, in which fear is expressed that unless Liller were repressed by the commander-in-chief he might embarrass the association in the eyes of the President of the United States, who was to be the guest of honor.

The actions of the resolution containing the inside history of the Liller trouble are as follows: "Whereas, The adjutant general of the association, W. C. Liller, has written and is writing letters, and using the columns of the United States Volunteer, his publication (which he claims to be the official organ of the association) for the purpose of engineering a strife and difference among the members of the association and delegates to the Indianapolis convention representative to the meeting and concurred with the others. The memorial followed by the death of William Wesley Woolen Indianapolis has lost one of her honored and trusted citizens and the banking fraternity one of its most respected associates. He was one of the highest character, who enjoyed the full confidence and unbounded good will of a large circle of friends and acquaintances. In his business life he was fair and upright, and in personal relations he was kind and generous. He was imbued with a liberal public spirit and devoted to the interests of the city and State. A valuable citizen, a respected associate, a loved friend, we mourn his death.

The memorial was signed by the following: American National Bank, Capital National Bank, Columbia National Bank, Fletcher National Bank, Indiana National Bank, Merchants National Bank, Indiana Trust Company, Marion Trust Company.

Death of Mrs. W. F. Clemens. Mrs. Anna Clemens, wife of Will F. Clemens, died at her home, 833 North Illinois street, yesterday morning of typhoid fever. The funeral will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock.

AT MAJOR RICHARDS'S HOUSE. The same two robbers, it is thought, who have annoyed suburban residents since Sunday made their appearance Monday night at the Millersville residence of Maj. W. J. Richards. Mr. Richards said he was away from home at the time and one of the farm hands was sitting on the front veranda awaiting his return. While the man was in front of the house a carriage drove up through the long lane to the front door. A number of trees shade the front of the house. The two strangers alighted from the buggy, and the farm hand, thinking that one of the men was Major Richards, walked from the dark. When the two strangers saw the farm hand they ran to the buggy. The farm hand followed them close to the buggy, but was unable to tell what was said. The men discovered him standing in the dark and again fired on the horse. As they were about to move the farm hand fired two shots from a revolver. He did not aim at the men, but it more frightened them. It is thought that the two men in the buggy are the same who entered William Dawson's home at Fifty-sixth street and Central avenue Sunday afternoon, and with whom W. S. Wishard and Mr. Stewart, of Southport, had an encounter Tuesday afternoon.
