Men of wealth, from whom the funds will have to come, while liberal in public-spiritedness, could not be expected to furnish the amount required without a return in interest. If a practical plan may be devised which will insure that there is no doubt but that the coliseum company will be promptly paid under any circumstances...

THE CLOSING PROGRAMME OF THE festival were up to the standard for the rest of the week. The horse show was made up of large numbers of local classes and astonished the foreign exhibitors by the quality displayed. The draught animals and heavy vehicles won their complete admiration. Festival Field and its attractions were kept intact until the last minute, and that portion of the enterprise came very near to making a profit if it did not really make one, and this will not be detrimental to all the attractions have been settled with.

THE FESTIVAL AND HORSE SHOW was backed by a guarantee fund of $25,000, on which most of the business houses were represented. This fund will be assessed, according to present estimates, about 50 to 60 per cent. Such an assessment, in the light of the character of the entertainment and its popular success, will not be heavy and is not burdensome. The attendance last night was not what had been expected, considering the favorable weather, but during the day probably 25,000 people were in Festival Field and the grounds.

CONTRACTOR J. A. SCHUMACHER will begin the work of taking away his material this week. The contracts made for the construction of the buildings required this work to begin to-morrow. The decorations and canvas were taken down first, then the electric wiring and then the wood work. Mr. Schumacher last night was making with Mr. McGowan about preparing the materials, and it is likely he will have some proposal to make along this line. The grand stands were so constructed that they may be taken apart and held for future use.

FINE NIGHT SHOW. Miss Stella Hahn captured Special Prize in Riding Class. With the fastening of the blue, red and yellow ribbons on the prize winners, the six events of the horse show last night, the Indianapolis show was ended. The events on the programme were unusually interesting to Indianapolis people because of the participation in all of the events of none but local horses. The crowd was as large as on other evenings, and it applauded the decisions of the judges. Prior to the announcements of the decisions the contestants caused much enthusiasm.

victoria, some of the handsomest equipages of the city were entered, and from the class of six which faced the judges, Cortland Van Camp, Prince and Duke, two bay horses driven in a roughman, was awarded first prize. Miss Katherine Ayres, with her bays, Chesapeake and Delaware, were successful in getting the third prize. The other entries which were considered by the judges were those of W. W. Baker, who drove two sorrel horses to a second prize, and Lynn B. Millikan, with his London and Troy, two beautiful black coach horses.

LADIES RIDING CLASS. In the ladies riding class, out of an entry list of seventeen five contestants perplexed the judges for some time in their attempt to choose from among them first, the natiest appearance; second, the best seat; third, the best reinswoman, and fourth, the most graceful rider. After a somewhat lengthy examination and many trials of the skill of the graceful riders the judges awarded the special prize to Miss Stella Hahn and ribbons to Miss Orrin Woolen and Miss Jay Brown, who rode her beautiful horse Duke. The other two contestants were Mrs. Hahn and Miss Margaret Shover, and their excellent riding was commensurate with the judges. Other local riders that were expected to contest in this class were not prepared for the event, and the favorite and horse and riders known to the bridle paths of Indianapolis were not in the arena.

KINGAN & CO.'S TURNOUT. In the heavy delivery (four or more horses to a wagon) class the spectators saw what was said by judges of this class of heavy to be one of the most finished and complete exhibitions of heavy draught and complete equipment ever shown in the United States. Kingan & Co., with four large dapple-gray horses hitched to a new and shining yellow wagon, with appointments such as tool boxes, water buckets, feed bags, and laden with merchandise, were the winners of the prize.

PROGRAMMES AT HORSE SHOW ARENA. There will be two sacred concerts in the horse show arena to-day. The Indianapolis Military Band has been engaged by Hugh J. McGowan and the concerts will be free. After each of the concerts the diving horses, King and Queen, will be exhibited free. Mr. McGowan said last night he arranged this program for the benefit of the poor people who had not seen the spectacle of the arena interior lighted and decorated to have a chance to enjoy the night of the horse show. The arena will be lighted just as it has been all night and the public will be permitted to enjoy it without any admission fee. J. Russell Powell and Nicholas Rembusch will be soloists. The programme as arranged by Ernest Williams is as follows:—

MATINEE PROGRAMME. Local Classes Furnished the Many Interesting Events. The matinee programme of the horse show yesterday was composed largely of local classes. The attendance was large, including hundreds of the little ones, who were attracted by the pony classes. During the afternoon E. R. Sims gave an exhibition of his great high school gelding Columbus, who performed the "cake-walk" step beautifully, and Mr. Harris's jumpers, St. Patrick, the dun Irish four-year-old, ridden by Madame Maranette, and Kruger, the South African pony, ridden by Arthur Harris.

A pony class opened the programme. It was for singles or pairs in harness driven by children. W. B. Brown's Don won first prize, Helen Donson's Colonel second; Willie Blair's Major, third, and Frank Van Camp's Colonel, the white ribbon. The exhibit was judged by the whole crowd, and the four winners presented the most fastidious combinations of the week on these classes.

TERRE HAUTE'S LAST FAIR. Saloons and Gambling Houses the Only Interests That Profited. Special to the Indianapolis Journal. TERRE HAUTE, Ind., Oct. 18.—The street fair, which closed to-night, was more of a success in many respects than any of the four which preceded it, but it is taken by common consent that it is to be the last one. Heretofore the merchants on the several squares of Main street where the fair crowds gather have reported a big trade with out-of-town customers, but this year they tell a different story. The occupation of the fair was a detriment to trade, because the crowds kept home customers from shopping.

Lafayette Fair a Success. Special to the Indianapolis Journal. LAFAYETTE, Ind., Oct. 18.—Lafayette's fall festival closed to-day, having been the most successful affair of the kind ever held in the city. All week long the streets have been crowded with visitors from cities and towns in this vicinity and it is estimated that the number of visitors was fully 20,000. With Mrs. Frank Wood, Mr. and Mrs. Horace Galbraith and Mr. Gilbert Van Camp occupied Mr. and Mrs. Frank Van Camp.

BOXES AGAIN WELL FILLED. Society Appeared in Force at Last Night of Show. The closing night of the horse show found the boxes well filled. A number of them were occupied as follows: With Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wood, Mr. and Mrs. Horace Galbraith and Mr. Gilbert Van Camp occupied Mr. and Mrs. Frank Van Camp. With Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Lilly were Mrs. J. L. Lilly, Mrs. J. W. Milward, of Lexington, Ky., Mrs. Jacquith and Mrs. E. W. Sloan. Mayor Bookwater entertained a party of his box.

NEWS OF THE COLLEGES. BUSY WEEK AMONG THE I. U. CLUBS AND ASSOCIATIONS. Musical and Dramatic Plans—New Building Seem Within Reach—Rose Polytechnic Glee Club. Special to the Indianapolis Journal. BLOOMINGTON, Ind., Oct. 18.—This has been a very busy week at Indiana University with the clubs and various student organizations. The Glee Club has been selected, consisting of about eighteen members, and gives promise of being one of the best clubs of recent years at I. U. The club will be under the direction of L. M. Hiatt, and Elmer E. Peety will be the business manager. The Christmas tour will be made through the northern part of the State, and during the spring term the southern part of the State will be visited. A new feature will be the orchestra, which will accompany the club in nearly all its selections.

TICKET NO. 44764 WON. Person Holding It Will Get Automobile Raffle Last Night. The person holding ticket No. 44764, sold by the Modern Woodmen when he got the handsome $1,200 machine. The drawing took place on Festival Field at 11 o'clock last night. An hour before the drawing began to pack around the stand on which the automobile stood. When the selling closed duplicate numbers were placed in revolving charts. The number was spun and a young woman called out of the crowd. She was unknown to any of the winners on the stand. The number was Florence Matthews, of No. 532 West Wilkins street. She was blindfolded, the car was stopped at the factory, and she was to draw the numbers. The rules of drawing provided that the one-hundredth number would draw the automobile, the one-hundred-and-twenty-fifth would have second chance and the one-hundred-and-fiftieth third chance. The chance is No. 44764 and the third No. 4879.

ROSE POLYTECHNIC INSTITUTE. Organization of the Students' Council—School Tennis Championship. Special to the Indianapolis Journal. TERRE HAUTE, Ind., Oct. 18.—The Rose Polytechnic football team, which played at Washington University at St. Louis to-day, had a number of changes in the line-up from that which went down to defeat with Dr. Pauw, and it was believed to be a stronger aggregation. The second team was to have gone to Marshall, Ill., to play the High School team there, but the draft on the team for substitutes at the first team to play at Marshall, Ill., was cancelled. During the week Coach Crawford gave the first team hard training.

Good Meetings in Decatur. Special to the Indianapolis Journal. GREENSBURG, Ind., Oct. 18.—Marcus R. Sulzer, of Madison, who has been stumping this county in the interest of the Republican party, wound up his campaign at Sandusky last night. A large and enthusiastic crowd was present and speeches were made by Mr. Sulzer, John W. Craig, candidate for prosecutor of Decatur and Bartholomew counties, and Jeff C. Davis, candidate for sheriff.

Good Meeting at Kent. Special to the Indianapolis Journal. MADISON, Ind., Oct. 18.—Republicans of Kent held a large and enthusiastic meeting last night. Republican township made good its name, and turned out an overflowing crowd to hear H. P. Sherman, of Decatur, who was the principal speaker. Judge Bear also made an address, and there were short talks by a number of the county candidates.

Mr. Watson in Henry. Special to the Indianapolis Journal. NEW CASTLE, Ind., Oct. 18.—Representative James E. Watson spent this week in this county and will make two speeches in this county next week. He is greeted by large audiences and his addresses have had a great effect on the public spirit in the campaign in this county.

LA SOUFFRIERE'S HAVOC. WIDE AREAS OF CROPS ON ST. VINCENT'S ISLAND DEVASTATED. Hundreds of Persons Driven from Their Homes by the Latest Outburst of the Volcano. KINGSTOWN, St. Vincent, Oct. 18.—The eruption of the Soufriere volcano on Oct. 15 and 16—the fourth terrific outburst since the catastrophe of May 7—has plunged the colony in deeper distress than before existed, crippling its agricultural resources by further devastating the arroyo fields and completely destroying wide areas of growing crops on lands which had been considered outside the volcanic zone. On these lands thousands of young cacao, coffee and other economic crops were buried under the almost impenetrable mass of sand, which while hot fell in the windward district on the morning of Oct. 15. Even the Mesopotamia valley, an ideal garden of tropical vegetation, within twelve miles from the volcano crater, is burdened with sand, some places six inches deep, and the lands to the eastward, bordering upon the previously devastated area, are covered to a depth of nine inches. Travel on all the roads in the windward district—the only regular means of communication between the two parts of the island—has been rendered extremely difficult.

CHARLES ESSICK DIED. Engineer Succumbs to His Terrible Injuries. Charles Essick, the engineer at the Indianapolis drop forge works, who was scalded Friday afternoon, died last night at the City Hospital from his injuries. He lived at 1214 Kennington street. Essick acted in place of the regular engineer, and was adjusting a steam gauge when a piece of scumling dropped from the ceiling. It struck a steam coil, causing a terrific blast of steam. He was scalded terribly and lost a lower portion of his body.

LOUIS REIBOLD ABROAD. Charles H. Ahle, who was for several years a clerk at the Bates House, is at the Grand Hotel, in New York, representing a New York advertising firm and traveling great deal. Last June he saw Louis Reibold, a former proprietor of the Bates, in Berlin. "He was looking fat and hearty," he says, "and I was glad to see him. He is a great deal better than I have seen him for some time. He is a great deal better than I have seen him for some time. He is a great deal better than I have seen him for some time."
