JAMES ANDERSON CAUSES THE ARREST OF THREE BROTHERS.

John, Fred and Lewis Beyers Charged with Assault and Battery with Intent to Kill.

Warrants were sworn out for the arrest of John, Fred and Lewis Beyers, employees of the Indianapolis Drop Forge Company, yesterday afternoon by James Anderson, a former employe of the firm, and the three men were slated at the police station later in the evening charged with assault and battery with intent to kill.

Anderson says he is a member of the Machinists' Union and left the drop forge works at the time of the strike there a year ago. He claims that as he was going past the works yesterday morning one of the Beyers brothers drew a revolver from his pocket and shot at him without any provocation. He grappled with the man, he says, and the other two men attempted to strike him on the head with heavy bars of iron, which they picked up in the factory. Other workmen in the factory interfered and stopped the fight. Anderson says the men who assaulted him are not members of the union, and knowing that he was, thought he was sent there to spy around and see who was in the factory and decided to get him out of the way.

CAR LOOTED IN BRIGHTWOOD.

It is said thirty or forty arrests will be made to-day.

A wagon load of toys, fine plush cloth and other articles was taken to the police station yesterday afternoon after a search of several houses along the Big Four tracks at Brightwood. Two weeks ago a freight car that was standing on the track near Brightwood was broken into and over $400 worth of its contents taken. Women, it is said, carried home apronsful of toys to their children, while the men of the neighborhood took boxes of files and hundreds of yards of plush cloth, such as is used in the upholstering of car seats. Detectives Lancaster and Kurtz and Big Four Detective Grady have been at work on the case and it is said that thirty or forty arrests will be made to-day.

NOMINATIONS ARE LEGAL.

City Attorney Joss Thinks Primary Law Was Not Violated in Any Way.

City Attorney F. A. Joss, who is well versed in all questions affecting the primary law which bears his name, says that the councilmanic nominations made by the Republicans Friday afternoon are legal and that there is no doubt existing in the minds of those that know the law as to their legality.

W. W. Spencer, chairman of the Democratic county committee, had stated that the nominations are void for the reason that the law, as he construes it, provides that councilmanic nominations may be made only at precinct primaries or by ward conventions after the delegates to the conventions have been chosen at precinct primaries.

SEVERAL WOMEN INSULTED.

Detectives Asch and Manning Arrest Charles Hicks.

Charles Hicks, of 324 South Meridian street, was arrested last night by Detectives Asch and Manning for alleged insults to women on the streets. The detectives say they were walking along the street directly behind Hicks and that he annoyed every woman he met by making insulting remarks and when told to desist became more offensive than ever.

VERGIE A BROWER.

Her Explanation for Having Her Neighbor's Furniture.

Vergie Whitmore, of Brightwood, was arrested for the second time within a week on a charge of petty larceny yesterday afternoon. She is charged with stealing all the furniture out of the residence of her neighbor, Anna Thompson, while the latter was away from home, but says she only borrowed the things and did not intend to keep them.

CITY OF BLUE AND WHITE

DOWNTOWN STREETS DECORATED IN HONOR OF T. P. A. CONVENTION.

Post B Has Completed Arrangements for Giving Delegates the Time of Their Lives—The Programme.

President Horace Eckhouse, of Post B, and his corps of energetic lieutenants are ready to entertain the delegates to the fourteenth annual convention of the Travelers' Protective Association of America. All arrangements are in shape, due to the untiring efforts of Post B boys during the past few weeks.

Members of Post B met last night at the clubhouse to compare notes. Chairmen of the committees in charge of the details of the convention reported progress to President Eckhouse. Reports from the following chairmen were submitted and approved by the president: Thomas B. Potter, reception committee; Walter Lindsey, information; Wesley Schilling, transportation; Bert Essex, entertainment; Lew Cooper, hotel; M. T. Orr, clubhouse; Ed Lowe, decoration; D. M. Payne, souvenir; Horace H. Eckhouse, programme; Eli A. Hirschfeld, press; J. M. Eldridge, refreshments; P. B. Trone, parade; P. J. O'Meara, vaudeville; Charles Albrecht, music; Morris Reutlinger, banquet; Bert Cox, ball; Elmer M. Eckhouse, carriages; Mrs. Thomas Potter, ladies' committee.

WORK WELL DONE.

All the committees have done their work thoroughly. Ed Lowe, of the committee on decoration, has been one of the busiest men in the middle West for the past few days, calling on merchants, securing bunting and planning effective features. Largely as the result of his efforts the streets downtown are done in blue and white. The Denison and Grand hotels sport great streamers of the colors of the T. P. A.; business houses are decorating and it is intended that the display shall be more elaborate than anything of the kind ever held in Indianapolis. The local committee has already spent $2,000 in decorating their work is not yet complete. By Tuesday morning the city will be bedecked as in carnival time.

The clubhouse of Post B on Maryland street, which will be the headquarters during the week's convention, is being overhauled and furnished up to entertain the delegates. Blue and white banners and streamers cover the front and a scheme of colored lights has been arranged for its beautification at night. A tent will be erected in the yard back of the clubhouse for the comfort of the visitors. The Elks and the members of the Marlton Club have invited the T. P. A. members to use their clubhouses during the convention.

The delegates will begin to come in to-night and to-morrow morning. A special train will bring in the national officers. They will be met at the Union Station to-morrow morning by members of the reception committee and escorted to their places of entertainment.

IN FOR A GOOD TIME.

Post B boys say that the delegates are in for a better time than they ever had in their lives. The programme, both as to social features and business sessions, has been arranged with a great deal of thought and the expenditure of considerable gray matter. Some of the features are: Ladies' reception and card party at the German House, Tuesday; boxing contest and badger fight at the Empire Theater Tuesday night; interurban ride to Anderson Wednesday; picnic at Broad Ripple Thursday; grand parade Friday, and the ball, banquet and vaudeville performance at the German house Friday night.

O'BRIEN'S POOLROOM RAIDED.

The Proprietor and Eight Men Taken to Police Station.

As the result of a raid on O'Brien's pool room, 228 Massachusetts avenue, last night, eight men were locked behind the bars of the city police station charged with visiting a gambling house, while O'Brien was slated for operating the game. The men were enjoying a game of craps and when the police entered money, checks and dice flew in all directions as the gamblers made a wild dash for the door in the hope of making their escape.

Not a man got away, however. O'Brien's poolroom has been raided several times in the last month and in spite of that fact the owner persists in keeping open. The last time he was arrested he was told that

BEAT TROUSERS COMPANY.

William Rice, of Cincinnati, Arrested by the Detectives.

William Rice, of Cincinnati, was arrested yesterday afternoon and charged with obtaining money under false pretenses by Detectives Kinney and Morgan. Rice was at one time a traveling man for the American Trousers Company, of this city, and it is said, sent in a number of "bogus" orders to the firm for which he collected commissions amounting to about $60. Shortly after collecting his commissions and before the firm had time to find that they had been deceived, Rice left their employ and had not been heard of since, until yesterday, when the detectives met him on the street. He was then on his way to the depot, intending to go to Cincinnati.

A SAVAGE LOCAL STORM

BERTERMANN BROS.' GREENHOUSE STRUCK BY LIGHTNING.

Near-By Residence Also Suffers Damage—It Was "Here It Comes and There It Goes."

Indianapolis was visited by one of the worst short-lived rain and electrical storms ever experienced in the history of the city yesterday afternoon. Trees were shattered and torn up by the roots in various parts of the city and the street cars were held for nearly an hour at the corner of Randolph and Mason streets by high water, which covered the streets from curb to curb and rushed in wild torrents over the sidewalks.

Bertermann Bros.' greenhouse, 3002 East Washington street, was struck by lightning and over 700 panes of glass broken. The cement floor on the inside was torn up and the earth rent where the storm god gave vent to his anger by shooting electric bolts into the ground.

Shortly after the greenhouse was struck the residence in which the florists live was jarred to its foundations and a hole six feet square was knocked in the roof by the turbulent lightning, seemingly bent on destroying the property of the Bertermann Bros. A great deal of damage was done in all parts of the city and adjacent country and several of Indianapolis' oldest citizens said they could not remember the time when Marion county was visited by a heavier storm.

OLD SOLDIER'S COMPLAINT

FREMONT SWIFT CRITICISES MANAGEMENT OF LAFAYETTE HOME.

Rules Enforced Are Too Rigid for Old Men to Conform To, He Says—Speech to Post.

Charges of undue severity were made against the officers conducting the affairs of the Lafayette Soldiers' Home by Fremont Swift, an old soldier of this city, at the meeting of George H. Chapman Post last night. Mr. Swift is a member of the post and is well known among veterans connected with the G. A. R. in Indianapolis. His speech at the post meeting created something like a sensation among the members.

Mr. Swift spent several months in the Lafayette home, recently receiving treatment in the hospital. His complaints are based on observation made while he was on the sick list. He does not make any accusations of brutality or of ill-treatment of veterans by any one connected with the home. He declares, however, that the old soldier without means is about as well off anywhere as at Lafayette. In his opinion there is too much extravagance, too much money spent for things which do the inmates of the home no good.

The charge of undue severity arises from his belief that the rules of the institution are too rigid for application to old men, who late in life find it impossible to conform to regulations more fitted for the conduct of younger men. He has received, in his opinion, he says, from a lawyer of the city that the rules are not legal, and he may ask the post to take action toward having them mitigated.

He declares the officers of the institution are almost unapproachable. He said last night: "It is humiliating to an old man who has served his country and who is reduced through penury to having to live in the home to have to humble himself to anyone to ask for the slightest favor, and that is what we have to do at the Lafayette home." Regarding the matter of extravagance, he says there are employes of the home who do little and receive fat salaries for doing it.

His principal complaint arises from the fact that old soldiers who are pensioners must either perform manual labor about the place or pay into the treasury of the institution a stated amount of their pension. In many cases, he says, the home takes so much of the pension money that there is little left for the veteran to buy what luxuries he may require. He charges discrimination against pensioners, in that they have to pay for the tobacco they use while nonpensioners receive it free. He does not think it fair that those who go to the hospital should have to pay over a part of their pension, or that a deposit should have to be made for burial expenses.

NEW ALBANY POLICE BOARD.

Governor Durbin Not Yet Ready to Make Announcements.

No announcement was made at the Governor's office yesterday relative to the vacancies in the New Albany police board created by the resignations of Messrs. McCulloch and Steinhauser, submitted at the request of the Governor. It is understood that the Governor will take the matter under advisement a few days before making the appointments and that in selecting the new commissioners he purposes to be guided by the result of his own inquiries and not by the recommendations of New Albany politicians.

The Governor is intent on getting a police board for the Floyd county city that will transact its affairs properly, and if he is not successful in his first appointments he will keep at it until he does get the right kind of a board.

TORE SAWMILL TO PIECES.

Factory Inspector McCabe Investigates a Boiler Explosion.

Factory Inspector McCabe has returned from Spencer, Ind., where he went to inspect the explosion of a boiler in the William Whitcomb sawmill. Mr. McCabe found that the boiler had been purchased by Mr. Whitcomb, who runs a small sawmill just outside of Spencer, from an unauthorized agent. The boiler was said to be new, but in fact was an old one repainted and repolished, and the first time it was fired up nearly blew the small mill to pieces. Mr. McCabe said it was wonderful that no one was injured, as the explosion blew the boiler seventy-five yards.

EXAMINED BY FOUR STATES.

Franklin Life Insurance Company, of Springfield, O., in Form.

Insurance Examiner K. U. Bingham, of the state auditor's office, returned yesterday from Springfield, Ill., where he has been attending the examination of the Franklin Life Insurance Company that has just been made by the States of Illinois, Missouri, Tennessee and Indiana. The insurance departments of each of these States sent representatives to the headquarters of the company in Springfield and they made a careful examination of the books. Mr. Bingham said conditions were found to be good and that a favorable report would be made by the examiners.

ASSOCIATION NEEDS MONEY.

Large Debt Hovers Over the Officers of the Y. W. C. A.

A mistaken impression has gone abroad in regard to the finances of the Young Women's Christian Association. It developed at the annual meeting the other night that money is needed and a peculiar feature of the matter is that the association's rapid growth is to some extent responsible for the present conditions. The finances have not kept pace with the development of the organization. There is a large building debt and this the association will have to liquidate. A call for aid has been issued.

GOOD WEATHER TO-DAY.

People Can Venture Forth Without Fear of a Wetting.

The indications are that Indianapolis people and the usual crowds of Sunday excursionists will have a clear Sunday today. Thunderstorms are reported in various parts of the State, but they are not expected to reach here. The temperature will remain about the same as yesterday.

GOSHEN'S NEW COMPANY.

Capt. H. M. Franklin Mustered It Into the National Guard.

Orders were issued yesterday from the adjutant general's office for the mustering of a new company at Goshen, Ind., and Captain H. M. Franklin was sent to Goshen, where the company was mustered last night.

COME FROM FIVE STATES

SESSIONS OF CHRISTIAN AND MISSIONARY ALLIANCE.

Michigan, Wisconsin, Indiana, Missouri and Kentucky Represented—The First Meeting.

The fifth annual convention of the Christian and Missionary Alliance, of this district, which includes Michigan, Wisconsin, Indiana, Missouri and Kentucky, convened last night at the First Church of the Evangelical Association, 323 North East street. The meeting was largely introductory to the week's session, which will end on June 14. The Rev. A. A. Funk, superintendent of the Missionary Institute, at New York, and the Rev. S. H. Stokes, of Detroit, made short talks on the work of the association. The services were entirely devotional, as the convention does not transact any business. The Rev. G. N. Eldridge, state superintendent of Indiana, has charge of the convention.

The Christian and Missionary Alliance is a national association, with headquarters in New York city. The Alliance has now about 250 missionaries in all parts of the world, and each year is increasing the number. The Rev. A. E. Simpson, of New York, is national president. It is for the purpose of strengthening their missionary force in the field that these district revival conventions are held each year.

To-day the convention will hold three services, at 10 o'clock in the morning, 2:30 in the afternoon, and 7:30 to-night. The Rev. E. A. Funk will speak at the morning service, and this afternoon the Rev. W. H. Chandler, of Wheaton, Ill., state superintendent of Illinois, will address the convention. The Rev. S. H. Stokes will be the speaker to-night. To-morrow the convention will be transferred to the Tabernacle Presbyterian Church, at the corner of Eleventh and Meridian streets, where it will continue the rest of the week. Three services will be held each day at the aforementioned hours. Representatives will be present from China, Africa, India, New York, Chicago, Pittsburg, Louisville, Grand Rapids and Port Wayne. Later on in the week the Ohio Male Quartet will join the convention, and Harry Maxwell, of Greenville, a celebrated evangelist, is expected. The Rev. A. B. Simpson, national president, will also be present at the closing sessions.
