FROM THE GAME

DOUBLE PLAY-FOX TO O'BRIEN TO KILM. Stolen Bases-Kilm, Schaefer. Left on Bases-Kilm, Schaefer, 6; St. Paul, 4. Time-1:23.

A DIFFERENT STORY. For four innings the second game was a pitchers' battle, and the spectators began to hope that McPartlin would duplicate the record he made against Minneapolis by letting the Saints down with only one hit. In the latter part of the game, however, the fans began to fear that the Saints would never escape their bombardment of McPartlin's curves. They found everything he tossed up, and safe hits were given to all parts of the lot.

American Association Games To-Day. St. Paul and Indianapolis at Muncie. Minneapolis at Columbus. Milwaukee at Kansas City at Toledo.

A dirty, worn-out broom cut quite a figure in the second game of the double-header between Indianapolis and St. Paul at Washington Park yesterday afternoon, and the superstitious players say it was the cause of the Hoosiers' failure to bag both games.

Whether the broom played an important part or not, the best Indianapolis could do was to divide honors with the Saints, the first contest going to Indianapolis by a score of 3 to 0 and the second to St. Paul by a score of 8 to 2.

Paul Geler, the St. Paul left fielder, started the broom play in the fifth inning. The broom was used to sweep off the home plate, and it rested on St. Paul territory when the Saints went to bat in the fifth. Geler quietly tossed the broom across the line and the Saints proceeded to score two tallies and take the lead.

After Indianapolis had tied in the sixth, Geler again tossed the broom over to the Indianapolis side. The bat boy was on to the trick and he immediately threw the broom to the other side. The broom was abused for the next few minutes by being tossed back and forth. Geler got it and threw it over the fence. The small boy brought it back and St. Paul's batting streak ended. But in the next inning after the broom had been shot over the fence, Geler again threw it over the fence and before it could be brought back the Saints engaged in a bombardment resulting in them piling up five runs and making the game safe.

BIG CROWD PRESENT. Nearly 6,000 spectators cheered when the first game was finished and the Indianapolis team had scored a shutout. The game number left the park at the conclusion of the second game trying to realize just what had happened to put the Saints so far in the lead toward the close of the contest.

Ford was on the slab for Indianapolis in the first game and he had the same puzzling delivery that has placed him in the front rank of brilliant pitchers. He threw few games he has pitched. He allowed only six hits scattered through as many innings. The support for him was excellent. Ford's Heydon's throwing to second in cutting off the bold Saints, who attempted to steal, was accurate. Ford's hitting was excellent. Ford, a fast double play in the fifth inning, to retire the side.

McPartlin's batting honors in the first game with a triple and two singles. Coaker and Jones also did good stick work. Coaker's run around the circuit. Ford scored more than one hit, but his safe ones counted for little in the general result. There were a number of interesting plays in the second game interesting, but the manner in which the visitors went after McPartlin's curves in the latter part of the game caused the spectators to grow very weary of scoring safe hits opposite the St. Paul pitcher. The Hoosiers proved the third St. Paul and while efforts were made by the fans to rattle him, he failed to go up in the air. The Hoosiers' batting was disheartening and generally.

HOW HOOSIERS WON FIRST. The first three men to face Ford proved easy outs. Hogreiver opened the Indianapolis half by hitting safely to left. Fox struck out and Heydon flew to left. Coaker singled, but was forced at second. Schaefer opened the second with a single and was sacrificed to second, but the next two men were safely retired. Only three Hoosiers made Ferguson's first half.

After the Saints were retired in the third the Hoosiers started the run-getting by sending one man around the circuit. Ford went out easily. Hogreiver drove a long fly to right for three bases. An effort was made to tag him at third and on Schaefer's wild throw Hogreiver completed the circuit, while the large crowd cheered. Fox and Heydon went out on a line fly to Kelly.

With two out in the fourth, Schaefer reached first on a scratch single and pitched second, but Huggins proved the third out. The champions proceeded to add another tally in the last half. Coaker singled to left and O'Brien fanned. Jones's single sent Coaker to second and Kilm scored him with a hit.

St. Paul was easy in the next two innings, a fast double play depriving the visitors of a chance in the fifth. Indianapolis scored one run in the fifth. O'Brien was retired on an infield chance, Jones singled, but was forced at second by Kilm. Kilm stole second and scored on Tammert's hit to right. Ford went out on a line fly to Kelly.

There was no scoring during the game. Shannon secured a single in the ninth, but the game was retired without advancing him. Score: First Game. Indianapolis, A. B. R. H. O. A. E. Hogreiver, 4 1 3 1 0 0 0

SHORT HOSE WON IN MUD

RAN THROUGH THE STICKY STUFF AND TOOK TIDAL STAKES.

Foam Stakes Captured by Infexibles-Features of the Racing at Sheepshead Bay.

NEW YORK, June 20.-The Goughcares' stable's Short Hose, with Haack up, won the Tidal stakes for three-year-olds at Sheepshead Bay to-day. J. B. Haggin's Charles Elwood was second, and the Westchester stable's Whorler was third. The race was run over a track fetlock-deep in mud and the starter, the Westbury stable candidate, Whorler, O'Neill up, joined jockey by Harry Payne Whitney and H. B. Duryea, was the favorite, closing at 9 to 1. Metlonian, Odum up, was second choice, at 16 to 5, and Short Hose next in demand, at 8 to 1. After a few moments' delay at the post they were sent away a good start. Charles Elwood was first to break from the gate, followed by Whorler and Whorler third. Coming to the first turn opposite the paddock O'Neill sent the favorite up to second place, Black Hussar dropping back to third place. Rounding into the back stretch Charles Elwood was still leading, with Whorler second and Metlonian up to third place, and was apparently holding the lead until the second turn, when he was making the far turn Haack, on Short Hose, which was running fourth and which looked like a sure winner. Short Hose made his run. Turning into the stretch he was in second place, only a length behind the leader. In the stretch he passed the leader and finally came under the wire a winner by about two lengths. Whorler, who in turn was three lengths in front of the favorite, Whorler.

NEW YORK, June 20.-The Goughcares' stable's Short Hose, with Haack up, won the Tidal stakes for three-year-olds at Sheepshead Bay to-day. J. B. Haggin's Charles Elwood was second, and the Westchester stable's Whorler was third. The race was run over a track fetlock-deep in mud and the starter, the Westbury stable candidate, Whorler, O'Neill up, joined jockey by Harry Payne Whitney and H. B. Duryea, was the favorite, closing at 9 to 1. Metlonian, Odum up, was second choice, at 16 to 5, and Short Hose next in demand, at 8 to 1. After a few moments' delay at the post they were sent away a good start. Charles Elwood was first to break from the gate, followed by Whorler and Whorler third. Coming to the first turn opposite the paddock O'Neill sent the favorite up to second place, Black Hussar dropping back to third place. Rounding into the back stretch Charles Elwood was still leading, with Whorler second and Metlonian up to third place, and was apparently holding the lead until the second turn, when he was making the far turn Haack, on Short Hose, which was running fourth and which looked like a sure winner. Short Hose made his run. Turning into the stretch he was in second place, only a length behind the leader. In the stretch he passed the leader and finally came under the wire a winner by about two lengths. Whorler, who in turn was three lengths in front of the favorite, Whorler.
