

SHEEP PERISH BY FIRE; 7,000 EXPORTS ROASTED

Were Confined in Long Sheds at the East Buffalo Yards and Could Not Escape.

LOSS IS ABOUT $75,000

BUFFALO, N. Y., Dec. 28.—Seven thousand sheep were burned to death at the East Buffalo stockyards to-night. The long sheds in which they were confined were swept by the flames before any of the animals could be released. The loss is estimated at $75,000. It was stated by Superintendent Leigh that the fire would in no way interfere with the handling of live stock here. Plenty of space is available in the cattle and hog sheds to house the sheep arrivals. The sheep were confined in two long sheds, 100 feet in width, and covering a total area of 600,000 square feet. Running parallel with them were the hog and cattle sheds. The fire, fanned by a brisk wind, destroyed the two buildings in an incredibly short time. The sheep destroyed were "exports" and were in charge of federal officers.

RECIPROcity IN EFFECT.

Cubans Now Attempting to Frame a Tariff Bill.

HAVANA, Dec. 28.—The proposition for a straight 25 per cent. increase in the tariff has been withdrawn in the Senate, the majority appearing in favor of evading a tariff law out of the bill originally reported.

The tariff committee of the Senate therefore has adopted as a basis of discussion the original bill, which provides for radical increases in the tariff, most of which are more than 25 per cent. of the present rates. The bill, however, is likely to be greatly amended, and the original schedules reduced. The bill must be rushed through Congress if it is to be passed at the present session.

Fromont, who, it is understood, is in favor of the annexation of the colony to the United States. As M. Legasse represented the fishery interests, the small majority by which he has been re-elected is looked upon as evidence of the extent of the popular dissatisfaction with the annexation project.

OLD PRESIDENT TOASTED BY ALUMNI OF INDIANA

Sons and Daughters of I. U. Sit at Annual Banquet at Grand Hotel.

SWAIN IS GUEST

"Honor to the white and crimson banner that we love. It led us in the conflict, and a triumph prove." "Gloriana, Frangipanni, Ever to her be true; She's the pride of Indiana, Here to old I. U." Seventy-five men and women who in days gone by absorbed the learning that the wise men of Indiana University taught raised their voices in enthusiastic ululation in the old class song. They sang it with a hearty and as they sang they lifted their glasses as if they drank to the health of him who smiled with a wealth of good will at the head of the table—former president, Joseph Swain.

It was the occasion of the alumni dinner of the Indiana University alumni. The dinner took place at the Grand Hotel, beginning at 8 o'clock, and proved a distinct social success. The menu was most appetizing and the guests did justice to it. The presence of Dr. Swain and wife added interest to the occasion and if there ever had been a doubt of their popularity at I. U., that doubt was dispelled last night.

Dr. Swain was toastmaster and introduced the different speakers with happy remarks that were characteristic of him. The programme of toasts embraced a toast of good wishes, Franklin P. Foster, '99, responded to the toast, "College Democracy." Ernest P. Bicknell, who is now at the head of the associated charities in Chicago, talked of "Wind and Water." Edna Johnson, class of '98, told of "The Boycott of an Educational Institution." Foster High, class of '88, discussed "College Aristocracy."

William Lowe Bryan, president of the university, who was graduated in 1884, talked of Indiana. He bespoke bright things for the institution in the future. Some day he hopes to have a school so arranged that every student who comes there will find a feature to interest him. Dr. Bryan remarked that the presence of former President Swain and Mrs. Swain and told how welcome they were. He paid a fine compliment to Dr. Swain, saying that he was sure that it elicited the heartiest applause. After the regular programme of toasts was completed, the Rev. W. F. Peck and Nat. L. Hill, who were present, were prevailed on to address the assemblage. They did so in the happiest vein.

MECHANICAL SCRUBBERS.

Machine to Do Away with the Customary Hand Process. It is altogether natural that some brainy chap should discover a means to supersede the antiquated method of scrubbing floors that is now in vogue.

The new invention which is the product of the genius of a young Texan, eliminates the necessity of the worthy charwoman falling upon her knees beside her bucket of water and soap and wearing her hands out in completing her task.

An upright post with a lever to the lower end of which is attached a rubber roller scrubbing brush, completes a very simple but effective apparatus. Water being thrown upon the floor, the machine is moved from point to point while the operator industriously works the lever back and forth. It is evidently a good scheme and if it is made reasonable we will doubtless see it in pretty general use before long.

AUTOMATIC FLOOR SCRUBBER.

WIFE DENIES HUSBAND CLAIMS SHE IS UNPROVIDED FOR AND CRUEL TREATMENT.

Mrs. Miles, Also Sister-in-Law, Claims She Is Unprovided For and Cruel Treatment.

ASKS $50,000 ALIMONY

The trial of a suit for divorce and $50,000 alimony was begun yesterday before Judge Allen in the Circuit Court. The plaintiff, Melvina Miles, alleges cruel and inhuman treatment by her husband, Thomas J. Miles.

Mrs. Miles is a retired farmer living near Clayton, in Hendricks county, and he is estimated to be worth over $50,000. A part of his wealth consists of nearly 1,200 acres of rich farm land in Hendricks and Morgan counties.

The plaintiff charges that her husband, whom she married in 1890, has been very stingy in providing money for the necessary running expenses of the house. The present Mrs. Miles is the second wife, Miles having married her sister the first time. The defendant, Mrs. Miles, has been giving the furniture in his house to the children of the former wife, Mrs. Miles says that her husband has frequently called her a pauper and said that all his wealth would be distributed to his first wife.

Mrs. Miles says that her husband has compelled her to carry wood and build fires and even to carry sawdust to the wogs. He would refuse for weeks at a time to speak to her and would never take her to any social gathering. Her husband has frequently called her a pauper and said that all his wealth would be distributed to his first wife.

The judge thought that the Kinly family had their share of divorces and refused to add another to the list.
