

Your Heart May Be Weak. One Person in Four Has a Weak Heart.

One of the surest signs of a weak heart is shortness of breath after exercise. Your heart is not able to pump the blood fast enough to your lungs.

Some of the other symptoms of Heart Trouble are: Pains in the Side, Back and Shoulder; Fainting or Weak Spells; Dry Cough; Swelling of Feet and Ankles; Cold Feet or Hands.

No one can afford to allow a weak heart to go without medicine, because weak heart means poor circulation, and poor circulation means weak lungs, stomach, liver, kidneys, etc.

If, therefore, you suspect heart trouble, begin taking Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure. The Heart Cure will do you good, as it is a splendid tonic for the blood and nerves, and will revitalize your entire system.

Finally, remember, Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure is sold under a guarantee that the first bottle will do you good.

If it doesn't—your money back.

"I was afflicted with heart trouble for three years. I would be apparently all right and would not mind the warning would fall as though shot. The attacks were frequent, and a terrible dread possessed me, as never knew when or where, nor under what conditions I would be attacked, and I would not survive them. I consulted and was treated by some of the most eminent physicians of the state. Not finding relief from this source, I began taking Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure, and began to improve at once. I used ten bottles, which entirely cured me, as I have not had an attack for five years."—MRS. JOHN DRESBACH, Leipsic, O.

FREE Write to us for Free Trial Package of Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure. Also Symptom Blank. Our Specialist will diagnose your case, tell you what is wrong, and how to get it free. DR. W. C. MILES, MEDICAL CO., LITTLE ROCK, ARK., U.S.A.

RAIN OR SNOW IS PROMISED FOR TO-DAY

WASHINGTON, March 13.—Forecast for Monday and Tuesday: Indiana—Snow in north, rain in south portion Monday. Tuesday fair; brisk to fresh northeast to north winds, becoming northwest.

Illinois—Fair on Monday, except snow in northeast portion. Tuesday fair; brisk northeast winds, becoming northwest.

Kentucky—Rain, followed by fair and colder on Monday. Tuesday fair.

Ohio—Rain in south; snow in north portion on Monday. Tuesday fair and warmer.

West Virginia—Rain on Monday. Tuesday fair; colder in west portion.

Lower Michigan—Snow on Monday. Tuesday fair in west, snow in east portion; fresh northeast winds, becoming northwest.

Western Pennsylvania—Rain in south, snow in north portion on Monday. Tuesday fair, except snow along the lake; fresh east winds, shifting to northwest.

Wisconsin—Fair on Monday, except rain in the east portion; colder in central and east portions. Tuesday fair.

Minnesota—Snow in fair in west portion on Monday. Tuesday fair; fresh northeast winds, becoming northwest.

North Dakota—Fair on Monday, except rain in the east portion; colder in central and east portions. Tuesday fair.

South Dakota—Fair on Monday, except rain in the east portion; colder in central and east portions. Tuesday fair.

Nebraska—Fair on Monday, except rain in the east portion; colder in central and east portions. Tuesday fair.

Kansas—Fair on Monday, except rain in the east portion; colder in central and east portions. Tuesday fair.

Oklahoma—Fair on Monday, except rain in the east portion; colder in central and east portions. Tuesday fair.

Arkansas—Fair on Monday, except rain in the east portion; colder in central and east portions. Tuesday fair.

Mississippi—Fair on Monday, except rain in the east portion; colder in central and east portions. Tuesday fair.

Alabama—Fair on Monday, except rain in the east portion; colder in central and east portions. Tuesday fair.

Georgia—Fair on Monday, except rain in the east portion; colder in central and east portions. Tuesday fair.

Florida—Fair on Monday, except rain in the east portion; colder in central and east portions. Tuesday fair.

Delaware—Fair on Monday, except rain in the east portion; colder in central and east portions. Tuesday fair.

Maryland—Fair on Monday, except rain in the east portion; colder in central and east portions. Tuesday fair.

Virginia—Fair on Monday, except rain in the east portion; colder in central and east portions. Tuesday fair.

North Carolina—Fair on Monday, except rain in the east portion; colder in central and east portions. Tuesday fair.

South Carolina—Fair on Monday, except rain in the east portion; colder in central and east portions. Tuesday fair.

Georgia—Fair on Monday, except rain in the east portion; colder in central and east portions. Tuesday fair.

Florida—Fair on Monday, except rain in the east portion; colder in central and east portions. Tuesday fair.

Alabama—Fair on Monday, except rain in the east portion; colder in central and east portions. Tuesday fair.

DAMAGE TO RUSSIAN PORT TORPEDO ATTACK ON THURSDAY

Admiral Togo's Account of the Torpedo Squadron's Engagement on March 10.

VICTORY WAS COMPLETE Japanese Losses Were Small and Their Fleet Is Intact—Russian Losses Heavy.

TOKIO, March 13.—Official and private reports both indicate that Admiral Togo's fourth attack on Port Arthur on the 10th was the most effective since the first assault of a month ago. One Russian torpedo boat destroyer was sunk and several Russian torpedo boat destroyers were seriously damaged. The fortifications and city were subjected to a heavy bombardment, lasting nearly four hours. The naval bombardment of the land works have generally been ineffective, yet the peculiar topographical conditions of Port Arthur make immunity from serious loss from bombardment impossible.

Admiral Togo's torpedo flotilla opened the action by boldly steaming in under the batteries and successfully placing a number of mechanical mines at the mouth of the harbor. Following that there was a desperate bow-to-bow encounter between the torpedo boat destroyers, in which the Japanese appear to have scored a clear victory. Then followed a long range duel between the cruisers, ending in the retirement of the Novik and Bayan, the only Russian battleships.

The closing action was the bombardment of the inner harbor by the Japanese battleships. The latter took a position south of Port Arthur and used only their twelve-inch guns. There were twenty-four twelve-inch guns in the squadron of six battleships and each gun was fired five rounds, making a total of 120 huge projectiles that were fired at the city. The bombardment was deliberate and carefully planned.

In order to aid in perfecting the firing, Admiral Togo stationed the cruisers in a position due east of the entrance to the harbor, and endeavored to angle the batteries. The cruisers observed the range and after firing signaled the result by wireless telegraph. The observations and reports greatly aided the gunners in their effort to make every shot count.

Admiral Togo was unable to definitely learn the results of the bombardment, but later private reports indicate that much of the harbor works in the city, where a series of fires broke out. There was also damage to the city.

Captain Shoji, commanding the flotilla of torpedo destroyers, which engaged the Russian fleet, was hero of the day. He led his three destroyers, but attacked the six Russian destroyers, ordering them to close in with their torpedoes. He steamed so close to the enemy destroyers that they almost touched and a number of torpedoes were fired.

Engineer Minamizawa, of the destroyer Katsuragi, received a bullet in the chest, but misawaya participated in the first torpedo attack on Port Arthur, also in the attempt to sink the Russian battleships. He was commended both times for his gallantry.

The Japanese flotilla which sunk the mines at the mouth of the harbor later engaged two Russian destroyers. This flotilla was commanded by Captain Tachibana. Admiral Togo's object in sending cruisers to Tallenway bay was to encompass the Russian fleet by linking together the depot at Samshattick. This object was achieved and the buildings were demolished.

Both Admiral Dewa and Uris participated in the operations under Admiral Togo, the details of whose operations are known in Japan only to-day, and the news of Admiral Togo's report came last night, but it was withheld until shown to the Emperor. Togo's fleet numbered about 200 vessels, including the latest reports place the Japanese loss at nine killed, five seriously wounded and seventeen slightly hurt. The Japanese fleet was not damaged in the fight.

Both Admiral Dewa and Uris participated in the operations under Admiral Togo, the details of whose operations are known in Japan only to-day, and the news of Admiral Togo's report came last night, but it was withheld until shown to the Emperor. Togo's fleet numbered about 200 vessels, including the latest reports place the Japanese loss at nine killed, five seriously wounded and seventeen slightly hurt. The Japanese fleet was not damaged in the fight.

Both Admiral Dewa and Uris participated in the operations under Admiral Togo, the details of whose operations are known in Japan only to-day, and the news of Admiral Togo's report came last night, but it was withheld until shown to the Emperor. Togo's fleet numbered about 200 vessels, including the latest reports place the Japanese loss at nine killed, five seriously wounded and seventeen slightly hurt. The Japanese fleet was not damaged in the fight.

Both Admiral Dewa and Uris participated in the operations under Admiral Togo, the details of whose operations are known in Japan only to-day, and the news of Admiral Togo's report came last night, but it was withheld until shown to the Emperor. Togo's fleet numbered about 200 vessels, including the latest reports place the Japanese loss at nine killed, five seriously wounded and seventeen slightly hurt. The Japanese fleet was not damaged in the fight.

Both Admiral Dewa and Uris participated in the operations under Admiral Togo, the details of whose operations are known in Japan only to-day, and the news of Admiral Togo's report came last night, but it was withheld until shown to the Emperor. Togo's fleet numbered about 200 vessels, including the latest reports place the Japanese loss at nine killed, five seriously wounded and seventeen slightly hurt. The Japanese fleet was not damaged in the fight.

Both Admiral Dewa and Uris participated in the operations under Admiral Togo, the details of whose operations are known in Japan only to-day, and the news of Admiral Togo's report came last night, but it was withheld until shown to the Emperor. Togo's fleet numbered about 200 vessels, including the latest reports place the Japanese loss at nine killed, five seriously wounded and seventeen slightly hurt. The Japanese fleet was not damaged in the fight.

Both Admiral Dewa and Uris participated in the operations under Admiral Togo, the details of whose operations are known in Japan only to-day, and the news of Admiral Togo's report came last night, but it was withheld until shown to the Emperor. Togo's fleet numbered about 200 vessels, including the latest reports place the Japanese loss at nine killed, five seriously wounded and seventeen slightly hurt. The Japanese fleet was not damaged in the fight.

Both Admiral Dewa and Uris participated in the operations under Admiral Togo, the details of whose operations are known in Japan only to-day, and the news of Admiral Togo's report came last night, but it was withheld until shown to the Emperor. Togo's fleet numbered about 200 vessels, including the latest reports place the Japanese loss at nine killed, five seriously wounded and seventeen slightly hurt. The Japanese fleet was not damaged in the fight.

Both Admiral Dewa and Uris participated in the operations under Admiral Togo, the details of whose operations are known in Japan only to-day, and the news of Admiral Togo's report came last night, but it was withheld until shown to the Emperor. Togo's fleet numbered about 200 vessels, including the latest reports place the Japanese loss at nine killed, five seriously wounded and seventeen slightly hurt. The Japanese fleet was not damaged in the fight.

Both Admiral Dewa and Uris participated in the operations under Admiral Togo, the details of whose operations are known in Japan only to-day, and the news of Admiral Togo's report came last night, but it was withheld until shown to the Emperor. Togo's fleet numbered about 200 vessels, including the latest reports place the Japanese loss at nine killed, five seriously wounded and seventeen slightly hurt. The Japanese fleet was not damaged in the fight.

Both Admiral Dewa and Uris participated in the operations under Admiral Togo, the details of whose operations are known in Japan only to-day, and the news of Admiral Togo's report came last night, but it was withheld until shown to the Emperor. Togo's fleet numbered about 200 vessels, including the latest reports place the Japanese loss at nine killed, five seriously wounded and seventeen slightly hurt. The Japanese fleet was not damaged in the fight.

Both Admiral Dewa and Uris participated in the operations under Admiral Togo, the details of whose operations are known in Japan only to-day, and the news of Admiral Togo's report came last night, but it was withheld until shown to the Emperor. Togo's fleet numbered about 200 vessels, including the latest reports place the Japanese loss at nine killed, five seriously wounded and seventeen slightly hurt. The Japanese fleet was not damaged in the fight.

Both Admiral Dewa and Uris participated in the operations under Admiral Togo, the details of whose operations are known in Japan only to-day, and the news of Admiral Togo's report came last night, but it was withheld until shown to the Emperor. Togo's fleet numbered about 200 vessels, including the latest reports place the Japanese loss at nine killed, five seriously wounded and seventeen slightly hurt. The Japanese fleet was not damaged in the fight.

Both Admiral Dewa and Uris participated in the operations under Admiral Togo, the details of whose operations are known in Japan only to-day, and the news of Admiral Togo's report came last night, but it was withheld until shown to the Emperor. Togo's fleet numbered about 200 vessels, including the latest reports place the Japanese loss at nine killed, five seriously wounded and seventeen slightly hurt. The Japanese fleet was not damaged in the fight.

Both Admiral Dewa and Uris participated in the operations under Admiral Togo, the details of whose operations are known in Japan only to-day, and the news of Admiral Togo's report came last night, but it was withheld until shown to the Emperor. Togo's fleet numbered about 200 vessels, including the latest reports place the Japanese loss at nine killed, five seriously wounded and seventeen slightly hurt. The Japanese fleet was not damaged in the fight.

Both Admiral Dewa and Uris participated in the operations under Admiral Togo, the details of whose operations are known in Japan only to-day, and the news of Admiral Togo's report came last night, but it was withheld until shown to the Emperor. Togo's fleet numbered about 200 vessels, including the latest reports place the Japanese loss at nine killed, five seriously wounded and seventeen slightly hurt. The Japanese fleet was not damaged in the fight.

Both Admiral Dewa and Uris participated in the operations under Admiral Togo, the details of whose operations are known in Japan only to-day, and the news of Admiral Togo's report came last night, but it was withheld until shown to the Emperor. Togo's fleet numbered about 200 vessels, including the latest reports place the Japanese loss at nine killed, five seriously wounded and seventeen slightly hurt. The Japanese fleet was not damaged in the fight.

Both Admiral Dewa and Uris participated in the operations under Admiral Togo, the details of whose operations are known in Japan only to-day, and the news of Admiral Togo's report came last night, but it was withheld until shown to the Emperor. Togo's fleet numbered about 200 vessels, including the latest reports place the Japanese loss at nine killed, five seriously wounded and seventeen slightly hurt. The Japanese fleet was not damaged in the fight.

Both Admiral Dewa and Uris participated in the operations under Admiral Togo, the details of whose operations are known in Japan only to-day, and the news of Admiral Togo's report came last night, but it was withheld until shown to the Emperor. Togo's fleet numbered about 200 vessels, including the latest reports place the Japanese loss at nine killed, five seriously wounded and seventeen slightly hurt. The Japanese fleet was not damaged in the fight.

Both Admiral Dewa and Uris participated in the operations under Admiral Togo, the details of whose operations are known in Japan only to-day, and the news of Admiral Togo's report came last night, but it was withheld until shown to the Emperor. Togo's fleet numbered about 200 vessels, including the latest reports place the Japanese loss at nine killed, five seriously wounded and seventeen slightly hurt. The Japanese fleet was not damaged in the fight.

Both Admiral Dewa and Uris participated in the operations under Admiral Togo, the details of whose operations are known in Japan only to-day, and the news of Admiral Togo's report came last night, but it was withheld until shown to the Emperor. Togo's fleet numbered about 200 vessels, including the latest reports place the Japanese loss at nine killed, five seriously wounded and seventeen slightly hurt. The Japanese fleet was not damaged in the fight.

Evacuation of Port Arthur Reported at Tokio and Shanghai

(CONCLUDED FROM FIRST PAGE) ... under arrest, who was employed in the Ministry of Marine, is said to have attempted to sell French naval secrets to the professor of Prince Ichigo, who is now approaching the distance to the same end. It is alleged that Martin also sold some secret information to the Japanese, and that the late military governor at Kirin has committed suicide, owing to his inability to prevent the people from distress or stop the Russian deprivations.

EXCHANGE OF VIEWS IN HOPE OF PEACE

PARIS, March 14.—The Figaro this morning prints an interview with a person of much importance in the diplomatic world, who declares that although the recent rumors of probable mediation between Russia and Japan are premature, the positive denials of these rumors are equally baseless. "I can assert," this person says, "that, favored by the comparative calmness which prevails at this moment, a most active exchange of views is going on between European cabinets, and that the latter have begun to play the part of international friends, in other words, they are trying to restrict the spread of the contagion and to protect adjoining states."

After alluding to the rumors which have been circulating since the formation of the Figaro said in conclusion: "One thing remains certain, namely, the new and striking change in the close friendship uniting Nicholas II and King Edward VII. Everywhere peace is desired and governments are working for it with all their strength."

China is not a source of danger; the Emperor and court of Japan. The treaty of Shimanoeki has not been forgotten, and, moreover, the race question in Asia has not the importance which European states attribute to it.

After alluding to the rumors which have been circulating since the formation of the Figaro said in conclusion: "One thing remains certain, namely, the new and striking change in the close friendship uniting Nicholas II and King Edward VII. Everywhere peace is desired and governments are working for it with all their strength."

China is not a source of danger; the Emperor and court of Japan. The treaty of Shimanoeki has not been forgotten, and, moreover, the race question in Asia has not the importance which European states attribute to it.

After alluding to the rumors which have been circulating since the formation of the Figaro said in conclusion: "One thing remains certain, namely, the new and striking change in the close friendship uniting Nicholas II and King Edward VII. Everywhere peace is desired and governments are working for it with all their strength."

China is not a source of danger; the Emperor and court of Japan. The treaty of Shimanoeki has not been forgotten, and, moreover, the race question in Asia has not the importance which European states attribute to it.

After alluding to the rumors which have been circulating since the formation of the Figaro said in conclusion: "One thing remains certain, namely, the new and striking change in the close friendship uniting Nicholas II and King Edward VII. Everywhere peace is desired and governments are working for it with all their strength."

China is not a source of danger; the Emperor and court of Japan. The treaty of Shimanoeki has not been forgotten, and, moreover, the race question in Asia has not the importance which European states attribute to it.

After alluding to the rumors which have been circulating since the formation of the Figaro said in conclusion: "One thing remains certain, namely, the new and striking change in the close friendship uniting Nicholas II and King Edward VII. Everywhere peace is desired and governments are working for it with all their strength."

China is not a source of danger; the Emperor and court of Japan. The treaty of Shimanoeki has not been forgotten, and, moreover, the race question in Asia has not the importance which European states attribute to it.

After alluding to the rumors which have been circulating since the formation of the Figaro said in conclusion: "One thing remains certain, namely, the new and striking change in the close friendship uniting Nicholas II and King Edward VII. Everywhere peace is desired and governments are working for it with all their strength."

China is not a source of danger; the Emperor and court of Japan. The treaty of Shimanoeki has not been forgotten, and, moreover, the race question in Asia has not the importance which European states attribute to it.

After alluding to the rumors which have been circulating since the formation of the Figaro said in conclusion: "One thing remains certain, namely, the new and striking change in the close friendship uniting Nicholas II and King Edward VII. Everywhere peace is desired and governments are working for it with all their strength."

China is not a source of danger; the Emperor and court of Japan. The treaty of Shimanoeki has not been forgotten, and, moreover, the race question in Asia has not the importance which European states attribute to it.

After alluding to the rumors which have been circulating since the formation of the Figaro said in conclusion: "One thing remains certain, namely, the new and striking change in the close friendship uniting Nicholas II and King Edward VII. Everywhere peace is desired and governments are working for it with all their strength."

China is not a source of danger; the Emperor and court of Japan. The treaty of Shimanoeki has not been forgotten, and, moreover, the race question in Asia has not the importance which European states attribute to it.

After alluding to the rumors which have been circulating since the formation of the Figaro said in conclusion: "One thing remains certain, namely, the new and striking change in the close friendship uniting Nicholas II and King Edward VII. Everywhere peace is desired and governments are working for it with all their strength."

China is not a source of danger; the Emperor and court of Japan. The treaty of Shimanoeki has not been forgotten, and, moreover, the race question in Asia has not the importance which European states attribute to it.

After alluding to the rumors which have been circulating since the formation of the Figaro said in conclusion: "One thing remains certain, namely, the new and striking change in the close friendship uniting Nicholas II and King Edward VII. Everywhere peace is desired and governments are working for it with all their strength."

China is not a source of danger; the Emperor and court of Japan. The treaty of Shimanoeki has not been forgotten, and, moreover, the race question in Asia has not the importance which European states attribute to it.

After alluding to the rumors which have been circulating since the formation of the Figaro said in conclusion: "One thing remains certain, namely, the new and striking change in the close friendship uniting Nicholas II and King Edward VII. Everywhere peace is desired and governments are working for it with all their strength."

China is not a source of danger; the Emperor and court of Japan. The treaty of Shimanoeki has not been forgotten, and, moreover, the race question in Asia has not the importance which European states attribute to it.

After alluding to the rumors which have been circulating since the formation of the Figaro said in conclusion: "One thing remains certain, namely, the new and striking change in the close friendship uniting Nicholas II and King Edward VII. Everywhere peace is desired and governments are working for it with all their strength."

China is not a source of danger; the Emperor and court of Japan. The treaty of Shimanoeki has not been forgotten, and, moreover, the race question in Asia has not the importance which European states attribute to it.

After alluding to the rumors which have been circulating since the formation of the Figaro said in conclusion: "One thing remains certain, namely, the new and striking change in the close friendship uniting Nicholas II and King Edward VII. Everywhere peace is desired and governments are working for it with all their strength."

China is not a source of danger; the Emperor and court of Japan. The treaty of Shimanoeki has not been forgotten, and, moreover, the race question in Asia has not the importance which European states attribute to it.

After alluding to the rumors which have been circulating since the formation of the Figaro said in conclusion: "One thing remains certain, namely, the new and striking change in the close friendship uniting Nicholas II and King Edward VII. Everywhere peace is desired and governments are working for it with all their strength."

under arrest, who was employed in the Ministry of Marine, is said to have attempted to sell French naval secrets to the professor of Prince Ichigo, who is now approaching the distance to the same end. It is alleged that Martin also sold some secret information to the Japanese, and that the late military governor at Kirin has committed suicide, owing to his inability to prevent the people from distress or stop the Russian deprivations.

MANCHURIA IN STATE OF UTTER CONFUSION

PEKING, March 13.—The reports that have been circulating regarding a Russian force occupying Kalgan are absolutely untrue; moreover, the Russian garrison at Urga has been reduced to thirty men.

Private Chinese reports that are being spread by the press are that Manchuria is in a state of utter confusion, owing to the Russians having seized all food supplies and other commissariat necessities. The natives are streaming south toward the ports, and are seeking great hardships. The late military governor at Kirin has committed suicide, owing to his inability to prevent the people from distress or stop the Russian deprivations.

FAMINE OF FUEL AND FOOD AT HARBIN

HARBIN, Manchuria, March 13.—Harbin is threatened with a food and wood famine because of the increased prices of these necessities. In view of the cold weather, the scarcity of fuel is serious, and the price has increased ten-fold.

The management of the Chinese Eastern Railroad has augmented the wages of its employees by from 20 to 40 per cent, and a large number of the Chinese have joined the color, and all others who are sufferers.

BONDS IN LONDON ARE BELOW TOKYO PARTY

TOKIO, March 13.—Japanese bonds have fallen in London 7 to 8 cent. Below Tokyo quotations. The wide variation is unaccountable, but possibly due to the difference of the holders. In London the majority of the bonds are in the hands of bankers, who are naturally timid in time of war, and who are naturally timid in time of war, and who are naturally timid in time of war.

KOREAN ARRESTED FOR SELLING WAR NEWS

NAGASAKI, March 13.—It is reported that a Korean has been arrested in Japan on the charge of sending to Vladivostok information regarding the movements of the Japanese troops.

Russian paper news will not be accepted by the residents of northern Korea.

Russian Cruiser Stops Ships

PORT SAID, March 13.—The Russian cruiser Dimitri Donaski has stopped several vessels at sea, including the North German steamer, the St. Petersburg, and demanded to know their destination. The St. Petersburg, at a point twelve miles north of Port Said, and sent officers on board to inspect the ship's papers.

Lansdorf not to resign. PARIS, March 14.—The St. Petersburg correspondent of the Echo de Paris has sent in an interview with M. Witte, the former Russian minister of finance, who denounced an infamous invention the rumors that the emperor has been changed as minister of foreign affairs. He declared that the minister enjoyed the full confidence of the emperor, and that he would not return to office.

Two Army Corps Ordered East

ST. PETERSBURG, March 13.—The President has ordered the 1st and 2nd army corps at Khar'kov will start for the far East in a few days. After the war has ended the two corps will return to their stations, but to the war will remain permanently in the Asiatic provinces.

Fight of Patrols Reported

TOKIO, March 13.—It is reported that a Japanese cavalry patrol engaged a party of Russian scouts near Kasan, west of Anju, yesterday. The Russians numbered about thirty-one men, but the fight, however, is not obtainable.

Convicts to Aid Red Cross

BLAGOVESHCHENSK, Eastern Siberia, March 13.—The convict labor on the Amur railroad has offered to contribute 10 per cent of their earnings to the Red Cross Society.

Russian Gunboat Dismantled

SHANGHAI, March 13.—The breach blocks and other mechanism affecting the utility of the Russian gunboat Mardur have been removed to the Chinese arsenal.

"GENTLEMEN OF JAPAN" Europeans and Americans Show Badly Beside Them.

New York Post. While the Japanese can teach us sincere patriotism and other virtues necessary in war time, there are also important lessons to be learned from the qualities displayed by them in times of peace. One of the remarking features of the present deplorable war is the conduct of the Japanese. It induces thousands of Americans to study the manners and customs of this interesting nation, and to realize that there are phases of civilization in which it might serve as our exemplar. The average American is still apt to look on the Japanese as half-civilized Asiatics, but it is well to bear in mind that, as Captain Brinkley puts it, the Japanese are the result of his meeting with his own European ancestors dressed in untanned skins and fed upon acorns.

The result of this antiquity of their civilization is that the Japanese are a matter of inheritance; the children are born reared; they come into the world with a knowledge of their own history, and with a reverence for their ancestors that distinguishes them from other nations.

What makes Japan particularly valuable as an exemplar for us is that the virtues in which it especially excels are precisely those we most lack and need. Among our most unpleasant traits are the worship and the reverence for the past, the conservatism, the insensibility to the charms of art, the feverish absorption in needless work, and the conservatism of the Japanese.

The Japanese assert that their damaged cruisers have been repaired and are ready for sea. The battleship Carevitch will be ready soon. There is no check here capable of taking in the steamers, and the Japanese are preparing for the defense of Nieu-Chwang, finding it impossible to stop the landing of Japanese.

Woman Asphyxiated by Gas. WAPAKONETA, O., March 13.—Mrs. J. H. Goekke, wife of a prominent attorney, died here from a gas furnace, and her three children and a servant, who were overcome by the fumes, are in a critical condition, but will recover. Mr. Goekke has been in Arkansas on a business trip and could not be located.

TO CURE A COLD IN ONE DAY. Take Laxative Bromo Quinine Tablets. All druggists refund money if it fails to cure. E. W. Grove's signature is on each box. 35c

Headlights of the

You see them everywhere—the signal of enjoyment and satisfaction that shines brightly from the face of every Cremo Smoker—5c.

Largest Seller in the World. The Band is the Smoker's Protection.

course, they were precluded from declaring war against them; but in a way which may be readily summarized, a state of war became to be recognized as having in point of fact supervened on a state of insurrection. The secession movement, which began in South Carolina, speedily spread to the other Southern States. Then the first shot was fired from the batteries of Fort Sumter on the Star of the West attempting to enter Charleston with reinforcements. Notwithstanding this, Lincoln characterized it as insurrectionary. Nine days later Charleston surrendered to the Confederates, and war votes were then asked for the South, and a blockade proclaimed by the North. Larger war votes were asked, and Mr. Seward announced in a letter to the American minister at Paris that the government had "accepted the civil war as an inevitable necessity."

RUSSIAN CONFIDENCE RESTORED BY THE TRUTH

Officials Think They See a Complete Reversal of Sentiment with the Change of Policy.

OFFICIAL TEXT CHANGES

ST. PETERSBURG, March 13.—The confidence displayed by the Russian people in the reports of the government on the progress of the fighting in the far East, which is one of the most notable features in Russia of the war, has thus far been largely due to an entire change of policy inaugurated by the Emperor, some time ago with the abolition of the censorship on foreign newspaper dispatches. This abolition was followed, when the war broke out, by the Emperor's decision to make public as fully as possible all reports regarding the war in the belief that the loyalty of his subjects would be only strengthened by acquainting them with truth in victory or in defeat. It was an appeal to the sentimental side of the Russian character which has been abundantly justified by the almost instantaneous effect. Hitherto the government has considered it unwise to give the people information freely at critical moments, and the result was that the people, being pessimistic, were often inclined to imagine things to be worse than they really were.

The Associated Press is assured by a high authority that all official telegrams although they have been changed where the original words were subject to misconstruction. For instance, in one case the words "the enemy was at our heels" were altered to read: "The enemy was behind us," lest the original language should give the ignorant the impression that the Russians were flying before the Japanese.

Even the habitual critics of the government have been changed in their attitude in which the authorities are taking the people in their confidence in the war and the policy of the government. It is now the unifying the nation as never before in its history.

M. E. STONE HOME AGAIN. Interesting Talk of the "A. P." General Manager.

New York Times. Melville E. Stone, general manager of the Associated Press, returned on the Kaiser Wilhelm II from a business trip to Europe, where he met the Czar and the German Emperor. As a result of his meeting with the Czar, Mr. Stone secured the abolition of the censorship on dispatches of the Associated Press from Russia.

"I met the Czar in the Winter Palace at St. Petersburg," said Mr. Stone yesterday. "We had an hour's conversation, during which I showed him the reason why I thought the censorship should be abolished, and sent over the German wires. I also told him the great events that were going on in this country."