Belief Growing that He Will Be a Good One-Blythe and Yerkes in the Public Eye.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

WASHINGTON, May 20 .- The members of the Bryan-Hearst-Gorman coalition, which is working on the same lines, but to different purposes, believe that the defeat of Judge Parker for the Democratic nomination is now assured. But the leaders in expected strength of Judge Parker in some of the Southern States, shown during the past week, has surprised the opposition. The strength of Parker among the Southmuch a desire on the part of the South to support Parker as it is an expression of positive hostility in the South to Tammany. Any effort to turn the convention delegates from Parker to McClellan, or any other Tammany candidate, will provoke a revolt in the South. That much seems certain.

the opposition be able to unite on, if Parker shall be defeated? Mr. Gorman will be in the convention at the head of the Maryland delegation, and he has set out to prevent the nomination of Parker by holding up before the Western delegates the possibility of a Western man in the person of Governor David R. Francis, of Missouri. Francis would be much more acceptable to Bryan than is Parker, and probably more so than Gorman himself.

The conservatives are yet clinging to the hope that if the nomination of Parker can be prevented, and a stampede to some silver dark horse of the Bryan-Hearst selection can be averted, there may be a chance to secure the nomination of Judge Gray. But this is a desperate chance and does not look very promising to the Eastern men.

Senator John W. Daniel, of Virginia, has a respectable boom for the vice presidential nomination and the indications are that if a Western man shall be nominated to head the Democratic ticket the friends of Daniel will make a warm contest to place his name on the ticket. He is by far the most promising Southern man for consideration this year.

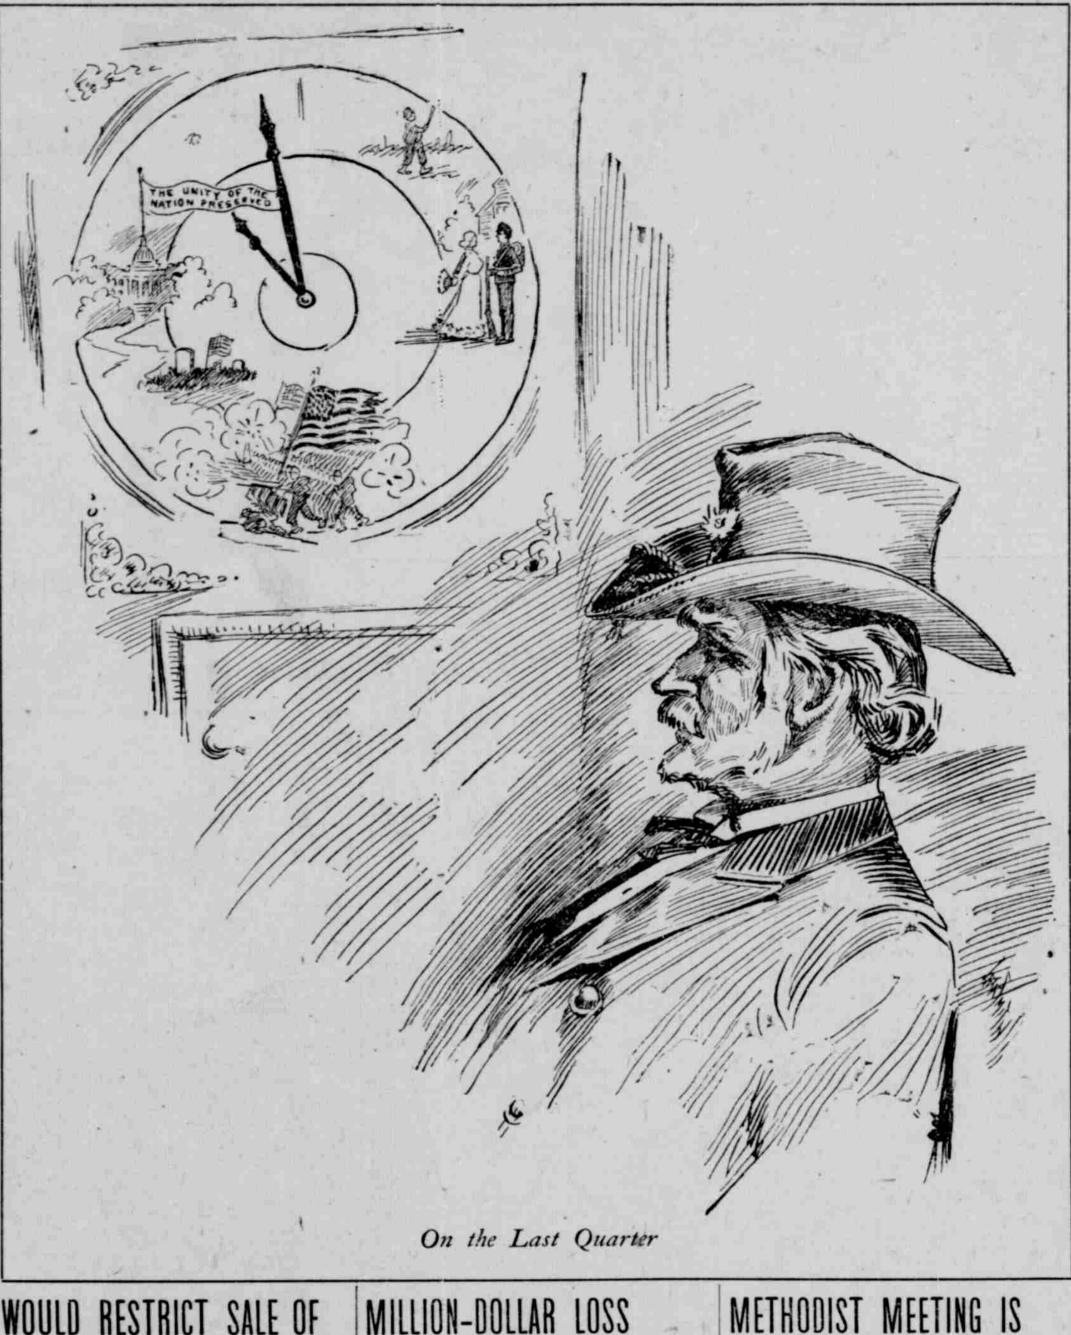

The foremost of the Republican leaders cling tenaciously to the notion that Senator Fairbanks is the best man to be named for Vice President on the Republican ticket. There is no doubt that if the Indiana senator will signify a willingness to make the race, or that he and his friends would not regard it as unfair to insist on his making the race this year, he can have the nomination. There is nothing but good words for Representative Robert R. Hitt. of Illipublican leaders to get away from the idea that it is better to take an Indiana man than turn to Illinois in making up the ticket. Hitt is a decided possibility and Fairbanks a decided probability, according to the opinions of the leaders who have been here during the past week, and the list includes Aldrich, Spooner and several Eastern senators and representatives.

"You may put it down that George Cortelyou will be the head of the Republican national committee this year," said a close friend of the secretary of commerce and labor, "and, moreover, that he will be a real chairman. George Cortelyou is a silent man, but he is not one of the stamp that hides ignorance behind a mask of stolld silence. He is an able man, and a growing man, and you mark what I tell you, he will be a real party chairman. The talk about his being reinforced by a horde of vice chairmen managing the campaign in different sections of the country is nonsense. He will be the chairman, and the party organization will not be in the least changed and prisons. certainly would be a good idea, and the plan must be carried out, to have a number of the old party leaders who have had experience on the committee to remain in their places and aid in the work. But Mr. Cortelyou will ask no aid in doing the hard work of the campaign as chairman. All he it will result in a loss of profitable business will ask will be the advice and aid of the der men in the party. He is accustomed to seeking and accepting advice. | But he will speedily demonstrate that he is big enough to fill the place, and he will have the confidence, as he now has the personal good will and friendship, of all the old party leaders. He has made good in every posi-tion to which he has been assigned, and each one was of a higher and more burdensome responsibility, and he will do likewise in the chairmanship of the national com-

Amid all the gossip which has been affoat here the past week about the feeling of dissatisfaction among the great party leaders of the Senate and House over the suggestion that Mr. Cortelyou be placed at the head of the national committee of the Republicans this year, the comment of a distinguished Republican senator, who would not be quoted on the subject directly. is much to the point. He said: "I know of no particular objection to Mr. Cortel-On the contrary, it is not unlikely that he may make a decidedly acceptable chairman. But, conceding that the selection might be improved, whom would you select? The timber seems to be notably scarce this year."

Much interest is manifested by conservative Democrats here as to the course to be outlined by the managers of the Democratic congressional committee in the making of their campaign handbook for Says the Judge Is the Man on this year. It appears that while there is a division of responsibility in the committee, Mr. Cowherd, of Missouri, the new chairman, desiring to be classed with the conservatives, and the old secretary, Mr. Edwards, who is retained as one of the assets of the campaign two years ago, being a Bryan-Hearst advocate, it is natural there should be speculation as to which wing of the Democracy will control in making up the issues of this year. But the realamusing thing in the situation is the fact that the man retained to have charge of the literary work of the bureau is Senator Carmack, of Tennessee. Two years ago Mri Carmack was consumed with the idea that the "imperialist" issue was all that was required to turn the Republican party out of power. Throughout the camaign Mr. Carmack was engaged in flooding the country with "scarelines" to prove that the Republican administration was dealing brutally with the poor Filipinos in the distant islands, and that the flag of liberty and become a blood-stained rag and badge of oppression. The country laughed at Mr. ¡Carmack's fervid literature. Now he has dropped the task of standing by the Filipinos, and is engaged in proving that by increases in the cost of living and what he will attempt to prove a fall in

The next General Assembly of Indiana has been started to this end by leading druggists of the State, and a definite campaign will be inaugurated this week at the meeting of the Indiana Pharmaceutical Society at Fort Wayne.

The rapid increase in the number of people who are addicted to the use of parcotics and stimulants to the extent that they become moral, mental and physical wrecks has led the druggists of Indiana to take the initiative in securing this legislation. Within the last few years the druggists state the increase in the demand for narcotics, morphine, and cocaine in particular, has been startling, and with has come a corresponding increase in the number of wrecks-"dope fiends," in police parlance-who find their way to hospitals, asylums, jails, workhouses, reformatories

CLEVELAND REPEATS PARKER INDORSEMENT

Whom Democrats Can and Should Concentrate.

PHILADELPHIA, May 30.-The North American this morning prints a dispatch from Princeton, N. J., on national Democratic politics, in which ex-President Grover Cleveland is quoted as saying: "I have believed for some months, and BOY DROWNS WHILE I believe now, that Judge Alton B. Parker, of New York, will be the nominee of the national Democratic convention for President. This expression of my opinion is not new. In reiterating at this time, when there seems to be a lull in the Parker movement, I do not mean to yield my original judgment, which was 'that either Mr. Olney or Judge Gray might have proved the strongest candidate for the nomination in the contest with Mr. Roosevelt. "Circumstances and the state of public sentiment were such, however, that menths ago it became apparent that Judge Parker was the man upon whom the conservative element of the party could and should concentrate. Neither the circumstances nor the state of public sentiment have changed,

Nine successive times the Japanese charged the fortified heights in the face of a storm of death-dealing missiles, and in their last effort they carried the forts and trenches only after a bayonet-to-bayonet conflict with the Russians, who made a desperate despairing struggle to beat back the oncoming hordes.

The final assault of the Japanese in which they at last succeeded in taking possession was marked by the most desperate hand-to-hand encounter that has thus far characterized the war. The Japanese left, throughout the entire action until night, was exposed to an enfilading fire from the Russian infantry, a gunboat on Talien-Wan bay and four ninecentimeter guns posted at Ta-Feng-Chen.

JURY IS DISCHARGED; GILLESPIE IS HELD IN THE RISING SUN JAIL

Five Men Voted for Conviction and Seven Jurors Stood for Acquittal.

EXPECTS TO GIVE BOND

James Gillespie Believes He Will Be Benefited by Habeas Corpus Proceedings.

NO TROUBLE IS FEARED

Dissatisfaction with Action of Jury Not Likely to Cause Any Attempts at Violence.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. RISING SUN, Ind., May 29 .- After deliberating forty-two hours without coming to an agreement, at 10:30 o'clock this morning the jury in the Gillespie murder case was discharged by Judge Downey. When the jury was brought into the courtroom Judge Downey asked the jurors whether there was any probability of the jurors agreeing on a verdict and each one of the twelve men shook his head in the negative.

Judge Downey then thanked them and dismissed them from further service. The jury, it is said, stood seven for acquittal and five for conviction. The five who, it is said, stood for conviction of each of the defendants are: Spencer Thompson, Hugh French, Albert Pate, William Ward and David N. Bailey. The seven said to have held out for acquittal are: Martin Scranton, Samuel Campbell, David Gibson, William J. Spaulding, Ira Powell,

George Rieman and J. P. Hannah. The bonds of Belle Seward, Carrie Barbour and Myron Barbour were continued and James Gillespie was remanded to the county jail. Prosecutor McMullen said that the state would oppose any effort on the part of the defense to release James Gillespie and stated that the case would come up again next September. At the present time the four defendants are in the same position as they were before the trial began, as the bonds of those released from custody are continuous. Whether or not the defense will elect to be tried separately or jointly as on this trial, the future will determine. It is said that a motion will be made before Judge Downey to release James Gillespie from custody and declare him acquitted. In the event that this motion is overruled the defense will ask that James Gillespie be admitted to bail with the other and Mrs. Seward, who were indicted with him. Should the writ of habeas corpus be denied by Judge Downey the matter will be taken to the Supreme Court of the State. The action of the jury in the recent trial has been the subject of conversation ever since the jury reported. Almost universal dissatisfaction is expressed. It was stated that the seven members of the panel who voted for acquittal refused at all times to vote on the guilt or the innocence of the defendants separately, but all balloting was as to the guilt or innocence of the defendants jointly. It was also stated that they refused to consider the signed statements of James Gillespie made before the grand jury, claiming that it was not evi-

The feeling against James Gillespie is still very bitter and outspoken. The defendants are greatly disappointed at the result, as they confidently expected an acquittal to-day. James Gillespie stated to Sheriff Rump this evening that within thirty days he would be a free man. The report that August Grieve, a special venire juror in this case, who was excused from service, had very sick, but not as a result of this trial As it was understood that the jury would report about noon to-day, the church services were neglected, especially by the men. Judge Downey returned home this afternoon, and will commence a term of the Dearborn Circuit Court to-morrow. Rising Sun is quiet to-night, and no trouble is anticipated.
