UNION DEMOCRATIC PLATFORM.

ADOPTED IN STATE CONVENTION JANUARY 5, 1862.
WHEREAS, The Democratic party having, from the date of its organization, been in favor of the preservation of the Union and the preservation of the Constitution, and seeing in the present condition of the country the deplorable effects of a departure from its time-honored and conservative principles, and the triumph of sectionalism; and whereas, the Democratic party, believing that the Constitution can be preserved whole by the restoration of that party to power, we invite all true Union men throughout the land to unite with us in sustaining its organization and carrying out its principles: Therefore,
Resolved, 1. That we reaffirm and endorse the political principles that from time to time have been put forth by the National Conventions of the Democratic party.
That we are unalterably attached to the Constitution, by which the Union of these States was formed and established; and that a faithful observance of its principles can alone continue the existence of the Union, and the permanent happiness of the people.
2. That the present civil war has mainly resulted from the long continued, unwise, and fatal agitation, in the North, of the question of domestic slavery, the sectional organization of the Democratic party, guided by the sectional platforms adopted at Buffalo, Pittsburgh, Philadelphia, and Chicago, and the development there by sectional hate and jealousy, producing as had long been foreseen and predicted by us, a general and unrelenting sectionalism, and armed resistance to the General Government, and terminating in a bloody strife between those who should have been forever bound together by national bonds, thus bringing upon the whole country a calamity which we have endeavored to avert, and which we are now endeavoring to remedy, by the adoption of that mode of settlement best calculated to secure rest to the Union and harmony.
3. That in restoring all propositions likely to result in a satisfactory adjustment of the matters in dispute between the North and the South, and especially those measures which would have secured the border slave States to the Union, and a general agreement to the part in all constitutional and legal measures to prevent a return of the more Southern States to their allegiance, the Republican party assumed a fearful responsibility, and acted in total disregard of the best interests of the people of the South.
4. That if the Republican party had shown the same desire to settle, by amicable adjustment, our internal dissensions before hostilities had actually commenced, that the Administration has neglected to do, the result would have been a peace and harmony would now reign throughout all our borders.
5. That the maintenance of the Union upon the principles of the Constitution should be the controlling object of all who profess loyalty to the Government; and in our judgment this purpose can only be accomplished, by the ascendency of a Union party in the Southern States, which shall, by its constitutional and legal measures, place those who control and direct the present rebellion. That no effort to enforce or sustain such a party can be successful which is not based upon a definite settlement of the questions at issue between the North and the South, and which therefore demands that some such settlement be made by additional constitutional guaranty, either initiated by act of Congress or through the medium of a National Convention.
6. That the Republican party has fully demonstrated its inability to conduct the Government through its present difficulties.
7. That we are utterly opposed to the twin heresies, Northern sectionalism and Southern disunion, in the present emergency of the Democracy of Indiana, banishing all feeling of passion and resentment, will recollect only their duty to the whole country; that this war should not be waged in the spirit of conquest or subjugation, but in the spirit of peace and reconciliation, and in the rights of the institutions of the State, but to defend and maintain the supremacy of the Constitution, and to preserve the Union with all the dignity, equality and rights of the several States unimpaired, and that as soon as these objects are accomplished the war ought to cease.
8. That we will sustain, with all our energies, a war for the maintenance of the Constitution, and of the integrity of the Union under the Constitution; but we are opposed to any prolongation of the war, or the subjugation of the Southern States.
9. That the purposes avowed and advocated by the Northern disunionists, to liberate and arm the negro slaves in insurrection, including the loyal citizens, a disgrace to the age, is calculated to retard the suppression of the rebellion and meet our unqualified condemnation.
10. That the ill-considered and unwarranted arrest and seizure by the authorities over us, and the capture and imprisonment of the citizens of loyal States where the judiciary is in full operation, without warrant of law and without assigning any legal reasons, is unconstitutional, insulting to the rights of the citizens, and a violation of the Constitution and most alarming acts of usurpation of power, which should receive the stern rebuke of every lover of his country and of every man who prizes the security and blessings of life, liberty and property.
11. That liberty of speech and of the press are guaranteed to the people by the Constitution, and none but a usurper would deprive them of these rights; but we are opposed to any attempt to conformable to tyrants only. And the attempts which have been made since our present unfortunate troubles, to muzzle the press and stifle free discussion, are exercises of despotic power against those freedom-loving men, which can be tolerated without converting freemen into slaves.
12. That the seizure of Slidell and Mason, on board a neutral vessel, on the high seas, and their detention in military custody, and their confinement, or legal or in violation of such law, is illegal. If the former, we lament that our nation has been humiliated by their surrender, under a threat; if the latter, it was the duty of the Administration to at once have discontinued the arrest of their officers, had instead of incarcerating the captives in Fort Warren, to have immediately repaired the wrong by placing them, as far as practicable, in the same condition in which that officer had found them. In either event, the action of the Administration was vacillating and cowardly, and degrading to the dignity of a great nation.
13. That the actions of the Republican party, as manifested in the particular character of all appointments of the Administration to civil office, and in holding party caucuses by the Republican members of Congress for the purpose of impressing upon the legislative action of that body the peculiar dogmas of that party, have demonstrated that their professions of "sacrificing party platforms, and party organizations, upon the altar of their country," are but so many hypocritical and false pretences by which they hope to divert our attention from their support, and we warn all loyal persons, as they love their country, not to be deceived thereby.
14. That the disclosures made by the investigating committee in Congress of the enormous frauds that have stolen from the army and navy departments, implicating the heads of those departments in a conspiracy, and if not an actual participation in a system of corruption, and in which our brave soldiers have been defrauded of their proper supplies, and the Government threatened with bankruptcy, demands a thorough investigation into all our expenditures, both State and National, and that a speedy and marked example be made of all such "birds of prey," who, taking advantage of the necessities of our country, have fed and fattened upon public plunder.
15. That the meritorious conduct of the Indiana troops, in every battle field where victory has been achieved, has filled the hearts of the people of this State with the highest gratitude to her gallant sons, and that we send our best wishes to officers and men, dispersed throughout the country, and the heartfelt greetings of every Democratic citizen, and the Government, in the coming contests for the maintenance of the Constitution and the Union.
