

THE DAILY SENTINEL is sent by the early morning express and freight train, and delivered to subscribers in adjacent counties by the afternoon train. It is not delivered to subscribers at a distance from the Capital of Indiana, so that the news of the day from six to twelve hours before they can receive it through papers published elsewhere. News dealers and carriers in any of the towns on railroads entering at Indianapolis, will be supplied with the SENTINEL on an equal terms with any other paper. Orders for the Daily will be supplied at Agent's rates. Orders are solicited. Edw.

SPEECHES OF Hendricks and Voorhees.

The speech of Hon. Thomas A. Hendricks, before the Democratic Convention on the Eighth, January, 1892, and the speech of Hon. Daniel W. Voorhees, in the House of Representatives, February 20, on the duty of the Federal Government in its relations to the civil war and the objects for which it should be prosecuted, are for sale at this office, published in a pamphlet of sixteen pages, including both speeches. Each one is among the ablest delivered on the present crisis, and should be placed in the hands of every citizen of the State.

The first issue having been entirely exhausted, we are now reprinting a large edition to supply the increasing demand.

Those desiring a large number should provide for pre-paying the postage, which is one cent per copy. Price $1 per hundred. All orders promptly filled.

CITY AND STATE ITEMS.

- Female burglars are about.
- Bowen, Stewart & Co. and Merrill & Co. are in receipt of Godey's Lady's Book for June.
- We had beautiful and refreshing showers over this region yesterday.
- James Cochran, company D, 6th Indiana, died at Louisville last week.
- The 16th Indiana regiment, recently mustered out of service at Washington, is daily expected to arrive.
- The steamer Carroll arrived at Evansville yesterday with one hundred and fifty sick Indians, all of whom were left there.
- The men of the 61st and 63rd Indiana were yesterday inspected by Dr. Newcomer, preparatory to their being mustered into service.
- The Street Commissioner has begun the work of trimming the trees around the public squares.
- The members of the bar generally attended the funeral of Prof. Miles J. Fletcher yesterday.
- Each company of General Halleck's army is allowed two tents, and each soldier is cut down to the least possible baggage.
- Judge Finch adjourned the Circuit Court yesterday morning, in respect to the memory of Professor Miles J. Fletcher.
- The public schools of the city were not opened yesterday, and the teachers and scholars generally attended the funeral of Professor Miles J. Fletcher.
- The steamer Crawford left Pittsburg Landing on the morning of the 11th with one hundred and ninety sick Indians, under the care of Col. Stone.
- Gents, if you want a nice, easy, cool shoe, see Jones, Vinnage & Co.'s stock of lasting gaiters, Oxford brogans and Scotch ties, double and single soles.

CONVICTED—Hos for the murder of Flanagan, was yesterday found guilty by a jury in the Marion Circuit Court, and sentenced to the penitentiary for life.

Four hundred Ohio sick soldiers arrived at New Albany on Saturday. One hundred and fifty were placed in the hospitals, and the remainder convalescents, will be furloughed.

Prof. O'Leary delivered the last lecture of his phenomenal and physiological course in this city last night. Prof. O'Leary goes hence to Lafayette.

SHIRTS TO FIT THE WEARER—The Paragon shirts, made to order from actual measurement, and warranted to fit at Parker's, No. 3 West Washington street.

Hooley and Campbell's Minstrels, from Niblo's Broadway, New York, appear before the citizens of Indianapolis on Friday and Saturday evenings next.

"Prison Life in Richmond," by a member of Col. Burt's regiment, the title of the new book just received by Bowen, Stewart & Co. may 14-24

Lieutenant Bryan C. Walpole will leave the city to-day for Pittsburg Landing. This affords an opportunity for forward letters in that direction, which all friends of soldiers in that direction should avail themselves of.

THE MAGNOLIA—This institution, on South Illinois street, Messrs. Flagg & Wright, proprietors, is one of the most pleasant and elegant places of resort in the city. Everything unsurpassed and unapproached in the kind may be obtained there. Their summer drinks are especially superlative.

We should think Cady & Co. were intending to supply the whole city and surrounding territory with boots, shoes, hats, and all the quantities they are daily receiving. They have just bought a large stock for cash. A good silk gaiter can be bought at Glenn's Block for $1, and they have plenty of them.

The 63rd Indiana, Col. Williams, yesterday marched to the army and exchanged their guns. This regiment, composed of soldierly and patriotic men, is now fully armed. As they marched through Washington street on their way back to camp they attracted the admiration of every citizen.

THE INDIANA STATE MEDICAL SOCIETY—At a meeting of the Executive Committee of the Indiana State Medical Society, held on May 13th, it was unanimously agreed that it would not be for the interests of the Society to hold its annual meeting this year, and it was therefore decided that the regular annual meeting should be postponed until the year 1893.

Death of Prof. Miles J. Fletcher.
GREENCASTLE, May 13, 1892.
At a meeting of the students of Indiana Asbury University, of which J. H. Rudolph was appointed President and G. W. Griffin Secretary, a committee, consisting of the following gentlemen, was appointed, to draft resolutions in regard to the death of Prof. Fletcher: H. G. Jackson, of the Senior Class; W. M. Hoggart, of the Junior Class; W. H. Arnold, of the Sophomore Class; and L. E. Joseph, of the Freshman Class.

The committee submitted the following, which was unanimously adopted:

Whereas, It has pleased an unerring Providence to remove from us our beloved instructor, Prof. Miles J. Fletcher, an active supporter of education, a devoted patriot, and an unflinching Christian; therefore, be it Resolved by the Students of Indiana Asbury University, 1. That the death of Professor Fletcher we have lost a faithful and beloved instructor, the cause of education a zealous supporter, the State an efficient officer, and the soul of our student body.

2. That while we lament the inscrutable disposition that has called Prof. Fletcher so suddenly and unexpectedly from his sphere of activity and usefulness here, yet we are consoled and comforted by the assurance that our loss is his eternal gain.

3. That we deeply sympathize with the stricken wife and family of the deceased in this their sad and bereft moment.

4. That as a slight token of respect we, in a body, attend the funeral obsequies of the deceased at Indianapolis.

5. That a copy of these resolutions be presented to the faculty of the college, and to the Greenback and Indianapolis papers, and to the Western Christian Advocate for publication.

J. H. RUDDELL, President.
G. W. GRIFFIN, Secretary.

FOREIGN NEWS.

NEW YORK, May 13.—The steamship Ena furnishes the following additional news: The West India mail steamer brought over several Confederates who had run the blockade. It is reported that their mission is to purchase warlike stores.

The great exhibition would be formally opened the day when the steamer left Queenstown; circumstances looked auspicious. The pain in sculpture is recorded by the Times to Story, the American artist, who left on the 27th April, stating that France, not approving the convention of Soledad, the French troops at Teban had returned to Vera Cruz and would start for the City of Mexico on the 15th inst.

FAIRHAVEN, May 13.—The steamship Jura, from Liverpool, left on Monday the 21st, passed here this morning.

The Paris correspondent of the Independence says that the British Government has refused the projected intervention by France and England in the affairs of America is collapsed. The South will be required to guarantee the emancipation of her slaves.

A well-informed source says that secret treaty exist between France and Spain providing for the early abolition of slavery in Cuba.

The opening of the great exhibition in London was a perfect success.

Indications point strongly to a battle coming off at Corinth at an early day, which for magnitude of the forces engaged, will eclipse any that ever transpired in America. Our judgment is that the Yankees have nearly 150,000 men. Beauregard is well entrenched on all sides. He has an immense army, but not so large as that of the enemy. It were idle to conceal the fact that we have some fears for the result. There is such a thing as overconfidence with commanders, against which we can provide no remedy.

A special to the Times says:

Capt. Boggs, bearer of dispatches from New Orleans, who lost his ship in the gallant fight at the mouth of the Mississippi, and the Junata, a comparatively new vessel of war, carrying twelve guns, and now lying at Philadelphia.

The loss of Norfolk navy yard by rebel burning is much regretted. It will immediately be rebuilt by the Government.

The Military Board of Kentucky, who, under authority of the Legislature of that State, proceeded to look military power out of the hands of Gov. Magallon last summer and saved Washington to ask for moderate and conservative action on the part of Congress. They say the Kentucky Legislature, with the general emancipation and confiscation bills still pending, are creating widespread uneasiness and disaffection in Kentucky and weakening the hands of Union men there.

Fire.

NEW YORK, May 13.—One of the most destructive fires which ever visited Long Island has been raging for the last four days, destroying a large amount of property.

The fire broke out near Stoney Brook on Friday last, on the farm of Joel J. Smith. It has swept over an area of at least sixty thousand square acres, principally in the town of Brookhaven. It skirted the villages of Stoney Brook, Setauket, Port Jefferson, and Sinalon Miller's Place on the north. New Village, Selden, the Ram, Middle Island and Manorville in the middle; and Patchogue, Belport, Funchase, Mastic, Moriches and Oqueoc on the south.

It traveled some little distance from the villages of the north, while in the center it came so near as to endanger dwellings and human lives. On the south side they suffered more severely at the village of Mastic.

It swept down to the shores of the Great South Bay where many barns and outbuildings were destroyed.

At Manorville several dwellings were destroyed and it is said that several lives were lost in attempting to arrest its progress.

A dispatch from Port Jefferson dated May 12, says the damage is variously estimated at from three to five hundred thousand dollars.

The Fire at Troy.

TROY, N. Y., May 12.—It is now estimated that the amount of buildings destroyed by the great fire will reach 800. The amount of insurance was correctly stated. The losses will be distributed among the insurance companies, and it is believed that they will pay.

The Common Council has appropriated $5,000 for the destitute.

From Baltimore.

BALTIMORE, May 13.—The regular boat from Old Point has arrived, but brings no later news.

Night Dispatches.

From Norfolk.

NORFOLK, May 12.—The city is very quiet. Most of the stores are closed, but it is expected they will open in a day or two, except where the occupants have left the city with the army. Some excitement still prevails, but it is supposed in a few days, when communication is fully opened with the North, confidence will be completely restored.

The prices of almost everything are astonishingly high. Coffee, for instance, of miserable quality, are sixty cents per pound. Common brown envelopes fifty cents a package, and brown sugar twenty cents a pound.

A number of stores will be opened in a few days by parties from Old Point and Baltimore who will bring supplies of articles much needed here.

WASHINGTON, May 13.—The President has issued a proclamation declaring that the blockade of the ports of Beaufort, Port Royal and New Orleans shall so far cease and determine after the 1st of June next, that commercial intercourse with those ports, except as to persons and things mentioned in the proclamation, may from that time forward be carried on, subject to the laws of the United States and to the limitations and in pursuance of the regulations, which are prescribed by the Secretary of the Treasury.

Mr. Wilson gave notice that he should call for the resolution soon.

On motion of Mr. Chandler the bill for the better protection of the revenue was taken up.

The bill authorizes the President to refuse a clearance to any vessel and prohibit the importation of any goods when he has reason to believe the goods are intended in any way to reach or benefit the rebels, and gives the Secretary of the Treasury power to prohibit transportation by any vessel or railroad of any goods which are intended for or likely to fall into the hands of the rebels.

The Indian appropriation bill was then taken up.

An amendment was adopted making one Indian reservation in California instead of two and otherwise reducing expenses.

The Senate went into Executive session, after which it adjourned.

HOUSE—Mr. Lovejoy moved that the House concur in the Senate's amendment to the bill establishing a Department of Agriculture.

Mr. Phelps of Missouri expressed his opposition to the bill. If it had provided merely a bureau of statistics and agriculture to be connected with the duties now discharged by the Commissioner of Patents, it should have received his support.

The amendments were concurred in; so the bill passed.

The House resumed the consideration of the pension bill.

An amendment was adopted authorizing the payment of a special agent, whose business it was to detect and prosecute frauds.

The bill passed and the House adjourned.
