Mr. Martin Coyner, who was shot by Fred Corwin, is at home with his family, and likely to recover. He still feels and suffers from the effects of the wound, but he is determined to return to his post as soon as he is able to travel.

Dr. J. T. Rooker, of Castleton, was in the city yesterday, having recovered from his severe illness contracted in the camps near Corinth. Dr. Rooker is one of the ablest surgeons in the West, and since leaving the army he has devoted much time, much with compensation, to the sick and wounded soldiers.

A GENERAL. A good story is told of one of our running citizens whose propensity to patronize saloons left him a dependent upon the bounty of a good woman at home who called him to her, although no one could find him together in the place. A still-bird made its appearance at the house one fine morning, and Pete was furnished with a ten dollar bill by his better half, and started out at early dawn to procure a coffee.

RAILROAD MATTERS. The war, and the vital and thrilling interest in the contest between the railroads and the public, has been the subject of the columns of the public journals to the exclusion of almost everything else.

THE MARKETS. The following are the quotations for the leading articles in the market yesterday.

Scientific men positively state that the new central alarm bell can be heard equally as far as a Chinese gong, and that it is very emblematic of the Chief Engineer, and an appropriate ornament to the top of Gen. Johnston's monument.

Mr. Brown, of Virginia, introduced a bill for the admission of Western Virginia into the Union. Referred to the Committee on Territories.

Mr. Lovjoy asked consent, which was refused, to introduce a resolution instructing the Committee on Ways and Means to report a bill imposing a tax on bank notes.

Mr. Seligwick urged the importance of Congress immediately passing some measure by which such claims may be properly adjusted.

Mr. Fisher—I am glad to hear it. Mr. Malloy believed there were still a few slaves in New York, but that was certainly not a slave State.

Mr. Seligwick—How and when? Mr. Seligwick—How and when?

Mr. Malloy, noting the gentleman's remarks on the subject of emancipation, asked him whether he would agree to compensate individuals who would be freed from slavery.

Mr. Seligwick—It may be cheap, but those States the gentleman speaks of may find it in their interest that they have made a very sad mistake.

Mr. Fisher asked Mr. Malloy whether he would compensate for slaves freed by State action.

Mr. Malloy replied that his name was on the record against it.

Mr. Fisher wanted to know by what means the gentleman arrived at his knowledge that no barrier-slave State would inaugurate such emancipation.

Mr. Malloy replied that his belief was a conviction. He had no reference to Delaware, which had long ago ceased to be regarded as a slave State.

Mr. Seligwick—Then you would free the slaves by the war power.

Mr. Malloy said that if a few men like the gentleman, Seligwick, were hanged before the end of the war, he would be almost satisfied if the result was to be as indicated.

Mr. Seligwick said the war was commenced for the protection and aggrandizement of slavery, and was carried on by the South for that purpose.
