THE governmental and political questions of the citizen. We are engaged in a gigantic civil war, the result of which none can foresee. It threatens a radies change in the institutions and principles upon which the Government was founded, and the destruction of the liberty and rights of the citizen, such as the which may be attributed our unequaled progress in national prosperity and greatness. The issue will soon be upon us, whether this free Government shall be preserved and maintained and the rights of the States under the Constitution perpetuated, or a powerful central authority be permitted to grow out of this war, obliterating State lines, State institutions, and all those checks upon the Federal Government, rights reserved by the States, which have constituted the excellence and supe riority of our nationality-States "one as the sea" for the common objects set forth in the Constitution, but "distinct as the billows" in the management of their purely domestic affairs. These questions were involved in the recent elections, and the voice of the people was most emphatically expressed for the "Constitution as it is and the Union as it was." Never was there a time when it was so important that the people should be thoraughly advised as to the progress and condition of public affairs and of passing events.
