Eleventh Indiana State Fair.

FOURTH DAY.

Yesterday, we had some rain, some mud, and as the Scriptures say, much and many people, were there withal, and ladies especially, knee deep there, were upon the beautiful grounds. We say beautiful grounds, because we are instructed authoritatively to say it. We hope anybody, male or female, child or soldier, who has been there, will take so offense as for saying it. We are simply endeavoring to come to the point, and we will let this place announce that.

TO DAY. according to every prognostication and diagnosis, to be a large day—sublime, splendid, magnificent, unprecedented, unrivaled, unapproachable. Fair Diana, the goddess of the heavens, the goddess of the silver bow, majestically, last night, waded only one of her arrows, and dispelled every meteorological phenomena in the shape of a parting vapor floating in the atmosphere, circumambient of this great growing and prosperous city and metropolis of the illustrious Commonwealth of Indiana. To-day, therefore, we will be a remarkably fine one; one of the best of the kind ever manufactured—no dust, no mud, and thousands upon thousands of gentlemen, and thousands and thousands of ladies will undoubtedly be upon the ground. This leads us to speak of MADAMISSELLE CAROLINA. a most beautiful woman—artist, and dressed in flesh colored tights—and who, to the great edification of venerable sinners, male, having opera glasses and other instruments to observe her, walked again the "right" rope yesterday. Her performance will be repeated, and, on this subject, a contemporary remarks:

"We are requested to say that Madamiselle Carolina, the beautiful rope walker, will give an exhibition on the fair ground at 11 A. M. to-day, and also at P. M. Her feats were seen by an immense crowd on yesterday."

Another contemporary, commenting on the above, says:

"The young lady's feats were indeed seen and admired by a vast crowd, were indeed seen and admired by a vast crowd, were indeed seen and admired by a vast crowd."

Another contemporary adds:

"Yes, they (the crowd) looked about two feet higher."

ATTENDANCE. Two thousand tickets were sold yesterday. These do not include the tickets of exhibitors or season tickets. This, for a rainy day, was very well.

TROTTERING AND PACING. Yesterday the time track was too wet. To-day, however, and tomorrow, the performance of the ring will be absolutely come off, and, of course, every one will be there to see.

MR. A. J. HOLMES. being the gentlemanly Superintendent, everything upon the ground is always in admirable order. He is one of the most efficient of officers.

A BAND OF MUSIC. will be on the ground at 9 o'clock this morning and perform on wind instruments throughout the day and succeeding day of the fair.

UNTIL SATURDAY. The management have resolved to keep the great show open until sundown Saturday in order to give all a chance to visit it.

CITIZENS OF INDIANAPOLIS: you, above all others, ought to be on hand to-day and to-morrow. Your city is the beneficiary from the annual exhibition of the State Board of Agriculture. Your merchants, your mechanics, and all in business, are literally patronized from the fact that they can be seen wherever we have a fair here. For this whole week your hotels have been crowded. You unquestionably have the fairer. Therefore to-day and to-morrow visit the fair and bring all your wives and daughters, your sons, your nephews, your cousins and all your acquaintances, male and female, just as they were created.

STOCK. The examination of stock takes place to-day, and will be intensely interesting. There are some beautiful animals of all sorts on the ground.

A SORGHUM CONVENTION will be held in the upper Court room, State House, to-morrow. We give the following in detail, although not strictly in order in a faithful and accomplished State Fair report.

BAKER & HEATH'S DISPLAY. These gentlemen, from Walpole, Hapecock county, exhibit an improved or rather new refrigerator. The principle is different from all others, from the fact that it can be run entirely without either with or without ice; it is ventilated by a new and novel process; economies and is a perfect preventative against all kinds of enemies to the preservation of food. It is made of superior material and is just what the people want.

MADAMISSELLE CAROLINA, AGAIN. We forgot to state above that this beautiful and accomplished virgin will walk the suspended tight hemp blindfolded, backward and forward. Many brigadiers will, including some privates, be on hand to see it, most positively.

THE "RENDLE HAY ELEVATOR." The above was awarded a first premium yesterday. It was tested longwise of "Wood's," and the committee were unanimous as above. The machine was exhibited by Mr. C. H. Rindel, of Cleveland, Ohio, for R. J. Rindel & Brothers, Chicago. It worked easily, lifted a large load, and discharged without clogging or choking. The prongs are made from the best of steel, and has an iron and copper motor, and is charged at the discretion of the pitcher. Mr. Rindel claims great advantage on this fork, and high recommendations from those who have used it. It certainly did the work most excellently, and won far more favor from those who saw it.

FINE MATCHED HORSES. Our attention was attracted to a fine pair of dashing, high carriage matched horses driving gracefully around the ring. They rivaled the attention of every "right eye" and judge of good stock. One was exhibited by Mr. C. H. Rindel, of Cleveland, Ohio, for R. J. Rindel & Brothers, Chicago. It worked easily, lifted a large load, and discharged without clogging or choking. The prongs are made from the best of steel, and has an iron and copper motor, and is charged at the discretion of the pitcher. Mr. Rindel claims great advantage on this fork, and high recommendations from those who have used it. It certainly did the work most excellently, and won far more favor from those who saw it.

THE J. H. MAXNEY REAPER AND MOWER. In mentioning this machine on yesterday we made some mistakes, but did not misrepresent or understate the proprietors. We do not know at present whether it was awarded a premium, but we do know that it has received "more honors" than any other machine made in the West. Mr. Knowlton, of Rockfall, Illinois, is general agent, and the machine is manufactured in that city by Emerson & Co., the senior member of which is present, as well as the agent for this State. We shall write of it again.

DREW & SHAW. These gentlemen, of Indianapolis, have on exhibition a beautiful collection of carriages and buggies. We never before saw such superb workmanship. Light and airy, and yet substantial and durable are all the vehicles that Messrs. Drew & Shaw manufacture. Everybody admired their of their handiwork on exhibition yesterday. We recollect realizing that the appearance was misdirected. During the time it remained in the city it was examined by a number of farmers and agricultural dealers, and received the highest testimonials of approval. Messrs. Hall & Spear are located at Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, and are not only one of the best firms in the industry in the United States, but manufacture plows of all kinds, suitable for the different varieties of soil. Since the days of "Jethro Wood," there has never been a firm that has added more to the benefit of the agricultural community than they have received more than thirty distinct patents on plows, and the firm keeps progress with the age.

PHOTOGRAPH ALBUMS.—The largest and finest stock in the city is at Bowers, Stewart & Co.'s, 18 West Washington street.

HATS, CAPS AND STRAW GOODS.—We would ask residents and all from abroad to visit No. 3, South Meridian street. They will there see the most splendid stock of hats, hats, umbrellas, parasols, and everything in the market. Mr. J. S. Gold, an accomplished gentleman, is with J. M. Talbot & Co., No. 3 South Meridian street.

For more than 25 years the reliable house of Talbot & Co. has been recognized as the principal headquarters for all new styles of watches and fine jewelry. They have on hand more genuine American watches than have ever before seen in this State at any one time. You will also find a great variety of watches and fine jewelry. Drop in and see us at Parker's, 30 West Washington street. sep30-4d

"NEEDS ON THE BRAIN."—We have a good deal about the "needs on the brain," and the "darky in the wood pile," but a more important subject for women and children is the performance of the foot. Keep it warm and dry. To do this, buy the best boot, or shoe, you can, for the least money. The New York Boot and Shoe Store, Glens' Block, is the place to buy. Look in the adjacent show window of this establishment, and see what you want. sep30-13t

An interesting meeting was held last night in the Supreme Court room, State House, for the industrial interests of the State were fully discussed. To night, at the same place, all practical gentlemen are invited to attend. The prominent speakers will be Mr. Day, of Mansfield, Ohio, Mr. E. E. Clark, of New York, and Dr. Warner, of Ohio, and Col. J. T. Wright, the eminent agricultural expert from Pennsylvania.

PALMER HOUSE BASEMENT SALOON.—Messrs. Welsh & Renahan, the gentlemanly proprietors of this celebrated and popular place of resort, southeast corner of Illinois and Washington streets, have recently replenished their stock of choice wines, liquors and cigars. For a splendid beverage of any sort, go to the Palmer House basement saloon. sep25-1w

HAMILTON COUNTY FARM.—A farm of 146 acres, three miles from Noblesville, is offered by Deitzel & Jones, Real Estate Brokers, 37 East Washington street, at a price that makes it the cheapest price of improved farm property in Central Indiana. They also have for sale two farms, one of 80 and another of 160 acres in Randolph county, near Union City, and another of 160 acres, half of it in luxurious blue grass, near Terra Haute. Also, an improved farm of 50 acres, near Greensburg, on which is an inextinguishable stone quarry. sep25-1w

EXCELSIOR PANORAMA OF THE WAR.—The Excelsior Hall was crowded last night, our citizens and "country cousins" being anxious to see this magnificent work of art produced by home artists. As we have remarked, this is without doubt the finest thing of the kind ever seen in this city. We would advise our friends and everybody else to go to Excelsior Hall this week, as it may be that this splendid series of paintings will leave for other cities in a few days. These will be exhibited this afternoon at two o'clock. Children, fifteen cents.

THE NEW YORK STORE.—We have frequently had occasion to call attention of our people to the beautiful goods offered there, at the lowest prices, at the famous house of the Messrs. Glenn, East Washington street. Daily fresh arrivals of the most beautiful fabrics, of all sorts of manufactures, of shawls, of silks and counterpane of the New York Store. This store is celebrated throughout the country. Everything in the dry goods line needed by any lady, or gentleman, whether resident or visitor, can be obtained at the New York Store. "Everything at the lowest price for cash" is the motto of the enterprising proprietors.

HUME, LORD & CO.—The most magnificent retail dry goods establishment anywhere in the city is that of the firm above mentioned. West Washington street, north side, stone front. No more beautiful goods are displayed upon the counters of any New York, Philadelphia, Boston, Baltimore, New Orleans, Cincinnati, St. Louis, Paris, Constantinople, Vienna, St. Petersburg or San Francisco store. Ladies in all the cities above enumerated, visit the retail dry goods stores and in their shopping. In Indianapolis, our beautiful women go to Hume, Lord & Co.'s. Only, we would say, have this firm everything that a lady wants; but for carpets and substantial cloth and woolen and staple goods of all kinds, there is no other place in the city. Their stock of piece goods comprises the best varieties and latest styles, all fresh and new, from which any gentleman can select a suit to his taste, and have it in the best and most serviceable style. PASTURE LAND AT AUCTION.—We will sell at auction, on the premises, on Monday October 5, at 2 o'clock, forty three acres of excellent bottom land, for cow pasture, in parcels of from two and a half to five acres each, to suit purchasers. This land is at the northwest corner of the city limits, bounded on the east by Fall creek, and on the west by a fineable fence. This ground, being bottom land, will produce more grass on one acre than can be produced on two acres of upland. It is also well supplied with stock water, each lot having a front on Fall creek, and a good pasture in parcels of from two to four acres. Terms, one third cash, and the balance in sixty days, with interest on the deferred payments. sep26-4d

A HARSHIP.—On Wednesday last, one of our backmen was called upon at the Union Depot, by an officer, to carry him to a certain business house on Washington street, and back again to the depot. The backman stopped opposite the business house whilst the gentleman went in. He was arrested for letting his vehicle stand on Washington street, taken before Mayor Owen, and although the officer appeared and testified that the backman was waiting for him, a fine of $15 was imposed. This judgment of the Mayor is certainly a violation of the spirit of the fair ordinance. The clause making it a fineable offense to stand back on Washington street was misdirected. During the time it remained in the city it was examined by a number of farmers and agricultural dealers, and received the highest testimonials of approval. Messrs. Hall & Spear
