TELEGRAPHIC:

Noon Reports.

From New York.

New York, October 23.—The World's special

Thus far Lee has retreated without stopping to make any considerable resistance, and the main body of his army is now reported beyond the Rapidan.

I understand that orders have been issued to push him to the wall and force him to a battle, but whether under present circumstances, a battle will be risked, is a matter of conjecture. If the rebel commander, as now seems probable, gets fairly out of fighting reach, you may expect to hear that the fate of Rosecrans will be visited on

Gen. Meade, who has certainly been too cautious in pursuit. Indeed, I hear quite reliable Generals, Sedgwick and Sickles, already talked of to succeed him, unless he shall retire himself.

LATER.

A special to the World, dated Washington,

Oct. 22, says:

Intelligence from the front to day shows that active operations for the present are at a standstill. Lee's forces are beyond the Rappahannock and probably concentrated near Culpeper.

The statement that our forces penetrated that far is untrue.

Gen. Meade came to Washington to day, and after an interview with the President and Gen.

Halleck returned to headquarters.

The Tribune's special says:

It is stated that the rebels at Richmond have robbed one prisoner of apparel of $10,000. But little credit is attached to the rebel statement that money sent to the prisoners would be handed to them. Until some official announcement is made to that effect, the friends of prisoners would do well not to remit money or send clothing.

The Times' special says:

The presence of Gen. Meade and staff here today has filled the minds of our readers that he has been relieved from command.

No change to day in the military condition at the front.

A special to the Times, from Chattanooga the 21st, says:

Gen. Rosecrans received the order relieving him from command on Monday evening, and on Wednesday left for Cincinnati. He is accompanied by only two personal Aids.

Gen. Thomas has assumed command.

A late number of the Chattanooga Rebel has the following:

Brags will undoubtedly be relieved for his failure in the late battle of the Wilderness, and it is understood by her Johnston, Longstreet or Lee will be his successor.

The late rains have swollen the Tennessee river very much, and steamers can easily reach Chattanooga.

The Herald's Washington dispatch says:

Gen. Meade is here to consult with the President in regard to a new success, promising the movement of the Army of the Potomac, for the execution of which, arrangements have already been made. If rapidly carried out, at proposed, this movement will surprise Lee, relieve Burn-sides from all threatened danger, and take Richmond before the rebel army at West Maryland can reach there.

A special to the Herald from Washington says:

As soon as we found that Lee had retreated, our troops took the offensive, pursuing the enemy closely.

At Appom we learned the rebel cavalry had a few hours start and that Kilpatrick was pressing their rear.

The general impression is that Lee is falling back on the defenses of Richmond in order to send all his available forces to Tennessee.

It is reported that the military authorities are taking measures to prevent further execution of our prisoners by inaugurating retaliatory measures. Kellogg, who was hung in Richmond recently, was captured while performing his legiti-mate duty.

It is believed a rebel officer will be selected for EDUCATIONAL.

ST. COLUMBA'S

FEMALE ACADEMY,

Fifth St., Zanesville, Ohio.

THIS ACADEMY IS CONDUCTED BY SISTERS OF the Order of St. Dominic, and is provided with competent and experienced Teachers, who will spare no efforts for the improvement of the minds and morals of those entrusted to their charge.

The Course of Study is divided into four departments, and each department having its own distinctive course of studies assigned it.

The discipline of the school is firm and uniform; but not in and out. A most attentive will be given to the health and comfort of the pupils.

The Academic year consists of two sessions of five months each, the first commencing on the first Monday of September; the second on the first Monday of February. The two sessions will be closed with a public distribution of premiums and honors, on the first Wednesday in July.
