As events have cessfully filled every position assigned to him since verified, their object was to place the di rection of the state government as nearly under the control of Governor Morron, as possible. On the 2d of April, 1863, the Auditor of State addressed a note to the Att'y Gen. requesting his opinion as to whether the proper officers of State had the power to draw from the State Treasury the amount necessary to pay the interest upon the funded debt of the State, the Legislature, by dereliction of duty, having failed to make an ap- bill has the support of the dominant party in propriation for that purpose. On the 6th of the House, and illustrates the effort that will be April the Attorney General, in an elaborate reply, expressed the opinion that there was no legal authority for drawing a warrant upon the State Treasury to pay the interest falling due on the 1st of July following. To remove all doubt as to the power of the officers of State, a suit was brought in the Circuit Court of this county for a judicial determination of the question. This case was appealed to the Supreme Court, and on the evening of the 5th of June, 1863, the Judges filed an opinion unanimously deciding that the Auditor and Treasurer of State had no enthority for the payment of the interest upon the public debt without an appropriation having district shall be as follows: first been made by the Legislature specifically! In fact he also knew and admitted that there was abundance of money in the Treasury to meet all the indebtedness of this State. There is a little secret history about from the State Treasury for that purpose. The interest due July 1st, 1863, was not paid. On the 10th of Dec. 1863, Gov. Morron announthrough cards in the papers that he had conclu ded an arrangement to pay, "in the City of New York, interest on the Indians five and two and a half per cent. stocks, which fell due on the first day of July last, and that which will fall due on the first day of January pext " In this connection the organ of His Excellency stated, that "no agreement has been made with Messrs Wisslow, LANIER &c., for the payment of any interest or compensation for the use of the money to be advanced by them in paying the interest on our State stocks. The whole matter is by them referred to the good faith of the State, and there is no danger of their being allowed to suffer."

the negotiation with Lapier & Co. which should not be forgotten. The Governor, in consideration of that firm proposing to the Agent of State to pay the interest due on the 1st of July, 1863, agreed to call an extra session of the Legislature to provide for the reimbursement of the money if the offer should be accepted. The Governor also stated about the same time that he would have called an extra session if the State officers had, in violation of law, withdrawn the money of the paper.

These are briefly the facts in the case. One argument used against calling an extra session was the expense. Yet His Excellency is now calling upon the Legislature to pay Messrs Win-SLOW, LANIER &c , the sum of $28,527 94 for the interest upon the advances they have made, pine lands in Michigan, and will prove of imwhen the money was lying idle in the Treasury and the Legislature could have been assembled at a much less cost to have appropriated it-and he had the assurance it would have been promptly done and in time to have paid the interest due on the first of July.
