The following message from the Mayor was read and accompanying correspondence relative to the Spanish paper El Pelayo ordered to be printed.

MAYORALTY OF NEW ORLEANS, } November 30, 1852.

To the Honorable President and Members of the Board of Aldermen of the City of New Orleans.

Children—in obedience to a resolution adopted by your honorable body on the 16th inst., regarding the Mayor of the city to transmit to the Board of Aldermen all correspondence which may hereafter take place between him and the proprietors of El Pelayo, or any correspondence which that newspaper was concerned, I have the honor to submit herewith documents marked A, B, C, D, E, & F, containing the correspondence that has taken place in this office with reference to the newspaper El Pelayo.

I have the honor to be, very respectfully, your obedient servant, A. D. CROSSMAN, Mayor.

TRANSLATION. The Spanish Consul to the Mayor of New Orleans.

SPANISH CONSULATE OF NEW ORLEANS, } November 30, 1852.

I have just received from the editors of the Spanish paper El Pelayo, a communication calling my attention (with the view that I should submit the matter to your honor) to the fact that it is intended to review the scenes of the 15th and 16th inst., by mobbing the office of the Mayor.

I have the honor of making this statement to your honor in fulfillment of my official duty, hoping that you will take such steps in the premises as you may think proper.

I have the honor to be, very respectfully, your obedient servant, (Signed) JEAN YONOR, LAZARDE Y RUBIA, Consul of Her Catholic Majesty.

To his honor the Mayor of the City of New Orleans.

The Mayor of New Orleans to the Spanish Consul.

MAYORALTY OF NEW ORLEANS, } May 5, 1852.

Sir—I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your communication of this day advising me that you had been informed by the proprietors of the Pelayo that it was the intention of some evil disposed persons to make an attack on the establishment of that paper, and to renew the scenes of the 15th August last.

You have been informed that having ascertained yesterday that an incendiary placard threatening violence to that paper had been stuck up in a public bar-room, I at once took the necessary steps to prevent any disturbance to the publication of the Pelayo.

I have the honor to be, very respectfully, your obedient servant, (Signed) JEAN YONOR, LAZARDE Y RUBIA, Consul of Her Catholic Majesty.

To his honor the Mayor of the City of New Orleans.

The Mayor of New Orleans to the Spanish Consul.

whose rights are entrusted to me and which your honor has promised to defend. God grant to your honor a long life.

(Signed) JEAN YONOR, LAZARDE Y RUBIA, Consul of Her Catholic Majesty.

To his honor the Mayor of the City of New Orleans.

MAYORALTY OF NEW ORLEANS, } October 9, 1852.

Sir—I hasten to acknowledge the receipt of your communication of this day, which was placed in my possession at 4 o'clock this afternoon. You state in your letter that you have ascertained that some evil disposed persons intend that it is the intention of some evil disposed persons to make an attack to-night or to-morrow morning on the newspaper establishment El Pelayo, and you appeal to me to use my exertions to prevent the effect and its production.

To such an appeal I shall never turn a deaf hearing, considering as I do that the maintenance of good order is especially entrusted to the Mayor, and that it is his duty to use the necessary force to the police to keep a sharp watch and to put down the slightest attempt at disturbance whenever it may manifest itself.

But whilst disposed to avail myself of all the authorities at my disposal for the preservation of the public peace, I must take the liberty of adding that the respect of the Executive should not be constantly and continually impaired by the publication of articles of a nature calculated to excite a degree of animosity against our population, and which have of late diurnally appeared in the columns of the paper for which you claim the protection of the law.

I have the honor to be, with great respect, your obedient servant, (Signed) JEAN YONOR, LAZARDE Y RUBIA, Consul of Her Catholic Majesty of Spain, New Orleans.

The following message from the Mayor was read. The first part, relative to the office of the Clerk of the First District Court, was referred to the Committee on Work-House and Prisons, and the second part, relative to the annual report of the Chief of Police, was referred to the Police Committee.

A courier has arrived here with important dispatches from the Kingdom of Prussia. It is a protocol to them, but the English and Russian Embassadors declared to them that it belonged to the prototyping powers alone to regulate the succession.

The Viceroys of Egypt has forwarded to the Sultan a remittance on London for £200,000 sterling. This seasonable contribution has relieved all anxiety respecting repayment of the loan.

Among the men of the times few exercise a greater influence than the members of the extensive coast-trade known as the houses of Rothschild, the impregnation of that money power which governs the world. For nearly half a century their influence has been constantly on the increase; and to them more than any merchants or financiers of Europe, it is indebted for the preservation of peace between the great powers. In order even to give an outline of the immense and successful operations which have placed a German Jew, his sons and grand-sons at the head of the money power of the world, it would be necessary to embrace the history of European finances since the year 1812; and this our space does not permit.

It is not, therefore, to be wondered at that the Rothschild family, born at Frankfurt-on-the-Main, sometime about the year 1740, was a money-changer and exchange broker, a man of fair character and easy circumstances. When, in the first year of the French Government, Meyer Amschel Rothschild, born at Frankfurt-on-the-Main, sometime about the year 1740, was a money-changer and exchange broker, a man of fair character and easy circumstances.

about the credit of the Rothschild appears in any degree to have increased. The members of the firm are numerous, as the third generation have been received into copartnership; and, as the case is mostly international, their immense wealth will have a lengthened career, inasmuch as the Rothschild family, which remains in comparative quietude, has profited the Rothschild of London and Paris, profess to be liberals; while those of Frankfurt, Vienna and Naples are conservative. It is, however, evident that their interests are not so much as popular movements. Considerable pecuniary, with its representative chambers, is the most congenial to loan-constructors, and is a power which their account influence is doubtless exerted.
