

TELEGRAPHED TO THE CRESCENT.

By the Southern Star.

Governor Foote.

GAINESVILLE, Miss., August 9.

Governor Foote today addressed the citizens of this place in a speech of two hours' length.

His principal theme was the Compromise, though he also reviewed the history of the politics of the State and nation, endorsed the doctrine of General Pierce's inaugural and Edward Everett's reply, highly eulogizing the patriotism displayed in the latter performance.

He felicitated the cause of the nation on the triumph of the principles which he had advocated, and exulted in the eventual acquiescence of those who had opposed them. He expressed the greatest confidence in the ability of Mr. Brown, and the after defeat of Mr. Brown.

At this point the speech was interrupted by the rain, and Governor Foote and the crowd dispersed.

Later from Texas.

The steamship Perseverance brought the mail yesterday from Texas.

By her we have Galveston dates to the 10th inst., and a full file of other Texas papers.

The Civilian & Gazette (Galveston) of the 24 inst., has the following items:

The receipts for import duties at the port of Galveston during the year ending March 21, 1855, were $1,234,567.

A murder was committed on the beach at Velasco, on Saturday last, by a man named Lewis Shepherd, who killed an inoffensive and peaceable German named Smith. Shepherd has made his escape, but it is hoped he will be speedily arrested and brought to justice.

LATON FIRE AT INDIANOLA, Indiana, July 27.—This morning about 2 o'clock, an extensive and destructive conflagration broke out at Powder Horn, Baldridge, Sparks & Co. lost their fine warehouse, storehouse and office, together with a large quantity of merchandise, and a large stock of different kinds of goods, which they had on consignment. I understand they were insured to the amount of $18,000, which does not begin to cover their loss.

CROOK'S WORMS.—General Enquirer says the worm has already made its appearance in some cotton fields, but has not yet done much damage. It is hoped that the continuance of fair weather will cause the worm again to disappear.

The crops throughout every portion of the State, says the Houston Telegraph, have been greatly improved by the late rains, and are generally promising. In all the cotton country, the cotton and cottonseed are far more promising than they were last summer.

A friend in Gonzales county writes the Indianola Bulletin that excellent corn crops have been secured. Another friend from the same county writes the Indianola Bulletin that excellent corn crops have been secured. When the boat reached Port New Orleans, the passengers were asked their names. False ones were given but with no effect, for they were all arrested, the father of the young ladies having been too smart for the police.
