

For some weeks past the public prints in different parts of the country have alluded with apparent confidence to preparations making for an early invasion of Cuba by the filibusters of the United States.

Knowing, as we do, that the moment all considerations of morality, law or equity are put aside, the result of such a movement, the probability is of course the ultimate object, but what would you think? This is a question worthy of profound consideration.

That it has been the determined policy of the Spanish Government for the last twenty years to set the negro free and turn Cuba into a white man's country, is a fact which is not only a matter of fact, but a matter of course.

It is a fact which is not only a matter of fact, but a matter of course. It is a fact which is not only a matter of fact, but a matter of course.

FROM WASHINGTON.
Special Correspondence of the New Orleans Crescent.
Washington, Wednesday, May 24, 1854.

On the 20th inst. a resolution was passed in the Senate in advance of any report by the Committee.

Mr. Benjamin declared his belief that there was a purpose of aggrandizing the Island, and although he could not make this as plain as a mathematical demonstration, he thought he could make it evident to any intelligent man, and at the proper time he would undertake to do so.

Mr. Clayton, of Del., utterly discredited any such thing, as being in fact preposterous. He had been told, while Secretary of State, that in case of any invasion of the Island the blacks would be turned loose; and who could blame the authorities if they resorted to this extremity in such an event. It was their right if they chose to exercise it. They would but set fire to the magazine of powder, but they will only do this when reduced to desperation.

Mr. Gwin, of California, concurred in part with Mr. Clayton, but said he had frequently stopped at Havana in passing to and from California, and was satisfied that the plan was nearer its accomplishment than he (Mr. C.) supposed it to be.

The new Spanish Minister has arrived in New York, and a fresh special minister is now here from England, the Earl of Elgin, which last named has instructions, it is said, to offer his mediation between this Government and that of Spain, in the matter of the Black Warrior. Meanwhile it is very certain that the Administration watches the evidence of public opinion upon this subject of Cuba, and needs but small encouragement to follow up the appointments of South and O'Sullivan with a force upon the Island. This is a humiliating statement, and, as an American citizen, I blush for my Government while I write it.

The Nebraska bill has been all day in the Senate. It must be understood that the bill passed by the House and now before the Senate is identical with the bill passed by the Senate, excepting the Clayton amendment, which excludes aliens from voting, but it is not the Senate bill.

Mr. Douglas has proclaimed his wish that the bill should be passed to-day or to-morrow, and the Senate trains under the little giant—the Southern Senators hold themselves bound to follow the dictates of one who tendered the boon in behalf of the North; but a debate has sprung up, incidentally involving the consistency of Mr. Bell, of Tenn. in separating from his southern white friends. Mr. Toombs, of Ga. upbraided Mr. Bell in an offensive manner for his course, and Mr. B. replied. Mr. Badger, of N.C. is also at variance with Mr. Bell, and we may expect several days' discussion of Nebraska yet, if not more.

The British Minister gives a Me champtre, or, as we say, a barabois, in honor of Victoria's birthday, at his residence in Georgetown, this afternoon.

There are 100 churches in Boston, 22 of which are Congregational and 14 Congregational-Unitarian. The Congregational-Unitarian churches are those which are Unitarian in their forms of church government. Congregationalists are those, whatever may be their religious opinions, who, as Buck in his Theological Dictionary has said, "reject all church government except that of a single congregation under the direction of one pastor, with their elders, assistants or managers."

This last reminds us of an anecdote of the celebrated Knickerbocker, ("mine uncle the Congressman"), when in Congress under the administration of Madison.

Being at the President's levee one night, Mr. Madison, wishing to get some sport out of him, honored him with an intimate conversation. Among other questions, he asked him to what religious denomination he belonged. "Dutch Reformed," was the prompt reply. "What is the difference between the Dutch Reformed and the Presbyterian churches?" inquired his inexorable host. ("The difference is only in the government of the churches.") "Well," said Knickerbocker, "I don't know, unless it is that one sings long metre and the other short."

DEATH OF AN EDITOR.—Thomas Ritchie, Jr., editor of the Richmond Enquirer, and son of the well-known former editor of that paper and more recently of the "Union," died after a lingering illness at Richmond on the 24th inst.

The body of Dr. Dickerson, who was drowned in Thompson's Creek, at Jackson, La., about sixteen months ago, was found by some negro on the 21st inst., nine miles below that place. The body was buried under the sand in the bed of the creek. His clothes were on him, together with his pistol and money.

A country girl, writing to her friends, says of the polka, that the dancing does not amount to much, but the hugging is heavenly!

You can tell how wide a man's reputation is, by the way he tells his long.

Fishing for a Nigger.

We have had some experience in plectory exercises, but an officer of the Customs, named Casey, beat us all known to experienced fishermen, of using the right bait.

It seems that Mr. Casey was in command of a barge on the river for the purpose of preventing or detecting smuggling. While outside of the shipping, on Sunday night, he thought he heard some one fall overboard from a ship. He immediately directed his boat to the spot (it was 9 o'clock in the morning) where he discovered some bubbles in the water. Putting down his hand, it came in contact with the short wool on a negro's head. His hold proved ineffective and the negro sank. At this moment, Casey directing his boatmen to hold on to his legs immersed himself, and putting his hand way down in the water, it came in contact with the nigger's mouth, who bit at it as rabidly as a catfish would at the entrails of a turkey bizzard. By this means he landed the darky out, and restored him to life and to his master.

But this is not all. We should fail to do justice to the generosity of the owner, did we not state the fact that he forthwith, upon any prompting, and merely from the generous impulses of his own nature, paid Mr. Casey the sum of two dollars!

We have advised Casey to put in a claim for salvage in the United States Court. He is entitled, we think, to at least half the value of the negro. When we saw him last, his finger was greatly swollen and heavily bandaged, in consequence of the wound.

NEWS OF THE CITY.

FATAL POLLY.—A sailor named Thomas Averill was instantly killed yesterday by falling from the second story window of a boarding-house at No. 24 Front Street, while attempting to descend to the pavement by the gutter-pipe. It seems that a question of prowess in the matter of feats of agility and daring had arisen between himself and a number of his shipmates in an upper room, when he for a wager or through bravado undertook the difficult feat of descending to the pavement by the gutter-pipe. An inquest was held upon the body and a verdict rendered that he came to his death from general concussion caused by the fall. Deceased was an Englishman, and about 45 years of age.

An inquest was also held yesterday upon the body of an unknown white man found dead in the river opposite St. Louis street, Verdict, "Drowned." Deceased was about 35 years of age, 6 feet 9 inches in stature; had on blue cotton-wool pants, white cotton and blue cloth shirts, and brogan shoes.

SAVING TREATMENT.—John Furlong made affidavit before the Recorder's Court of the Second District yesterday, that on the previous night he was attacked at the corner of Conti and Levee streets, by a gang of about fifteen individuals, who knocked him down, kicked, beat, stamped, and endeavored to kill him. Two persons, named David Connor and Thomas Singer, were arrested and identified by Furlong as having participated in the affair. They were held to bail in the sum of $900 each, to appear for examination.

BOARD OF ASSISTANT ALDERMEN.—This Board held its regular meeting, last evening, Colored Campbell in the Chair, and 20 members present.

The minutes of the preceding meeting were read and approved, and a message from the Mayor, informing the Board that an ordinance of the city made it the duty of the Council to make the annual appropriations to the Public Schools, was read and referred to a special committee.

A letter was read from C. A. Miltenberger, stating that, having experienced great delay in the approval of the contract which had been adjudicated to him for supplying the city with Pittsburgh coal, he declined complying with the conditions of said contract, and desired that the money deposited by him as security be repaid. Referred to Committee on Claims.

A petition was received from numerous property-holders of the Fourth District, asking that the cemetery on Washington Avenue be closed up and further burials therein prohibited. Laid on the table subject to call.

Succession of William Taylor.—Mrs. Pollock, administratrix of the estate of William Taylor, deceased, and Mrs. Fanny Taylor, administratrix of the estate of William Taylor, deceased, appellants—Fourth District Court of New Orleans—Buchanan, J. Judgment reversed and judgment rendered according to the opinions expressed in the body of the report.

Greer B. Duncan, ex. S. A. Monaghan, appellants—Lodons and McCabe, and Miles Jackson, appellees—Third District Court of New Orleans—Shillid, C. J. Judgment affirmed, as to appellants—the appellee to pay the costs of the appeal.

Benj. T. Ball vs. Crockett Garland & Co.—W. H. Garland, appellant—Daniels (retrograde) appellee—Fourth District Court of New Orleans—Campbell, J. Judgment reversed, and the Sheriff's sale of the note declared by the plaintiff to be annulled and set aside—the costs of intervention to be paid by the appellee. Further ordered that B. F. Ball, plaintiff, recover from William H. Garland, defendant, the sum of $585 55, with interest at 5 per cent. from June 10, 1850, until paid, and costs of suit.

H. J. O'Connell, appellant, vs. Chas. Lommerman, Eugene Jouhano, f. m. c. et al. appellees—(Interlocutory judgment)—Shillid, C. J. Ordered that the cause be reinstated on its proper docket, and the appellants have leave to have new citations issued and served.

PROFESSOR HENRY DE MARSAN.—The method and utility of this system, as applied to the study of the human mind, is a subject of great interest to the public. The French Academy of Sciences, in a resolution passed on the 10th of February last, in a shanty at the corner of Common and Broad streets, far out towards the swamp.

The evidence produced for the prosecution was essentially the same as that elicited on the preliminary examination before the committing magistrate. The testimony of the Coroner and attending physician established the fact of the death and the character of the injuries which produced it, the latter deposing that after she was brought to the Charity Hospital he examined her and found the whole of the back part and left side of her head smashed and the brain completely disorganized. The skull appeared to have been broken by a blow from some blunt, heavy instrument. Sundry bruises and cuts were also found about the body and both her arms were broken. Death had resulted from the injuries about the head.

Officer Landy deposed that he went to the house of accused, on Common street, shortly after hearing that a woman had been beaten and nearly killed, and that he found Mrs. Smith
