

THE NEW ORLEANS DAILY CRESCENT, PUBLISHED EVERY MORNING AT SEVEN O'CLOCK.

Subscription rates: Single copies, 10 cents; per month, $3.00; per year, $35.00.

Advertisements: First insertion, 10 cents per line; subsequent insertions, 5 cents per line.

Published by J. O. Morgan, at the Crescent Office, No. 100 Canal Street, New Orleans, La.

Telegraphed to Daily Crescent. By the Southern Star.

FURTHER BY THE CANADA. FIRE IN LIVERPOOL.

MR. SOULS PASSED THROUGH PARIS. Secret Proceedings Respecting Cuba!!!

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—The Canada's advice report that another fire had occurred in Liverpool, by which 9000 bales of cotton had been destroyed.

Disaffection in England. The popular feeling in England was about to manifest itself against the slow progress which the Government has made so far in the prosecution of the war.

Mr. Souls. Mr. Souls had left London for Madrid, passing through Paris. He, however, made no stay in the latter capital.

Secret Mission. Lord Palmerston had left London for Paris on a secret mission, as it is stated respecting the designs of the United States upon the island of Cuba.

Battle of Balaklava. The reports of the battle of Balaklava on the 25th ult. show the affair to have been a very serious one. The loss of the English is stated at 1000 killed.

Liverpool Markets. There is some difference in the reports of the various brokers with regard to the state of the Cotton market at Liverpool. The quotations for Midding as given by some of the brokers, including A. Dennistoun & Co., are about 1-1/2 lower than those of Brown, Shipley & Co. quote Midding Mobile at 64 per lb.

The stock on hand at Liverpool, exclusive of the amount on board ship, is stated at 670,000 bales, of which 350,000 were American.

The Havre Cotton Market. Commercial advice from Havre to the 8th inst. report the average sales of cotton in that market at about 1000 bales daily. Prices were without any change of moment.

Post-Office Embezzlement. BIRMINGHAM, Nov. 23.—Wm. H. Martin, the principal distributing clerk in the Post-office in this city, has been arrested on a charge of stealing letters, and embezzling the money taken from them. The amount of money thus taken is said to amount to several thousand dollars.

New York Markets. NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—The Cotton market here is dull, with sales to-day of barely 600 bales. Prices are irregular, but without any notable change.

Another Post-Office Robbery. NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—A clerk in the Post-office has been detected in robbing the mails.

Embezzlement by a Bank Teller. NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—The Paying Teller of the American Exchange Bank in this city is discovered to have embezzled a large amount of the funds of the bank, by means of certified checks drawn in the name of irresponsible parties.

The Weekly Crescent will retain its present shape, containing eight pages, or forty-eight columns, of closely condensed reading matter. The advertising matter will be of a very limited amount, and altogether only as much as will be necessary to carry the paper. Some improvements will be made in the mechanical appearance of the paper at an early day, which, it is hoped, will give it additional favor in the eyes of its readers.

The present volume starts forth with advantages denied its predecessors and under the most flattering auspices. It circulates largely in all the South-western States, and to a greater or less extent in every State of the Union.

Copies can always be obtained, by those desirous of giving distant friends a notion of what is occurring here, at our counter and at the book-store of J. O. Morgan, near the Post-office.

THE WEEKLY CRESCENT. The seventh volume of the Weekly Crescent commences with the number published to-day. What the character of the paper has been during the preceding years of its existence—how nearly the performance has lived up to the promises—we shall leave to the decision of its readers and patrons; only saying that it has been the constant aim and endeavor of its conductors to make it a new and family journal of the very first class.

The leading features of the Weekly Crescent will continue much the same as before, excepting that literature and miscellaneous matter will be more largely introduced and less space devoted to party politics, although care will be taken to keep its readers advised of political events. All the latest news obtained by mail and telegraph will be found in a carefully digested and concise form, together with such news and notices as are calculated to be of the most general interest. There will be editorial articles on the prominent subjects of the day and such correspondence, from different portions of our own and other countries, as is likely to be valuable, entertaining and instructive.

The news of the city will embrace every thing of importance that transpires, and it is hoped that the commercial reports and reviews of the market will commend themselves to the confidence of readers. In fine it will be the steady object of the proprietor to render the Weekly Crescent as attractive and valuable a compendium of literature and news as can be found in the Southwest.

It is our desire to publish a journal that will be perused with equal pleasure in the parlor and the office; in the city and country; by ladies, lawyers, mechanics, merchants and individuals of all classes and callings. To secure that end neither money, time or pains will be spared.

THE WEEKLY CRESCENT will retain its present shape, containing eight pages, or forty-eight columns, of closely condensed reading matter. The advertising matter will be of a very limited amount, and altogether only as much as will be necessary to carry the paper. Some improvements will be made in the mechanical appearance of the paper at an early day, which, it is hoped, will give it additional favor in the eyes of its readers.

The present volume starts forth with advantages denied its predecessors and under the most flattering auspices. It circulates largely in all the South-western States, and to a greater or less extent in every State of the Union.

Copies can always be obtained, by those desirous of giving distant friends a notion of what is occurring here, at our counter and at the book-store of J. O. Morgan, near the Post-office.

THE WEEKLY CRESCENT will retain its present shape, containing eight pages, or forty-eight columns, of closely condensed reading matter. The advertising matter will be of a very limited amount, and altogether only as much as will be necessary to carry the paper. Some improvements will be made in the mechanical appearance of the paper at an early day, which, it is hoped, will give it additional favor in the eyes of its readers.

The present volume starts forth with advantages denied its predecessors and under the most flattering auspices. It circulates largely in all the South-western States, and to a greater or less extent in every State of the Union.

Copies can always be obtained, by those desirous of giving distant friends a notion of what is occurring here, at our counter and at the book-store of J. O. Morgan, near the Post-office.

THE WEEKLY CRESCENT will retain its present shape, containing eight pages, or forty-eight columns, of closely condensed reading matter. The advertising matter will be of a very limited amount, and altogether only as much as will be necessary to carry the paper. Some improvements will be made in the mechanical appearance of the paper at an early day, which, it is hoped, will give it additional favor in the eyes of its readers.

The present volume starts forth with advantages denied its predecessors and under the most flattering auspices. It circulates largely in all the South-western States, and to a greater or less extent in every State of the Union.

Copies can always be obtained, by those desirous of giving distant friends a notion of what is occurring here, at our counter and at the book-store of J. O. Morgan, near the Post-office.

THE WEEKLY CRESCENT will retain its present shape, containing eight pages, or forty-eight columns, of closely condensed reading matter. The advertising matter will be of a very limited amount, and altogether only as much as will be necessary to carry the paper. Some improvements will be made in the mechanical appearance of the paper at an early day, which, it is hoped, will give it additional favor in the eyes of its readers.

The present volume starts forth with advantages denied its predecessors and under the most flattering auspices. It circulates largely in all the South-western States, and to a greater or less extent in every State of the Union.

Copies can always be obtained, by those desirous of giving distant friends a notion of what is occurring here, at our counter and at the book-store of J. O. Morgan, near the Post-office.

THE WEEKLY CRESCENT will retain its present shape, containing eight pages, or forty-eight columns, of closely condensed reading matter. The advertising matter will be of a very limited amount, and altogether only as much as will be necessary to carry the paper. Some improvements will be made in the mechanical appearance of the paper at an early day, which, it is hoped, will give it additional favor in the eyes of its readers.

The present volume starts forth with advantages denied its predecessors and under the most flattering auspices. It circulates largely in all the South-western States, and to a greater or less extent in every State of the Union.

Copies can always be obtained, by those desirous of giving distant friends a notion of what is occurring here, at our counter and at the book-store of J. O. Morgan, near the Post-office.

THE WEEKLY CRESCENT will retain its present shape, containing eight pages, or forty-eight columns, of closely condensed reading matter. The advertising matter will be of a very limited amount, and altogether only as much as will be necessary to carry the paper. Some improvements will be made in the mechanical appearance of the paper at an early day, which, it is hoped, will give it additional favor in the eyes of its readers.

The present volume starts forth with advantages denied its predecessors and under the most flattering auspices. It circulates largely in all the South-western States, and to a greater or less extent in every State of the Union.

Copies can always be obtained, by those desirous of giving distant friends a notion of what is occurring here, at our counter and at the book-store of J. O. Morgan, near the Post-office.

THE WEEKLY CRESCENT will retain its present shape, containing eight pages, or forty-eight columns, of closely condensed reading matter. The advertising matter will be of a very limited amount, and altogether only as much as will be necessary to carry the paper. Some improvements will be made in the mechanical appearance of the paper at an early day, which, it is hoped, will give it additional favor in the eyes of its readers.

Telegraphed to Daily Crescent. By the Southern Star.

FURTHER BY THE CANADA. FIRE IN LIVERPOOL.

MR. SOULS PASSED THROUGH PARIS. Secret Proceedings Respecting Cuba!!!

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—The Canada's advice report that another fire had occurred in Liverpool, by which 9000 bales of cotton had been destroyed.

Disaffection in England. The popular feeling in England was about to manifest itself against the slow progress which the Government has made so far in the prosecution of the war.

Mr. Souls. Mr. Souls had left London for Madrid, passing through Paris. He, however, made no stay in the latter capital.

Secret Mission. Lord Palmerston had left London for Paris on a secret mission, as it is stated respecting the designs of the United States upon the island of Cuba.

Battle of Balaklava. The reports of the battle of Balaklava on the 25th ult. show the affair to have been a very serious one. The loss of the English is stated at 1000 killed.

Liverpool Markets. There is some difference in the reports of the various brokers with regard to the state of the Cotton market at Liverpool. The quotations for Midding as given by some of the brokers, including A. Dennistoun & Co., are about 1-1/2 lower than those of Brown, Shipley & Co. quote Midding Mobile at 64 per lb.

The stock on hand at Liverpool, exclusive of the amount on board ship, is stated at 670,000 bales, of which 350,000 were American.

The Havre Cotton Market. Commercial advice from Havre to the 8th inst. report the average sales of cotton in that market at about 1000 bales daily. Prices were without any change of moment.

Post-Office Embezzlement. BIRMINGHAM, Nov. 23.—Wm. H. Martin, the principal distributing clerk in the Post-office in this city, has been arrested on a charge of stealing letters, and embezzling the money taken from them. The amount of money thus taken is said to amount to several thousand dollars.

New York Markets. NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—The Cotton market here is dull, with sales to-day of barely 600 bales. Prices are irregular, but without any notable change.

Another Post-Office Robbery. NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—A clerk in the Post-office has been detected in robbing the mails.

Embezzlement by a Bank Teller. NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—The Paying Teller of the American Exchange Bank in this city is discovered to have embezzled a large amount of the funds of the bank, by means of certified checks drawn in the name of irresponsible parties.

The Weekly Crescent will retain its present shape, containing eight pages, or forty-eight columns, of closely condensed reading matter. The advertising matter will be of a very limited amount, and altogether only as much as will be necessary to carry the paper. Some improvements will be made in the mechanical appearance of the paper at an early day, which, it is hoped, will give it additional favor in the eyes of its readers.

The present volume starts forth with advantages denied its predecessors and under the most flattering auspices. It circulates largely in all the South-western States, and to a greater or less extent in every State of the Union.

Copies can always be obtained, by those desirous of giving distant friends a notion of what is occurring here, at our counter and at the book-store of J. O. Morgan, near the Post-office.

THE WEEKLY CRESCENT will retain its present shape, containing eight pages, or forty-eight columns, of closely condensed reading matter. The advertising matter will be of a very limited amount, and altogether only as much as will be necessary to carry the paper. Some improvements will be made in the mechanical appearance of the paper at an early day, which, it is hoped, will give it additional favor in the eyes of its readers.

The present volume starts forth with advantages denied its predecessors and under the most flattering auspices. It circulates largely in all the South-western States, and to a greater or less extent in every State of the Union.

Copies can always be obtained, by those desirous of giving distant friends a notion of what is occurring here, at our counter and at the book-store of J. O. Morgan, near the Post-office.

THE WEEKLY CRESCENT will retain its present shape, containing eight pages, or forty-eight columns, of closely condensed reading matter. The advertising matter will be of a very limited amount, and altogether only as much as will be necessary to carry the paper. Some improvements will be made in the mechanical appearance of the paper at an early day, which, it is hoped, will give it additional favor in the eyes of its readers.

The present volume starts forth with advantages denied its predecessors and under the most flattering auspices. It circulates largely in all the South-western States, and to a greater or less extent in every State of the Union.

Copies can always be obtained, by those desirous of giving distant friends a notion of what is occurring here, at our counter and at the book-store of J. O. Morgan, near the Post-office.

THE WEEKLY CRESCENT will retain its present shape, containing eight pages, or forty-eight columns, of closely condensed reading matter. The advertising matter will be of a very limited amount, and altogether only as much as will be necessary to carry the paper. Some improvements will be made in the mechanical appearance of the paper at an early day, which, it is hoped, will give it additional favor in the eyes of its readers.

The present volume starts forth with advantages denied its predecessors and under the most flattering auspices. It circulates largely in all the South-western States, and to a greater or less extent in every State of the Union.

Copies can always be obtained, by those desirous of giving distant friends a notion of what is occurring here, at our counter and at the book-store of J. O. Morgan, near the Post-office.

THE WEEKLY CRESCENT will retain its present shape, containing eight pages, or forty-eight columns, of closely condensed reading matter. The advertising matter will be of a very limited amount, and altogether only as much as will be necessary to carry the paper. Some improvements will be made in the mechanical appearance of the paper at an early day, which, it is hoped, will give it additional favor in the eyes of its readers.

The present volume starts forth with advantages denied its predecessors and under the most flattering auspices. It circulates largely in all the South-western States, and to a greater or less extent in every State of the Union.

Copies can always be obtained, by those desirous of giving distant friends a notion of what is occurring here, at our counter and at the book-store of J. O. Morgan, near the Post-office.

THE WEEKLY CRESCENT will retain its present shape, containing eight pages, or forty-eight columns, of closely condensed reading matter. The advertising matter will be of a very limited amount, and altogether only as much as will be necessary to carry the paper. Some improvements will be made in the mechanical appearance of the paper at an early day, which, it is hoped, will give it additional favor in the eyes of its readers.

The present volume starts forth with advantages denied its predecessors and under the most flattering auspices. It circulates largely in all the South-western States, and to a greater or less extent in every State of the Union.

Copies can always be obtained, by those desirous of giving distant friends a notion of what is occurring here, at our counter and at the book-store of J. O. Morgan, near the Post-office.

THE WEEKLY CRESCENT will retain its present shape, containing eight pages, or forty-eight columns, of closely condensed reading matter. The advertising matter will be of a very limited amount, and altogether only as much as will be necessary to carry the paper. Some improvements will be made in the mechanical appearance of the paper at an early day, which, it is hoped, will give it additional favor in the eyes of its readers.

The present volume starts forth with advantages denied its predecessors and under the most flattering auspices. It circulates largely in all the South-western States, and to a greater or less extent in every State of the Union.

Copies can always be obtained, by those desirous of giving distant friends a notion of what is occurring here, at our counter and at the book-store of J. O. Morgan, near the Post-office.

THE WEEKLY CRESCENT will retain its present shape, containing eight pages, or forty-eight columns, of closely condensed reading matter. The advertising matter will be of a very limited amount, and altogether only as much as will be necessary to carry the paper. Some improvements will be made in the mechanical appearance of the paper at an early day, which, it is hoped, will give it additional favor in the eyes of its readers.

The present volume starts forth with advantages denied its predecessors and under the most flattering auspices. It circulates largely in all the South-western States, and to a greater or less extent in every State of the Union.

Copies can always be obtained, by those desirous of giving distant friends a notion of what is occurring here, at our counter and at the book-store of J. O. Morgan, near the Post-office.

THE WEEKLY CRESCENT will retain its present shape, containing eight pages, or forty-eight columns, of closely condensed reading matter. The advertising matter will be of a very limited amount, and altogether only as much as will be necessary to carry the paper. Some improvements will be made in the mechanical appearance of the paper at an early day, which, it is hoped, will give it additional favor in the eyes of its readers.

The present volume starts forth with advantages denied its predecessors and under the most flattering auspices. It circulates largely in all the South-western States, and to a greater or less extent in every State of the Union.

Copies can always be obtained, by those desirous of giving distant friends a notion of what is occurring here, at our counter and at the book-store of J. O. Morgan, near the Post-office.

THE WEEKLY CRESCENT will retain its present shape, containing eight pages, or forty-eight columns, of closely condensed reading matter. The advertising matter will be of a very limited amount, and altogether only as much as will be necessary to carry the paper. Some improvements will be made in the mechanical appearance of the paper at an early day, which, it is hoped, will give it additional favor in the eyes of its readers.

The present volume starts forth with advantages denied its predecessors and under the most flattering auspices. It circulates largely in all the South-western States, and to a greater or less extent in every State of the Union.

Copies can always be obtained, by those desirous of giving distant friends a notion of what is occurring here, at our counter and at the book-store of J. O. Morgan, near the Post-office.

THE WEEKLY CRESCENT will retain its present shape, containing eight pages, or forty-eight columns, of closely condensed reading matter. The advertising matter will be of a very limited amount, and altogether only as much as will be necessary to carry the paper. Some improvements will be made in the mechanical appearance of the paper at an early day, which, it is hoped, will give it additional favor in the eyes of its readers.

A FORTUNING WOMAN. According to a correspondent of Herapetes (English) Journal, steam power to be superadded by "Pompey's Patent Locomotive," which will be brought before the public in about a month. Two men, in a sitting position, will be able with ease to propel a sailing engine, twenty-five horse power, with its full complement of accoutrements, at the rate of ten miles per hour. The tender and boiler of the present engine will be no longer required, and the new engine will be controlled by about one-fourth the weight, and require no assistance in the way of fuel. The wheels and frames of the present engine will be available for the new one.

LIBERT SUIT.—A suit for libel upon the Rev. Robert H. Hall, of Plymouth, Mass., who is the Non-Resistant Organism, was filed in the District Court of Massachusetts, has been commenced against Benjamin Lindsey, proprietor of the New Bedford Mercury. The damages claimed are $200,000 and property to the extent of certain articles in last Saturday's edition of that paper, charging Mr. Hall with the perpetration of a foul and disgusting crime, while in his connection with a religious sect, in his connection with the commencement of this war.

FATAL AFFRAY BETWEEN TWO NAVAL PASSENGERS. A fatal affray occurred on Thursday evening, the 16th, at the Naval Asylum, in Philadelphia, during two persons named Driscoll and William G. Rice, during which the former pushed the latter down a great violence and in the fall struck his head against a wall, and died instantly from concussion of the brain. Driscoll was committed to answer the charge. He is fifty-five years of age, and Rice was nearly seventy. The latter was one of the crew of Commodore Decatur at the burning of the Philadelphia in the harbor of Tripoli.

THE ELECTION RIOT IN WILLIAMSBURG.—The New York Herald of the 18th has a column report of the Governor's investigation, concerning the death of William H. Garrison, in connection with the riot in the Williamsburg market. The proceedings of the jury terminated on the night of the 17th, having occupied a period of two days, and resulted in finding Oliver Gully guilty as principal of the murder of Garrison, and Thomas Newman and an unknown person as accessories. Twenty-two persons were found guilty as accessories.

The murders have ceased from Williamsburg, but the persons charged as being accessories had previously fled from the city, and are held in jail in the sum of $500 to appear.

A reward of $1000 has been offered for the murderers of Garrison.

We noticed yesterday, says the St. Louis Republican of the 14th, the trial of the body of a man north of the city, who had committed suicide by hanging. Mr. Kennedy, the coroner, furnished us with the particulars of the case. The body was found about 10 o'clock Sunday afternoon, near the Sixth Street, by a Yellow-belted road, hanging to a wild cherry tree by a yellow cotton handkerchief, and the feet two feet and a half above ground. Nearly a hundred people had gathered about the body, and some of them had been seen to enter the deceased. He was supposed, however, from his dress and general appearance, to have been a Pennsylvanian.

Mademoiselle Cruvell, the prima donna who disappeared from Paris so mysteriously, a few weeks ago, has been married at Frankfurt-on-the-Main, to M. de Vicoigne de Vigner, of Paris. The mystery, then, is dispelled, and the prima donna is no longer a fugitive. She is now in the city, and has been seen by several of our correspondents. She is said to be in a great measure recovered from the illness which she contracted in Paris, and is now in a state of health which enables her to perform her duties as prima donna.

Another Post-Office Robbery. NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—A clerk in the Post-office has been detected in robbing the mails.

Embezzlement by a Bank Teller. NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—The Paying Teller of the American Exchange Bank in this city is discovered to have embezzled a large amount of the funds of the bank, by means of certified checks drawn in the name of irresponsible parties.

The Weekly Crescent will retain its present shape, containing eight pages, or forty-eight columns, of closely condensed reading matter. The advertising matter will be of a very limited amount, and altogether only as much as will be necessary to carry the paper. Some improvements will be made in the mechanical appearance of the paper at an early day, which, it is hoped, will give it additional favor in the eyes of its readers.

The present volume starts forth with advantages denied its predecessors and under the most flattering auspices. It circulates largely in all the South-western States, and to a greater or less extent in every State of the Union.

Copies can always be obtained, by those desirous of giving distant friends a notion of what is occurring here, at our counter and at the book-store of J. O. Morgan, near the Post-office.

THE WEEKLY CRESCENT will retain its present shape, containing eight pages, or forty-eight columns, of closely condensed reading matter. The advertising matter will be of a very limited amount, and altogether only as much as will be necessary to carry the paper. Some improvements will be made in the mechanical appearance of the paper at an early day, which, it is hoped, will give it additional favor in the eyes of its readers.

The present volume starts forth with advantages denied its predecessors and under the most flattering auspices. It circulates largely in all the South-western States, and to a greater or less extent in every State of the Union.

Copies can always be obtained, by those desirous of giving distant friends a notion of what is occurring here, at our counter and at the book-store of J. O. Morgan, near the Post-office.

THE WEEKLY CRESCENT will retain its present shape, containing eight pages, or forty-eight columns, of closely condensed reading matter. The advertising matter will be of a very limited amount, and altogether only as much as will be necessary to carry the paper. Some improvements will be made in the mechanical appearance of the paper at an early day, which, it is hoped, will give it additional favor in the eyes of its readers.

The present volume starts forth with advantages denied its predecessors and under the most flattering auspices. It circulates largely in all the South-western States, and to a greater or less extent in every State of the Union.

Copies can always be obtained, by those desirous of giving distant friends a notion of what is occurring here, at our counter and at the book-store of J. O. Morgan, near the Post-office.

THE WEEKLY CRESCENT will retain its present shape, containing eight pages, or forty-eight columns, of closely condensed reading matter. The advertising matter will be of a very limited amount, and altogether only as much as will be necessary to carry the paper. Some improvements will be made in the mechanical appearance of the paper at an early day, which, it is hoped, will give it additional favor in the eyes of its readers.

The present volume starts forth with advantages denied its predecessors and under the most flattering auspices. It circulates largely in all the South-western States, and to a greater or less extent in every State of the Union.

Copies can always be obtained, by those desirous of giving distant friends a notion of what is occurring here, at our counter and at the book-store of J. O. Morgan, near the Post-office.

THE WEEKLY CRESCENT will retain its present shape, containing eight pages, or forty-eight columns, of closely condensed reading matter. The advertising matter will be of a very limited amount, and altogether only as much as will be necessary to carry the paper. Some improvements will be made in the mechanical appearance of the paper at an early day, which, it is hoped, will give it additional favor in the eyes of its readers.

The present volume starts forth with advantages denied its predecessors and under the most flattering auspices. It circulates largely in all the South-western States, and to a greater or less extent in every State of the Union.

Copies can always be obtained, by those desirous of giving distant friends a notion of what is occurring here, at our counter and at the book-store of J. O. Morgan, near the Post-office.

THE WEEKLY CRESCENT will retain its present shape, containing eight pages, or forty-eight columns, of closely condensed reading matter. The advertising matter will be of a very limited amount, and altogether only as much as will be necessary to carry the paper. Some improvements will be made in the mechanical appearance of the paper at an early day, which, it is hoped, will give it additional favor in the eyes of its readers.

The present volume starts forth with advantages denied its predecessors and under the most flattering auspices. It circulates largely in all the South-western States, and to a greater or less extent in every State of the Union.

Copies can always be obtained, by those desirous of giving distant friends a notion of what is occurring here, at our counter and at the book-store of J. O. Morgan, near the Post-office.

THE WEEKLY CRESCENT will retain its present shape, containing eight pages, or forty-eight columns, of closely condensed reading matter. The advertising matter will be of a very limited amount, and altogether only as much as will be necessary to carry the paper. Some improvements will be made in the mechanical appearance of the paper at an early day, which, it is hoped, will give it additional favor in the eyes of its readers.

The present volume starts forth with advantages denied its predecessors and under the most flattering auspices. It circulates largely in all the South-western States, and to a greater or less extent in every State of the Union.

Copies can always be obtained, by those desirous of giving distant friends a notion of what is occurring here, at our counter and at the book-store of J. O. Morgan, near the Post-office.

THE WEEKLY CRESCENT will retain its present shape, containing eight pages, or forty-eight columns, of closely condensed reading matter. The advertising matter will be of a very limited amount, and altogether only as much as will be necessary to carry the paper. Some improvements will be made in the mechanical appearance of the paper at an early day, which, it is hoped, will give it additional favor in the eyes of its readers.

The present volume starts forth with advantages denied its predecessors and under the most flattering auspices. It circulates largely in all the South-western States, and to a greater or less extent in every State of the Union.

Copies can always be obtained, by those desirous of giving distant friends a notion of what is occurring here, at our counter and at the book-store of J. O. Morgan, near the Post-office.

THE WEEKLY CRESCENT will retain its present shape, containing eight pages, or forty-eight columns, of closely condensed reading matter. The advertising matter will be of a very limited amount, and altogether only as much as will be necessary to carry the paper. Some improvements will be made in the mechanical appearance of the paper at an early day, which, it is hoped, will give it additional favor in the eyes of its readers.

The present volume starts forth with advantages denied its predecessors and under the most flattering auspices. It circulates largely in all the South-western States, and to a greater or less extent in every State of the Union.

Copies can always be obtained, by those desirous of giving distant friends a notion of what is occurring here, at our counter and at the book-store of J. O. Morgan, near the Post-office.

THE WEEKLY CRESCENT will retain its present shape, containing eight pages, or forty-eight columns, of closely condensed reading matter. The advertising matter will be of a very limited amount, and altogether only as much as will be necessary to carry the paper. Some improvements will be made in the mechanical appearance of the paper at an early day, which, it is hoped, will give it additional favor in the eyes of its readers.

The present volume starts forth with advantages denied its predecessors and under the most flattering auspices. It circulates largely in all the South-western States, and to a greater or less extent in every State of the Union.

Copies can always be obtained, by those desirous of giving distant friends a notion of what is occurring here, at our counter and at the book-store of J. O. Morgan, near the Post-office.

THE WEEKLY CRESCENT will retain its present shape, containing eight pages, or forty-eight columns, of closely condensed reading matter. The advertising matter will be of a very limited amount, and altogether only as much as will be necessary to carry the paper. Some improvements will be made in the mechanical appearance of the paper at an early day, which, it is hoped, will give it additional favor in the eyes of its readers.

The present volume starts forth with advantages denied its predecessors and under the most flattering auspices. It circulates largely in all the South-western States, and to a greater or less extent in every State of the Union.

Copies can always be obtained, by those desirous of giving distant friends a notion of what is occurring here, at our counter and at the book-store of J. O. Morgan, near the Post-office.

THE WEEKLY CRESCENT will retain its present shape, containing eight pages, or forty-eight columns, of closely condensed reading matter. The advertising matter will be of a very limited amount, and altogether only as much as will be necessary to carry the paper. Some improvements will be made in the mechanical appearance of the paper at an early day, which, it is hoped, will give it additional favor in the eyes of its readers.

The present volume starts forth with advantages denied its predecessors and under the most flattering auspices. It circulates largely in all the South-western States, and to a greater or less extent in every State of the Union.

Copies can always be obtained, by those desirous of giving distant friends a notion of what is occurring here, at our counter and at the book-store of J. O. Morgan, near the Post-office.

From the New York Herald. The Voice of Russian Democracy.

Address from the Society of Russian Liberals to the Russian Soldiers in Poland.