THE DAILY CRESCENT

Most extensive circulation which renders it a desirable medium for advertisers. As a FAMILY PAPER it circulates largely, reaching many hundreds of homes at an early hour, and being read before the approach of business hours, consequently articles for family use may be advantageously published in its columns.

THE WEEKLY CRESCENT

To publish on every Monday morning at $3 a year, invariably in advance. Having an extensive circulation throughout Louisiana, Mississippi, Arkansas, Alabama, Texas and other States, it presents a favorable mode to advertisers of ranking their wares in the communities known. Advertisements inserted for $1 per square, each insertion.

MONDAY MORNING, MARCH 10, 1856.

TO-DAY'S CRESCENT.

The contents of our double sheet this morning can be ascertained from the following index:

The First Page—Calendar of the Custom Work, Telegraphic, Washington Monument Association, Letter from Toledo, from rumor, ship, steamboat and other advertisements.

Second Page—Editorial, report of Thackeray's second Lecture, Recent Publications, Washington Correspondence, Letter from Cincinnati, and notices of advertisements.

Third Page—Entirely filled with advertisements of almost every description.

Fourth Page—Editorial, Local Intelligence, editorial notices and advertisements.

Fifth Page—Commercial and Shipping Intelligence, Amusements and various other advertisements.

Sixth Page—Fourth and fifth letters of James Robb on Internal Improvements, miscellaneous matter, official tabular statements and proceedings of the Common Council.

Seventh Page—Continuation of Council Proceedings and official advertisements.

Eighth Page—Poetry, Legislative, Telegraphic Items, the missing steamer Pacific, and legal advertisements.

☞ To the officers of the steamers Ben Franklin, S. F. J. Trahne, Princess and Alabama, we are indebted for late papers from Louisville, Memphis and other river towns.

☞ Read the article from the Baton Rouge Comet giving an exposition of what are termed "Cat Island Claims." It ought to open the eyes of the people; and probably will, if anything can open them. Good-less gracious! don't the public money fly!

MR. ROBB'S LETTERS.—The fourth and fifth letters of Mr. James Robb to the Governor on the important subject of internal improvements, appear in our columns this morning. They are exceedingly able and forcible, and should be read and reflected upon by every tax payer in New Orleans and the Southwest, and by every man who ever expects to become a tax payer.

We think these letters are destined to do a great deal of good in awakening to fresh life a proper degree of public spirit among our citizens. But, whether or no, the writer deserves much credit for the ability, research and labor bestowed upon the subject.

CLAY MONUMENT.—We are requested to state that there will be a meeting this evening at 6 o'clock, in the gentlemen's parlor of the St. Charles Hotel, of the special committee appointed at the last meeting of the Clay Monumental Association.

LOUISIANA SAVINGS COMPANY.—As will be seen by the notice in another column, this institution resumes payment in full this morning. We are glad of this, both on account of the depositors and the institution. But for mischievous rumors, industriously circulated to accomplish sinister purposes, there would have been no occasion even for a temporary suspension. To those who have carelessly damaged an honestly and prudently managed institution, and frightened depositors into selling their certificates at a heavy discount, we wish all the happiness their consciences will allow them to enjoy.

DR. GOULD'S LECTURES.—Dr. B. A. Gould, whom we regard as one of the most profound and scientific men of the age, will deliver a lecture at Lyceum Hall this evening, on the subject of "The progress in our knowledge of the Nebulæ, and new lays revealed to us by the Comets." The theme affords a wide field for the lecturer; and as he will unquestionably handle it with remarkable power, the large Hall should be crowded with attentive listeners. Those who neglect attending will deprive themselves of a splendid intellectual treat.

WASHINGTON AND CLAY MONUMENT.—On Friday evening next, a series of performances will be given at the St. Charles Theater, the entire proceeds of which are to be appropriated to the fund being raised for the erection of suitable monuments to the memory of the immortal Father of his Country and the illustrious HENRY CLAY. Mr. DeBar has liberally offered the use of his theater, for which he deserves full credit, as well as does the eminent American tragedian, Mr. Davenport, and the whole theatrical troupe, who have volunteered their services for the occasion. Of course the house will be crowded in its every part.

The Gaiety and Orleans should follow the example thus set at an early day; and the Legislature should appropriate not less than ten thousand dollars to each of these patriotic associations. If the people's money could be better expended, we would like to be advised of the mode and manner.

FOR CALIFORNIA VIA NICARAGUA.—The steamship Daniel Webster, Capt. J. W. Patterson, will positively leave on Tuesday, the 11th. Connecting as she does with the steamship Sierra Nevada, on the Pacific side, inducements are offered to passengers, both in time, money and comfort, that render her a very desirable mode of transit.

ST. CHARLES THEATER.—On Saturday evening, a new piece, entitled "St. Marc; or, a Husband's Sacrifice," was produced at the St. Charles Theater, with a good cast and with some new properties. The play, which borders very close on the grounds of melodrama, is not such as we can give a discection of, this morning. It shows a strong womanly honor and constancy; manly faith and firmness; and very unmanly intrigues; which are, nevertheless, thwarted, and made subservient to the ends of honor and happiness. The plot is plain, and like most, possessing that component, is good. The situations and incidents are numerous, and the emotions upon which the whole is based, and in which it has life, are the strongest known to mankind. The result, brought about by no unnatural or distorted means, is pleasant and artistic, and meets the original intent of the drama—to show that virtue has always its reward and vice its punishment.

The principal characters of the play, St. Marc, Mr. Davenport; Lorenzo, Studley; Gismondo, a friend to St. Marc, Pope; and Dianora, married to St. Marc, Mrs. Gladstane, were very happily conceived and well executed, giving a smoothness and effect to the whole which is gratifying to every spectator. Mr. Davenport's rendering of St. Marc was peculiar in some points that we have not present space to mention; but was nowhere other than studied and excellent. The same may be said concerning the other prominent characters we have named, excepting Mr. Studley, who, in the last act, either failed to comprehend the entire wants of his part, or was not able to bring out the full significance. Mrs. Gladstane's Dianora was a very womanly conception but hardly angular and jagged enough to carve a permanent mark.

TOWBOAT NEW ORLEAN.—The fine new towboat, New Ocean, Capt. William Fish, arrived in port late last evening, from Cincinnati. She is lying, for the present, at the foot of Canal street, where she can be visited by those curious in marine architecture.

MUTILATING SILVER COIN.—A man and his wife have been arrested in Boston for "sweating" Spanish quarters. This operation netted them about five cents on each piece, as they put the coin into a machine and clipped the entire edge of a thin strip.

MEMORABLE WORDS.

In 1852, before the Presidential nominations were made, HENRY CLAY wrote the following words regarding Millard Fillmore:

"THE FOUNDATION OF MY PERSEVERANCE IS THAT MR. FILLMORE HAS ADMINISTERED THE EXECUTIVE GOVERNMENT WITH PERFECT SUCCESS AND ABILITY. HE HAS BEEN TRIED AND FOUND TRUE, FAITHFUL, HONEST AND CONSCIENTIOUS."

There are two short sentences in the foregoing little extract—only two—but they embody whole volumes of noble eulogy. They grasp also every essential and every quality requisite to a combination of exalted and patriotic statesmanship. There is nothing left out—no loop-hole to hang a doubt upon—no omission, even of the most trivial character. The simple, sublime language of HENRY CLAY, covers all the points involved.

In the first place, Mr. CLAY says Mr. Fillmore's administration was conducted with "signal success and ability." As a general rule, ability commands success, although the history of the past furnishes numerous exceptions, which, however, only tend to substantiate the infallibility of the rule. Ability and success do go together, and should go together—should follow as naturally as the rewards attendant upon honesty and persevering industry. There is no doubt as to that proposition. The premise and corollary are unquestionable.

Superadded to this magnificent endorsement by the grand old statesman of Ashland—which is worth millions of moral gold with millions of people—comes the subjoined unqualified expression of deliberate opinion: "He has been tried and found true, faithful, honest and conscientious."

It will be seen that Mr. CLAY awards Mr. Fillmore success, ability, tried truth, faithfulness, honesty and conscientiousness! Here are all the attributes which go to the making up of a great and honorable Chief Magistrate—of a man the country should delight to honor—of a citizen without fear and above reproach.

When HENRY CLAY wrote the foregoing memorable words, disease had laid its fell hand upon his mortal frame. The shadows of the grave were gathering darkly upon him. Death was in him, around him and about him. There was no chance for life farther than that which a few days or weeks might afford. The last sands were rapidly disappearing, and the insatiate Reaper stood upon the threshold. His body was wasted, but his mind was as fresh and brilliant, his fervid devotion to his native land as strong and as unabated as when he stood up in the councils of the nation in the full flush of manly vigor and might, the foremost man of all the western hemisphere—aye, of the earth! More than that. He knew he was dying, and had no earthly wish or ambition to accomplish. Hence his words should be considered a priceless legacy to Mr. Fillmore and invaluable advice to his countrymen. With the mighty old statesman:

"The sunset of life gave him mystical lore,
And coming events cast their shadows before."

He knew his man, and spoke accordingly.

The time was when the words of HENRY CLAY awoke a responsive echo in the hearts of millions; when they rang clear, strong and glorious, throughout every State in the Union; when, from the northernmost boundaries of Maine to the green savannas of Florida, men loved to honor him; to listen with delight to his counsels; to respect his advice; to revere his enlarged patriotism and matchless character, and to cling to him the closer the more unpromising the clouds which hung over his political present and his political future. Can it be that his voice, coming from the tomb, has lost its influence—its power? We believe not. What say ye, who once rallied under his standard with a devotion that never was paralleled.

Whatever may be the future public lot of Millard Fillmore, one thing is absolutely certain—no man ever had a more valuable endorsement, or one which should carry with it more weight with the reflecting, intelligent and conservative classes of the American people than he has.

Local Intelligence.

THE WEATHER.—Yesterday was a lovely spring day, and the most of the persons for days disappeared as far as possible. Throughout the day the streets presented a gay and happy appearance. Fresh breezes are abundant, and a few weak-kneed mosquitoes are losing their pieces.

FALSE.—The two alarms of fire last night were false.

FIRST DISTRICT COURT.—A few sentences for petty offences were passed by Judge Robertson on Saturday. Nothing else was done.

SECOND DISTRICT COURT.—Oliver A. Pittfield and E. McFarland, who were imprisoned in default of $25,000 bail each, were taken before Judge Morgan on Saturday, on writs of habeas corpus, and, after a long argument between their counsel and the District Attorney, they were set at liberty. Immediately afterwards, Mayor Lewis made a new affidavit before Recorder Bright, embodying the substance of the former affidavit, with the additional charge that they were "accessories after the fact." Mr. McFarland, fearing that this affidavit had been made, at once surrendered himself to the Chief of Police, and in the succeeding forenoon had bail, which Judge Robertson had ordered the Recorder to fix at $7,000.

A MURDER COMPLETED.—John Lewis, alias Ivers, who was stabbed on Tuesday night last by John Bell, alias Scotty, died at Charity Hospital on Friday night. The Coroner's verdict was to the effect that death was caused by peritonitis from a wound across the abdomen, inflicted with a cutting instrument in the hands of the said John Bell, etc. From the testimony it appeared that the deceased and Bell had a difficulty at the Louisiana Hall room, and agreed to meet and fight. Accompanied by several other persons, they went out Esplanade street, and when they reached Rampart street John Short passed a knife to Bell. Almost immediately the latter attacked Lewis, inflicting the wound of which he died. The deceased was an Irishman twenty years old. Bell and Short are both in prison, the latter, it is said, being desirous of turning State's evidence.

SUICIDE.—Auguste Pueto, a French barber, thirty years of age, committed suicide yesterday morning, in his house on Old Levee street, between Hospital and Ursulines streets, by cutting his throat with a razor. The Coroner held and inquest on the body, and returned a verdict accordingly. The cause of the mad act is not known; but it appeared that the deceased had been drinking rather freely of late.

DEATH BY LOCKJAW.—A little girl named Sarah Meffert, the daughter of a widow lady in the Second District, died on Saturday, of lockjaw. The terrible disease was brought on by the running of a nail into the child's foot a few days previously.

HARD TO PUT OUT.—Some idea of the difficulty of extinguishing fire in a cotton bale, may be formed from the fact that at late hour last night, the steam fire engine was still at work where she commenced on Friday morning—playing upon the undamaged cotton bales at the Lower Cotton Press. The neighborhood is all in a muck with mud and water; the Young America thumps and spirits away unflaggingly; and although the bales are as well drenched as weeks in a cistern, they continue to smoke.

PUGITIVE ARRESTED.—Edwin Jones, alias George Wilson, alias John Johnson, alias Clifford, was arrested on Saturday and lodged in jail. He is accused of having perpetrated a recent robbery in Mobile.

RECORDER BRIGHT'S COURT.—D. M. Thompson, alias Charles Williams, was examined on Saturday and held to bail before the First District Court to answer the charge of obtaining money on forwarding J. M. Wilson's slave girl Sarah, on the 17th of January, she having been found, disguised as a boy, in his store-room on board the steamer Perks, which was about to leave for Cincinnati. He was refused bail.

Wm. Galloway was sent down for stealing a pair of boots from a store on New Levee street, he admitting the charge. Frederick and Miss Maering were sent down for stealing a quantity of cotton and rope from the Shippers' Press, and assisting and being aided by Maering. Wm. Sullivan was sent down for a violent assault upon Mr. and Mrs. Ahrens in their house on Perdido street. Samuel M. Hyams, charged with obtaining a quantity of liquor under false pretences, was examined and discharged for want of evidence. The following were arraigned and held for examination: Patrick Conners, charged with stealing, shoving and dragging Bridget Brice, at the corner of St. Joseph and New Levee streets; Michael Martin, charged with threatening the life of Turner E. Holt; and John Adley, charged with violently beating Mrs. Gottlieb Welch.

RECORDER RAMOS' COURT.—The following were discharged on Saturday: John Blankenburg, charged with running cattle across the levee; Thomas Ackles, J. m. c., charged with breach of trust; and Eugene Cavillion, charged with swindling. John Marie Jussy was arraigned on a charge of stealing $200 in cash and a quantity of jewelry from Mr. Augé's fancy store, on the corner of Chartres and Bienville streets, on Friday night—but to no purpose. Adam Bertrand was arraigned on a charge of stealing a mare from Felix Jacob, in December last, and transporting her to Bay St. Louis—bail of $700 required. Jack Smith and Rogers Degrat were arraigned on a charge of visiting Emily Schrand, in her house on Barracks street, on the 7th inst., and smashing her furniture and robbing her of $25 in cash. They were held for an examination on the 15th.

RECORDER SUTTENFIELD'S COURT.—Nathaniel McCann was examined before Assistant Recorder Long on Saturday, on a charge of wounding and attempting to murder Recorder Seamens there in the court, several weeks ago. The Recorder, where neck is very stiff from the wounds received, appeared in court against the accused. The particulars of the affair were correctly published by us at the time. Notwithstanding the abundant proof against McCann, he insisted that he was innocent of the charge. He was sent before the First District Court, bail of $3000 being required, but, of course, not furnished. A sailor named John Thomas was arraigned on a charge of attempting to murder the mate of the ship to which he belonged—sent to prison. Seven sailors belonging to the ship J. L. Warner, were arraigned on a charge of behaving rudely during the recent passage of the ship to this port. They were sent to prison, to wait the order of the United States Commissioner. Margaret McLaughlin was held for a hearing on a charge of stealing cotton. Officer Lockwood, charged with stabbing Bill Smith about two months ago, was admitted to bail of $1000; Smith having so far recovered as to be able to leave the hospital.

A PERFUMED BREATH.—What lady or gentleman would remain under the curse of a disagreeable breath, when, by using the "Balm of a Thousand Flowers" as a dentrifice, would not only render it sweet but leave the teeth white as alabaster? Many persons do not know their breath is fetid, and the subject is so delicate that friends will never mention it. Pour a single drop of the "Balm" on your tooth-brush and wash the teeth night and morning. A fifty cent bottle will last a year.

A beautiful complexion may easily be acquired by using the "Balm of a Thousand Flowers." It will remove tan, pimples, and freckles from the skin, leaving it of a soft and rosette hue. Wet a towel, pour on two or three drops, and wash the face night and morning.

Shaving Made Easy.—Wet your shaving-brush in either warm or cold water, pour on two or three drops of "Balm of a Thousand Flowers," rub it well and it will make a beautiful, soft lather, much facilitating the operation of shaving. Price, only 50 cents. Fonrigue & Co., proprietors. For sale by J. Wright & Co., C. O. Woodman, and all druggists.

☞ If you are sick, the probability is that the root of your sufferings is in the stomach. From a weak stomach proceed dyspepsia, languor, oppression in the diaphragm, jaundice, headache, nausea, bodily weakness, dimness of sight, headburn, costiveness, dysentery, and a legion of other tormenting diseases. Indigestion produces thin blood, and therefore destroys the strength and vigor of the system. To restore the strength of the stomach, and enable it to throw off and dismiss from it all noxious fermenting, and dangerous accumulations, nothing is necessary but a persevering use of Hoofland's German Bitters, prepared by Dr. C. M. Jackson, Philadelphia. There is no mistake, no failure in their curative effects. See advertisement. md 1m&W
