New Orleans Daily Crescent.

New Orleans Money Market.

TUESDAY, January 27, 1857.

The very cold weather of the past week, has had a tendency to check business, and to render it very dull. Indeed, in such cold weather as we have had, it is almost impossible to do much in the way of business, as the cold is so severe that it is impossible to keep warm in the counting rooms, and the banks are not open early enough for the convenience of the public.

The Legislature has passed a law to charter the Louisiana Railroad Bank, with a capital of $1,000,000, with the privilege of increasing it to $2,000,000. The bill is now before the Governor for his signature, and will probably become a law. The Legislature has also passed a bill to charter the Bank of Commerce, with a capital of $1,000,000, with the privilege of increasing it to $2,000,000. The bill is now before the Governor for his signature, and will probably become a law.