

THIRD CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT.

We clip the following article from the Richmond (Madison paper) Journal, a strong Democratic paper, of the 17th instant:

Hon. THOMAS GEORGE DAVISON—This gentleman paid a visit to our little village on Tuesday last. He is a man of high reputation in the regular course of the field through the "Richmond" paper. When informed that "rumor" said that his opponent, Mr. WATSON, had been elected to the office of Commissioner of the Board of Health, he was greatly surprised. He said that he had never seen Mr. Watson, and that he had never heard of his name. He said that he had never seen Mr. Watson, and that he had never heard of his name.

Of course Col. Davison will assert that "he is the regular nominee of the Democratic party." According to our understanding of the matter, he could not assert anything else without asserting a downright falsehood. In accordance with all the usages of political conventions, he was regularly nominated, and he is a full and complete member of the party.

We rather like the assurance of Col. Davison than otherwise. We like to see a man "stand up" for the fiddler, or no fiddler. We can admire, to some extent, a self-confident individual, even if we are strongly opposed to the cause he advocates. A candidate without confidence in himself, ought to be defeated, and is usually defeated. The people respect a man who stands up for his own party, and whose suggestions are well founded.

"I'll take care of him!" Mr. Watson's smilingly said Col. Davison. Col. Davison is good at smiling and good at shedding tears, when either performance will serve his purpose. He can smile, and smile, and make a good stump speech, if he can accomplish anything thereby. And he can weep—can shed copious showery tears, when an opponent makes an error, or when he is in a bad humor, or when he is in a bad humor, or when he is in a bad humor.

"I'll take care of him!" We have an anecdote which fits Col. Davison's case precisely. A famous French banker once went to India to indulge in the exciting sport of tiger hunting. In one of his encounters with a tiger, he was severely injured, and narrowly escaped with his life. On his return to France, some of his English friends asked him if tiger hunting was not a magnificent sport. He replied: "Yes, very fine sport to hunt a tiger—magnificent—but very devil when he gets into your eye."

THE WEEKLY CRESCENT. The Weekly Crescent, issued this morning, contains all the latest intelligence received, foreign and domestic, by mail and telegraph, together with a great amount of valuable and interesting miscellaneous matter. Persons wishing to obtain copies for the mail can procure them, done up in strong wrappers, at the office, No. 70 Camp Street, at J. C. Morgan's bookstore, adjoining the Post Office.

THE "ARMY BILL"—The Injunction. We shall publish in Monday's Double Sheet the act of the Legislature, relative to Elections in the Parish of Orleans—universally known as the "Army Bill"—and the petition of Mayor Waterman, through his counsel, to the Fifth District Court, praying for an injunction against the enforcement of the act. We shall also publish an immense amount of other important matter, relative to the position of the Democratic party South on the Buchanan-Walker-Kansas treachery, as well as our usual quantity of foreign and domestic news, literary, local and telegraphic items, and interesting intelligence generally.

THE NATIONAL DEMOCRACY OF KANSAS—Our readers are aware that a recent Democratic Convention in Kansas, denouncing the movement of the Administration to make that Territory a Democratic free State, "passed a resolution endorsing the policy of Gov. Walker." This fact has been headed to the contrary by the press of the Southern States, as a reason why all opposition outside of Kansas should be silenced. For ourselves, we do not believe the free State Democracy of Kansas are any better friends to the South than the free State Republicans, and the difference mainly hinges on the question, which of the two shall obtain the political power of the new State. We by no means intend to present our Democratic friends the view taken by us as warm and zealous as the endorsement of the Walker policy by the Kansas Democracy, instead of affording a reason for withdrawing opposition, should increase it. It is from the Jackson Mississippi, and is as follows:

UNPARALLELED ASSURANCE.—We clip the following from an article in the Franklin (St. Mary parish) Atlatapas Register: Some of the Know-Nothing parties in this district have declared their intention to continue themselves in the State, and to do so, they have adopted a policy, leaving us to infer that the nationality of the party is abandoned, and we are as yet undecided of the particular policy of the party. The balance of power is put forward for Congressional honors. It is proposed to the Kansas bill, and is the contest again to turn upon this question, or does he run upon some other ground of State policy? It is a question of State policy, and it is a question of State policy, and it is a question of State policy.

THE PRESIDENT'S FAVORABLE VIEW OF BUCHANAN AND WALKER.—The following is an extract from the endorsement by the New York Post and other Free-Soil Democratic papers of the Buchanan and Walker policy in Kansas, says: That the "national" Democracy are seeking through the Federal authorities to make capital out of the North, is now being questioned, and already are these indications that those of the South who do not submit to the wrong and insult are to be ostracized in the party. But there is the South and the Southern Democracy—yes, and in Congress—in the hands of the South; and at the South, the balance of power is put forward for Congressional honors. It is proposed to the Kansas bill, and is the contest again to turn upon this question, or does he run upon some other ground of State policy? It is a question of State policy, and it is a question of State policy, and it is a question of State policy.

THE PRESIDENT'S FAVORABLE VIEW OF BUCHANAN AND WALKER.—The following is an extract from the endorsement by the New York Post and other Free-Soil Democratic papers of the Buchanan and Walker policy in Kansas, says: That the "national" Democracy are seeking through the Federal authorities to make capital out of the North, is now being questioned, and already are these indications that those of the South who do not submit to the wrong and insult are to be ostracized in the party. But there is the South and the Southern Democracy—yes, and in Congress—in the hands of the South; and at the South, the balance of power is put forward for Congressional honors. It is proposed to the Kansas bill, and is the contest again to turn upon this question, or does he run upon some other ground of State policy? It is a question of State policy, and it is a question of State policy, and it is a question of State policy.

THE PRESIDENT'S FAVORABLE VIEW OF BUCHANAN AND WALKER.—The following is an extract from the endorsement by the New York Post and other Free-Soil Democratic papers of the Buchanan and Walker policy in Kansas, says: That the "national" Democracy are seeking through the Federal authorities to make capital out of the North, is now being questioned, and already are these indications that those of the South who do not submit to the wrong and insult are to be ostracized in the party. But there is the South and the Southern Democracy—yes, and in Congress—in the hands of the South; and at the South, the balance of power is put forward for Congressional honors. It is proposed to the Kansas bill, and is the contest again to turn upon this question, or does he run upon some other ground of State policy? It is a question of State policy, and it is a question of State policy, and it is a question of State policy.

THE PRESIDENT'S FAVORABLE VIEW OF BUCHANAN AND WALKER.—The following is an extract from the endorsement by the New York Post and other Free-Soil Democratic papers of the Buchanan and Walker policy in Kansas, says: That the "national" Democracy are seeking through the Federal authorities to make capital out of the North, is now being questioned, and already are these indications that those of the South who do not submit to the wrong and insult are to be ostracized in the party. But there is the South and the Southern Democracy—yes, and in Congress—in the hands of the South; and at the South, the balance of power is put forward for Congressional honors. It is proposed to the Kansas bill, and is the contest again to turn upon this question, or does he run upon some other ground of State policy? It is a question of State policy, and it is a question of State policy, and it is a question of State policy.

THE PRESIDENT'S FAVORABLE VIEW OF BUCHANAN AND WALKER.—The following is an extract from the endorsement by the New York Post and other Free-Soil Democratic papers of the Buchanan and Walker policy in Kansas, says: That the "national" Democracy are seeking through the Federal authorities to make capital out of the North, is now being questioned, and already are these indications that those of the South who do not submit to the wrong and insult are to be ostracized in the party. But there is the South and the Southern Democracy—yes, and in Congress—in the hands of the South; and at the South, the balance of power is put forward for Congressional honors. It is proposed to the Kansas bill, and is the contest again to turn upon this question, or does he run upon some other ground of State policy? It is a question of State policy, and it is a question of State policy, and it is a question of State policy.

THE PRESIDENT'S FAVORABLE VIEW OF BUCHANAN AND WALKER.—The following is an extract from the endorsement by the New York Post and other Free-Soil Democratic papers of the Buchanan and Walker policy in Kansas, says: That the "national" Democracy are seeking through the Federal authorities to make capital out of the North, is now being questioned, and already are these indications that those of the South who do not submit to the wrong and insult are to be ostracized in the party. But there is the South and the Southern Democracy—yes, and in Congress—in the hands of the South; and at the South, the balance of power is put forward for Congressional honors. It is proposed to the Kansas bill, and is the contest again to turn upon this question, or does he run upon some other ground of State policy? It is a question of State policy, and it is a question of State policy, and it is a question of State policy.

THE PRESIDENT'S FAVORABLE VIEW OF BUCHANAN AND WALKER.—The following is an extract from the endorsement by the New York Post and other Free-Soil Democratic papers of the Buchanan and Walker policy in Kansas, says: That the "national" Democracy are seeking through the Federal authorities to make capital out of the North, is now being questioned, and already are these indications that those of the South who do not submit to the wrong and insult are to be ostracized in the party. But there is the South and the Southern Democracy—yes, and in Congress—in the hands of the South; and at the South, the balance of power is put forward for Congressional honors. It is proposed to the Kansas bill, and is the contest again to turn upon this question, or does he run upon some other ground of State policy? It is a question of State policy, and it is a question of State policy, and it is a question of State policy.

THE PRESIDENT'S FAVORABLE VIEW OF BUCHANAN AND WALKER.—The following is an extract from the endorsement by the New York Post and other Free-Soil Democratic papers of the Buchanan and Walker policy in Kansas, says: That the "national" Democracy are seeking through the Federal authorities to make capital out of the North, is now being questioned, and already are these indications that those of the South who do not submit to the wrong and insult are to be ostracized in the party. But there is the South and the Southern Democracy—yes, and in Congress—in the hands of the South; and at the South, the balance of power is put forward for Congressional honors. It is proposed to the Kansas bill, and is the contest again to turn upon this question, or does he run upon some other ground of State policy? It is a question of State policy, and it is a question of State policy, and it is a question of State policy.

THE PRESIDENT'S FAVORABLE VIEW OF BUCHANAN AND WALKER.—The following is an extract from the endorsement by the New York Post and other Free-Soil Democratic papers of the Buchanan and Walker policy in Kansas, says: That the "national" Democracy are seeking through the Federal authorities to make capital out of the North, is now being questioned, and already are these indications that those of the South who do not submit to the wrong and insult are to be ostracized in the party. But there is the South and the Southern Democracy—yes, and in Congress—in the hands of the South; and at the South, the balance of power is put forward for Congressional honors. It is proposed to the Kansas bill, and is the contest again to turn upon this question, or does he run upon some other ground of State policy? It is a question of State policy, and it is a question of State policy, and it is a question of State policy.

THE PRESIDENT'S FAVORABLE VIEW OF BUCHANAN AND WALKER.—The following is an extract from the endorsement by the New York Post and other Free-Soil Democratic papers of the Buchanan and Walker policy in Kansas, says: That the "national" Democracy are seeking through the Federal authorities to make capital out of the North, is now being questioned, and already are these indications that those of the South who do not submit to the wrong and insult are to be ostracized in the party. But there is the South and the Southern Democracy—yes, and in Congress—in the hands of the South; and at the South, the balance of power is put forward for Congressional honors. It is proposed to the Kansas bill, and is the contest again to turn upon this question, or does he run upon some other ground of State policy? It is a question of State policy, and it is a question of State policy, and it is a question of State policy.

THE PRESIDENT'S FAVORABLE VIEW OF BUCHANAN AND WALKER.—The following is an extract from the endorsement by the New York Post and other Free-Soil Democratic papers of the Buchanan and Walker policy in Kansas, says: That the "national" Democracy are seeking through the Federal authorities to make capital out of the North, is now being questioned, and already are these indications that those of the South who do not submit to the wrong and insult are to be ostracized in the party. But there is the South and the Southern Democracy—yes, and in Congress—in the hands of the South; and at the South, the balance of power is put forward for Congressional honors. It is proposed to the Kansas bill, and is the contest again to turn upon this question, or does he run upon some other ground of State policy? It is a question of State policy, and it is a question of State policy, and it is a question of State policy.

THE PRESIDENT'S FAVORABLE VIEW OF BUCHANAN AND WALKER.—The following is an extract from the endorsement by the New York Post and other Free-Soil Democratic papers of the Buchanan and Walker policy in Kansas, says: That the "national" Democracy are seeking through the Federal authorities to make capital out of the North, is now being questioned, and already are these indications that those of the South who do not submit to the wrong and insult are to be ostracized in the party. But there is the South and the Southern Democracy—yes, and in Congress—in the hands of the South; and at the South, the balance of power is put forward for Congressional honors. It is proposed to the Kansas bill, and is the contest again to turn upon this question, or does he run upon some other ground of State policy? It is a question of State policy, and it is a question of State policy, and it is a question of State policy.

THE PRESIDENT'S FAVORABLE VIEW OF BUCHANAN AND WALKER.—The following is an extract from the endorsement by the New York Post and other Free-Soil Democratic papers of the Buchanan and Walker policy in Kansas, says: That the "national" Democracy are seeking through the Federal authorities to make capital out of the North, is now being questioned, and already are these indications that those of the South who do not submit to the wrong and insult are to be ostracized in the party. But there is the South and the Southern Democracy—yes, and in Congress—in the hands of the South; and at the South, the balance of power is put forward for Congressional honors. It is proposed to the Kansas bill, and is the contest again to turn upon this question, or does he run upon some other ground of State policy? It is a question of State policy, and it is a question of State policy, and it is a question of State policy.

THE PRESIDENT'S FAVORABLE VIEW OF BUCHANAN AND WALKER.—The following is an extract from the endorsement by the New York Post and other Free-Soil Democratic papers of the Buchanan and Walker policy in Kansas, says: That the "national" Democracy are seeking through the Federal authorities to make capital out of the North, is now being questioned, and already are these indications that those of the South who do not submit to the wrong and insult are to be ostracized in the party. But there is the South and the Southern Democracy—yes, and in Congress—in the hands of the South; and at the South, the balance of power is put forward for Congressional honors. It is proposed to the Kansas bill, and is the contest again to turn upon this question, or does he run upon some other ground of State policy? It is a question of State policy, and it is a question of State policy, and it is a question of State policy.

Telegraphed to the New Orleans Crescent.

ARRIVAL OF THE ASIA.

New York, July 24.—The Royal mail steamship Asia, from Liverpool on the afternoon of the 11th, has arrived. Her news has been anticipated by the Crescent, which brought dates of the 11th, and which was telegraphed from London, New York, on the night of the 22d inst., by the American Telegraph Company and the National Company's lines to New Orleans, and published exclusively by the Associated Press of New Orleans, in the morning issues of the 25d. We have by the Asia the following dispatch from London.

LONDON, July 11th.—Money is easy and below bank rates. Speculations in stocks is partially suspended until further news from India is received. Additional by the Crescent. New York, July 24.—We learn by the Circassian that Madeline Smith had been tried at Edinburgh, Scotland, for poisoning, and acquitted. Dr. Samuel Lover, the Irish novelist and poet, took passage on the Asia for New York.

Washington News. Washington, July 24.—A letter has been received from Gov. Walker of Kansas, defending himself against the criticisms of the South. Mr. Wright, Minister to Prussia, will leave for Berlin on the 1st of August. St. Louis, July 24.—The Republican learns that everything is still quiet in Kansas.

Gov. Walker is still at Lawrence with 400 dragoons, awaiting the action of the people. He will soon attempt to collect the taxes. Domestic Markets. New York, July 24.—Cotton dull. Flour and Corn both dull. Oils heavy. White Wheat, 11 1/2; Mill-wheat, 11 1/2; Chicago Spring, 11 1/2. Provisions quiet. Sugar low. Lard steady. Rice 4 1/2 to 5. Freight inactive.

CINCINNATI, July 24.—Flour, 10 1/2 to 11 1/2; Wheat, 10 1/2 to 11 1/2; Corn, 65 to 70; Oats, 48 to 50; Tobacco, 50 to 60; Hemp, 12 1/2 to 13 1/2. River Intelligence. Vicksburg, July 24.—The R. W. Powell passed down at 6 this evening.

The Kansas Treachery. The Mobile Register is the leading Democratic paper of Alabama. Years of faithful service have made it influential, and it has always been respectable. In its issue of the 23d instant, the annexed article appears. It will be seen that the conduct of Gov. Walker is strongly condemned, while there is a perceptible effort to screen the administration of President Buchanan from the responsibility and consequences of Walker's treachery.

RECORDED FABRI-COURT.—Assistant Recorder Howell presiding. G. G. G. was yesterday set to prison, in default of bail, on a charge of having sold a large quantity of stolen goods, and of having been found guilty of the same. The goods were found in the hands of G. G. G. and were valued at $100. G. G. G. was found guilty of the same, and was sentenced to prison for six months.

RECORDED FABRI-COURT.—Assistant Recorder Howell presiding. G. G. G. was yesterday set to prison, in default of bail, on a charge of having sold a large quantity of stolen goods, and of having been found guilty of the same. The goods were found in the hands of G. G. G. and were valued at $100. G. G. G. was found guilty of the same, and was sentenced to prison for six months.

RECORDED FABRI-COURT.—Assistant Recorder Howell presiding. G. G. G. was yesterday set to prison, in default of bail, on a charge of having sold a large quantity of stolen goods, and of having been found guilty of the same. The goods were found in the hands of G. G. G. and were valued at $100. G. G. G. was found guilty of the same, and was sentenced to prison for six months.

RECORDED FABRI-COURT.—Assistant Recorder Howell presiding. G. G. G. was yesterday set to prison, in default of bail, on a charge of having sold a large quantity of stolen goods, and of having been found guilty of the same. The goods were found in the hands of G. G. G. and were valued at $100. G. G. G. was found guilty of the same, and was sentenced to prison for six months.

RECORDED FABRI-COURT.—Assistant Recorder Howell presiding. G. G. G. was yesterday set to prison, in default of bail, on a charge of having sold a large quantity of stolen goods, and of having been found guilty of the same. The goods were found in the hands of G. G. G. and were valued at $100. G. G. G. was found guilty of the same, and was sentenced to prison for six months.

</