DOUBLE SHEET.

NEW ORLEANS:

SATURDAY MORNING, NOVEMBER 8, 1857.

"General Repudiation."

The New York Journal of Commerce, referring to the fact that in some Western towns and villages, as well as places nearer home, traders have unanimously resolved to "suspend," or defer indefinitely the payment of their debts to New York merchants, giving as a pretext the hardness of the times, remarks:

This trick may answer very well for the time being, but when these same men shall hereafter resort to the mart of trade, and, with credit destroyed, find themselves unable to buy for merchandise, except with cash in hand, they will laugh out of the other side of their mouths, and wear more complaisant and prompt-paying countenances, being able at the same time to command the usual facilities. It illustrates the old proverb about honesty being the best policy. Special attention is being given to these defaulting debtors, that they may, in future transactions, be properly known and appreciated. We happen to know one of this class of debtors, living in Western New York, who had between $30,000 and $40,000 worth of goods on hand, but finding it inconvenient for him to pay for them, resolved to suspend, and sold out the whole stock in a few days at prices far below cost, and invested the proceeds in good securities. This is a game which soon gets played out.

And the game ought to conclude by a transfer of the chief player to the penitentiary. The penitentiary is the place for such scoundrels, and the only fit place. But the evil does not confine itself to this dishonest individual. By no means. The interests of his next-door neighbor—an upright trader—are affected, because the rascality of the one affects the credit of the other, and so on throughout the community. If it were possible, a system of reciprocal laws in the various States should be devised, which would make confinement at hard labor in the penitentiary the invariable fruit of villainous practices like these.

Arrival of the San Diego Mail.

The mail party left San Diego on the 24th of September, and arrived at San Antonio on the 25th of October. The San Diego Herald states that a battle had taken place between the Pimos and Maricopas on one side, and the Yumas and their allies on the other. The mail party saw the fighting and could plainly see the Yumas give way and run up the mountain, where the horsemen of the enemy could not follow them. One old chief was anxious that the mail party should assist in driving off the Yumas. There were, probably, two hundred engaged on each side. The Herald says the Yumas must have made a direct march to the Colorado, as the mail party saw none along the Gila.

Every vote polled in San Diego county was cast for John B. Weller for Governor.

The Herald learns from Mr. Byrd, who had just arrived overland from Texas, that fifteen families out of fifty or sixty that started for the rendezvous near Fort Belknap, had arrived at Vallecito. Mr. B. stated that they had great trouble with the Indians on the road; they had robbed his father's train of forty-two head of stock, and that Short & Ellis's train had lost fifty-six head of stock, including sixteen yoke of working oxen; had two men killed named Shoat and Irwin, and Mr. John Langford and Mr. Pistole badly wounded by the Apaches, who attacked them between Fort Thorn and Doeson. The Herald asks what the dragoons are doing in that section.

The emigrants are said to be in a destitute condition, having all suffered more or less from the loss of their stock. Those with whom the editor conversed spoke highly in praise of Capt. Barton, commandant at Fort Yuma, for the readiness with which he relieved their necessities.

FIVE HUNDRED THOUSAND DOLLARS' WORTH OF DRY GOODS!—The ladies will need no second invitation to read the advertisement under the above heading in this morning's Crescent. Messrs. Haggerty & Brother have long been known for the excellence and great variety of their dry goods, and now that they have on hand no less than half a million dollars' worth, and are offering everything in consequence of the recession of the times at the most extraordinary low prices, their establishment—on Canal street, near below the corner of Royal—will certainly be a center of feminine excitement for sometime to come. We need say no more, than to advise the ladies to read the list of goods and prices in our advertising columns, and to reflect well upon what they read.

BLACK-HAWK CANADIAN.—One of the most splendid specimens of this celebrated breed of horses is now in the hands of Dr. Elliot, and can be seen at his sale stables, on Perdido, near Baronne street. His appearance on the street, while being driven by his owner, excites universal attention. The well known Canadian mark—heavy mane and tail—clearly indicates his origin, which, with the Black-Hawk cross, renders him very valuable. Also, some one hundred and fifty carriage and buggy horses on hand and for sale at prices to suit the times.

NEW MILLINERY.—Mrs. Norton, at No. 161 Poydras street, has received a full and beautiful assortment of bonnets, ribbons, embroideries, and other fancy goods in her line, to which she invites the attention of her old friends and the public. See her card.

SACRIFICES IN DRY GOODS.—Messrs. C. C. Wayland & Co., at the corner of Poydras and Carondelet streets, are just now offering extraordinary inducements to the lady public for their visits and patronage. They announce having purchased a bankrupt's stock, in New York, for a "mere song," and that they stand ready to resell the same at half the cost of importation. Their stock is large and well assorted. We advise the ladies to read the advertised list and prices in another part of this morning's Crescent.

WINES, LIQUORS AND CORDIALS.—Large invoices of the choicest wines, liquors and cordials of the Old World, have just been received and are now offering by Mr. J. Vioux, Jr., at No. 29 Chartres street. We refer retailers and caterers to the advertisement in this morning's Crescent.

A PREDICAMENT.—Our friend Aubert, of the City Hat Store, is just at this time in a predicament, which we would advise our readers to take advantage of. Aubert's premises, as he himself described them to us, are as follows: On commencing business last spring, he bought out the stock and stand of J. F. Hoyt, at the corner of St. Charles and Common streets, opposite the hotel, a place well known to our citizens as a good stand, but very small and inconvenient. Well, on the arrival of his stock from France, which, owing to the accidental delay of some of the ships and quick passages of others, occurred last week, all at one time, he finds that his store won't begin to hold the half of it, and notwithstanding he has rented a warehouse, he still finds himself so pressed for room that he can hardly navigate, and consequently has determined to offer superior inducements to customers to buy, until he has reduced his stock to reasonable limits. The opportunity to buy cheap hats is too good to be lost, and should be taken advantage of by those who want one.

MARINE LOSSES FOR OCTOBER.—The New York Courier and Enquirer of the 2d instant, publishes a table of marine losses during the month of October, showing an aggregate of forty-two vessels, of which six were ships, nine were barks, five were brigs, and twenty-two were schooners. The total value of property lost was SIX HUNDRED AND SIXTY-THREE THOUSAND THREE HUNDRED DOLLARS. This is the value of the property totally lost, exclusive of damages to vessels not amounting to a total loss and of partial losses of cargo.

The vessels reported in this list are chiefly American, although some foreign are included—when bound to or from an United States port, or known to be insured in this country.

The summary statement of the losses for this year shows that there were in

	Vessels.	Value.
January	125	$3,852,100
February	68	1,668,400
March	63	1,203,500
April	53	1,046,700
May	53	1,281,500
June	26	819,500
July	18	710,700
August	29	643,000
September	39	3,172,100
October	42	663,300
Ten months	487	$15,421,800

THE RESULT IN THIS DISTRICT.—Sufficient returns have been received to indicate the result of the election in this District. Mr. Davidson is elected beyond a doubt. When the full returns come in, we will be very much mistaken if they do not show that his election has been secured by means of as doubtful propriety, as those which secured his nomination. We shall wait, however, for the wagon.

[Baton Rouge South-West, 6th inst.

Well, when the wagon comes along jump in, and let us know the results of the ride when you get ready. We are rather anxious for information. The Third District has been our pet district during the canvass; we have had a great deal of fun out of the Third District; we don't know how we should have got along smoothly but for the Third District; and if there is any more amusement left, we are determined upon having our due and fair proportion, so far as the Third District is concerned. Hurrah for—! Hush. "Oh no, we never," etc., etc., etc.

HALF A MILLION DOLLARS' WORTH OF DRY GOODS.—Messrs. P. & R. Reilly & Co., at the sign of the Golden Fleh, No. 125 Canal street, are by no means behind the excitement, in inundating the city with cheap dry goods. They have a tremendously large stock, embracing every thing procurable in their line; and they announce that they will have every thing marked and prepared for sale, on their first and second floors, to-day. Their supplies of domestic and plantation goods are very extensive—particularly worthy the attention of country merchants and the retail trade. They are determined to sell out as soon as possible, and will be found to offer great inducements to all who call upon them. We refer to their advertisement in another column.

THE GREAT CLOTHING EMPORIUM.—Messrs. Alfred Munroe & Co., at the corner of Magazine and Gravier streets, are offering a gigantic stock of men's and boys' clothing and furnishing goods at extraordinary low prices. They have always sold cheap, but are now selling at a very considerable reduction from their former cheap rates. They receive fresh supplies of clothing by every steamer from New York, and are supplied with every possible article in the clothing line. Citizens and strangers will do well to go and inspect. See advertisement elsewhere.

MRS. TURNER'S, NOS. 107 AND 109 CANAL STREET.—We would remind our lady readers, that the elegant establishment of Mrs. Turner, on Canal street, was never in better preparation for them than at present. The bonnets, embroideries, cloaks, mantillas and specimens of dress making, are altogether magnificent. See Mrs. T.'s card.

STEAM SAW-MILLS.—Mr. Wm. L. Cushing, No. 57 St. Charles street, is agent in this city for the New York Steam Saw-Mill and Machine Company, and is prepared to receive the orders of planters and others for the work of the same, such as steam saw-mills, steam-engines and boilers, with feeding apparatus, and other things valuable to planters. We refer to Mr. Cushing's advertisement in this morning's Crescent.

BROUSSEAU'S CARPET WAREHOUSE.—Messrs. A. Brousseau & Co., at No. 19 Chartres street, have on hand a complete and very large stock of carpets, mats, oil cloths, window shades, rugs, druggets, crumb cloths, and, in fact, everything in the line, all which they sell very cheap. See advertisement.

FASHIONABLE CLOTHING.—At Messrs. F. Stringer & Co.'s, No. 36 Camp street, may be found a large and splendid stock of clothing, comprising everything serviceable and pretty for the man of business and knock about generally, and everything rich and elegant for the fastidious's fashionable gentleman of leisure. Under-clothing, shirts and everything of that kind, are offered in match. See advertisement.

BARGAINS IN DRY GOODS AT BRASELMAN'S.—Mr. J. A. Braselman, at the corner of Magazine and St. Andrew streets, Fourth District, is offering great bargains in fashionable and serviceable dry goods. We advise the ladies to read his advertised list of prices, in another column.

NEW BOOKS AT ELLIS'.—Mr. George Ellis, at No. 30 Commercial Place, has received a supply of the latest issues of the Eastern press, books, magazines and newspapers. He keeps constantly supplied with everything new in the literary line, receiving his bundles by every steamer. Read his advertisement in this morning's Crescent, and drop into his depot when you have time.

LAW AND MEDICAL BOOKS AT STEEL'S.—Medical and law practitioners and students will find at Mr. J. R. Steel's, No. 60 Camp street, a full supply of the standard books of their profession. The list is well worth going and looking at. See Mr. Steel's card.

MRS. CADY & CO.'S, No. 91 CANAL STREET.—For miscellaneous attractiveness to the lady public, the establishment of Mrs. Cady & Co., No. 91 Canal street, near Camp, is not to be excelled. Not only all kinds of millinery, dress trimmings and bodies are to be had there, but every description of dress-making for ladies, girls, little children and babies, in done in the quickest and most stylish manner. See advertisement.

DRY GOODS AT LESS THAN AUCTION PRICES.—Messrs. J. G. Pepgard & Co., at No. 55 Gravier street, will to-day begin to close out their stock of dry goods, by wholesale, at a very great reduction, for cash or approved paper. The stock is a very large one, and includes many rich and fashionable articles. We refer to the advertisement in another column.

MADAME FABIO'S MILLINERY STORE.—The corner of Chartres and Hospital streets, though some squares below the center of business, is still a great resort of the ladies just now; for Madame Fabio's millinery establishment repays a visit from any quarter of the city. Her stock of bonnets and fancy goods is large and every article is rich and fashionable. We commend her advertisement in this morning's Crescent to the attention of the ladies.

FACTS, IN REGARD TO DRY GOODS.—Messrs. Benthuysen, Lewis & Co., No. 116 Canal street, come down with their facts, in black and white, in our advertising columns. They explain how it is that they are able to sell their goods so cheap, so that the public may be satisfied that there is no humbug in the business. The manner in which they explain themselves will, we are sure, meet with the approbation of the lady public, and keep up the rush that has existed upon that establishment for the last fortnight. We advise the ladies to read the facts setforth by Messrs. B., L. & Co., in their advertisement this morning.

MACHINERY, ETC.—Mr. D. C. Lowber, at No. 98 Magazine street, is as well supplied as ever with machinery, of the different kinds most required by planters, millwrights and agriculturists generally. It will be entertaining, if not profitable, for all such to call upon Mr. Lowber, and see him put his machines in motion, he having steam power in his store for the purpose. See his card.

RECHERCHE CABINET WARE AND UPHOLSTERY.—Those on the look-out for unusually rich and beautiful articles in the way of French furniture, upholstery and household ornaments, have only to drop in at Mr. P. Mallard's, No. 67 Royal street. No similar stock of goods is to be found elsewhere in this city, or outside of Paris. The advertisement, in another column, gives the details.

BOOTS, SHOES AND HATS.—Mr. R. W. Rayne, agent of the Northern manufacturers, has on hand, at his establishment, No. 41 M gazine street, opposite the Arcade, a very large stock of boots, shoes and hats, of the best make, which he offers at the lowest prices. We refer the city and country trade to his card.

MEDICAL BOOKS AT WHITE'S.—All the medical text books need in our medical colleges are to be had of Mr. T. L. White, No. 105 Canal street, who invites students to call and examine, and obtain catalogues. See advertisement.

SPLENDID CLOTHING.—For a superb outfit, from top to toe, those who go to Norris, Maull & Co.'s, at the corner of Camp and Common streets, under the City Hotel, will not run away disappointed. All the elegant novelties in the clothing and furnishing line are to be found there, and the first unfashionable thing of any kind is not to be found. See advertisement.

SPLENDID CARPETINGS.—Messrs. J. D. Dameron & Co., No. 124 Canal street, are largely supplied with the different rich and beautiful articles in the way of carpets, curtain materials, oil cloths, table and piano covers, etc., and sell them very low for cash. See their advertisement.

A Governor Backing Out.

Popular indignation arose to such a height in Baltimore that Gov. Ligon finally comprehended that he had made a very grave blunder, and he accordingly withdrew his proclamation placing that city under martial law during the election of the 4th inst. Previous to doing so, he addressed the following letter to the Mayor:

BALTIMORE, Nov. 1, 1857.

To the Hon. Thomas Swann, Mayor of Baltimore:—

SIR: It is a matter of extreme gratification to me that you have communicated to me the extraordinary and additional arrangements by which you propose to preserve order at the coming election. Seeing in these the composition of a special police which affords to all citizens the promise of personal protection, and also of a fairness and impartiality calculated to remove all distrust as to the freedom of the elective franchise on that day, it gives me great pleasure to say that I now contemplate no use of the military force which I have ordered to be enrolled and organized.

I have the honor to be, sir, your obedient servant,

T. WATKINS LIGON.

The farce so well begun in Baltimore by Governor Ligon resembled closely the one played out here by the Superintendent of Election. A large majority of the members of the military companies refused to serve, and the officers accordingly served notices upon sundry citizens that they might consider themselves enrolled in such and such companies. They answered roll-call about as unanimously as did the Extraordinary Deputies here. The editor of the Baltimore Patriot received a summons, and stated in his paper that when he "had to go into service, it would not be in Gov. Ligon's ranks."

Department News.

From the Washington Union of the 31st ult. we extract the following:

IMPORTANT TO MARINERS.—Information has been received from the United States Consulate at Vera Cruz that the steeple of the old church called the Merced, (la torre de la Merced,) owing to its dilapidated condition, fell down about the 1st inst.

As this steeple has served for many years past as a landmark to vessels going into the port of Vera Cruz by the eastern passage (see Blunt's Coast Pilot, 10th edition, page 293) it is believed that a knowledge of its demolition will prove important to American shipping.

PENSION OFFICE.—The following is an abstract of the business of this bureau for the current month, (October) under the act of 3d March, 1855:

Number of applications for bounty land received	1,126
Number of certificates issued	1,054
Number of letters received, briefed and registered, (including bounty-land claims)	5,180
Number of letters franked and sent from the office	5,013
Total number of applications received	281,856
Total number of warrants or certificates issued	216,076

To satisfy these warrants will require 26,953,830 acres, as follows, viz:

FREE NEGROES IN BOSTON.—We find the following paragraph in the Boston Traveler, the home of Garrison, Wendell Phillips, and all the most prominent professed friends of negroes:

Death by Starvation.—The jury summoned by Coroner Smith to investigate the cause of death of a colored child, returned the following verdict:

That said deceased, the illegitimate child of Charles B. Williams and Emma Johnson, colored, was born healthy in every respect, and came to her death, when nineteen days old, at the house of James Porter, No. 1 Orange Lane, in the city of Boston, from starvation by the neglect of its mother Emma Jones, while said child was at no place of birth at the house of John Rogers, Cabot street, Roxbury.

Does any one believe, says the New York Day Book, that such a case as this ever occurred in all the South? Starved to death in the midst of plenty! Cannot the fertile brain of some New England novelist give us this, depicted in Uncle Tom's Cabin style? What is the whipping of some surly, lazy negro, to be compared to the starvation of a helpless, innocent babe? Where are the sympathies of the philanthropists?

What more could be expected of modern Boston—a city that received with processions, music, banners, booming of cannon, and loud acclaim—a thing in the shape of man, like Charles Sumner, spotted all over from the crown of his head to the sole of his foot with the leprosy of moral and physical cowardice! Things were not wont to be so ordered in the once nobly-famed Cradle of Liberty. The time was when a man with unatoned stripes on his back would have been kicked out of society, instead of being honored. Will those brave times ever return? Let us fervently hope so.

EQUAL TO CHOATE.—In Mr. Everett's Agricultural Address, published on Saturday, there is one sentence of fifty-eight lines without a single period. That is equal to Mr. Choate, who has three pages of his Webster oration without a pause. [Boston Bee.

Yes, but there is a very marked difference, says the Louisville Journal, in the effect. In reading one of Choate's interminable sentences you feel as if caught up in a whirlwind, and borne off to the imminent peril of your consciousness. His sentence fairly takes away your breath. Everett's, on the contrary, takes you softly upon its bosom, as a zephyr receives a blossom or a perfume, and, wafting you through the earth to heaven and around the circling globe in a sort of delicious fairy dream, returns you to the green but solid earth without ever breaking the exquisite spell.

PERSONAL ENEMIES.—Thomas Green Davidson expressed himself publicly, in the room adjoining the Telegraph office, on Wednesday morning last, that he should consider "all those who voted for Mr. Sigur, as personal enemies, and treat them as such."

[Clinton Democrat, 7th.

Old Tom Green has enough personal enemies already, one would suppose; but if he has a fancy for more, it is easy to increase the number to almost any limit. And as he has recently achieved an extraordinary and unexampled triumph—a triumph against odds that appeared overwhelming—he has a perfect right to exult to his heart's content. He may rightfully claim the "Bloody Old Third" as his exclusive political property.

MOBILE AND OHIO RAILROAD.—The Mobile Advertiser of Saturday says:

We are glad to learn that track-laying is rapidly proceeding in Mississippi, and that if no untoward event occurs, that the track will be laid to West Point by the 1st proximo. It has now reached Columbus junction. From the Kentucky end of the route we also hear encouraging tidings. On Saturday, Oct. 24th, the little city of Columbus, Ky., voted an extension of her bonds, in aid of the railroad, from thirty to fifty thousand dollars—only ten votes being cast against the measure. The "Crescent" of that place says that on the same evening Milton Brown, Esq., President of the road, made a speech there upon the subject of the prospects and present condition of the Mobile and Ohio Railroad, and among other things that he spoke of "there was nothing, says the Crescent, more gratifying to his hearers than the fact of his being able while in New York (notwithstanding the awful pressure in the money market) to pay the entire interest upon the sterling bonds and what the road owed to one of the New York banks that was due, while hundreds of others (who had heretofore stood much fairer in the East than this road) failed."

The Tribune of Friday says:

Fifteen new freight cars were received on the Mobile and Ohio Railroad yesterday from the car building shop of the Company at Whistler. A large force are now engaged in building and putting together car frames, and they will soon have ready for service fifty additional freight cars. This addition to the rolling stock of the road will be very acceptable. The freight business is now increasing daily, and it is probable that everything that can be made available for the conveyance of freight will be needed before the close of '57.

SENATOR BELL.—The Washington correspondent of the New York Sun says in a recent letter:

Senator Bell, of Tennessee, though superseded by the election of a successor, will not, it is said, comply with an invitation from the Legislature to resign his seat two years before the expiration of his term. His character and public services are so distinguished that it could neither be expected nor desired that he should voluntarily retire, nor even yield to an unreasonable and impertinent request from the present Legislature of his State.

RESISTING A U. S. OFFICER.—In the St. Louis Democrat of the 31st ult., we find the following:

Major Bryant, U. S. Marshal for this District, yesterday proceeded with a writ of attachment for debt to the steamer Mansfield. He was met by the clerk, Wm. T. Wilmot, with violent language and menacing actions. Wilmot drew a pistol on the officer. He was accordingly arrested and placed in jail. Subsequently the charge was made one of riot, and the prisoner transferred to the calaboose. Towards evening persons collected at the boat, intimating an intention of taking her from the U. S. officer. A police force was dispatched to guard her, and the threatened attempt was not made.

SUGAR CROP IN LAFOURCHE.—The Lafourche Union, of Thursday last, says:

The sugar cane is rapidly improving, and those planters who are now grinding find a daily increase in the yield per arpent. We are rejoiced also to observe that prices in the city are rallying, and have no doubt our planters will yet be well rewarded for the labor bestowed upon their crops.

FATAL ACCIDENT.—Four men were killed on the 27th ult., by the caving in of dirt in the Broad Tree Tunnel on the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad.
