RIVER INTELLIGENCE.

MONDAY, April 19, 1858.

WEEKLY SUMMARY.—Business on the levee during the past week has been very unsatisfactory, not near as much doing as we have a right to expect at this season of the year.

The number of steamboat arrivals is 65 in all, during the week, bringing pretty large cargoes of Western produce, small cargoes of cotton, sugar and molasses, showing a much better state of things than we could boast of last year at this period, still up-freights are as scarce, and rates so very low, that it is almost impossible for the boats to do more than pay expenses, and as a matter of course, many now running will be obliged to lay up until the times improve, or until next season.

We are fast approaching the dull season, as we can easily ascertain by the steamboat trade falling off; it is a sure criterion of the state of business generally in our city.

The receipts of the leading articles show a considerable decrease from the receipts of the previous week. Of cotton, last week's receipts were 34,102 bales; the week previous 44,339 bales. Of tobacco, last week's receipts were 3556 hhds; the week previous 3481 hhds. Of sugar, last week's receipts were 4103 hhds; the week previous 4905 hhds. Of molasses, last week's receipts were 5666 bbls; the week previous 7043 bbls. Of flour 41,742 bbls; of corn 2730 sacks; of oats 7504 sacks; and of wheat 8263 sacks.

The number of boats and vessels in port yesterday were as follows: Boats at the upper loading 18, at the lower 17, steamships 4, ships 132, barks 26, brigs 9, schooners 22. Total 237.

The weather during the week has been clear and pleasant. Owing to the strong west wind yesterday it was very dusty, and rain to lay the same would be very acceptable indeed.

The river before the city continues stationary, not varying two inches during the past week. It is now within four or five inches of high water mark. It may be expected to recede for a few days, until the rise reported as coming and below Memphis gets to us. This rise that is coming we think has caused unnecessary apprehension, for it will almost be lost ere it reaches us; in other words, a large rise at St. Louis becomes a small affair by the time it gets to the Crescent City—there are so many outlets for the water before it gets here. The river is of so much larger dimensions down here that it takes more water to raise it than at St. Louis by several drops. The crevasse at Bell's plantation will be closed very soon, as we learn the workmen are progressing quite rapidly with their task. We sincerely trust we shall have no more crevasses; but in order to prevent them, the utmost watchfulness and diligence on the part of the authorities are required. We learn by telegraph that on the 16th the river was stationary at St. Louis, and had been so for thirty-six hours; also, at Dubuque it was stationary.

The St. Louis Republican of the 13th says:

The river at this point was rising very rapidly yesterday. In the twenty-four hours ending at 6 o'clock last evening, it swelled at least 5 feet, and was rising very fast when we left the levee at dark. The Upper Mississippi is reported by the last arrivals, as rising fast from Rock Island down. There is over 5 feet on the Lower Rapids. Des Moines river is booming high. The Illinois river is also rising from Peoria to the Mouth, and is very high. The last arrival from the Missouri, reports that stream rising from the mouth of the Grand river to the mouth, and the small streams all swelling. The whole of the Ohio, at this point, is about 6½ feet, and there is full 16 feet in the channel out to Cairo. We have every prospect of much more water, as rains have been prevalent, and very heavy all through the upper countries.

Another prominent incident was the arrival late on Friday night of the new and splendid St. Louis passenger packet City of Louisiana, in charge of Capt. E. A. Sheble, and her departure on Saturday evening, after discharging a large cargo and receiving a pretty good one, all in one day, thus proving her officers to be fast men, as we know she is a fast boat. We expect to be able to record some quick trips made by her this season, in the St. Louis trade. And this reminds us of the very quick trips made by the regular packet W. M. Morrison, of the St. Louis, Cairo and New Orleans Railroad line. She will arrive here on Wednesday and leave again on Saturday next, 24th inst. Of her run, the St. Louis Republican of the 12th thus speaks:

The Morrison's time from port to port is the best made this season by any boat. We give the following particulars of her trip and time to various points.

The W. M. Morrison left New Orleans Sunday, April 4, at 11 o'clock A. M., with the U. S. mail and a fair cargo of freight, having a fast rising river to Napoleon. Discharged freight at Lake Providence, Greenville, Helena, Memphis, New Madrid, Island No. 10, Hickman, Cairo and Chester.

This, it must be considered, was a regular business trip of the Morrison's. When she make a quick trip, light, between New Orleans and this port, for glory, this time will be considerably lessened.

ARRIVALS.—The Ouachita packet Lucy Robinson, Capt. R. S. Livingston, arrived on Saturday, with 70 bales cotton, and will leave again on Wednesday next at 5 P. M.

The Arkansas river packet Tennessee Belle, Capt. Sol. Malbon, arrived from Fort Smith with 717 bales cotton, and leaves again on Wednesday at 5 P. M.

The Red river packet Lecomte, Capt. Cheney Johnson, arrived from Carolina Bluffs with 663 bales cotton, and leaves again on Tuesday, at 5 P. M.

The Louisville packet Diana, Capt. E. T. Sturgeon, arrived with a large cargo—part was 163 tobacco—and will leave again without fail on Tuesday, the 20th inst., at 5 P. M. We are obliged to her courteous clerk, Mr. O. L. Smith, for late papers.

The St. Louis packet John J. Roe, Capt. Mark Leavenworth, arrived with a very large cargo of produce, and will leave again on Friday next, 23d inst.

The Cincinnati packet Monarch, Capt. John A. Williamson, arrived with a large cargo, and will leave again on Tuesday, the 20th inst. We are indebted to her polite clerk, Mr. A. D. Armstrong, for late papers.

The Cumberland river packet Golden Age, Capt. Charles E. Marshall, arrived yesterday, with 664 bales cotton and 740 hhds. tobacco, and leaves again on Tuesday, at 5 P. M.

The Vicksburg U. S. mail packet Princess, Capt. W. C. Wilson, arrived with 1567 bales cotton, and leaves again as usual, on Tuesday, at 5 P. M. We thank her attentive clerk, Mr. James Izod, for late papers.

The Bayou Lafourche packet Dr. Batey, Capt. A. Dugas, arrived with 222 hhds. sugar and 419 bbls. molasses, and leaves again to-day at 5 P. M. as usual.

The new and magnificent St. Louis packet Imperial, Capt. E. W. Gould, arrived with a large cargo and many passengers. We are much obliged to her courteous and attentive clerk, Capt. Geo. W. Ford for late papers. The Imperial leaves again on Thursday at 5 P. M., being one of the St. Louis, Cairo and New Orleans Railroad line of packets.

The Memphis packet Ingomar, arrived with 2325 bales cotton and 61 hhds. tobacco, and the St. Louis packet Ed. Walsh, arrived with a large cargo.

BOATS LEAVING.—Sunflower for Texas River.—This popular and regular packet, Capt. J. K. Ross in charge, leaves to-day, positively, at 5 P. M., for Bayou Macon and Texas river.

Rapides for Red River.—This regular and splendid passenger packet, in charge of Capt. Jno. C. Dowry, with the clever Mr. C. J. Barstow in the office, leaves to-day positively at 5 P. M. for all landings up to Grand Ecore.

Jno. Raine for Louisville.—With the daily Cairo U. S. mail this new, swift and truly splendid passenger packet leaves port to-day at 5 P. M., no limited trip, under the able management of the experienced Capt. W. Underwood, with the courteous Capt. A. Palacio in the office, assisted by our clever young friend, Nick Tighiman. It is only necessary to announce the departure of this fine boat. She has already won an enviable reputation for speed and promptness.

Crescent City for St. Louis.—This regular and popular passenger packet, commanded by her veteran Capt. H. C. Young, with the attentive and courteous Mr. Wm. H. Young in her office, leaves to-day positively at 5 P. M., as above.

W. S. Nelson for Illinois River.—Capt. Dave Jamison backs out, positively to-day at 5 P. M., his fine packet, for all landings up to St. Louis, and up the Illinois river.

New Orleans Money Market.

CRESCENT OFFICE, No. 70 Carondelet st.,
Saturday Evening, April 17, 1858.

The general transactions for the week show a decline. This conforms to expectations in some respects, yet with the heavy stock of cotton the movements have been much less than in other branches comparatively. The causes which have occasioned depression in the great staple are believed to be of a temporary nature. Factors feel confident that they have the advantage, and evince no disposition to concede. The large stock held here will have its influence ere long on the other side, under certain contingencies, and though many buyers contend that there will be a further decline, we do not perceive on what grounds they base their views, unless laws heretofore regarded are set at defiance. Possibly they may be in possession of intelligence from various sections of the country of large stocks or large quantities retained, and that the receipts will exceed any estimate heretofore made. The other side the facts are decisive of information where all this reputed cotton is stored, or whether it is in the hands of some delinquent planters.

The last advices from Liverpool, brought by the Africa, have had no effect whatever on our market. As there was more business done to-day in the staple than on any day of the week, which had a decided tendency to confirm the steadiness which has marked the course of factors since the receipt of the accounts of the 31st of March. Freights and exchange have ruled all the week in favor of cotton, and with daily arrivals of vessels on return voyages from Europe, it is believed there will be no decrease in facilitating shipments.

An important element attending the market, and particularly operations in cotton, appears to be taken into consideration by large buyers in foreign exchanges. At the late rates current at Liverpool for low grade cottons, it is estimated that the losses on cotton now afloat for Europe will reach five millions dollars. These are the views of some sagacious and reflecting merchants. We think the amount is over-estimated, and that they will not exceed from three to four millions. The future of the European markets will be regarded with more than ordinary interest. For the sake of the shipowners on cotton, we hope there may be a favorable reaction. The recent course adopted by the Bank of England in discarding the system of re-discounting for bill brokers and others, has placed the facilities heretofore extensively used here de combat, and with large receipts going into weak hands, the market has been forced. Our country friends, planters and cotton men, will recognize the fact that the Bank of England and Manchester opinions are not yet potent and mighty.

The business for the season in dry goods, hardware, groceries, etc., is rapidly drawing to a close—though there have been several buyers in town this week, the general sales show a falling off. Some stocks of goods are running low; however, there is no lack as yet. The wholesale drug trade has been good for the season; we hardly know how so many thousands of packages we have seen on the levee the past two months can be used in the Southwest, unless they are sold at low prices than in the Northern cities. The fancy and general retail stores of Canal, Royal and Chartres streets exhibit the dreiline usual at this season of the year. However, there is a good throng of citizens still making purchases. The usual notices of selling off at cost appear almost everywhere, yet these illusive placards do not apparently hurry the closing up of the shops. The importations of fancy goods direct have been very large this month. The receipts for duties at the Custom-House are extremely moderate, and it will require very few fences and very little Sterling to cover the indebtedness of this community for this season.

The weekly statement of the banks shows some variations for the week. There is a decrease in cash item. The maximum of specie has been reached for the season, and though the Africa from Liverpool at New York brought $500,000 in coin, there will be none received here. The Southern bank of Alabama, at Mobile, has imported from New York $200,000 in gold, the Bank of Norfolk $100,000—though it will not pay these banks must have it.

The balances of exchange held by our banks has decreased. This branch has also attained its maximum for the spring, and though there is a large basis, say several millions of dollars for exchange, the season for large transactions has arrived, which will in all probability prevent any large accumulation.

The eleven banks are in line $2,828,050, which is $160,000 less than last week. The variations for the week are

A decrease in circulation of	$7,998
A decrease in specie of	108,588
A decrease in short loans of	2
A decrease in deposits proper	274,207
A decrease in exchanges of	283,530
A decrease in bottomry loans of	23,500
A decrease in deposits nominal of	309,379
The actual variation in long and short loans is an increase for the week of	324,457
The variation last year (then nine banks) for the corresponding week was
A decrease in specie of	$301,643
A decrease in circulation of	6,960
A decrease in short loans of	1,000
A decrease in distant balances of	11,185
An increase in deposits proper of	183,483
An increase in exchanges of	382,787
With a decrease in long and short loans of	42,891

The Sterling exchange market stiffened to-day. The banks sold checks on New York at ¼ discount. Towards 3 o'clock the general asking rate was par. Over Exchange sales were at ¼ @ ⅜ discount; thirty days sight ¼ @ ⅜ discount, sixty days sight ⅜ @ ½, and 1¾ @ 2 per cent. discount. Two of the banks purchased from ⅛ @ 2 and 2½ discount. Some private A1 bills were taken for Western account at 1¾ @ 1½ discount. Sterling advanced to 107¾ @ 108, though the market may still be said to range from 107 @ 107¾. Bills with shipping documents were scarce. The New York remittance to cotton for the week is the cause of this. Bank drafts are held at 109. France are dull at 5.40 @ 5.35. Bank drafts 5.39 @ 5.45.

There was very little done in paper to-day. About $250,000 of long date was placed at the rate of 11 @ 12 per cent., and a few short loans effected at 1¾ per month. There is no deficiency in the amount of unemployed money, but capitalists, if there are any among us, and business leaders have their fears wrought on, and seem intent to rest on the long cherished results of war, overflow, revolution, and even talk of threatening troubles at the Bear garden, Washington.

There was very little done in stocks to-day. Through Messrs. Fairley & Co., there were sold at auction some shares Bank of New Orleans at 93 @ 93½; some Crescent City Bank at 97; Commercial Water Works at 49; Jackson Railroad at 75½, and divers lots of insurance scrip at various prices.

There was considerable real estate sold, to say of vacant lots and small buildings, which brought fair prices.

There are very few buildings situated centrally that are on the market, though tenders of high prices for brick stores would probably bring sellers out.

In Manchester the course of our cotton market is closely watched by operators in goods and yarns, who defer putting fresh contracts in hands, in the hope of delay proving advantageous. Producers whose orders are expiring are more eager to renew them as a concession in price, but insufficient to induce more than a limited business.

The grain markets of the country continue extremely inanimate, and very fine weather for spring tillage has a depressing influence. Here the demand for all kinds of breadstuffs is restricted to retail transactions for immediate consumption, and prices still tend downwards. The import is to a fair extent, and sellers have displayed more eagerness to realize, although at the established rates now ruling there is no pressure, and Wheat is not more than 1d. @ 2d. per 70 lbs., and Flour 6d. @ 1s. per barrel lower during the week. Indian Corn supports its value. To-day's market was barely attended, and devoid of animation, and in effect no sales a decline would have to be submitted to on all articles.

Review of the Markets.

MONDAY MORNING, April 19.

COTTON.—The demand was more general on Saturday and resulted in sale of about 8000 bales superior within the range of our quotations:
