Dr. Hau's Shoon Courses of Leotures. Dr. Bale is to deliver the first lecture of his second course on the subject of electro-biology, this evening, at Odd Fellows Hall.

From what we have seen of Dr. Hale's lectures during the past formight, we can assert with considerable emphasis that he deserves a hearing from every hody. Lucki and instructive to a remarkable degree in his explanations of his chosen science, so inexplicable to the mass of the people; pollshed in his lauguage, and graceful, spirited and agreeable in his deportment before an audience, no one has visited him yet who has not been pleased and satisfied with him as an orator and public entertaines; if not convinced of the trait of the science of his adoption.

In his demonstrations, however—that is, in the different tests and exercises to which the Dotor subject. ever brought South, which he is offering at VERY LOW PRICES. Purchasers would do well to call and examine before pur-NORRIS, MAULL & CO.,

In his demonstrations, however—that h, in the direct tests and exercises to which the Doctor antisect those who account to his bibliogical power—he is eminently entertaining, and at times astorishing. So date and respectable old citizens, and young men of good family and character, have, under the Doctor's wanderful power, performed scenes of excitationate, partonimes, displays of passion, humor, muscular strength, etc., entirely exceeding any to be seen part has regular stage; exhibitions now silencing the audiences in breathless worder, and again accounts them to the hight of approaches merriment. The Americanarys.—For the entertainment of the multitude to night, all the great troupe which constitutes Spalding & Rogers mammed: elross company, will appear in favorite snactings. The Conrad brothers will do some wonderful things, as they only can, and the two clowns, Messers Pay sud Day, will spread themselves in being fenny. "Join, the giascula sambilator," will wind up the entertainment with a grand finale.

The Variances.—A great bill is effered at this institution, where the whole company of stars will so night concentrate their islents to the production of "The Marble Heart, or the Scalptor's Dream," which will form the beginning, the end, and the staple of the entertainment, it have lengthy sets precinding any other item of entertainment. Messrs. Smith, Jordon, Briggs, Daveaport, and Misses and Mimes L. Graham and A. Graham, and Boyce, Smith, Warrem and others, will all be conceived. The attraction is great. Mr. George Jurdan appears in a part originally sustained by him.

The Obstrans.—This evening "La Julve," grand opers, will be brought out, sung and acted in its principal characters, by Messrs, Lognali, Taste and Boorgeois, and Wiles Lafranque and Paola.

The Sr. Characters.—To-night a new actor will be in conjunction with Mr. Borton at the St. Charle.

Mississippi Fine Company No. 2.—This gallant ompany celebrated Christmas in a manner which Mississivi risk Convey to a sunner which partock of both business and pleasure. In other words, they held their amost election for officers. We preceive that the Foreman of the Company, our old and particular friend Lea F. Bakwall, was re-elected to the same office. This warrants us in saying that the Mississipi lovas appreciate M. B. as a fireman and a brother, just to the same extent that we appreciate him as a gendeman and a firsh-rate fellow. regard to my treatment. I will here give a hird de-scription:

Int. My object is to give such medicines internally as will neutralize this morbid condition of the blood, equalize the secretions and give streagth and energy to every part of the system.

2d. To expand the imags and thereby increase their capacity, which enables them to arterialize the blood more thoroughly. For this purpose I have an in-laster of my own invention, which is much more effect-ual than anything of the kind before the public.

3d. We apply local remedies to the seat of the dis-case by means of inhaling medicated vapors. I have compounded my medicines so as to inhale coid vapors from them, as they are far preferable to warm vapors, for the following reasons: They add bone and strength to the substance of the image and allay irritation. They also fortify the eyetem from taking coid, where-as warm vapors rather predispose a person to take oid.
