

New Orleans Daily Crescent

Published daily, except on Sundays and public holidays. Price per copy, five cents. By the week, 30 cents. By the month, $1.50. By the year, $15.00. In advance.

MONDAY MORNING, JUNE 13, 1859.

PROVISIONAL GOVERNMENT.—A very interesting letter from our regular correspondent appears elsewhere. It will very properly appear elsewhere.

IN OUR COLUMN TO-DAY will be found several of the most interesting news from different parts of the world, including the late arrival of the Florida, Havana, and all parts of the West Indies.

THE PROVISIONAL GOVERNMENT.—In this edition of the paper we publish a beautiful poem, entitled as above, by the pen of the "Editor," "Mildred," and "The Poet." The subject is melancholy, and the style is of the most beautiful and impressive.

THE PROVISIONAL GOVERNMENT.—A very interesting letter from our regular correspondent appears elsewhere. It will very properly appear elsewhere.

THE PROVISIONAL GOVERNMENT.—A very interesting letter from our regular correspondent appears elsewhere. It will very properly appear elsewhere.

THE PROVISIONAL GOVERNMENT.—A very interesting letter from our regular correspondent appears elsewhere. It will very properly appear elsewhere.

THE PROVISIONAL GOVERNMENT.—A very interesting letter from our regular correspondent appears elsewhere. It will very properly appear elsewhere.

THE PROVISIONAL GOVERNMENT.—A very interesting letter from our regular correspondent appears elsewhere. It will very properly appear elsewhere.

THE PROVISIONAL GOVERNMENT.—A very interesting letter from our regular correspondent appears elsewhere. It will very properly appear elsewhere.

THE PROVISIONAL GOVERNMENT.—A very interesting letter from our regular correspondent appears elsewhere. It will very properly appear elsewhere.

THE PROVISIONAL GOVERNMENT.—A very interesting letter from our regular correspondent appears elsewhere. It will very properly appear elsewhere.

THE PROVISIONAL GOVERNMENT.—A very interesting letter from our regular correspondent appears elsewhere. It will very properly appear elsewhere.

THE PROVISIONAL GOVERNMENT.—A very interesting letter from our regular correspondent appears elsewhere. It will very properly appear elsewhere.

THE PROVISIONAL GOVERNMENT.—A very interesting letter from our regular correspondent appears elsewhere. It will very properly appear elsewhere.

THE PROVISIONAL GOVERNMENT.—A very interesting letter from our regular correspondent appears elsewhere. It will very properly appear elsewhere.

THE PROVISIONAL GOVERNMENT.—A very interesting letter from our regular correspondent appears elsewhere. It will very properly appear elsewhere.

THE PROVISIONAL GOVERNMENT.—A very interesting letter from our regular correspondent appears elsewhere. It will very properly appear elsewhere.

THE PROVISIONAL GOVERNMENT.—A very interesting letter from our regular correspondent appears elsewhere. It will very properly appear elsewhere.

THE PROVISIONAL GOVERNMENT.—A very interesting letter from our regular correspondent appears elsewhere. It will very properly appear elsewhere.

THE PROVISIONAL GOVERNMENT.—A very interesting letter from our regular correspondent appears elsewhere. It will very properly appear elsewhere.

THE PROVISIONAL GOVERNMENT.—A very interesting letter from our regular correspondent appears elsewhere. It will very properly appear elsewhere.

THE PROVISIONAL GOVERNMENT.—A very interesting letter from our regular correspondent appears elsewhere. It will very properly appear elsewhere.

THE PROVISIONAL GOVERNMENT.—A very interesting letter from our regular correspondent appears elsewhere. It will very properly appear elsewhere.

THE PROVISIONAL GOVERNMENT.—A very interesting letter from our regular correspondent appears elsewhere. It will very properly appear elsewhere.

THE PROVISIONAL GOVERNMENT.—A very interesting letter from our regular correspondent appears elsewhere. It will very properly appear elsewhere.

THE PROVISIONAL GOVERNMENT.—A very interesting letter from our regular correspondent appears elsewhere. It will very properly appear elsewhere.

THE PROVISIONAL GOVERNMENT.—A very interesting letter from our regular correspondent appears elsewhere. It will very properly appear elsewhere.

THE PROVISIONAL GOVERNMENT.—A very interesting letter from our regular correspondent appears elsewhere. It will very properly appear elsewhere.

THE PROVISIONAL GOVERNMENT.—A very interesting letter from our regular correspondent appears elsewhere. It will very properly appear elsewhere.

THE PROVISIONAL GOVERNMENT.—A very interesting letter from our regular correspondent appears elsewhere. It will very properly appear elsewhere.

THE PROVISIONAL GOVERNMENT.—A very interesting letter from our regular correspondent appears elsewhere. It will very properly appear elsewhere.

THE PROVISIONAL GOVERNMENT.—A very interesting letter from our regular correspondent appears elsewhere. It will very properly appear elsewhere.

THE PROVISIONAL GOVERNMENT.—A very interesting letter from our regular correspondent appears elsewhere. It will very properly appear elsewhere.

THE PROVISIONAL GOVERNMENT.—A very interesting letter from our regular correspondent appears elsewhere. It will very properly appear elsewhere.

THE PROVISIONAL GOVERNMENT.—A very interesting letter from our regular correspondent appears elsewhere. It will very properly appear elsewhere.

THE PROVISIONAL GOVERNMENT.—A very interesting letter from our regular correspondent appears elsewhere. It will very properly appear elsewhere.

SENATOR SIDDELL—THE FRENCH MISSION.

According to a telegraphic dispatch, published yesterday morning, the Hon. John S. Sill, of this State, has been appointed by President Fremont, Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary to the Imperial Court of Louis Napoleon, and has accepted the appointment.

This latter clause, in our opinion, needs confirmation. We have no faith in it. We do not believe a syllable of it, although we have no doubt, and never have entertained any, but that Senator Sill will command any office within the power of the President to bestow, by simply intimating a wish to that effect. His intimacy with the President, his services he has done the President, and his influence over the President, are all such as to forbid any other logical conclusion.

The French mission, notwithstanding it has not generally ranked as high as that of London, is still one of the most important our country has; and, in the view of the existing war, the probability of all greater complications in the future, likely to eventuate in a general European war at no remote period, it assumes a value, a desirability, and a grandeur, not equaled by that of any other. Just now, to a competent diplomat, it possesses attractions not to be found anywhere else. In times of peace the post of Minister is one of honor and distinction, so far as the mere nomination can confer honor and distinction, as well as of ease; but in times of war, such as are now shaking the old world to the uttermost depths of its governmental foundations, opportunities may present themselves to an accomplished and able man which would enable him to engrave his name indelibly upon the records of the era in which he lived and acted.

Senator Sill, in an eminent degree, the leading essential qualities, which go to make up the ideal of a Minister. Besides, he has had considerable experience in the mysteries of diplomacy. His career in a sister Republic was not, we imagine, without valuable lessons, which, to a sensible man, are invariably guides and landmarks in the future. Few men ever profit by experience. Sensible men always do. And that is about the only material difference between men of common sense and men of uncommon sense. We would give one month of sound, practical, everyday, common sense, for any amount of theoretical, book-chuck full of generalities. Washington was neither a brilliant man nor a genius. If he had been, the thirteen Colonies would have faced disaster during the war of the Revolution. They would have been whipped into submission without much trouble, and the leaders would have been hung with an little compunction or ceremony as the British lately hung Tarleton in the same manner. However, he was not a man of the Revolution to a successful issue. "Horse sense" ruled alike in the camp and in the Continental Congress. "Horse sense" made Warren, patriots and statesmen—whose names will live as long as the language of men who would, if genius had had any control in either department, been handed down to posterity as rebels, renegades and traitors, and whose names would have been hung with a little compunction or ceremony as the British lately hung Tarleton in the same manner. However, he was not a man of the Revolution to a successful issue.

But we are digressing from the point at which we started. Senator Sill, although eminently qualified for the post the telegraph has assigned him, and certified his acceptance of; although well versed in the history of the past and the exigencies of the present, although cool, collected, calm, and prompt, and although courage enough to confront any crisis which might arise, and whose name would have been hung with a little compunction or ceremony as the British lately hung Tarleton in the same manner. However, he was not a man of the Revolution to a successful issue.

But we are digressing from the point at which we started. Senator Sill, although eminently qualified for the post the telegraph has assigned him, and certified his acceptance of; although well versed in the history of the past and the exigencies of the present, although cool, collected, calm, and prompt, and although courage enough to confront any crisis which might arise, and whose name would have been hung with a little compunction or ceremony as the British lately hung Tarleton in the same manner. However, he was not a man of the Revolution to a successful issue.

But we are digressing from the point at which we started. Senator Sill, although eminently qualified for the post the telegraph has assigned him, and certified his acceptance of; although well versed in the history of the past and the exigencies of the present, although cool, collected, calm, and prompt, and although courage enough to confront any crisis which might arise, and whose name would have been hung with a little compunction or ceremony as the British lately hung Tarleton in the same manner. However, he was not a man of the Revolution to a successful issue.

But we are digressing from the point at which we started. Senator Sill, although eminently qualified for the post the telegraph has assigned him, and certified his acceptance of; although well versed in the history of the past and the exigencies of the present, although cool, collected, calm, and prompt, and although courage enough to confront any crisis which might arise, and whose name would have been hung with a little compunction or ceremony as the British lately hung Tarleton in the same manner. However, he was not a man of the Revolution to a successful issue.

But we are digressing from the point at which we started. Senator Sill, although eminently qualified for the post the telegraph has assigned him, and certified his acceptance of; although well versed in the history of the past and the exigencies of the present, although cool, collected, calm, and prompt, and although courage enough to confront any crisis which might arise, and whose name would have been hung with a little compunction or ceremony as the British lately hung Tarleton in the same manner. However, he was not a man of the Revolution to a successful issue.

But we are digressing from the point at which we started. Senator Sill, although eminently qualified for the post the telegraph has assigned him, and certified his acceptance of; although well versed in the history of the past and the exigencies of the present, although cool, collected, calm, and prompt, and although courage enough to confront any crisis which might arise, and whose name would have been hung with a little compunction or ceremony as the British lately hung Tarleton in the same manner. However, he was not a man of the Revolution to a successful issue.

But we are digressing from the point at which we started. Senator Sill, although eminently qualified for the post the telegraph has assigned him, and certified his acceptance of; although well versed in the history of the past and the exigencies of the present, although cool, collected, calm, and prompt, and although courage enough to confront any crisis which might arise, and whose name would have been hung with a little compunction or ceremony as the British lately hung Tarleton in the same manner. However, he was not a man of the Revolution to a successful issue.

But we are digressing from the point at which we started. Senator Sill, although eminently qualified for the post the telegraph has assigned him, and certified his acceptance of; although well versed in the history of the past and the exigencies of the present, although cool, collected, calm, and prompt, and although courage enough to confront any crisis which might arise, and whose name would have been hung with a little compunction or ceremony as the British lately hung Tarleton in the same manner. However, he was not a man of the Revolution to a successful issue.

But we are digressing from the point at which we started. Senator Sill, although eminently qualified for the post the telegraph has assigned him, and certified his acceptance of; although well versed in the history of the past and the exigencies of the present, although cool, collected, calm, and prompt, and although courage enough to confront any crisis which might arise, and whose name would have been hung with a little compunction or ceremony as the British lately hung Tarleton in the same manner. However, he was not a man of the Revolution to a successful issue.

But we are digressing from the point at which we started. Senator Sill, although eminently qualified for the post the telegraph has assigned him, and certified his acceptance of; although well versed in the history of the past and the exigencies of the present, although cool, collected, calm, and prompt, and although courage enough to confront any crisis which might arise, and whose name would have been hung with a little compunction or ceremony as the British lately hung Tarleton in the same manner. However, he was not a man of the Revolution to a successful issue.

But we are digressing from the point at which we started. Senator Sill, although eminently qualified for the post the telegraph has assigned him, and certified his acceptance of; although well versed in the history of the past and the exigencies of the present, although cool, collected, calm, and prompt, and although courage enough to confront any crisis which might arise, and whose name would have been hung with a little compunction or ceremony as the British lately hung Tarleton in the same manner. However, he was not a man of the Revolution to a successful issue.

But we are digressing from the point at which we started. Senator Sill, although eminently qualified for the post the telegraph has assigned him, and certified his acceptance of; although well versed in the history of the past and the exigencies of the present, although cool, collected, calm, and prompt, and although courage enough to confront any crisis which might arise, and whose name would have been hung with a little compunction or ceremony as the British lately hung Tarleton in the same manner. However, he was not a man of the Revolution to a successful issue.

But we are digressing from the point at which we started. Senator Sill, although eminently qualified for the post the telegraph has assigned him, and certified his acceptance of; although well versed in the history of the past and the exigencies of the present, although cool, collected, calm, and prompt, and although courage enough to confront any crisis which might arise, and whose name would have been hung with a little compunction or ceremony as the British lately hung Tarleton in the same manner. However, he was not a man of the Revolution to a successful issue.

But we are digressing from the point at which we started. Senator Sill, although eminently qualified for the post the telegraph has assigned him, and certified his acceptance of; although well versed in the history of the past and the exigencies of the present, although cool, collected, calm, and prompt, and although courage enough to confront any crisis which might arise, and whose name would have been hung with a little compunction or ceremony as the British lately hung Tarleton in the same manner. However, he was not a man of the Revolution to a successful issue.

But we are digressing from the point at which we started. Senator Sill, although eminently qualified for the post the telegraph has assigned him, and certified his acceptance of; although well versed in the history of the past and the exigencies of the present, although cool, collected, calm, and prompt, and although courage enough to confront any crisis which might arise, and whose name would have been hung with a little compunction or ceremony as the British lately hung Tarleton in the same manner. However, he was not a man of the Revolution to a successful issue.

But we are digressing from the point at which we started. Senator Sill, although eminently qualified for the post the telegraph has assigned him, and certified his acceptance of; although well versed in the history of the past and the exigencies of the present, although cool, collected, calm, and prompt, and although courage enough to confront any crisis which might arise, and whose name would have been hung with a little compunction or ceremony as the British lately hung Tarleton in the same manner. However, he was not a man of the Revolution to a successful issue.

But we are digressing from the point at which we started. Senator Sill, although eminently qualified for the post the telegraph has assigned him, and certified his acceptance of; although well versed in the history of the past and the exigencies of the present, although cool, collected, calm, and prompt, and although courage enough to confront any crisis which might arise, and whose name would have been hung with a little compunction or ceremony as the British lately hung Tarleton in the same manner. However, he was not a man of the Revolution to a successful issue.

But we are digressing from the point at which we started. Senator Sill, although eminently qualified for the post the telegraph has assigned him, and certified his acceptance of; although well versed in the history of the past and the exigencies of the present, although cool, collected, calm, and prompt, and although courage enough to confront any crisis which might arise, and whose name would have been hung with a little compunction or ceremony as the British lately hung Tarleton in the same manner. However, he was not a man of the Revolution to a successful issue.

But we are digressing from the point at which we started. Senator Sill, although eminently qualified for the post the telegraph has assigned him, and certified his acceptance of; although well versed in the history of the past and the exigencies of the present, although cool, collected, calm, and prompt, and although courage enough to confront any crisis which might arise, and whose name would have been hung with a little compunction or ceremony as the British lately hung Tarleton in the same manner. However, he was not a man of the Revolution to a successful issue.

But we are digressing from the point at which we started. Senator Sill, although eminently qualified for the post the telegraph has assigned him, and certified his acceptance of; although well versed in the history of the past and the exigencies of the present, although cool, collected, calm, and prompt, and although courage enough to confront any crisis which might arise, and whose name would have been hung with a little compunction or ceremony as the British lately hung Tarleton in the same manner. However, he was not a man of the Revolution to a successful issue.

But we are digressing from the point at which we started. Senator Sill, although eminently qualified for the post the telegraph has assigned him, and certified his acceptance of; although well versed in the history of the past and the exigencies of the present, although cool, collected, calm, and prompt, and although courage enough to confront any crisis which might arise, and whose name would have been hung with a little compunction or ceremony as the British lately hung Tarleton in the same manner. However, he was not a man of the Revolution to a successful issue.

But we are digressing from the point at which we started. Senator Sill, although eminently qualified for the post the telegraph has assigned him, and certified his acceptance of; although well versed in the history of the past and the exigencies of the present, although cool, collected, calm, and prompt, and although courage enough to confront any crisis which might arise, and whose name would have been hung with a little compunction or ceremony as the British lately hung Tarleton in the same manner. However, he was not a man of the Revolution to a successful issue.

But we are digressing from the point at which we started. Senator Sill, although eminently qualified for the post the telegraph has assigned him, and certified his acceptance of; although well versed in the history of the past and the exigencies of the present, although cool, collected, calm, and prompt, and although courage enough to confront any crisis which might arise, and whose name would have been hung with a little compunction or ceremony as the British lately hung Tarleton in the same manner. However, he was not a man of the Revolution to a successful issue.

But we are digressing from the point at which we started. Senator Sill, although eminently qualified for the post the telegraph has assigned him, and certified his acceptance of; although well versed in the history of the past and the exigencies of the present, although cool, collected, calm, and prompt, and although courage enough to confront any crisis which might arise, and whose name would have been hung with a little compunction or ceremony as the British lately hung Tarleton in the same manner. However, he was not a man of the Revolution to a successful issue.

But we are digressing from the point at which we started. Senator Sill, although eminently qualified for the post the telegraph has assigned him, and certified his acceptance of; although well versed in the history of the past and the exigencies of the present, although cool, collected, calm, and prompt, and although courage enough to confront any crisis which might arise, and whose name would have been hung with a little compunction or ceremony as the British lately hung Tarleton in the same manner. However, he was not a man of the Revolution to a successful issue.

But we are digressing from the point at which we started. Senator Sill, although eminently qualified for the post the telegraph has assigned him, and certified his acceptance of; although well versed in the history of the past and the exigencies of the present, although cool, collected, calm, and prompt, and although courage enough to confront any crisis which might arise, and whose name would have been hung with a little compunction or ceremony as the British lately hung Tarleton in the same manner. However, he was not a man of the Revolution to a successful issue.

But we are digressing from the point at which we started. Senator Sill, although eminently qualified for the post the telegraph has assigned him, and certified his acceptance of; although well versed in the history of the past and the exigencies of the present, although cool, collected, calm, and prompt, and although courage enough to confront any crisis which might arise, and whose name would have been hung with a little compunction or ceremony as the British lately hung Tarleton in the same manner. However, he was not a man of the Revolution to a successful issue.

ODE ON WASHINGTON'S DEATH.

Delivered at the Universal Meeting House, Portsmouth, N.H., February 22d, 1850.

Why heaves Columbia's throbbing heart,
Th' immortal sigh of heretofore?
What cause impels a nation's tears,
And bids an empire's sorrow flow?

'Tis Washington who claims the sigh,
Sweets the sad heart, and fills the eye.
A nation's gratitude and love,
Th' imperial solemn requiem pay;
High veneration, deep respect,
To grief sincere, devote this day.

'Tis Washington who claims the sigh,
Sweets the sad heart, and fills the eye.
A nation's gratitude and love,
Th' imperial solemn requiem pay;
High veneration, deep respect,
To grief sincere, devote this day.

'Tis Washington who claims the sigh,
Sweets the sad heart, and fills the eye.
A nation's gratitude and love,
Th' imperial solemn requiem pay;
High veneration, deep respect,
To grief sincere, devote this day.

'Tis Washington who claims the sigh,
Sweets the sad heart, and fills the eye.
A nation's gratitude and love,
Th' imperial solemn requiem pay;
High veneration, deep respect,
To grief sincere, devote this day.

'Tis Washington who claims the sigh,
Sweets the sad heart, and fills the eye.
A nation's gratitude and love,
Th' imperial solemn requiem pay;
High veneration, deep respect,
To grief sincere, devote this day.

'Tis Washington who claims the sigh,
Sweets the sad heart, and fills the eye.
A nation's gratitude and love,
Th' imperial solemn requiem pay;
High veneration, deep respect,
To grief sincere, devote this day.

'Tis Washington who claims the sigh,
Sweets the sad heart, and fills the eye.
A nation's gratitude and love,
Th' imperial solemn requiem pay;
High veneration, deep respect,
To grief sincere, devote this day.

'Tis Washington who claims the sigh,
Sweets the sad heart, and fills the eye.
A nation's gratitude and love,
Th' imperial solemn requiem pay;
High veneration, deep respect,
To grief sincere, devote this day.

'Tis Washington who claims the sigh,
Sweets the sad heart, and fills the eye.
A nation's gratitude and love,
Th' imperial solemn requiem pay;
High veneration, deep respect,
To grief sincere, devote this day.

'Tis Washington who claims the sigh,
Sweets the sad heart, and fills the eye.
A nation's gratitude and love,
Th' imperial solemn requiem pay;
High veneration, deep respect,
To grief sincere, devote this day.

'Tis Washington who claims the sigh,
Sweets the sad heart, and fills the eye.
A nation's gratitude and love,
Th' imperial solemn requiem pay;
High veneration, deep respect,
To grief sincere, devote this day.

'Tis Washington who claims the sigh,
Sweets the sad heart, and fills the eye.
A nation's gratitude and love,
Th' imperial solemn requiem pay;
High veneration, deep respect,
To grief sincere, devote this day.

'Tis Washington who claims the sigh,
Sweets the sad heart, and fills the eye.
A nation's gratitude and love,
Th' imperial solemn requiem pay;
High veneration, deep respect,
To grief sincere, devote this day.

'Tis Washington who claims the sigh,
Sweets the sad heart, and fills the eye.
A nation's gratitude and love,
Th' imperial solemn requiem pay;
High veneration, deep respect,
To grief sincere, devote this day.

'Tis Washington who claims the sigh,
Sweets the sad heart, and fills the eye.
A nation's gratitude and love,
Th' imperial solemn requiem pay;
High veneration, deep respect,
To grief sincere, devote this day.

'Tis Washington who claims the sigh,
Sweets the sad heart, and fills the eye.
A nation's gratitude and love,
Th' imperial solemn requiem pay;
High veneration, deep respect,
To grief sincere, devote this day.

'Tis Washington who claims the sigh,
Sweets the sad heart, and fills the eye.
A nation's gratitude and love,
Th' imperial solemn requiem pay;
High veneration, deep respect,
To grief sincere, devote this day.

'Tis Washington who claims the sigh,
Sweets the sad heart, and fills the eye.
A nation's gratitude and love,
Th' imperial solemn requiem pay;
High veneration, deep respect,
To grief sincere, devote this day.

'Tis Washington who claims the sigh,
Sweets the sad heart, and fills the eye.
A nation's gratitude and love,
Th' imperial solemn requiem pay;
High veneration, deep respect,
To grief sincere, devote this day.

'Tis Washington who claims the sigh,
Sweets the sad heart, and fills the eye.
A nation's gratitude and love,
Th' imperial solemn requiem pay;
High veneration, deep respect,
To grief sincere, devote this day.

'Tis Washington who claims the sigh,
Sweets the sad heart, and fills the eye.
A nation's gratitude and love,
Th' imperial solemn requiem pay;
High veneration, deep respect,
To grief sincere, devote this day.

'Tis Washington who claims the sigh,
Sweets the sad heart, and fills the eye.
A nation's gratitude and love,
Th' imperial solemn requiem pay;
High veneration, deep respect,
To grief sincere, devote this day.

'Tis Washington who claims the sigh,
Sweets the sad heart, and fills the eye.
A nation's gratitude and love,
Th' imperial solemn requiem pay;
High veneration, deep respect,
To grief sincere, devote this day.

'Tis Washington who claims the sigh,
Sweets the sad heart, and fills the eye.
A nation's gratitude and love,
Th' imperial solemn requiem pay;
High veneration, deep respect,
To grief sincere, devote this day.

'Tis Washington who claims the sigh,
Sweets the sad heart, and fills the eye.
A nation's gratitude and love,
Th' imperial solemn requiem pay;
High veneration, deep respect,
To grief sincere, devote this day.

'Tis Washington who claims the sigh,
Sweets the sad heart, and fills the eye.
A nation's gratitude and love,
Th' imperial solemn requiem pay;
High veneration, deep respect,
To grief sincere, devote this day.

'Tis Washington who claims the sigh,
Sweets the sad heart, and fills the eye.
A nation's gratitude and love,
Th' imperial solemn requiem pay;
High veneration, deep respect,
To grief sincere, devote this day.

'Tis Washington who claims the sigh,
Sweets the sad heart, and fills the eye.
A nation's gratitude and love,
Th' imperial solemn requiem pay;
High veneration, deep respect,
To grief sincere, devote this day.

'Tis Washington who claims the sigh,
Sweets the sad heart, and fills the eye.
A nation's gratitude and love,
Th' imperial solemn requiem pay;
High veneration, deep respect,
To grief sincere, devote this day.

Spring and Summer Clothing!

SOUTHERN CLOTHING ESTABLISHMENT, 26, 28 and 30 St. Charles Street, CORNER OF COMMON STREET.

WHOLESALE AND RETAIL! NEW STORES! NEW GOODS! LOW PRICES!

PARIS, LONDON AND NEW YORK FASHIONS! L. W. LYONS, Has just received, per late steamer, one of the largest and most magnificent stocks of FASHIONABLE SPRING AND SUMMER CLOTHING NEVER BROUGHT TO THE SOUTH! Which, for Style, Material, Workmanship and Cheapness, not surpassed!

His Goods are divided into three Departments, but all under one general view: STORE No. 26 ST. CHARLES STREET—For Boys' Clothing.

STORE No. 28 ST. CHARLES STREET—For Men's Clothing. STORE No. 30 ST. CHARLES STREET—For Furnishing Goods and Shirts.

Speakers speak French, Spanish and English. L. W. LYONS, 26, 28 and 30 St. Charles Street, corner of Common Street.

Linens Shirts! Linen Shirts!—Just opened, 200 dozen. ALL LINEN SHIRTS! Various Styles. FOR SALE AT $2.50 AND $3.75 EACH!

Real Seersucker Suits. L. W. LYONS, 26, 28 and 30 St. Charles Street, corner of Common Street.

Shirts! Shirts!—Just received by late steamer, a large assortment of SHIRTS, OF THE LATEST FASHIONS, of all the various qualities and sizes, White and Colored, MANUFACTURED EXPRESSLY for the New Orleans city trade, to 25 Men, Youth, Boys and Children.

L. W. LYONS, No. 26, 28 and 30 St. Charles Street, corner of Common Street.

Trunks, Traveling-Bags, VALISES, UMBRELLAS AND WATER-PROOF CLOTHING, OF THE VERY BEST STYLES AND QUALITIES, MADE TO ORDER, and warranted.

L. W. LYONS, No. 26, 28 and 30 St. Charles Street, corner of Common Street.

Saltus Moneta! JOHN TODD, 13 and 14 CHARTERS STREET.

STILL GREATER INDUCEMENTS TO those in want of NEW AND ELEGANT SUMMER GOODS.

SILKS, MUSLINS, DE VEGES, GRENAOIKES, AND OTHER FINE GOODS.

MILLINERY GOODS. C. A. BARRIÈRE & CO., 150 Canal Street, Touro Buildings.

THEO. FROIS', No. 132 Canal Street, Touro Buildings.

Spurgeon's Sermons! SPURGEON'S SERMONS! SPURGEON'S SERMONS!

THE NEW YORK WAREHOUSE!! THE NEW YORK WAREHOUSE!! THE NEW YORK WAREHOUSE!!

THE CHINESE FAMILY PAPEE. Now published in the United States—right in the heart of New Orleans, at the corner of the Canal and the Common Street.

SPURGEON'S SERMONS, now revised and enlarged, and published in the United States, right in the heart of New Orleans, at the corner of the Canal and the Common Street.

THE NEW YORK WAREHOUSE!! THE NEW YORK WAREHOUSE!! THE NEW YORK WAREHOUSE!!

THE CHINESE FAMILY PAPEE. Now published in the United States—right in the heart of New Orleans, at the corner of the Canal and the Common Street.

SPURGEON'S SERMONS, now revised and enlarged, and published in the United States, right in the heart of New Orleans, at the corner of the Canal and the Common Street.

THE NEW YORK WAREHOUSE!! THE NEW YORK WAREHOUSE!! THE NEW YORK WAREHOUSE!!

THE CHINESE FAMILY PAPEE. Now published in the United States—right in the heart of New Orleans, at the corner of the Canal and the Common Street.

SPURGEON'S SERMONS, now revised and enlarged, and published in the United States, right in the heart of New Orleans, at the corner of the Canal and the Common Street.

THE NEW YORK WAREHOUSE!! THE NEW YORK WAREHOUSE!! THE NEW YORK WAREHOUSE!!

THE CHINESE FAMILY PAPEE. Now published in the United States—right in the heart of New Orleans, at the corner of the Canal and the Common Street.

SPURGEON'S SERMONS, now revised and enlarged, and published in the United States, right in the heart of New Orleans, at the corner of the Canal and the Common Street.

Juvenile Books, Prof. Packer's MAGIC SOAP.

FOR VACATION READING, DURING THE SUMMER MONTHS, IN SEAS AND LIBRARY COPIES OF SIX TO FORTY VOLUMES.

THOMAS L. WHITE, BOOKSELLER AND STATIONER, 105