Mesers. Editors: The Gaceta of 11th instant contains a "Royal Decree" dated 27th July last, (it is also published in the Distric de la Marina of 15th inst.) which from its great length (two foll pages of the Gderta,) it is nutterly impossible for me to attempt to translate. As, however, it contains some important enactments, and would seem to have been intended as a sort of "aop in the pan" to quiet the poor children of Cuba. I send you these so as to enable you to judge of its value for yourself. The royal decree enacts, that in every town in this Island where there is a Lieutenant-Governor there shall be an ayuntamient (corporation) for the administrar.

the ayuntamiento shall consist of an Alcalde, a Re-corder and six Aldermen. In towns of between fire and len thousand inhabitants, except the city of Ha-vans, there shall be an Alcalde, two Assistant Alcal-des, a Recorder and ten Aldermen.

shall not exceed three hundred dellars each per annoum.

To have the power of fixing what taxes are to be imposed for the public uses.

To have the care, conservation and repairing of all roads, pathways, hedges, pontons, (guardalips or prison ships) which are placed under their charge, and in full, to possess the usual powers possessed by municipal bodies in other countries.

"The aynatamientes must deliherate according to the rules and regulations."

The "preputual Councilmen" will form a part of all corporations, unless they are deprived of their offices from any legal cause. The office-bolder who does not attend a corporation meeting for six months will be considered as having resigned his office, unless his absence has been delly authorized.

will be considered as having resigned his office, unless his absence has been duly authorized.

The first election is to take place 1st March, 1860. The first portion of Councilmen to leave office are to be drawn for by lots. This refers to the elected and not to the perpetual Aldermen.

I think the foregoing is all I need sond you to enable you to arrive at a just conclusion as to this 'Royal Decree,' which, though it certainly does make great alterations in the administration of public affairs in Cuba, does not grant its inhabitants those rights to which they feel they are cuitied. They ask a share in the making of those laws by which they lie offairs in Caba, does not grant its inhabitants those rights to which they feel they are entitled. They ask a share in the making of those laws by which they are governed; in other words, the power of sending representatives to the Spanish Cortes.

They ask that they shall be ruled by a Governor, only possessing constitutional and not despotite powers. They ask that justice shall be administered not by a single indee or bento of judges, but by a jary of their peers. They ask that the products of other countries which they consume, or would do so were they parmitted, shall be allowed to be imported into this Island upon payment of moderate duties, and that duties which render the introduction of those articles almost impossible, (except by their being samegized,) shall cease to be imposed. These are but a few of the reforms the people of Cuba feel they have a right to demand of Spain, and were even all these (and many more which I have omitted for want of time) granted to Cuba, I feel confident her people will never willingly continue their allegiance to Spain-The numerons acts of tyramy perpetrated upon the inhabitants of Cuba by their Spanish masters, cannot be so easily forgotten—the wounds inflicted are not yet besled. There are widows and orphans yet in Cuba, made so by Ryanish tyramy, and their just cause has still to be averaged. "God of the red right arm," where are thy lightulage? When the scenes to which I have been witness here in Cuba are pradent—yet, "nature is nature," and will at times have the mastery.

Had Spain ten years since granted to the people of Cuba those reforms which she now dole out with such a show of liberality and generosity, then they might perchance have been satisfied, but now (I write from what I personally know of the feelings and views of very many of them,) it is too late. Spain cannot hold be sway over Cuba much longer. Where relief and help is to come from, I confess I know not, but it does appear to me to be quite impossible that an island, whose inhabitante are defacted all staves, shall ery about to their fellowmen, within three days sail of them, asking for add to achieve their freedom, and not receive that help: But I must pass on their recoon, and now recover the Captain General presided at the meeting of the Beard of Directors of the Spanish Bank of Harane, when, among other resolutions, it was resolved the new shares of the bank, to be issued under the record practices permission of Har Majesty, are to be emitted at forty per cent, premium, and to be paid for in cash! Ac-lows: are they not to be pitied?

Don Josquin Camposano has been lately suspended from his offices of Island Tessurer, Head of the Custom-House of this city, the Lottery, etc., et., by his Excellency the Captain-General, for (as is generally understood) having written an impertinent letter to his Excellency the Captain Cheeral, with whom previously Secor C. had been on terms of great intimacy.

reformed, instead of that institution going into liquidation, as war recently reported in this city, and stated by me in a recent letter.

There is a correspondent of certain American newspapers reddent in this city, who, from jealensy or some other equally unworthy case, is constantly seeking to discover errors in the letters of his brother correspondents. Thus I find in an Havana letter, dated 21st August alto, published in a popular New York paper, the following remarks:—"The story published in some of the papers of the Booth, derived from letters of a correspondent in this city, are without foundation. The Drovers and Batchers Bank has not been forced into liquidation by the Government, nor does there exist any came for want of the confidence of the Government, or the people. The Bank is also allowed to continue the introduction of stock, and beef cattle," stee, etc., etc., Before I reply to this attack, I trust, Mesers. Editors, that as the word "letters" is used in it, you will permit me to declare most solemnly that I correspond with but one New Orleans newspaper, your Crescent. That I am neither Roccut AND BRADW with one paper and as playful as an infant with three V's on a string with another. As to the "story" I sent you some time since respecting the Butchess and Drovers' Bank, I wrote it upon the very best authority, and I am as certain as a man can be of anything of which he has not the evidence of his own senses, that what I wrote you was the very truth. Why the District let Marrina published an unusually well-written article upon the subject, in which there assuredly was a dereve fasced completely the Capital Telegration of the confidence of the Government or the people, whoever asserted there was send a cause? I did not, I am off that decree has not been enforced, it is solely from the goodness of the feelings of his Excellency the Capital Telegration of the period of the own telegration of the confidence of the Government or the people, whoever asserted there was send a cause?
