OFFICIAL JOURNAL
COMMON COUNCIL
BOARD OF ASSISTANT ALDERMEN.

TUESDAY, March 6, 1860.

The Board met this day pursuant to adjournment.

Members present: Hon. J. T. Monroe, President; Messrs. Beebe, Benit, Dupré, Hall, Huyghé, Maurice, Moreno, Pettingill and Kingsland—10.

The reading of the journal was, on motion, dispensed with.

The following message was read, and, on motion, the first portion was referred to the Committee on Finance, and the second to the Committee on Streets and Landings:

MAYORALTY OF NEW ORLEANS,
City Hall, March 5, 1860.

To the Honorable the Common Council:

GENTLEMEN—I have received from the Hon. J. P. Benjamin, Attorney General of the State of Louisiana, the official report of the Supreme Court of the United States in the case of the city of New Orleans, plaintiff in error, vs. River Glove Guinea, adverse to the city for the sum of $20,000, with interest and costs, being the amount of the judgment of the Supreme Court, as appears from the judgment, is decided on the ground of the want of sufficient evidence to support the decision.

Accompanying the decree of the Court is the bill of costs, amounting to $66 67, for which Mr. Benjamin became security. I shall, for the present, keep the decree in my office, subject to your order, and shall for the present, to be immediately remitted, for its payment.

I also have the pleasure of enclosing to your honorable body a petition of Rev. Eccl. Thomas J. Durant, requesting the Council to grant to the petitioner the privilege of paving with wood, at his own cost and charges, so much of the street lying between Dryades and Saratoga streets as such a manner as to be on a level with the neighboring streets. I have no objection to the request, but would call the consideration of the Council to the fact that the ordinance prohibiting the paving with wood was passed at the instance of Independence, and whose negotiations at the present time with the Council are pending.

The earnest character and the distinguished ability of the gentleman who proposes to your body this recognition of the claims of Independence to the consideration of the Council, are a sufficient guarantee of the patriotic principles of your own hearts in favor of their success.

Respectfully, your obedient servant,
GERARD STITH, Mayor.

The following message was read, and, on motion, laid over, subject to call:

MAYORALTY OF NEW ORLEANS,
City Hall, March 5, 1860.

To the Honorable the Common Council:

GENTLEMEN—It has been suggested to me by a large number of our fellow citizens that a suitable manner of giving effect to the desire to honor the scholar, statesman and friend of Henry Clay, on the occasion of the erection of the statue on the 12th of April, would be most appropriately carried out by the Council requesting him to be present and deliver the address. I have reason to believe that he may be induced to be present on the city's guest, if an invitation should be tendered to him by the Council.

At the pleasant season of the year, with the increased facilities for travelling, I have every reason to hope that large numbers will be present from every portion of the State, and that it will be with us to do honor to the memory of the great statesman of this age and country.

Under the excitement attendant which recent events have unfortunately once more created, I think the occasion peculiarly propitious for the delivery of an address of the character I desire from the life and the noble deeds of the father of his Country called by a representative from Bunker Hill and Lexington in the days of the Revolution, to the Senate Chamber. If deeply can others, the political waves, surely the sands, the sets, the intersections, the upraisings and the sayings of Washington should be the beacon lights to the Ship of State, and every feeling within the Athenian inside the United States a free, happy and united people.

Whether the health of Mr. Everett will permit him or not to deliver the address, I cannot say, but I am sure the effort would receive the sympathies of patriotic associations of the past.

Respectfully,
GERARD STITH, Mayor.

The following preamble and resolution, adopted by the Board of Aldermen, were read twice and unanimously concurred in, the rules being suspended:

A preamble and resolution requesting the Mayor to invite the Hon. Edward Everett to be present at the erection of the City Hall statue of Henry Clay, and to address the people on that occasion; and a copy of the message and of the preamble and resolution.

The following communication was read and referred to the Committee on Streets and Landings, with the exception of that portion in regard to the St. Bernard market, which was referred to the Committee on Finance:
