NEW ORLEANS DAILY COURIER. PUBLISHED EVERY DAY, SUNDAY EXCEPTED, BY J. O. NIXON, AT No. 70 CAMP STREET. SATURDAY MORNING, MAY 19, 1860. NUMBER 65.

New Orleans Daily Courier. SATURDAY MORNING, MAY 19, 1860. THE REPUBLICAN PLATFORM.

A synopsis of the Republican platform, adopted by the Convention now in session at Chicago, is reported by telegraph. In some respects it is less radical and revolutionary than we had anticipated. It takes ground against any interference with slavery where it already exists, and it condemns the lawless invasion of States, after the manner of John Brown, under whatever pretext, as one of the gravest crimes. It denounces the old Federal Constitution, thus unnecessarily reviv- ing an extinct issue. It proclaims against extrava- gance, and in favor of economy, in the administration of the Federal Government. It declares against the right of the South to carry slaves to the Territories; in favor of the immediate admission of Kansas as a State; in favor of the Home- stead bill and the Pacific Railroad; and against any change in the laws of naturalization. Such, in brief, is the Black Republican platform. A few "glittering generalities," as Caleb Cushing calls them, are added; but these do not mean anything, nor were they so intended. The platform is evidently a retreat from the positions assumed by the Black Republican leaders in Congress. It is manifestly a concession to the "conservative" element of the party—if such a term be allowable in such a connection. If we may draw any inference from this circumstance as to the nomination that will be made, we think that Mr. Seward is already shelved. If the nomination answers to the spirit of the platform, the nominee will be Bates, or Cameron, or Lincoln. Some one less violent than Seward will be put upon the track. It is a notable fact, too, that the Convention falls to promulgate Seward's idea of there being "an irrepressible conflict" between freedom and slavery. Upon this point the platform is silent. If the South has any assurance that this platform reaches the extreme limit of Black Republican in- terference, perhaps we should have cause for alarm and apprehension. Let us not, however, be deceived by its apparent fairness. For instance, at the suggestion of policy alone, they condemn the raid of John Brown into Virginia. But they never have a public meeting anywhere in the North that John Brown is not held up and extolled as a hero and a martyr. The papers in the interest of the party continually echo the same cry. The youth of the country are stimulated to follow his example, and are taught that there is no sinner road to fame than to follow in John Brown's footsteps. It is useless to pass abstract resolutions condemnatory of such incursions in the face of the fact that they are openly encouraged. It was but a few days ago a public speaker in New York declared that Gov. Wise, instead of John Brown, ought to have been hung at Harper's Ferry. These things show the attitude of the Black Republican party, how- ever different may be the formal professions of their National Conventions. So, also, in regard to slavery in the States. They proclaim that they will not interfere with it. But everybody knows that they mean to do so by indirect means. They already have a purpose to abolish slavery in the District of Columbia, and in the public forts and arsenals, and wherever else the Federal Government has jurisdiction. When this is accom- plished the transition will be an easy one to in- dependent attacks upon slavery in the States. As the late Senator Butler once said in the Senate, it is a mockery for an incendiary to disavow any inten- tion of burning a dwelling, when he is industriously engaged all the time in setting fire to all the out- buildings that surround it. Nor is it to be supposed that the South will sub- mit to the decree pronounced by this party, that there must never be any further extension of her "peculiar institution." The country is annually growing and expanding, in every respect—in popu- lation, in wealth, in territorial settlement, and in political strength. To say that the South is not entitled to her legitimate share of this growth and expansion, is to deny her an unquestionable right. To say that slavery must never go beyond its present limits, no matter how great the future growth of the country and the extension of its boundaries, is to put a badge of disgrace upon the nation, as well as to refuse to recognize the fact that we live in the South will never submit to it. With the North this is a question of political power only. With the South it is not merely a question of political power, but one of individual and sectional honor. The South will never consent that the restriction of slavery to its present limits shall be- come the fixed and settled policy of the Federal Government. She asks only fair play and justice, in the equality of rights, in the equality of power, our national growth and expansion. If these are secured her, she will submit with resignation to an adverse result—but not otherwise. This Republican Platform at Chicago has been framed not so much for the purpose of embodying the views and principles of the party making it, as for the purpose of securing the largest possible vote for the nominees who may be placed upon it. This, indeed, is too much to expect of a platform framed not so much for the purpose of embodying the views and principles of the party making it, as for the purpose of securing the largest possible vote for the nominees who may be placed upon it. But it is evident that this Convention meets, not only with the intention of vigorously contesting the election, but with the confident hope of success. In view of the imminent danger of this result, is there no way of combining the conservative elements of the nation, of all parties, North and South, for the purpose of defeating it? If there is such a way, the politicians of the country will be held to a fearful accountability by the people, through personal or political rivalries, they fall to embrace it.

TELEGRAPHED TO THE NEW ORLEANS COURIER. DOMESTIC INTELLIGENCE.

RECEPTION OF HON. JOHN BELL. NASHVILLE, May 18.—The Hon. John Bell, who made a tour through some of the Northern cities, after the adjournment of the Baltimore Convention, has arrived at his home in this city. On reaching the depot, he was met by a large crowd of citizens with the utmost enthusiasm. A welcome address was delivered by the Hon. S. B. Brown. The remarks were of the most flattering nature and highly complimentary. Mr. Bell having expressed his thanks for the honor conferred on him, retired to his home.

CHICAGO RECEPTION. CHICAGO, May 18.—Third Day's Proceedings.—The Convention met this morning pursuant to adjournment. The President announced that the regular order of business would be to ballot for a candidate for the Presidency. On the first ballot the number of votes cast were favorable to Seward.

INCREASE OF PAY IN THE NAVY. We are glad to see that the Senate has passed the bill increasing the pay of officers of the Navy, and we trust it will go through the House with equal facility. The pay of our Navy and Army was established at a time when the cost of living was not more than half what it now is—indeed, for the present times, was wholly inadequate. Congress, more than three years ago, increased the compensation of Army officers, and it is but fair that the same measure of justice be extended to the Navy. The one, no less than the other, should be well paid; for on this to a very great extent, depends the efficiency of the service. Our naval officers, in the event of war, would maintain their former well-earned reputation for gallantry—but we cannot too strongly urge the necessity of increasing the compensation of Army officers, and it is but fair that the same measure of justice be extended to the Navy. The one, no less than the other, should be well paid; for on this to a very great extent, depends the efficiency of the service.

ARRIVAL OF THE HABANA. The steamer Habana, Capt. J. B. McConnell, left Havana at 5 o'clock P. M. on the 18th inst., and arrived at her wharf at an early hour yesterday morning. We are indebted to her purser, Mr. K. Canfield, for the following report: The steamer Philadelphia arrived at Havana at 10 o'clock A. M. on the 18th inst., and sailed for New York at 11 o'clock P. M. with a large number of passengers. The Spanish steamer Ter- ranova, Capt. J. B. McConnell, left Havana at 5 o'clock P. M. on the 18th inst., and arrived at her wharf at an early hour yesterday morning. We are indebted to her purser, Mr. K. Canfield, for the following report: The steamer Philadelphia arrived at Havana at 10 o'clock A. M. on the 18th inst., and sailed for New York at 11 o'clock P. M. with a large number of passengers.

TALK ON CHANGE. General quietness seemed to rule supreme on the floor yesterday. Action was had in relation to the change of the day of the session. The change was dull; money was more easy of access; freight was so-so. In fact, there was very little to report yesterday. We are progressing rapidly toward the summer season. There were several arrivals of steamboats yesterday. Those from the upper country brought good news; the lower trade boats brought a few bales of cotton; a few scores of hogsheads of sugar and barrels of molasses, some dried hides, a few bales of wool, and other little things, making some hundreds of hogsheads of produce for the market. The potato trade can be made one of vast importance. Potatoes of this season's growth have been shipped to New York and Cuba, and yield a large revenue. A million of bushels and more can be raised in the Parish of Plaquemine alone and forwarded to New York before Northern farmers get through ploughing. The rice and potato trade will be very important in the parish of Plaquemine alone, can be made to yield returns to the amount of five millions of dollars. The weekly facilities through steamships will enable producers to supply Northern markets with rice, sugar, and other commodities. We can convince Northern political economists that we can produce something more than cotton and sugar.

PACIFIC RAILROAD. We invite the special attention of our readers this morning to the very able and interesting memorial of the Chamber of Commerce of this city, addressed to the Congress of the United States, on the subject of the proposed railroad from New Orleans to the Pacific Ocean. This memorial, in a brief but effective manner, sets forth the pressing importance of the work, not only in respect of its national character and the commercial benefits it will confer upon the whole Union, but especially with reference to the leading cities of New Orleans, San Francisco and New York. The facts and arguments that are adduced demonstrate the truth of the declaration made in the memorial, that this work has become "a great national necessity."

NEW ORLEANS MUTUAL INSURANCE COMPANY. CAPITAL $1,000,000. OFFICE 111 OLD LEBANON STREET. NEW ORLEANS, LA. This company, incorporated in the State of New York, has been organized for the purpose of insuring against fire, theft, and other risks. It has a capital of $1,000,000, and is managed by a board of directors consisting of some of the most prominent citizens of the city. It has a long and successful record, and is well calculated to meet the needs of the community.
