Weather—Business—Arrivals—Rise in the Ouachita—Red River Falling—The New Era—W. Roberts—The Upper Mississippi—Movements of New Orleans Steamers—Miscellaneous Items—Cold Weather at St. Louis and Cincinnati—Departures To-day, etc.

Observer Office, No. 30 Camp street, Tuesday Morning, Nov. 27, 1860.

The weather yesterday was very mild, particularly, with frequent showers, and now and then a streak of sunshine by way of relief.

Business was dull when the arrivals and departures were those taken into account. The receipts of cotton, however, were fair. The Charmer came in with a good haul of cotton, having nearly 4000 bales. The Anna Perret arrived from Washington with 1253 bales in addition to other freight. The Grosse Tete came in from the coast with 600 bales cotton, 250 bbls. molasses, and 150 bbls. molasses. The Era arrived from Louisville with a good trip of sundries, including 323 bales cotton and 98 bbls. molasses. The Adams returns to Louisville this evening. The arrivals from Red river were the Era No. 7, Eleanor, Gen. Hodges and Mora, all with light trips. They all report low water, with 4 feet mean to Alexandria. The U.S. Conley has laid up at Alexandria.

The Arkadelphia City arrived from the head of navigation on the Ouachita. She reports a rise of 42 feet at Arkadelphia, although the river was again falling when she left. The water was rising all the way down, however, and heavy rains had fallen in that part of the country. There was 8 feet on Fenner's Bar. The Arkadelphia city left the head-waters of the Ouachita a week ago last Sunday.

The new Red river packet T. W. Roberts, Capt. R. R. Roberts, commander, and Capt. Leon Roeller, clerk, came in port yesterday on her maiden trip. She is a fine packet, for which we will have a word or two to say to-morrow.

Late arrivals from White and Little rivers at Memphis report a rise in those streams amounting in the latter to about 18 inches.

The 21st January and Hiawatha arrived hence at St. Louis on the 23d. The Skylark and Alonzo Child departed same day for this city. The Madison left Cincinnati on the 23d for this city.

The Mavis Deming and A. C. Taylor arrived hence at Memphis on the 24th. The Grand Duke, Prince of Wales and H. R. W. Hill passed down for this city same day.

The Ohio was cold at St. Louis on the 23d. The Upper Mississippi is rising slowly and stood below Dubuque. The river rose an inch at St. Louis on the 23d.

There is a fine stage of water reported in the Tennessee, and four feet nine inches on the Cumberland.

Freights for New Orleans were in good offering at St. Louis last Friday.

The weather at Cincinnati on the 23d was cold with a heavy snow-storm in the afternoon. Freights for New Orleans were nominal, at last quotations.

The Mississippi was falling at Memphis on Saturday at the rate of 12 inches in 24 hours. The Ohio was also receding slowly at last accounts.

The A. C. Taylor arrived at Memphis on Saturday from the wreck of the steamer Belfast, with two hundred bales of cotton, her cabin furniture and such articles as could be saved. She has been on the cabin which was burned off in hopes of rendering it possible to obtain the cotton stowed away in her engine-rooms and aft.

The Cashoma Citizen, published at Friars' Landing, Miss., of the 21st inst. says:

"For the last few days the Red has been falling slowly. The water is clear as brandy."

The Simmons is one of the finest steamers in packets ever constructed, and was built expressly to meet the requirements of the Ouachita trade. She is staunch as adamant, and as elegant as staunch, having a magnificent cabin, and first-class accommodations for a large number of passengers.
