LATEST INTELLIGENCE BY THE MAILS

Thirty-Sixth Congress—Second Session.

TRIDAY, Dec. 4.—Sens. The following Senators, in addition to those mentioned yesterday, appeared in their seats today: Mr. Thomson, of New York; Mr. Johnson, of Tennessee; Mr. Hart, of Iowa; Mr. Gwin, of California; Mr. Wilkinson, of Minnesota; and Iverson, of Georgia.

Mr. Johnson, of Tennessee, appeared yesterday on the part of the Senate to wait on the President and inform him that a quorum of both Houses had assembled and were ready to proceed to business, and that the committee had performed their duty, and that the President had replied that he would make a communication in writing.

In a few moments afterwards the annual message of the President of the United States was received and read from the Secretary's desk by Mr. Johnson.

Mr. Clingman moved that the message be printed; and he proceeded to give some reasons to justify the complaint of the cotton-growing States.

Mr. Johnson, in reply, said that he had no objection to the message being printed, and that he would make a communication in writing.

The House met at 12 o'clock M. The Rev. T. H. Stockton addressed an eloquent and eloquent invocation to the Divine Throne.

Mr. Johnson, of Tennessee, was appointed on the part of the House to act in committee with a similar committee on the part of the Senate, to wait on the President and inform him of the result of the two Houses to receive any communication he might desire to make, and report thereon.

Mr. Johnson, of Tennessee, made an unsuccessful attempt to have his resolution adopted.

Mr. Johnson, of Tennessee, moved to adjourn. He thought it was about time to do so, and he subsequently withdrew the motion.
