

New Orleans Daily Crescent.

OFFICIAL JOURNAL OF THE STATE OF LOUISIANA. W. G. NIXON, Editor and Proprietor. OFFICE, NO. 94 CAMP STREET.

MONDAY MORNING, JULY 16, 1906.

Having my temporary absence from the city the Editorial Department of the CRESCENT will be under the charge of W. B. SHERMAN, Sec.

SHREVEPORT NEWS.—We received a call yesterday from one of our best friends Mr. John Robinson, editor of one of our best valued papers, the Shreveport News.

TRAINS.—Our thanks are tendered to the officers of the steamer Lillian for late Texas papers.

BELLEVILLE CONVENTION.—At the request of the President pro tem, of this convention, we call attention to the next meeting of this convention which takes place at Elysian Hall, on Tuesday 17th inst., at 7 P. M.

In order that no misapprehension may occur in regard to the intentions of the State, we desire to state that all such associations are requested to send delegates. It is not intended to take any action to amend such associations or call upon them to contribute their funds or change their policies.

Mr. Post Master General Denison, although he has been known months ago that he was not in political accord with the President, has only recently had the decency to resign.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL SUMMARY.—The gold market opened steady on Saturday at 150@150, advanced to 151@151, and subsequently receded to 150@151, which were the closing figures.

Foreign Exchange.—The movement in Shanghai and France has been partially suspended since our last. Offerings of commercial bills were much smaller than had been anticipated.

Domestic Exchange.—Increased weakness and inactivity are the most prominent features of the movement in Domestic Exchange.

Uncurrent Notes and Securities.—Transactions in the former have been of a very limited character since our last, but the movement in the latter was active both at the Broker Board and upon the spot.

Cotton.—The market was almost at a standstill on Saturday, and rates were restricted to 600 bales, at irregular but not notably lower prices.

Sugar and Molasses.—There is a fair supply of imported sugar and molasses on hand, but the stock of Louisiana is almost wholly exhausted.

Wheat.—Flour is still in very limited supply and demand at unsteady rates. The stock of Corn in most hands on the landing is entirely exhausted.

Provisions.—Pork is in good supply and very firm held at our quotations in the commercial column, but the demand for it, except at retail, is still quite restricted.

Strenuous efforts are being made in Washington to secure a pardon for Col. Paulding, who lost nearly $500,000 of government funds by the failure of the Merchants' National Bank, and who is now in Fort Mifflin.

THE WAR IN GERMANY.

It is difficult to form any accurate conclusion in regard to the war in Germany from the reports, and to some extent, conflicting accounts transmitted by the telegraph.

The war between Austria and Prussia is no longer a war for the Elbe and Rhine, but a struggle for the mastery of the world, for the moment, it is a struggle for the mastery of the world.

The tour of General Sherman through his geographical division is suggestive of that made many years ago by a distinguished officer, who insisted that Cleveland, Buffalo and Detroit were on the shortest road, connecting Washington City and the Blue Lick Springs in Kentucky.

INSINCTS OF RACES.—Dr. J. C. Not, of Meville, is an eminent member of the medical profession. He is remembered where he is not personally known, as the associate of Glendon in compiling that work, and in other labors he has undertaken.

The object of the article before us, which is to be followed in the succeeding number of the journal by another paper on the same subject, is to show "the instinctive dislike of the negro race to agricultural labor."

Prussia, by her activity in occupying Hanover and Saxony and Nassau—States whose obtruding territory cuts her dominions in two—has not only gained a great military advantage, but she has put herself in the way of making good use of that current of opinion which seems to be turning in her favor.

Gen. Sherman commands the military division of which St. Louis is the headquarters. His territory lies chiefly west of the Mississippi river.

OFFICIAL TOURS.—Gen. Sherman commands the military division of which St. Louis is the headquarters. His territory lies chiefly west of the Mississippi river.

After having shown that the agricultural industry of the people of China and India has swayed itself of every foot of arable soil, and has thereby supported, amidst every political convulsion, a teeming population, our author demonstrates that the impatience of the negro for agricultural pursuits has left his African home undeveloped for ages, sorely sustaining one-fourth of the population of China alone.
