FRIDAY MORNING, SEPTEMBER 21, 1866.

NEW GERMAN NEWSPAPER.—We had the pleasure last evening of being present at one of the most generous and agreeable reunions in connection with press movements in this city which it has been our lot to enjoy.

The office is situated at 48 Bienville street. But opposite there is an establishment that proved even more attractive than the office, after this had been viewed for some little time.

A city contemporary says that letters addressed to the editor, if they contain "cross words," will be returned unopened.

Our thanks are tendered to the officers of the steamer Louise for late Monday papers.

Through the kindness of the officers of the Southern Express we have Jackson papers of the 20th.

The indefatigable Master Sam Small is again entitled to our thanks for late Boston, Cincinnati and New York papers.

We are indebted to an unknown friend and well-wisher for a number of copies of the Orleans (Marion) Railway "Era" of various dates.

The Academy. Senior Chisholm and his talented troupe continue to attract large houses and to keep them well satisfied when they come.

THE ST. CHARLES.—The curtain falls to-night upon Dupree & Benedict's misdeeds, and we presume that those who listen to their last play will find them most in close.

REVUE DE STAMPS.—Instructions have been issued by the treasury department to all the assistant treasurers, and to several collectors of customs, requiring them to keep on hand packages of internal revenue stamps, which are to be sold to the public at the same rates of commission as are allowed by the internal revenue bureau.

There was a serious riot in the outskirts of Cincinnati on the 16th. A German Turner's association were holding a picnic, when they were interrupted by a party of rascals, who insisted on dancing with the women, and eating and drinking without paying.

A Leavenworth dispatch says the Sioux, Arapahoes and Cheyennes have taken the war-path against the ranchmen.

The notorious bloodhound, General John McNeil, is a candidate for sheriff of St. Louis.

THE CLEVELAND CONVENTION.

The telegraph has condensed to give us only a very brief statement of the proceedings at the Cleveland convention on last Monday; but that little is eminently satisfactory.

If the spirit which seems to animate these men only pervaded the public mind of the North, the problem of reconstruction would be very simple.

We do not complain of them that they entertain views of public policy which do not accord with ours.

Had it not been for the course which has been pursued by the radicals, long before this time population and wealth would have been pouring into the South, and we should have been able to demonstrate that no people can excel us in recuperative capacity.

A new method of computing interest on any number of dollars at six per cent, appears very simple.

A singular and most distressing scene took place, on the 16th, in a graveyard at Edgewood, Ill., where, during the funeral ceremonies over the body of a child of Mr. John Gaffney, the mourners and attendants were attacked by a swarm of bumble bees.

THE PROTEST OF THE CLEVELAND CONVENTION, against this wicked system of misrepresentation, and against the objects with which that system is used, is a refreshing symptom of reaction against radical violence.

THE NEW YORK WORLD says: "The Rev. Henry Ward Beecher's second letter to the Tribune mightily, and the only response it can make is to reproach the writer for 'aiming a blow at the life of the Republican party.'"

A POWERFUL LOCOMOTIVE.—A monster locomotive has been added to the rolling stock of the Lehigh and Mahoning Branch of the Tonawanda Valley Railroad.

THE SITUATION OF POLITICAL AFFAIRS IN THE SOUTH unquestionably presents such a flow of emigration to the Southern States, and is as desirable in view of the reconstruction of that country, and their growth in material prosperity.

THE WHOLE SOUTH IS kept in a condition of the greatest uneasiness, political and civil, by the course that has been pursued by the Congress, and that uneasiness is intensifying.

THE TIMES IS RIGHT. There is nothing so well calculated to deter people from coming to the South as the course pursued towards these States by the dominant congressional majority.

ON THURSDAY a negro woman in Jackson, Miss., was heading a kettle of water, she placed two old bomb shells in the fire to support the kettle.

SECRETARY SEWARD'S SICKNESS was so severe that it was one time feared that he would not reach Washington alive.

CHOLERA prevails in Grimes county, Texas, to an alarming extent.

ROYAL STREET RAILWAYS.

Among the unwhipped legacies left by the last city administration was a controversy between the residents of Royal street, and the contractors who purchased the privilege of constructing a railway along that thoroughfare.

Water-colors, warranted not to contain any poisonous ingredients, are manufactured in Paris. Artists who use them, however, had better avoid the practice of moistening the brush by putting it into the mouth.

THE FRENCH PRESIDENT, in connection with the National Portrait Exhibition, open in London for some time past, is, perhaps, the finest collection of portraits by the most famous masters, ancient and modern, ever brought together.

CHICKS IN CARROLL COUNTY, Miss.—A friend, writing on business from Carroll county, says in reference to the crops:

Are Items.

IN THE PARIS EXHIBITION, M. Jucker exposes a drawing in colored crayons, in which he manages cleverly to introduce a certain notorious figure of Paris. It is a composition of still-life, displaying some green gherkins, red peppers, pickled gherkins in a bottle, a pipe and a cat.

England has made an effort to induce Turkey to grant the right of self-government to the Cretes, and failed. Turkey could hardly understand why privileges should be granted to poor Cretes which are refused to poor Englishmen.
