J. C. NIXON, Editor and Proprietor.

OFFICE, NO. 94 CANAL STREET.

Yearly subscription, in advance, $10; half yearly, $5; monthly, $1. Single copies, 10 cents.

FRIDAY MORNING, OCTOBER 12, 1866.

During my temporary absence from the city the editorial department of the Crescent will be under the charge of W. M. SENEZ, Esq., J. C. NIXON, Proprietor.

THE DEATH OF GENERAL HILLMAN.—A correspondent furnishes us some further particulars about this estimable gentleman, who, with his son and daughter, was lost on the Evening Star. At the time of his death he was one of the proprietors and managers of the Vicksburg Cotton Press, in connection with Mr. H. Bowman and Assistant Alderman Higginbotham. His son was a promising young man, nineteen years of age, on his way home from Paris, where he had been at school. His daughter, Maggie, had been spending the summer at Albany, New York, with her aunt, Mr. Hillman's sister. She was, in delicate health, unable to stand the fatigue of travel by rail, and it was for this reason Mr. Hillman was coming home by sea.

A dispatch from Bureau Allen, of the ill-fated ship, addressed to a gentleman of this city, says that "most undoubtedly all three are now lost."

Mr. Hillman leaves a daughter, who was married in April last, and now resides in Oregon. Another daughter is married to A. B. Reading, Esq., a well known and respected citizen, doing business in Vicksburg, Mobile and New Orleans.

Mr. Hillman was at one time Grand Master of the Old Ball of Louisiana, and had a large circle of friends. The old residents in the neighborhood of Dryades Market will miss his familiar presence, where he was wont to meet with and talk to his friends in the mornings, when providing for the daily wants of his family.

PERSONAL.—We had the pleasure of a visit yesterday from Capt. Kinney, one of the editors of that excellent journal, the Brownsville Rambler. Capt. Kinney is on a trip to the West, whither he is going to visit his family. We hope to see him again on his way back to Texas.

NATIONAL EXPRESS COMPANY.—We received a dispatch from Richmond yesterday, from a gentleman in a position to be well informed, which states that "measures have been adopted at a meeting of the stockholders of the National Express Company which it is believed, will make it a great success."

Judge P. Hickey Morgan, of this city, yesterday received from the President his commission as United States district attorney for Louisiana.

FRENCH BROTHERHOOD.—The officers of the French Brotherhood in New Orleans and vicinity are, referred to the notice of Colonel Thomas J. Kelly, inviting them to meet him this (Friday evening) at 9 o'clock at the Brooks House, corner of Canal and Basin streets, for the transaction of business.

All sympathizers with the cause of Irish liberty are also invited to communicate with Col. Kelly during his sojourn in this city. He holds a position which entitles him to speak by authority for the cause hereabouts.

The Mobile Register states that Mr. Nanning, one of the proprietors of the Baton Rouge Hotel, is supposed to have taken passage, with forty servants, on the Evening Star, and further that Christmas, of the evening, forty of his passengers are having also started on that ill-fated vessel. The latter statement will be looked on as apocryphal.

Many Mobile merchants and other citizens, lately on a tour to the North, are daily looked for by their friends, and as much messengers and uncertainty are felt in our streets, as have hitherto clouded over New Orleans since the news of the appalling disaster.

The editor of the Richmond Times states that the number of criminal cases before the courts in that city had been more than quadrupled by the change in the status of the negro. He says that, the whole time of the courts is taken up by negro trials, and that it is very certain that half a dozen penitentiaries will not suffice to contain the negroes who are likely to be convicted of larceny during the next year. But what makes the negroes of Richmond so much worse than the negroes of other cities?

A MEXICAN DISCOVERY.—A copy of the Indiana Republican, dated November 15, 1821, has been lately brought to light, and contains the following personal denunciation of a runaway negro for whose apprehension a reward of six dollars was offered:

Blank complexion, dark-featured, and a little black-headed, rather stout when walking, high cheekbones, rather a hollow eye, one of his ears considerably disfigured from being bit, the points of his ears to the top of his head above the level of his ears, and when interested in some matter was in a habit of talking, has cut very thick hair, and is an excellent workman, and values himself as being a complete house-carrier.

Wonder of the above description wouldn't answer for the Southern Whig convention in every particular except color.

We are indebted to Hon. N. G. Taylor, member of Congress, for an official report of the proceedings of the national convention of Union soldiers and sailors held at Cleveland, Ohio, Sept. 17th and 18th.

We are indebted to the officers of the steamer Florida for late Florida papers. We have to thank Captain Kinney, of the Brownsville Rambler, for two late numbers of his valuable and interesting paper. Mr. Auguste Simon, near dealer, 85 Barronne street, sends us Chicago, Cincinnati and Washington papers of the 6th, Cincinnati of the 9th, and late copies of "The Irish Press" and "The Jewish Messenger," both published at New York.

Thanks to the officers of the steamer Texas for late Savannah and Alexandria papers.

THE CRESCENT.

Our readers will bear us witness that it is very seldom allusion is made in these columns to our paper. We have been content to deserve and receive the generous favors of our friends, and to make them the best return we could, not by vaunting our own merits, but by giving them a journal in which, with the latest news of the day, we have endeavored to discuss all questions of public interest with candor, honesty, impartiality, and dignity.

We are, however, tempted to depart to-day from our general rule, because to-day is an anniversary in the history of this paper. It is precisely one year, since its reestablishment. On the 13th of October 1865, the paper having been suspended and confiscated in 1863 by Gen. Butler, without shadow of authority, either in law, or under the vague plea of "military necessity," we resumed the publication of the Crescent, with new material out and out, not doubting that the people of New Orleans, of Louisiana, and of the adjoining States, would rally again to the support of a journal which had been always honestly devoted to what was believed to be their best interests, and confident that the same degree of success which had attended our former labors would again crown our renewed efforts.

To say that we have not been disappointed is to state not only the exact truth, but to do a simple act of justice to the intelligence, generosity, and steadfastness of our friends. Our old friends, almost without exception, encouraged us not with good wishes only, but with that substantial expression of favor which, while it was most agreeable in a personal sense, testified their confidence in our ability to give them a paper worthy of their favor, and creditable to the journalism of the South. From the first issue of the new Crescent not a day has passed without adding to our list of subscribers, and though we are not in the habit of boasting of our circulation or business, we can say that the future of our paper has been secure from the first week of its reestablishment, and that since the birth of the paper in 1848, the Crescent has never been so solid, substantial, and permanent a footing as at present. While we confess that we have labored hard to accomplish this end, yet we would be inconsistent to the ordinary impulses of justice and gratitude if we failed to acknowledge the sympathy, encouragement, and substantial patronage which have been extended us by the hosts of friends, old and new.

This encouraged us here from time to time during the year added largely to the material and resources of the establishment. In the newspaper department we have an outfit of new type and other material not surpassed by that of any office in the country, while we have organized a job office at a heavy expense, which is complete in all its appointments, and gives us the means of doing any printing as well and as cheaply as it can be done anywhere south of the Potomac.

But we confess that we are not yet satisfied, nor shall we be until there shall be left no further room for improvement in the Crescent. We are now having constructed by the most celebrated manufacturers in the world, Messrs. R. Hoe & Co., of New York, a mammoth printing press, which we expect to receive about the first of November, and which will enable us to print any edition of the paper, no matter how large, in one-half the time it would take on the press we are now using. By this means we shall be enabled to keep the forms open for the latest intelligence, and yet have the paper ready for distribution at a very early hour in the morning.

As soon as our new press is received we shall publish the Crescent on Sunday mornings as well as other days, and thereafter the paper will be issued every day in the year, Sundays and holidays not excepted. A daily newspaper, by which is meant a newspaper every day in the year, is a necessity of the times, and we yield to the pressure of that necessity. Our subscribers will thus receive 365 papers a year for their money, instead of 308 as at present. The Sunday paper, while it will contain all the latest news by telegraph and mail up to the hour of going to press, will make a speciality of the current literature of the day, and will contain original and selected essays, stories, poetry, and religious, agricultural, and miscellaneous intelligence.

At the same time—about the first of November—we shall begin the publication of an evening edition, designed more especially for city circulation, and containing the latest local and general intelligence, the state of the markets, the movements in commerce, and telegraphic intelligence of all matters of interest.

Our weekly will continue to be issued every Saturday, to the contents of which special attention will be given, so as to make it not only a vehicle of the latest news, but a welcome visitor to the planter in his agricultural, literary and miscellaneous intelligence. The subscription to our weekly is rapidly extending in all the surrounding States. Only a limited number of advertisements will be received, the weekly being devoted almost exclusively to what is technically called reading matter.

It will thus be seen that we are going to add very largely to our labors, our responsibilities, and our expenses. But our labors will be lightened somewhat by additions to already large and faithful corps of assistants—the responsibilities we are willing to assume—and for the increased expenses we rely upon the increase of business which must result from our contemplated improvements.

We have but one thing more to add, and that is, that we shall endeavor to make the Crescent still more worthy, in every respect, of the favor with which it has been received by an intelligent public.

THE ELECTIONS FOR MEMBERS OF CONGRESS AND FOR STATE OFFICERS IN SOME OF THE NORTHERN STATES HAVE BEEN HELD. THE RESULT HAS NOT ANSWERED THE EXPECTATIONS OF MANY. POLITICAL MADNESS STILL RULES THE HOUR. RADICAL MAJORITIES HAVE BEEN ISSUED. IT IS TRUE, AS FAR AS THE POPULAR VOTE IS CONCERNED, BUT THEIR STRENGTH HAS BEEN SLIGHTLY INCREASED IN THE NEXT CONGRESS. IF THE VOTE IN NEW YORK, WHICH IS TO BE TAKEN NEXT MONTH, SHOULD CORRESPOND WITH THAT IN THE STATES FROM WHICH WE HAVE JUST HEARD, THE NEXT CONGRESS WILL CONTAIN A SUFFICIENT NUMBER OF RADICALS TO CONTROL THE LEGISLATION OF THE COUNTRY IN SPITE OF THE PRESIDENT'S VETO. THEIR ACTION IN EXCLUDING SOUTHERN REPRESENTATION IS REVOLUTIONARY, IT IS TRUE, BUT IT IS AN ACCOMPLISHED REVOLUTION, AND WE HAVE NO REASON TO EXPECT THAT A PARTY WHICH HAS BEEN SO UNPOPULAR IN THE PAST WILL PURSUE IN THE FUTURE ANY LESS RESOLUTE POLICY THAN THAT WHICH HAS CHARACTERIZED ITS PAST HISTORY. IT IS NOT IN THE HOUR OF THEIR TRIUMPH THAT THEY WILL STAY THE UPLIFTED ROD. IT IS NOT THE HEART OF A STEVENS, OR A BANKS, OR A SUMNER, OR A BUTLER THAT REFORMS A CLAIM OF JUSTICE, OR IS INSPIRED BY A SENSE OF MAGNANIMITY FOR THE FALLEN. THEY WILL BE SLOW TO ENCOUNTER AN OPPONENT ON EQUAL GROUNDS, BUT THEIR MAGNANIMITY INCREASES IN PROPORTION TO THEIR POWER TO HARM, AND THEIR APPETITE FOR EVIL GROWS UPON THE VERY INJURIES THEY INFLICT. THEY WILL SHAPE THE POLICY OF THE RADICAL ELEMENT IN THE NEXT CONGRESS. IT BEHOVES AS THEREFORE TO CONSIDER WHETHER WE, AS A PORTION OF THE CONSERVATIVE ELEMENT OF THE COUNTRY, WILL PREPARE OURSELVES TO HEND TO THE WILL OF THESE IMPROBABLE MEN, AND TO ABANDON THE SUPPORT OF THE PRESIDENT AND HIS POLICY, OR WHETHER WE WILL YIELD OUR SUPPORT TO THE CONSTITUTION AND THE LAWS, AND SUSTAIN THE PRINCIPLES WHICH ARE ADVOCATED SO JUSTLY BY THE EXECUTIVE OF THE COUNTRY.

THE PURPOSE OF THE RADICALS IS TO SECURE, FIRST, THE REIFICATION OF THE PROPOSED AMENDMENT TO THE CONSTITUTION. THEY ARE WILLING THAT THE COUNTRY SHOULD BELIEVE THAT ON THE RATIFICATION OF THIS AMENDMENT BY THE STATE LEGISLATURES, THE SOUTH WILL BE ADMITTED TO REPRESENTATION IN CONGRESS. BUT THEY ARE NOT PLEDGED TO THIS ADMISSION OF OUR REPRESENTATIVES, NOR DO THEY DESIGN TO ADMIT THEM. AND EVEN IF THEY WERE DOUBTLY PLEDGED TO SUCH A COURSE WE HAVE NO RIGHT TO INTERFERE WITH THEIR CHOICE, WHICH WILL BE RESPECTED BY US, WHEN AN OBJECT SHALL BE REACHED BY THEM. THEIR OBJECT IN SECURING THE AMENDMENT TO THE CONSTITUTION IS NOT TO SECURE THE ADMISSION OF SOUTHERN REPRESENTATIVES, BUT, ON THE CONTRARY, TO GIVE THEM A PRETEXT FOR LEGISLATING UNDER COLOR OF THE AMENDED CONSTITUTION WHICH MAY ENABLE THEM INDEFINITELY TO POSTPONE THE ADMISSION OF THE SOUTHERN STATES TO THEIR RIGHT OF REPRESENTATION.

THIS DESIGN IS SUFFICIENTLY APPARENT IN THE POSITIONS ALREADY TAKEN BY SOME OF THE EXPONENTS OF THE RADICAL POLICY. THE CHICAGO REPUBLICAN, FOR INSTANCE, IN A RECENT ISSUE, CONTENDS THAT CONGRESS ALREADY HAS THE POWER OF PRESCRIBING TO THE STATES WHICH CLASSES OF CITIZENS SHALL BE ENTITLED TO THE RIGHT OF SUFFRAGE; AND THAT UNDER THE AUTHORITY OF CONGRESS TO GUARANTEE A REPUBLICAN FORM OF GOVERNMENT, THAT EXTRAORDINARY BODY HAS THE RIGHT TO DISFRANCHISE NEARLY EVERY WHITE MAN AT THE SOUTH AND TO CONFIDE ALMOST EXCLUSIVELY UPON NEGROES THE RIGHT OF SUFFRAGE IN THE SOUTHERN STATES. IF A DOCTRINE SO WILD AND SO UNJUST CAN BE SECTIONALLY URGED UNDER THE CONSTITUTION AS IT NOW STANDS, THERE IS NO LIMIT TO THE PRETENSIONS WHICH WOULD BE SET UP IN BEHALF OF THE EXPONENTS OF THE RADICAL POLICY. PERSONAL.

A divorce has been granted to Mrs. John La Mountain, wife of the well known aeronaut. There is some opposition to the nomination of Gen. Banks, in his district. Mr. Dickens intends to give another series of readings in London, to commence immediately after Christmas. Sir Frederick Madden has resigned the keepership of the manuscripts of the British Museum, an office which he has held for forty years. Nicotini Garibaldi, who was recently injured by being thrown from his father's horse, is slowly recovering. The pope has sent several medals in gold and silver, bearing his effigy, to the soldiers of charity who have been in attendance on the cholera patients at Aniene. David Dunsbar, a sculptor, at Dumfries, Scotland, is dead. His best works are busts from life, and some copies in marble from the antique. He had executed a bust of Grace Darling, which was several times reproduced in marble by the Bishop of Durham and others. Brigades Brownlow has been suffering from an attack of bile, at the Burnett House, Cincinnati. The sudden stoppage of his board bill by the central committee has made him convalescent, and he will soon be able to travel. Dr. William Elder, of Philadelphia, has resigned his position in the bureau of statistics in the treasury department. Alexander Deinar has received the appointment.

THE HON. ISAAC N. ARNOLD, sixth auditor of the treasury, formerly member of Congress from Chicago, has resigned his auditing. Mr. Arnold was the life-long friend of Lincoln, his chief competitor at the Illinois bar, and was selected by him as the historian of his administration. His appointment was the last one made by Mr. Lincoln.

SENATOR WILSON, of Massachusetts, the other day addressed a meeting presided over by a man who called the President "a drunken tradesman." The Nashville Union well remarks that it is Massachusetts shoddy turning up its nose at honest labor. The remark, too, must have pleased Wilson, who commenced his career as a soldier, and who would, no doubt, have been a very worthy member of society if he had stuck to the last.

FORNEY, in one of the Pennsylvania speeches, says that the President was complimentary when he classed him among the species of defect or malodorous. He may (says the Boston Post) be complimented, but we are inclined to the opinion that he was unnecessarily severe on the latter.

LONG JOHN WENTWORTH improved the occasion of the arrival of the Torch-and-Turquoise troupe at Chicago, by getting beastly drunk. The Chicago Post and Tribune, both radical sheets, upbraided him smartly for such conduct.

M. JERMAN GOLDSCHMIDT, the well-known astronomer, has just died at Fontainebleau. Though only an amateur in the sciences, he had discovered fourteen telescopic planets, and his only instrument was a common opera-glass. We have heard of a great many people who see stars through opera-glasses, but we don't call them astronomers.

A BOSTONIAN CORRESPONDENT OF THE LONDON ATHLETIC, is trying to prove Tennyson a plagiarist. M. THIESS is at present staying at the Chateau de Franconville, on a visit to M. Roger (du Nord), preparing notes for a grand discourse on the affairs of Germany.

JOSEPH DION is to play McDevitt's match at billiards for the American championship, and $1,000, October 6th, at Montreal. It is to be a carom, 1000 points.
