

ADDITIONAL LOCALS.

Fred Coupland is in Prescott.

Prof. Clapp has returned from Los Angeles.

Twitty & Parker have opened their stock of goods in the hall under the Odd Fellows' building.

Owing to sickness Dr. Waite has gone to the mountains for two or three weeks with his family to recuperate.

Lantry Brothers' force of masons and workmen are making rapid headway with their new work on the Santa Fe Pacific reservoir.

General Manager William F. Dermont, of the Saginaw and Manistee Lumber Company, is a Los Angeles visitor this week.

Mr. Millard, of the firm of D. W. Millard & Son of Phoenix, architects, has been in Williams for a few days since the fire. He is working on designs for several new buildings.

With Cochise county in the $9,000,000 assessed valuation rank and the tax rate the lowest in the territory, it will be quite a change from the order of things heretofore.—Tombstone Prospector.

F. G. Dodson, of Williams, is in Prescott with a view of locating here. He expects to engage in mining in this vicinity. Mr. Dodson is one of the sufferers by the recent fire in Williams.—Prescott Courier.

Bill Hull, the pioneer and the man who laid out all the wagon roads between here and the Grand Canyon, returned to Williams this week after a six months' prospecting tour.

The many friends of Judge Johnston regret that sickness has confined him to his room the most of this week. Times are too rushing at present to see any of the wheel horses have to lay off for repairs.

Del Rio water has a flavor of 5 per cent. bonds. Some mistake it for a bad taste from the pipes. As the days roll by when we have to depend on the water the bad taste will grow stronger.—Prescott Journal-Miner.

Max J. Alwens came in from Maxton Saturday. There are about 200 men employed at mining camps in his immediate vicinity, which figures up a pay-roll of $700 a day. The pay-roll of the camps directly south of Prescott is said to figure up over $100,000 a month.—Prescott Courier.

The News is now ready to accept work of all kinds. All material has not as yet been received, but it is on the road, and when it is received and arranged the News office will be as it was before the fire—the neatest and completest office in the Southwest.

J. C. Brown, formerly manager of the Saginaw Lumber Company of Williams, but who resigned the position to engage in the oil business, is interested in a well near Los Angeles in which oil was struck only a few days since and which produces 200 barrels per day. Mr. Brown is one of those men that his host of friends here are glad to hear of any and all good luck that may befall him.

The News is pleased to acknowledge, through the courtesy of Rev. Brewer, the receipt of the catalogue for 1900 and 1901 of St. Matthew's Military School at San Mateo, Cal. This is one of the best boys' schools in the world, and under the management of Rev. Brewer is making a reputation and securing students as far east as the Mississippi in this country, and practically controls the situation south to Central America.

An attempt has been made to improve the appearance of the News this week over those issues since the fire. Many things have been left out because of the slowness of stock and material arriving. The new heading this week is, we believe, something new and unique and entirely out of the ordinary. We have attempted to combine originality with strength, yet preserve taste and beauty. If there is a similar style in newspaper heading in use anywhere, we have not seen it and are ignorant of the fact.

Base Ball.

The baseball enthusiasts of Williams, Flagstaff and Winslow are destined to witness some hotly contested games in the near future, as the three mentioned towns have formed a league. The following games have been scheduled:

Winslow at Flagstaff, July 21.
Williams at Winslow, July 28.
Williams at Flagstaff, August 4.
Flagstaff at Winslow, August 11.
Winslow at Williams, August 18.
On the Fourth of July Williams defeated Flagstaff and last Sunday Flagstaff turned the table and administered a defeat to the Williams team in an eleven inning game. Williams has also defeated Winslow, so it is a difficult matter to pick the winner in the series of games now on. The local boys show the lack of practice, and W. G. Kelley, the pitcher that has been Winslow's main stand-by in season's past, unfortunately threw his arm out on the 5th. Although he has not fully recovered his old form, he will be in the box next Sunday and will undoubtedly give a good account of himself. Several new men are in the personnel of the local team. U. Brown, an old Gallup boy will hold down first base, while Rueben Herr, formerly center fielder for the University of Iowa, will take care of short stop. The line-up of the team will be as follows:

W. G. Kelley, pitcher; P. Buckley, catcher; U. Brown, first base; A. Flickinger, second base; R. Herr, short stop; B. Downs, third base; H. Channell, left field; D. Downs, center field; C. Burgett, right field; substitutes, J. Briscoe, Ed. Wolf, W. Workman.—Winslow Correspondence, Albuquerque Citizen.

Harrie K. Harkness, the young attorney known to many of the people of Mohave county, has organized the Southern Exploration Company for the purpose of engaging in mining and commercial pursuits. Mr. Harkness is a hustler, and is sure to make a name for himself in the commercial world.—Mohave County Miner.

J. T. Cone, one of the best photographers around, wishes to notify all that he has his studio at his residence, and is prepared to take any and all kinds of pictures and photographs. All work first-class and strictly guaranteed.

The Clark people are preparing to let a contract for seventy miles of grading on the Salt Lake-San Pedro line. Two roads to the Coast from Salt Lake will give the people of Zion all the necessary transportation facilities their hearts may desire.

Owing to the fact that electrical power will be installed on the Colorado river within a year mining should have an upward tendency in this county. With cheap power the cost of ore extraction would be brought down to a minimum and new methods of mining and extraction introduced. Along the river are many sites for the generation of power, and some of these sites will soon be used. Water will be pumped on to the fertile lands of the county and the desert made to bloom, giving to the mining communities the necessaries of life at a much reduced cost over the present market prices.—Mohave County Miner.

NOTICE.

The undersigned, owners of the Last Chance, Last Chance Extension, Amethyst and Amethyst Extension mines, situated in Coconino county, Arizona, having bonded and leased the same, will not be responsible, either themselves or the property, for any debts contracted for the same during the same period.
