THE DEMOCRATIC COMMITTEE.

The movement to organize an anti-radical party in Louisiana is essentially judicious and expedient. The gentlemen who have initiated it will certainly be supported by a large majority of the white people of the State...

THE DECLARATION IN THE BILL OF THE NON-EXISTENCE OF CIVIL GOVERNMENTS.

The declaration in the bill of the non-existence of civil governments in the ten unrepresented States, was no doubt provoked by the soldierly as well as statesmanlike position taken by Gen. Hancock...

THE STATE LEGISLATURE.

The time is near at hand for the annual meeting of the State legislature. In consequence of the obstructive course pursued by Gen. Hancock's predecessors, no election was held last November...

MONDAY AT THE FAIR GROUNDS.

During the forenoon yesterday, the weather was very cold and penetrating, and the clouds lowering. Every now and then, after 1 o'clock, the sun shone out for awhile...

AS THERE SEEMS TO BE SOME MISAPPREHENSION CONCERNING THE NEWLY APPOINTED DEMOCRATIC STATE CENTRAL COMMITTEE.

As there seems to be some misapprehension concerning the newly appointed Democratic State Central Committee, we are requested to state that it is intended to be merely temporary. It will call a Democratic State convention, and that convention will, of course, appoint the permanent central committee.

NEW MUSIC.

Mr. D. P. Faulds, music publisher, Louisiana, Ky., has sent us the 'Caroline Waltz,' by Walter Owen, dedicated to Miss Fannie Davenport, and the 'Beautiful Isle of the South,' a song, by Charles L. Ward.

HON. HUGH McCULLOUGH, Secretary of the United States Treasury.

We thank you for an official statement of the public debt of the United States on the 1st of January.

VISITORS TO THE FAIR WILL NOTICE THAT COL. WILLIAMS, SUPERINTENDENT OF THE JACKSON ROAD, NOTICES ALL WHO HOLD EXCURSION TICKETS.

CORRECTION.

It is ten, not two cents, per copy, that are contributed to the orphan of the sale of each copy of the 1868 Exhibition Polka. Mr. Weir has this beautiful piece of music at 82 Baronne street, as well as at the Fair.

WE TAKE BACK, IN PART, A SOMEWHAT COMPLIMENTARY NOTICE OF GARDNER'S NEW CITY DIRECTORY.

A more careful examination of it reveals a mass of omissions and blunders by no means creditable to the compiler or the city. A contemporary indicates three mistakes which it commits concerning its office. But three names of the entire editorial and reportorial staff of the Crescent are contained in this 'directory,' and two errors of type and fact accompany those. If these are fair samples of the general accuracy of Gardner's Directory, we must, on the whole, conclude that it is a very doubtful and incomplete source of information.

EITHER GRANT OR ANARCHY.

The bill adopted by the House committee on reconstruction, still further supplementing the reconstruction law, is another indication of the desperate lengths to which the radicals are prepared to go. An examination of the telegraphic synopsis of the bill will discover that its general purport is to lump the five separate autocracies, established in the South by the reconstruction law as it now stands, into a single military despotism...

minutes, and other clothes in equal proportion, wringing them out ready for the clothes line. The next thing we saw was Hazard's mammoth food cater, the invention of Hazard, Hazard of Cincinnati. It cut feed of any size, from half an inch to two inches, and does it with striking ease and celerity. It is also self-adjusting, and cuts corn ears with a Babbit's, of New York, has on exhibition an immense quantity of his famous soap and the ingredients necessary to make the same. He also has saleratus, yeast powders, concentrated potatoes, etc. Hazard's soap is the best in the country as the cheapest and most useful article that has been yet offered to the public in that line. He addresses himself chiefly to wholesale dealers and manufacturers, and is staying at St. James, where he will remain a short length. His manufacture does not enter into competition with Louisiana manufacturers. Pyrie's O.K. soap, equally famous and equally useful with Babbit's, is represented by A. D. Grief, 401 St. Louis, and he will remain a short length. Pyrie is a great favorite with families, hotels and steam-baths, and it is well to remember that it can be ordered at 48 and 50 Old Levee street. He also has patent blue and other articles for beautifying linens, etc. Mr. H. Keller, Sobera Soap Factory, corner Howard and St. Andrew streets, has a very large and handsome assortment of soaps, etc., on exhibition. One of his saponaceous ointments is represented by the Banker Hill other works. His office and depot are at 110 Gravier street. Not the least of the soap exhibitors is the firm of McRoberts & Dick, corner of Liberty and Jackson streets. An immense block of soap weighing 100 lbs. is on exhibition, by three elegant streets of the same material. Mr. Auguste Doussan, manufacturer and importer of choice perfumery, fancy soaps and other goods for the toilet, is the next in succession. He has a large stock of the best soap, and is resident of the sweetest odors. Mr. Doussan has already made an excellent reputation, and we recommend our readers to visit his stand. His establishment is at 103 Chartres street, near St. Louis street. Mr. W. A. Fleetwood just presented his claims upon our attention. He is agent for Jackson's Universal Washing Compound for personal ablution, washing of clothes, etc. He also has an excellent patent for the best soap, and is resident of the sweetest odors. Mr. Doussan has already made an excellent reputation, and we recommend our readers to visit his stand. His establishment is at 103 Chartres street, near St. Louis street.

Best top buggy—P. Gallagher; bronze medal. Best notop buggy—J. A. Lum; ten dollars. Miscellaneous.—Best bears—R. Condon; premium recommended. Best shifting top buggy—Bleakly & Hogan, premium recommended. Best doctors' light photos—J. A. Lum; premium recommended. Best general dog cart—J. A. Lum; premium recommended. Best horse made in New Orleans—Ant. Duha; premium recommended. Buggies, top and notop, made in Louisiana—Gens. & Hedges; honorably mentioned. Class No. 11.—Miscellaneous.—Best brown manufacturing in Louisiana—M. L. Madden; premium recommended. Class No. 12.—Best still soil plow entered by Slack, Stauffer & Co., made by J. H. Hall, Mayville, Kentucky—diploma. The competition for the best stove was a very exciting one; there were six entries. Each stove was weighed, and an expert woman, with sleeves rolled up, skirts tucked, and everything arranged so as to allow easy access and handling. Each operator was provided with twelve pounds of ash wood and three pounds of light wood, carefully weighed, and the eight pounds of dough, divided into two equal parts, which were to be baked into loaves. When all was in readiness, the signal to fire up was given at precisely twenty-six minutes past two o'clock, and the operators were to work with an alacrity worthy of higher aspirations; the stoves soon acquired the necessary heat, the dough was placed in them, and for a while there was a stillness, disturbed only by the rumbling noise of the flames rising & falling in the flues, and the clanking of iron doors which would be opened to add fuel or see the progress of the baking. At two minutes before two the Cotton Plant, manufactured by Albroth, Bros., of New York, and entered by Levi, Navra & Co., of Poydras street, was opened and the bread found to be baked to turn. The next was the Brilliant, manufactured by Buck & Wright, St. Louis. This stove has a feature worth mentioning; the doors are of strong plate glass. The Brilliant was opened at 11 minutes past two o'clock, and then in succession came the Charter Oak, of Rice Bros. & Co., of 55 seconds past two; the Perfect, entered by Messrs. Campman & Co., 115 Poydras street, at 2:20; the last of the class, the merit, entered by Hathbone & Co., of Albany, New York, and at the same time the Norton Furnace Company's stove, entered by Messrs. E. and W. Gentry, Co., of Poydras street. The Brilliant remaining was now weighed, and it was found that the following amount had been consumed by each stove, viz: the Cotton Plant, 10 pounds; the Brilliant, 7 pounds; the Good Samaritan, 9 1/2 pounds; the Perfect, 10 1/2 pounds; the Charter Oak, 9 pounds; and the Norton Furnace Company's stove, 9 1/2 pounds. Upon examining the bread baked it was ascertained that, owing to some cause, not one of the loaves was fit to eat. The trial therefore resumed to-day, at 12 o'clock when another exciting scene will probably occur. Tuesday at the Fair Grounds. The following is the programme at the Fair Grounds for to-day: Exhibition halls and machinery in operation. MATCHED HORSES. KREGER'S, 607 Magazine Street, 607. Government for manufacturing the Malakoff Bitters, and found in the ingredients specified a compound calculated to excite and keep in good order the digestive organs. I have prescribed said Bitters several times, and in every instance I have occasion to ascertain their beneficial effect. I remain, gentlemen, very respectfully, your most obedient servant, A. MERRILL, M. D., 193 Canal street. I have examined the patent you hold for the manufacture of Malakoff Bitters, and find nothing in the ingredients thereof calculated to injure or injure the human system, unless taken in moderate quantities. Indeed, it is nothing but a cordial aromatic beverage. I am, Sir, A. SMITH, M. D., Your Malakoff Bitters, which I have examined, do not contain any ingredients injurious to health, and may be recommended to those who are in want of a good tonic. Yours, M. SCHUPPERT, M. D. To be drawn under the supervision of I. N. Marks, President Mechanics' and Agricultural Fair Association, Col. G. F. Fremont, A. Bower, T. H. Adams, J. H. Moore and P. D. Darrinall. The Stock will be on exhibition at the Fair from the 1st of January to the 15th. The proceeds of the raffle will be given to the Farmers' Charitable Association. Price of Tickets, $1.00 to be had at McQuid & Mehl's, Stock Landing, and at the Fair Grounds. R. M. BUFORD. Important Notice. There yet remains about $40,000 stock of the MECHA 1108 AND A CARTRIDGE, FAIR ASSOCIATION OF LOUISIANA to be taken, the same being in shares of $25 each. To become a subscriber to the Association requires the purchase of four shares, and the payment of $25 each per annum. The extensive improvements made by the Association during the last two years have brought it to a state of debt. To pay off this indebtedness and secure funds for further improvements will contemplate, and render it a matter of importance that our citizens come forward and take up the stock yet remaining unpaid. A check will always be found in the Secretary's office, on the Fair Grounds, ready to receive the names and funds of those who desire to become subscribers. It is to be hoped that this appeal will not be made in vain, and that an enterprise which has so far been prosperous will not lag for want of interest on the part of our citizens. The First Premium.
