

Address - TO THE - NERVOUS AND DEBILITATED - Sufferings Have Been Protracted - HIDDEN CAUSES - Whose Cases Require Prompt Treatment - RENDER EXISTENCE DESIRABLE.

If you are suffering or have suffered from febrile attacks, what affect does it produce upon your general health? Do you feel weak, debilitated, easily tired? Does a little exertion produce palpitation of the heart? Do your liver, or urinary organs, or your kidneys, frequently get out of order? Is your urine sometimes thick, milky, or foamy, or falls in a string? Or does it thicken and rise to the top? Or is a sediment at the bottom after it has stood awhile? Do you have spells of short breathing or dyspnea? Are your bowels constipated? Do you have spells of fainting or rushes of blood to the head? Is your memory impaired? Is your mind constantly dwelling upon this subject? Do you feel dull, listless, mooping, tired of company? Do you wish to be left alone, to get away from everybody? Does any little thing make you start or jump? Is your sleep broken or restless? Is the luster of your eye as brilliant? The bloom on your cheek as bright? Do you enjoy yourself in society as well? Do you pursue your business with the same energy? Do you feel as much confidence in yourself? Are your spirits dull and flinging, given to fits of melancholy? If so, do not let it to your liver or dyspnea. Have you restless nights? Your back weak, your knees weak, and have you but little appetite, and you attribute this to dyspepsia or liver complaint? Now, reader, BELP-ABUSE, VENEREAL DISEASES, badly cured, and sexual excesses, are all capable of producing a weakness of the generative organs. The organs of generation, when in perfect health, make the man. Did you ever think that those bold, defiant, energetic, persevering, successful business men are always those whose generative organs are in perfect health? You never hear such men complain of being melancholy, of nervousness, of palpitation of the heart. They are never afraid they cannot succeed in business; they don't become sad and discouraged; they are always polite and pleasant in the company of ladies, and look you and them right in the face—some of your downward looks or any other meanness about them. I do not mean those who keep the organs inflamed by running to excess. These will not only ruin their constitutions, but also those they do business with or for. How many men from badly-cured diseases, from the effects of self-abuse and excesses, have brought about that state of weakness in those organs that has reduced the general system so much as to induce almost every other disease—tubercle, insanity, paralysis, spinal affections, scurvy and almost every other form of disease which humanity is heir to, and the real cause of the trouble scarcely ever suspected, and have died for all but the right one. Diseases of these organs require the use of a Diuretic.

Helmhold's Fluid Extract Buchu

GREAT DIURETIC.

A CERTAIN CURE FOR DISEASES OF THE BLADDER.

FEMALE COMPLAINTS, GENERAL DEBILITY, KIDNEYS, GRAVEL, DROPSY, ORGANIC WEAKNESS.

ALL DISEASES OF THE URINARY ORGANS.

Whether Existing in Male or Female.

WHATEVER CAUSE ORIGINATING.

LONG STANDING.

If no treatment is submitted to Consumption or Insanity may ensue. Our flesh and blood are supported from these sources, and the health and happiness, and that of Posterity depend upon prompt use of a reliable remedy.

HELMHOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU

UPWARD OF 18 YEARS.

H. T. HELMHOLD, DRUGGIST, 524 Broadway, New York, and 104 South 10th street, Philadelphia, Pa.

PRICE—$1.50 per bottle, or 6 bottles for $8.50, delivered to any address. Sold by all druggists everywhere.

THE CRESCENT'S DISPATCHES.

THE MEMPHIS RACES.

FOURTH DAY.

Special to the New Orleans Crescent. MEMPHIS, April 30.—The attendance at the races of to-day was very large. The ladies were present in full force, making up a concourse of beauty and fashion unequalled on any previous day since the races began. The first race was mile heats, beat three in five, for a purse of $300, for which Joe Johnston and Transit had been entered. Joe, who had been the favorite beforehand, won in three straight heats. Time—1:45; 1:54, and 2:05. The second race was a mile and repeat, free for all ages, for a purse of $250. There being four entries, viz: Malcolm, Jack Gamble, Magazine and Sea Gull, the former being the favorite against the field. He justified the preference by winning the race. The following is a summary: Malcolm..... 1 1/2 Jack Gamble..... 2 1/2 Magazine..... 3 1/2 Sea Gull..... 4 1/2 Time—1:51; 1:52. W. M. C.

FROM WASHINGTON.

THE IMPEACHMENT TRIAL.

THE ALTA VELA AFFAIR.

NELSON'S OFFENSE AND RESOLUTIONS OF CONGRESS.

EVARTS' SPEECH.

WASHINGTON, April 30.—In the impeachment Court the resolution censuring Nelson was tabled by 35 to 10. A motion for a night session, amended so as to prolong the day session, was tabled by 27 to 22. House—Brooks gave notice of his intention to introduce a resolution of inquiry regarding the manner in which the Alta Vela affair was conducted. Court continued—Just before the reading of the censure was tabled, as reported at noon, Nelson said, although not a duelist, and never having fought one, he did mean to convey the intimation that he was responsible in any manner for what he had said and would claim no exemption of any kind on account of his age. Senators voting against tabling the resolution censuring the Alti Vela case were—Cameron, Howard, Morgan, Morrill of Vermont, Pomroy, Stewart, Sumner, Thayer, Wilson and Yates. Evarts spoke the entire day—concludes to-morrow. Evarts' endurance is astounding. His form indicates frailty but hour after hour, without water, with scarcely a note his speech rolls on. Pathos, invective sarcasm and detail artistically following and relieving each other without repetition either in matter, manner or construction. One of his sentences concludes: "If you drive the president forth, he will be a victim of Congress and a martyr to the Constitution."

FROM LOUISVILLE.

Gen. Buckner.

LOUISVILLE, April 30.—The Louisville Courier announces that Gen. S. B. Buckner who, since the war, has been residing in New Orleans, will remove here during the next month, and become editorially connected with that paper.

FROM SAVANNAH.

An Editor Resigns on Account of General Meade.

SAVANNAH, April 30.—The editor of the Daily Advvertiser publishes his valedictory this morning, resigning his editorial position on the ground that the personal animosity of Gen. Meade will suppress the paper unless he withdraws, and having no pecuniary interest in the paper, he feels that he has no right to jeopardize the interests of the proprietors. His action is expressed by both the proprietors and the public, who indorse him.

FROM NEW YORK.

Meeting of Cotton Growers and Manufacturers—Meeting of Hancock Men.

NEW YORK, April 30.—A large number of cotton growers and manufacturers of the United States assembled in convention at the St. Nicholas Hotel, yesterday, for the purpose of consulting on the formation of a national association for the promotion of the cotton interests. Several delegates from the Southern States were present, and the New England manufacturers were largely represented. A nation constitution and by-laws for the new association were adopted, and Amos Lee, of Boston, was chosen permanent president; after which the convention adjourned sine die. According to the constitution, the association will hereafter be known as the "National Association of Cotton Manufacturers and Planters." It will hold annual meetings, the first of which will take place on the third Wednesday of June, 1869. The officers of the association shall consist of a president and a vice president chosen from each State represented in the association, a secretary, treasurer, an executive committee of five, not less than thirty nor more than fifty directors, and the members of the standing committee, who together shall constitute the government of the association. NEW YORK, April 30.—A numerously attended meeting of military men and citizens was held at Fifth Avenue Hotel last night. Those present were unanimously in favor of Hancock's nomination. Among the names for vice president discussed was that of Groesbeck.

FROM EUROPE.

Sentences of Ferras—Governor General of Madrid.

LONDON, April 30.—Burke and Shaw have been convicted and sentenced, Burke to fifteen and Shaw to seven years imprisonment. Casey was discharged. Gen. Penela has been appointed governor general of Madrid.

FROM THE WEST INDIES AND MEXICO.

Havana, April 30.—News from St. Domingo is conflicting. A nation constitution assigned by Gen. Bazoz for not having assumed the presidency, is that the facilities authorized by law are insufficient to allow him to carry out his policy in regard to the Samana Bay negotiation and the Jesurun loan. Gen. Carmon engaged in developing the petroleum wealth of the Azores. The Samana affair preoccupies Gen. Bazoz, whose great difficulties on the subject come from the opposition of President Salnave and the umbrage of the negro chiefs. Pimental is getting up another revolution which

FROM SOUTH AMERICA.

The Leases on the Brazilian Iron-clads.

LONDON, April 30.—Further advices from Paraguay state that the Brazilian iron-clads passed through under fire of the enemy, assisted in the undertaking by batteries planted by the allied commander. The killed and wounded on board the fleet numbered 1500. A reconnaissance had been made of the position of the Paraguayans. It was ascertained Lopez had massed his army at the northern portion of his lines, which renders the abandonment of Curupaty probable.

FROM SOUTHWEST PASS.

SOUTHWEST PASS, April 30.—11 A. M.—Barometer 29.50. Wind southeast and light. Arrived: Steamship Reinder, Aransas Pass, to G. P. Dehon. Sailed: Ship Mary Russell, schooners S. E. Green and Clara. SOUTHWEST PASS, April 29.—6 P. M.—Barometer 29.50. Wind southeast, light. No arrivals. Sailed: Ship Proctor and schooner Elisha.

RIVER NEWS.

Vicksburg, April 30.—Passed up: Margenta at 11 A. M., and Gov. Allen at 3 P. M. River stationary.

WISCONSINOUS.

CINCINNATI, April 30.—A special to the Commercial says Brown, without legislative authority, but by letters from Senator Fowler and members of the House, determined to call out the militia to suppress violence. ALEXANDRIA, April 30.—Rev. F. M. Whittle was consecrated assistant bishop of the Episcopal Church of Virginia to-day. The convention have adopted seven articles of the new Constitution. The work is about closed, and an early adjournment may be expected. J. W. Scholfield to-day appointed Alder of the city of Lynchburg, and a list of officers for that city. Gen. E. Whittlesay, of Gen. O. O. Howard's staff, addressed the negroes in the African church to-day. CINCINNATI, April 30.—In the Superior Court the case of J. M. Haworth against J. W. Turner, for the recovery of $50,000, the proceeds of the sale of cotton, the produce of plaintiff's plantation in Louisiana, was decided in plaintiff's favor. G. W. Julien is renominated to Congress from the Fourth Congressional District of Indiana. ALBUQUERQUE, April 30.—One hundred and nine counties of the State have a majority. The Republicans also claim the Senate. Aaron Bradley, of Boston, is one of the negroes elected from Savannah to the Senate. As he was expelled from the convention for being a convict from the State of Massachusetts, he is believed he will not be allowed to take his seat in the legislature.

MARKETS.

LONDON, April 30.—Afternoon.—Weather fine. Securities unchanged. LIVERPOOL, April 30.—Afternoon.—Cotton advanced. Sales 8000 bales. Breadstuffs easier. Bacon 50s. Sugar active. LIVERPOOL, April 30.—Afternoon.—Cotton advanced. Sales 8000 bales. Breadstuffs easier. Bacon 50s. Sugar active. LIVERPOOL, April 30.—Afternoon.—Cotton advanced. Sales 8000 bales. Breadstuffs easier. Bacon 50s. Sugar active.

Local Intelligence.

REPORTORIAL BRIEVITIES.—In reporting the proceedings of the meeting of physicians assembled to consider the proposition of inviting the American Medical Association to hold its next annual session in New Orleans, it should have been stated that Dr. Dreyer, Dr. Richardson, introduced the resolution to extend the invitation. The matter, we are informed, came up in this way: Several months ago a telegraphic dispatch was received by Dr. Richardson, from Doctors Yandell and Gross, suggesting that if an invitation came from New Orleans, it was likely the association would meet here. When the telegram was received, it was passed over, for reasons then existing, but it was thought that the present would be a favorable moment to make an advance toward reconciliation. Contested election suits have been entered in the Fourth and Sixth District Courts, on grounds of fraud and intimidation by Gerodias, radical, against Sadler, Democrat; Gifford, radical, against Massicot, radical; Carroll, Democrat, against Blaudin, radical, and P. Ad. Fortier, Democrat, against Sadler, radical. The question of jurisdiction will be raised in all these suits, as the received interpretation of the reconstruction acts is that the commanding general only has the right to decide who is elected. Four negroes were arrested yesterday on St. Mary street on Wednesday, in broad daylight, have been arrested, and await examination before Recorder Venable.

A Mr. [Name], named Henry Voelker, accidentally fell off from a plank on the roof of the new school house on Constance street, yesterday, fracturing his skull by the fall. He was taken home to his parents, where his recovery was pronounced to be probable. Dr. Felix Formoso, whose professional kindness to many Italians in this city during the recent epidemic, made him the recipient of distinguished honors from Victor Emmanuel, takes his departure for Europe to-day, with a young wife, enjoying a few months of relaxation in his native land and other continental countries. "Dolly" Davenport leaves for St. Louis on Saturday, to assume the duties of the stage manager in the Spectator office. The temperature, yesterday, as shown by the thermometer at C. Duhamel's, corner Bienville and Chartres streets, was as follows: At 6 A. M. 68 degrees; 12 M. 79; 3 P. M. 82; 6 P. M. 81. Four large coils of telegraphic cable were yesterday deposited for storage in the rear of the premises of the Western Union Telegraph Company, on Camp street. This cable has a history of its own. It was originally put down in the Red Sea, but in the course of a voyage to the British East Indian possessions, it was subsequently purchased by the United States government in the Red Sea, to be used at various points on the Mississippi. A portion of it, at one time sunk between this city and South West Pass; and now, after all these days and nights of thrilling life far down in the sea, it is consigned to the bottom of the Gulf of Mexico. A rumor was in circulation yesterday, that Recorder Gastine had been engaged in a duel, and some would have it even that he had fallen in the meeting. The recorder was in his seat during yesterday's proceedings; he had not had an encounter with anyone and says he does not intend to have one, if he can avoid it. The First District Court was not in session yesterday. The Shepard case is still in abeyance in the Second District Court.

SPRITUAL AND SPIRITUAL.—The corner of Canal and Royal streets was the scene, Wednesday afternoon, of a lively affair, which occupied the gossip of that well frequented neighborhood during the balance of the day. It appears that a special agent of the United States marshal, ex-governor detective and strap of Shannon, lately arrested in a rude manner a one armed gentleman for some alleged offense in connection with the recent election. Since that time the feelings that have existed between them have not been the most amicable. Wednesday morning, in presence of a third party, strap violently denounced the one armed gentleman, saying that he was a scoundrel, applying to each other the most opprobrious epithets he could add, that he was crippled and therefore, he, strap, could not have any altercation with him, but would be willing to meet any one of his kind. Matters were no sooner reported to the one armed gentleman than he started in search of the defamer of his character, and about one o'clock in the afternoon met him at the corner mentioned. Strap being asked if he had any remark to offer to the defamer, he replied that he had already met and apologized to the gentleman who had "tried to insult him."

CHARGED WITH FORGERY.—A young man named [Name], who had been employed as a messenger, was yesterday arrested by officers Young and Field, in the Bank of America, charged by A. M. Fortier, Esq., president of the bank, with forgery of the name of Charles E. Hambray, in a check for $1000, which had been cashed at the bank, and amounted to $415.83 and $335.50, respectively, are also in the hands of the police, to be used as testimony against the accused. ATTEMPT AT SUICIDE.—A man named Patrick Golding jumped into the Old Basin, near Toussaint street, yesterday, about 2 o'clock, with a view to ending his existence. He was, however, rescued by some of his friends, and conveyed in a "critical condition" to his residence near by.

ALLEGED KIDNAPING.—A man named Morris Meyer was arrested in the Second District yesterday, charged by August Marguez with kidnaping a child. Meyer, a girl aged about five years, is said to be the daughter of a man who is accused about two months previous to the birth of the child. The charge is brought by the child's grandfather, who has had her under his protection, while the mother has meanwhile been employed in the furniture store of Mr. Goldstein on Canal street, yesterday, the father happened to pass and see her. He took her away with him and claimed her as his own, whereupon the grandfather preferred the charge as above stated. Recorder Gastine will investigate the circumstances of the case.

BURGLARY.—The coffeehouse of Angelo Scodina, on Customhouse street, between Marais and Tremé, was robbed of property to the value of about $100 on Tuesday night, and the thief entered the front door, and went leisurely through the establishment, making a minute scrutiny of its contents. FIRE.—An old frame building on Gentilly road, between Labarre and Bayoune streets, used by the railroad company, was destroyed by fire about last night 12 o'clock on Wednesday night. It was not insured.

THE STATE DEPARTMENT TO THE CITY OF NEW ORLEANS.—Mayor Heath, in behalf of the city of New Orleans, has received from Secretary Seward a quarto volume containing nearly one thousand pages, and entitled "Tributes of the Nation to Abraham Lincoln." Accompanying the book is a letter from the Secretary, in which he expresses a series of resolutions adopted in this city relative to the death of Mr. Lincoln, and forwarded by the then Mayor, Hugh Kennedy. The following is a copy of the letter:

DEPARTMENT OF STATE, Washington, D. C. To His Honor the Mayor of New Orleans, La.: Pursuant to the provisions of a resolution of the Congress of the United States, approved March 2, 1867, a copy of which is herewith enclosed, I transmit a copy of a volume which you will please accept from the government as a testimonial of the grateful appreciation by the people of the generous expressions of the con-

RAILROAD ACCOMMODATION ON CANAL STREET.

To the Editor of the New Orleans Crescent: It has doubtless occurred to almost every one who visits Canal street, that if new lines of street railroads are continued to be constructed in the same ratio as has been done during the past two years, Canal street will soon be so blocked with cars as seriously to impede public convenience, to say nothing of commerce. Yet the best interests of the city demands that no obstacle should be placed in the way of the organization of new railroad lines whenever called for by the populations of distant sections of the city. The consideration then is, how may all parts of the city be made accessible from Canal street, and still leave that great central avenue free from any obstacle to its commerce? Without desiring to arrogate to myself superior wisdom, it appears to me that I can propose a plan which will accomplish this without entailing great expense. Suppose that the different railroad companies whose lines have termini on Canal street, should unite in building a line of road from the Canal street ferry to Basin street and back—thus forming a circular track running entirely around that part of Canal street where its entire business is located, and passing the entrances to it of all those streets upon which there are railroads—the expense of running this road to be borne by each company in accordance with the amount of benefit received from it; no extra charge being made for transportation upon it. By this means every street road would be put in connection with the ferry and steamboat landings, the Custom House and Post Office, and with all sister lines. For instance, say that a person should arrive from the country on a steamboat, or from across the river by the upper or lower limits of the city, his baggage consisting of only a valise. At present he would have to take a cab, at the expense of a dollar, or walk to the station of the car he wished to take, with his valise in his hand; no pleasant job, even when it does not rain. But, by the road I propose, he could take a car near where he landed, pay five cents into the box, receive in return a check which would entitle him to transportation on any line he saw fit to take, to reach which he would not be necessitated to walk further than across the street. The accommodation which this road would afford to the public in bad weather must also be obvious, and the greatly increased income which would surely accrue to the companies would not only compensate for the expense, but would add largely to their profits.

EDITORIAL PARAGRAPHS, ETC.

Eastern had a thick snow storm on the 25th ult. Anne Dickinson turns up in Rome.—(World.) Miss Dix is to have the franking privilege. The French comic opera, Lotta, Chantreaux and Dillon are in Chicago. John Morrissey, M. C., writes from Ho-Sauing, Ark., that he is rapidly recovering his health. Dickens says of George W. Curtis: "He is one of the best, if not the best, speaker I ever heard." Hon. Jonathan B. Fields, of Massachusetts, brother of Cyrus Fields, is dead. After Mr. Gladstone had made his great speech on the Irish church, his wife rushed to the lobby and kissed him. In one of the theaters in New York there is a portion of the house where gentlemen are not admitted unless they wear dress coats. Rosini is so fond of asparagus that he wants it planted over his grave. He dotes on macaroni, and lates green peas. Mr. Geo. D. Proutie, though ill and enfeebled, was able to attend his wife's remains to their final resting place on the 27th ult.

The "first mosquito of the season" serenaded the editor of the Louisville Courier on the night of the 27th ult. Forney's Chronicle is for sale—see Forney's principles. He asks $50,000 for the former, but will sell the latter for what he can get.—(Mack.) The New York Mail says a certain young lady in that city—one of the would-be fashionables—boasts of the possession of eighteen different clocks. A well-known doctor in New York, worth $200,000, has made a will directing that his body shall be buried upon his death. He has also written a book in favor of burning the dead. Prince Napoleon has given a collection of seventy-five specimens of the American paper money of the period to the department of numismatics in the Imperial Library at Paris. Charles Dickens's expenses in America were $50,000, and his net profit $100,000 in gold. He carried off three large packing cases full of all sorts of presents. The original "Old Oaken Bucket," upon which Samuel Wordsworth wrote his famous lines, has just arrived in Boston, having been purchased from its owner in South Scituate, Massachusetts. A Western paper says: "Our member in Congress has made a great speech—one of his very best. It was written for him by a graduate of this office, and the matter and delivery do credit to both parties."

Some of the church choirs in New York have been getting themselves into trouble. Eating caddy, cracking jokes, and irreverent conduct generally during the services, are some of the crimes charged upon a large class of our professional singers. The first name upon the register of the St. James Hotel at Boston is that of a guest of the Astor on the day of its opening, thirty-three years ago. The Astor House register begins with A. B. Johnson and son, while the register of the St. James begins with Wm. C. Johnson, who is the "son" above mentioned. Garibaldi, broken in health, and depressed in spirits, is writing a second novel, and cultivating his farm under the superintendence of a Scotch gardener; Teresita, with her husband and numerous family, is in Genoa; Ricciotti is gone to London to seek employment; Menotti is soon to take to the island home a bride—a handsome, well-to-do lady of Leghorn.

Of all the women she is most to be pitied who has a slow-paced suitor; he is worse than a retrograding one. How admirable, how prompt, how perfectly satisfied was the conduct of another ascending Puritan, who rode up to the door of the house where dwelt the girl of his choice, and, having desired her to be called out to him, said, without circumlocution, "Rachel, the Lord hath sent me to marry thee!" when the girl answered, with equal promptitude and devoutness, "The Lord's will be done!"—[Argosy, for April.]

At the last meeting of the Hancock Literary Association, as we learn from its organ, the Picayune, the president, being moved thereto by the indecorousness of applauding a speaker by the clapping of hands, remarked that "this mode of expressing applause was not, in his opinion, quite appropriate in a literary assemblage composed of ladies and gentlemen, holding their meetings in a drawing-room; that if the impulses to applaud were irresistible, the compliment would be equally, and probably more gratifying to the speaker, and less boisterous, if the audience would rise and occupy a standing position for a moment." At this meeting the association decided that the hope of reward has a greater influence on human conduct than the fear of punishment. At the next meeting the members will agitate Napoleon I and Josephine.

A Merited Compliment. The following order relative to the meritorious services of Gen. Hartuff, late assistant adjutant general in this command, will be read with gratification by the many friends whom he left behind at his departure: HEADQUARTERS, FIFTH MILITARY DISTRICT, New Orleans, La., May 1, 1868. General Order No. 23. 1. In accordance with special orders No. 91, current, from headquarters of the army, Brevet Major Gen. Geo. L. Hartuff, lieutenant colonel and assistant adjutant general, U. S. army, is relieved from duty in the Fifth military district, and will proceed to his property, and report leisurely through the establishment, making a minute scrutiny of its contents.

FIRE.—An old frame building on Gentilly road, between Labarre and Bayoune streets, used by the railroad company, was destroyed by fire about last night 12 o'clock on Wednesday night. It was not insured.

THE STATE DEPARTMENT TO THE CITY OF NEW ORLEANS.—Mayor Heath, in behalf of the city of New Orleans, has received from Secretary Seward a quarto volume containing nearly one thousand pages, and entitled "Tributes of the Nation to Abraham Lincoln." Accompanying the book is a letter from the Secretary, in which he expresses a series of resolutions adopted in this city relative to the death of Mr. Lincoln, and forwarded by the then Mayor, Hugh Kennedy. The following is a copy of the letter:

DEPARTMENT OF STATE, Washington, D. C. To His Honor the Mayor of New Orleans, La.: Pursuant to the provisions of a resolution of the Congress of the United States, approved March 2, 1867, a copy of which is herewith enclosed, I transmit a copy of a volume which you will please accept from the government as a testimonial of the grateful appreciation by the people of the generous expressions of the con-

RAILROAD ACCOMMODATION ON CANAL STREET. To the Editor of the New Orleans Crescent: It has doubtless occurred to almost every one who visits Canal street, that if new lines of street railroads are continued to be constructed in the same ratio as has been done during the past two years, Canal street will soon be so blocked with cars as seriously to impede public convenience, to say nothing of commerce. Yet the best interests of the city demands that no obstacle should be placed in the way of the organization of new railroad lines whenever called for by the populations of distant sections of the city. The consideration then is, how may all parts of the city be made accessible from Canal street, and still leave that great central avenue free from any obstacle to its commerce? Without desiring to arrogate to myself superior wisdom, it appears to me that I can propose a plan which will accomplish this without entailing great expense. Suppose that the different railroad companies whose lines have termini on Canal street, should unite in building a line of road from the Canal street ferry to Basin street and back—thus forming a circular track running entirely around that part of Canal street where its entire business is located, and passing the entrances to it of all those streets upon which there are railroads—the expense of running this road to be borne by each company in accordance with the amount of benefit received from it; no extra charge being made for transportation upon it. By this means every street road would be put in connection with the ferry and steamboat landings, the Custom House and Post Office, and with all sister lines. For instance, say that a person should arrive from the country on a steamboat, or from across the river by the upper or lower limits of the city, his baggage consisting of only a valise. At present he would have to take a cab, at the expense of a dollar, or walk to the station of the car he wished to take, with his valise in his hand; no pleasant job, even when it does not rain. But, by the road I propose, he could take a car near where he landed, pay five cents into the box, receive in return a check which would entitle him to transportation on any line he saw fit to take, to reach which he would not be necessitated to walk further than across the street. The accommodation which this road would afford to the public in bad weather must also be obvious, and the greatly increased income which would surely accrue to the companies would not only compensate for the expense, but would add largely to their profits.

EDITORIAL PARAGRAPHS, ETC. Eastern had a thick snow storm on the 25th ult. Anne Dickinson turns up in Rome.—(World.) Miss Dix is to have the franking privilege. The French comic opera, Lotta, Chantreaux and Dillon are in Chicago. John Morrissey, M. C., writes from Ho-Sauing, Ark., that he is rapidly recovering his health. Dickens says of George W. Curtis: "He is one of the best, if not the best, speaker I ever heard." Hon. Jonathan B. Fields, of Massachusetts, brother of Cyrus Fields, is dead. After Mr. Gladstone had made his great speech on the Irish church, his wife rushed to the lobby and kissed him. In one of the theaters in New York there is a portion of the house where gentlemen are not admitted unless they wear dress coats. Rosini is so fond of asparagus that he wants it planted over his grave. He dotes on macaroni, and lates green peas. Mr. Geo. D. Proutie, though ill and enfeebled, was able to attend his wife's remains to their final resting place on the 27th ult.

The "first mosquito of the season" serenaded the editor of the Louisville Courier on the night of the 27th ult. Forney's Chronicle is for sale—see Forney's principles. He asks $50,000 for the former, but will sell the latter for what he can get.—(Mack.) The New York Mail says a certain young lady in that city—one of the would-be fashionables—boasts of the possession of eighteen different clocks. A well-known doctor in New York, worth $200,000, has made a will directing that his body shall be buried upon his death. He has also written a book in favor of burning the dead. Prince Napoleon has given a collection of seventy-five specimens of the American paper money of the period to the department of numismatics in the Imperial Library at Paris. Charles Dickens's expenses in America were $50,000, and his net profit $100,000 in gold. He carried off three large packing cases full of all sorts of presents. The original "Old Oaken Bucket," upon which Samuel Wordsworth wrote his famous lines, has just arrived in Boston, having been purchased from its owner in South Scituate, Massachusetts. A Western paper says: "Our member in Congress has made a great speech—one of his very best. It was written for him by a graduate of this office, and the matter and delivery do credit to both parties."

Some of the church choirs in New York have been getting themselves into trouble. Eating caddy, cracking jokes, and irreverent conduct generally during the services, are some of the crimes charged upon a large class of our professional singers. The first name upon the register of the St. James Hotel at Boston is that of a guest of the Astor on the day of its opening, thirty-three years ago. The Astor House register begins with A. B. Johnson and son, while the register of the St. James begins with Wm. C. Johnson, who is the "son" above mentioned. Garibaldi, broken in health, and depressed in spirits, is writing a second novel, and cultivating his farm under the superintendence of a Scotch gardener; Teresita, with her husband and numerous family, is in Genoa; Ricciotti is gone to London to seek employment; Menotti is soon to take to the island home a bride—a handsome, well-to-do lady of Leghorn.

Of all the women she is most to be pitied who has a slow-paced suitor; he is worse than a retrograding one. How admirable, how prompt, how perfectly satisfied was the conduct of another ascending Puritan, who rode up to the door of the house where dwelt the girl of his choice, and, having desired her to be called out to him, said, without circumlocution, "Rachel, the Lord hath sent me to marry thee!" when the girl answered, with equal promptitude and devoutness, "The Lord's will be done!"—[Argosy, for April.]

At the last meeting of the Hancock Literary Association, as we learn from its organ, the Picayune, the president, being moved thereto by the indecorousness of applauding a speaker by the clapping of hands, remarked that "this mode of expressing applause was not, in his opinion, quite appropriate in a literary assemblage composed of ladies and gentlemen, holding their meetings in a drawing-room; that if the impulses to applaud were irresistible, the compliment would be equally, and probably more gratifying to the speaker, and less boisterous, if the audience would rise and occupy a standing position for a moment." At this meeting the association decided that the hope of reward has a greater influence on human conduct than the fear of punishment. At the next meeting the members will agitate Napoleon I and Josephine.

A Merited Compliment. The following order relative to the meritorious services of Gen. Hartuff, late assistant adjutant general in this command, will be read with gratification by the many friends whom he left behind at his departure: HEADQUARTERS, FIFTH MILITARY DISTRICT, New Orleans, La., May 1, 1868. General Order No. 23. 1. In accordance with special orders No. 91, current, from headquarters of the army, Brevet Major Gen. Geo. L. Hartuff, lieutenant colonel and assistant adjutant general, U. S. army, is relieved from duty in the Fifth military district, and will proceed to his property, and report leisurely through the establishment, making a minute scrutiny of its contents.

FIRE.—An old frame building on Gentilly road, between Labarre and Bayoune streets, used by the railroad company, was destroyed by fire about last night 12 o'clock on Wednesday night. It was not insured.

THE STATE DEPARTMENT TO THE CITY OF NEW ORLEANS.—Mayor Heath, in behalf of the city of New Orleans, has received from Secretary Seward a quarto volume containing nearly one thousand pages, and entitled "Tributes of the Nation to Abraham Lincoln." Accompanying the book is a letter from the Secretary, in which he expresses a series of resolutions adopted in this city relative to the death of Mr. Lincoln, and forwarded by the then Mayor, Hugh Kennedy. The following is a copy of the letter:

DEPARTMENT OF STATE, Washington, D. C. To His Honor the Mayor of New Orleans, La.: Pursuant to the provisions of a resolution of the Congress of the United States, approved March 2, 1867, a copy of which is herewith enclosed, I transmit a copy of a volume which you will please accept from the government as a testimonial of the grateful appreciation by the people of the generous expressions of the con-

RAILROAD ACCOMMODATION ON CANAL STREET. To the Editor of the New Orleans Crescent: It has doubtless occurred to almost every one who visits Canal street, that if new lines of street railroads are continued to be constructed in the same ratio as has been done during the past two years, Canal street will soon be so blocked with cars as seriously to impede public convenience, to say nothing of commerce. Yet the best interests of the city demands that no obstacle should be placed in the way of the organization of new railroad lines whenever called for by the populations of distant sections of the city. The consideration then is, how may all parts of the city be made accessible from Canal street, and still leave that great central avenue free from any obstacle to its commerce? Without desiring to arrogate to myself superior wisdom, it appears to me that I can propose a plan which will accomplish this without entailing great expense. Suppose that the different railroad companies whose lines have termini on Canal street, should unite in building a line of road from the Canal street ferry to Basin street and back—thus forming a circular track running entirely around that part of Canal street where its entire business is located, and passing the entrances to it of all those streets upon which there are railroads—the expense of running this road to be borne by each company in accordance with the amount of benefit received from it; no extra charge being made for transportation upon it. By this means every street road would be put in connection with the ferry and steamboat landings, the Custom House and Post Office, and with all sister lines. For instance, say that a person should arrive from the country on a steamboat, or from across the river by the upper or lower limits of the city, his baggage consisting of only a valise. At present he would have to take a cab, at the expense of a dollar, or walk to the station of the car he wished to take, with his valise in his hand; no pleasant job, even when it does not rain. But, by the road I propose, he could take a car near where he landed, pay five cents into the box, receive in return a check which would entitle him to transportation on any line he saw fit to take, to reach which he would not be necessitated to walk further than across the street. The accommodation which this road would afford to the public in bad weather must also be obvious, and the greatly increased income which would surely accrue to the companies would not only compensate for the expense, but would add largely to their profits.

EDITORIAL PARAGRAPHS, ETC. Eastern had a thick snow storm on the 25th ult. Anne Dickinson turns up in Rome.—(World.) Miss Dix is to have the franking privilege. The French comic opera, Lotta, Chantreaux and Dillon are in Chicago. John Morrissey, M. C., writes from Ho-Sauing, Ark., that he is rapidly recovering his health. Dickens says of George W. Curtis: "He is one of the best, if not the best, speaker I ever heard." Hon. Jonathan B. Fields, of Massachusetts, brother of Cyrus Fields, is dead. After Mr. Gladstone had made his great speech on the Irish church, his wife rushed to the lobby and kissed him. In one of the theaters in New York there is a portion of the house where gentlemen are not admitted unless they wear dress coats. Rosini is so fond of asparagus that he wants it planted over his grave. He dotes on macaroni, and lates green peas. Mr. Geo. D. Proutie, though ill and enfeebled, was able to attend his wife's remains to their final resting place on the 27th ult.

The "first mosquito of the season" serenaded the editor of the Louisville Courier on the night of the 27th ult. Forney's Chronicle is for sale—see Forney's principles. He asks $50,000 for the former, but will sell the latter for what he can get.—(Mack.) The New York Mail says a certain young lady in that city—one of the would-be fashionables—boasts of the possession of eighteen different clocks. A well-known doctor in New York, worth $200,000, has made a will directing that his body shall be buried upon his death. He has also written a book in favor of