Local Intelligence.

THE RADICAL PROCESSION.—It appears that after all, the much talked of and much deprecated procession of the black and white myriads of Radicalism, is actually to take place to-night.

THE DWELLING OF Mrs. Watkins, on Third street, near the Fourth District, was entered by thieves early yesterday morning, and the alarm was given before they had time to steal anything.

ABOUT the same time, Mr. David Scherer's place, on the same block as Mrs. Watkins', was entered and robbed of a quantity of gold and silver jewelry of considerable value, together with clothing, thirty dollars in greenbacks, and a promissory note for five hundred dollars.

THE TEMPERATURE yesterday, as shown by the observations of A. B. Griswold & Co., corner Canal and Royal streets, was as follows: At 6 a. m. 83 degrees; 12 m. 91; 3 p. m. 92; 6 p. m. 89.

THE TEMPERATURE, as shown by the thermometer at C. Duhamel's, 111 Canal street, was as follows: At 6 a. m. 79 degrees; 12 m. 86; 3 p. m. 88; 6 p. m. 83.

HEAVY SHOWERS are of daily occurrence to look upon as a necessary luxury, if that crime is much towards cooling the heat of the atmosphere.

A YOUNG MAN named K. C. R. Lee has been arrested charged by M. S. Perkins with forgery. Mr. Perkins says Lee negotiated a promissory note for seven hundred and fifty dollars, last month, Mobile, after forging the (victim's) name upon it.

ABOUT AN HOUR before daylight, yesterday, a fire broke out in the dry goods store of Cohen & Myers, 151 upper Rampart street, destroying all their stock in trade. It is believed the fire was intentionally set. The building was insured, but we could not learn whether the contents were.

GILBERT PHILIPS has been arrested on Franklin street, with a large lot of silverware in his possession, which he is suspected of having stolen. He earnestly asseverates the war to be his honesty and property.

ABOUT THIRTY EVENING, whilst the family of Mr. A. J. Davis, were at the dining-room, a thief entered their residence, a thief entered the parlor and stole some valuable parlor ornaments.

A MAN NAMED DAVIS has been arrested, at the instance of Col. Corcoran, on suspicion of having been one of the parties who stole four horses from the United States quartermaster's department a few days since, the circumstances of which were mentioned by us at the time.

LOCAL POLITICS. Secretaries of Democratic Clubs. Will confer a favor upon the editors of this column by sending to the CRESCENT office after each meeting of the several clubs which they represent, a synopsis of the proceedings. We are compelled to ask this from them, as the rapidly increasing number of Democratic clubs in the city render it impossible for a local force, however large, to attend every meeting. We wish to make this column a complete compendium of local political intelligence, and with the aid of our friends, will certainly do so. But such assistance is necessary. We trust that the Democrats of the city will give it.

THE PENDITON GUARDS. In this city, have elected the Hon. Geo. H. Pendleton an honorary member of their excellent and numerous club. The following is a copy of the correspondence:

NEW ORLEANS, August 27, 1868. Hon. Geo. H. Pendleton, Cincinnati, Ohio.

Sir—The Pendleton Guards, an efficient and imposing political club of this city, have elected you an honorary member, and have instructed me to convey to you by letter of honorary membership. The inscription of your distinguished name upon their banner is no empty compliment. All Louisianians recognize you as the consistent, uncompromising and peerless champion of American liberty and independence, the earnest and noble patriot, your pure patriotism, your earnest, bold and brilliant advocacy of their cause, which is now the cause of our common country, inspire them with hope and fortitude while they struggle to preserve civilization, the identity of our people, the integrity of society; for our opponents, by their legislative acts boldly proclaim, and by their secret teachings seek to enforce, their determination to subordinate to their selfish interests, the rights and wealth of our people to the anarchic passions of an untutored and deluded race.

When success will crown the efforts of Democracy in the next presidential election, and an opportunity will be afforded to the people of Louisiana to elect a distinguished and honorable man to their leadership and to accept for yourself my thanks for the very kind and complimentary terms in which you have communicated the wishes of that body. I am, very respectfully,

(Signed) GEO. H. PENDLETON.

At the meeting of this excellent club, Thursday night, the following was read with great interest, and not be called. Naturalization tickets were furnished to forty of its members—the names of as many more being taken with the same object. Over one hundred men will become naturalized citizens of this State, through the exertions and influence of this club.

J. C. Prendergast (one of the oldest newspaper men of the city), Jno. Henderson and J. H. Kelly were elected honorary members.

W. J. Kelly was elected delegate to the central committee of independent clubs.

THE HONORABLE GUARDS. Form one of the most numerous, respectable and energetic organizations in the State. They held a meeting Thursday evening at which about 150 members were present. The action of the committee of conference of all independent uniformed societies was unanimously adopted. The following resolutions were adopted: That the committee be and they be, to send a delegate to the Parish Executive Committee, whereupon the nominations were opened, and Mr. A. D. Bernoulli was the unanimous choice to represent this club in said committee. The following gentlemen were unanimously elected honorary members: Ed. Ivens, Mr. Smith, Jas. Phillips, J. M. Lapeyre, B. Laplace, J. Caliero, T. L. Maxwell, W. S. Monni, N. Trepagnier, Jno. B. Conway, J. O. Landry, Jas. Warren, J. E. Massicot, Col. Wm. M. Simons, Wm. C. B. Wehr, and others, especially the efficient secretary, O. C. Melster, Esq., for courtesies.

THE CRESCENT CITY CLUB. Held a large meeting last night at their wigwam, which is too well known to need the giving of its location. After business, of which more in a future issue, the Hon. Wm. Pope Soloe being called upon, favored the club with an exposé of how things are done at the Mechanics' Institute, which was both able and amusing, and to its accuracy in many points this reporter can bear testimony. After tendering a vote of thanks to Mr. Noble, the Crescents adjourned.

THE SOUTHERN SERMONS CLUB. A new organization, which, however, displays cheering signs of life and activity, met last night at their headquarters, corner of Second and St. Patrick streets, and elected their permanent officers, as follows: John P. Casey, president; Antonio Warner, vice-president; J. B. Mouchon, secretary; James Fitzgerald, assistant secretary; C. P. Lauman, treasurer; Joseph Raymond, marshal; James Ryan, first assistant marshal; Geo. Dubout, second assistant marshal. After this complete organization in the State, they adjourned to meet again on next Monday evening at the same place.

We are very glad to chronicle the formation of this club. Located in a portion of the city but given to political displays of any sort, composed, not only of both sexes, long-time Dem-

GENERAL ITEMS.

Father Heese was on the 6th consecrated as bishop of La Crosse, it being the third Catholic see erected in Wisconsin.

One hundred barrels of high wines from New Orleans were seized at some of the 7th St. Salwain appears for the property.

There are 743 families in Columbus, Ohio, without Bibles, and 700 children who don't go to Sunday-school.

The value of the hay crop of the North is estimated at more than two hundred millions of dollars.

The grocery store of Mrs. J. B. Hannon, of Fourth street, St. Louis, was burned on the 6th. The stock was valued at about $30,000; insured for $15,000.

In 1867 the government paid to the Pacific road $699,600 for transportation. The same sum was paid to the Union Pacific for the same year, at the usual rates would have cost $2,025,000.

The Fourth of July was celebrated in Stika with a canoe race, a procession, oration, dinner and fireworks. A young Russian girl represented the Goddess of Liberty at the celebration.

A prize fight between Ben Owens and John Meardle, for $500 a side and the gate money, which amounted to $2000, was won by Owens. Forty-two rounds were fought in an hour and a half.

Neither party was hurt. The North American Steamship Company of New York, the opposition line to California, has elected Wm. H. Webb president for the ensuing year. Chas. Pava vice-president, and High McCallan treasurer.

The drawer of Messrs. Randolph & Bates, Baton Rouge, was robbed of one hundred dollars in currency and a lot of notes and city warrants. A freeman was found in possession of the missing money.

It is stated that over fifteen thousand sacks of wheat are on the Mississippi banks, near Knoxville, waiting for high water for transportation down, and we learn from a Chicago paper that one hundred and fifty cars would not supply the demands of the Burlington and Mississippi roads.

The great walking tournament on Park course at Troy, ended at four p. m. on the 9th, and was won by Haydock, an English pedestrian, who walked one hundred miles in twenty-two hours and fifty-four minutes. Payne, of Albany, walked one hundred miles in twenty-three hours and twenty minutes.

There is, perhaps, no spot in the world where the drama is better patronized than in California, and no city (Paris excepted) where the audiences are more critical than in San Francisco. Theaters and concert halls are all liberally supported, artists are well paid and managers are all making money.

Paris letters say the population of Warsaw is in a disturbed condition, and the police have arrested several persons engaged in revolutionary plots. Prominent Polish ladies have lately dressed in black on Russian holidays, and left the theater recently when the orchestra played the national air.

The Natchez Courier of Monday has the following: "An unhappy altercation took place Saturday evening, between Mr. Campbell Marsh, a merchant of this city, and Mr. Peter Hunter, well known as an old and retired business man. Hunter was cut with a pocket-knife in four places—in the face, neck and left right breast."

QUESTIONS OF IDENTITY.—A Clergyman mistaken for Dick Powers.—The New York Citizen tells the following: It is not generally known that Mr. Powers, the editor of the La Crosse Democrat, and more lately of the Democrat in this city, is a young man of refined and elegant appearance, with a small white hand, a broad forehead and slim shape. He neither drinks nor smokes, and has none of the characteristics of a seasoned hard-shell of the olden school, with a steady glance and a calm, steady gaze, which he casts to his eyes. His disposition naturally throws him with those of a religious tendency. Clergymen are common visitors at his office, and find him always ready to assist the objects they have in view. He is a man of a high moral character, and whose nature had most justly set the seal of the wine bibber, was seated in his outer office writing, when a specimen fourth ward Democrat, more than three sheets in length, called to pay his respects to the king of the Goppos, and the fellow was shown into the same room with the clergyman, and walking up behind the latter, who was leaning over the desk deeply occupied, he thrust a large sheet of paper down upon his head, so that the man, who had been waiting for hours, shouting "How are you, Brick, old fellow? I knowed you at once, I did. How are you old cuss? I knowed you by your bald head and red nose, and you are one of our sort, you are," cried out "Old Nick, you are the chap that you are the chap that you are, I see it in your eye."

Explanations were useless, and the clergyman rushed into Mr. Powers's private apartments for protection, with the strong admittance of his friend still upon him.

THE STARVATION ALONG THE RED RIVER OF THE NORTH.—Nothing but the most prompt and most energetic measures, prosecuted upon the largest scale, can save the people of the Red River the most awful calamity of modern times. The case is just this: Ten or twelve thousand people, immured in a distant region, four or five hundred miles beyond our Western frontier, are on the verge of starvation. The grasshoppers have utterly destroyed the crops of the farmers, while, by an unprecedented combination of misfortunes, the hunters, who constitute a large part of the population, have returned from the plains without a single animal, and the supplies of game, which have disappeared from their usual haunts, while the fruits of the earth have been consumed by the terrible irruption of grasshoppers. They are thus cut off from all sources of supply, except that of the wild animals, which are now exterminated. While their wants are thus pressing, the time within which they can be reached with relief from this quarter, is very short. In a few weeks, when the frost shall have killed the grass on the prairie, it will be extremely difficult for trains to reach there with supplies, for want of subsistence to feed the animals. Before November it is not improbable that these starving people may be perished by five hundred miles of snow from any possible aid except what may dribble through on dog trains.—[St. Paul Press.]

ROLLS RAMPANT.—A Washington special of the 5th to the Cincinnati Inquirer says: "Mr. Rollins' removal from the presidency of the National
