

WOMEN.

Females, owing to the peculiar and important relations which they sustain, their peculiar organization, and the office they perform, are subject to many sufferings. Freedom from these constitutes in no small degree to their happiness and welfare, for none can be happy who are ill. Not only so, but to one of these various Female Complaints can long be ascribed to run on without involving the general health of the individual, and are long producing.

PERMANENT SICKNESS AND PREMATURE DECLINE.

For it is pleasant to consult a physician for the relief of these various delicate affections, and only upon the most urgent necessity will a true woman go far to sacrifice her greatest charm as to do this. The sex will then thank us for placing in their hands simple specifics, which will be found effectual in relieving and curing almost every one of those troublesome complaints peculiar to the sex.

HELMHOLD'S EXTRACT OF BUCHU.

Hundreds suffer in silence, and hundreds of others apply vainly to druggists and apothecaries, who, after vainly applying them with the hope of a cure or apply remedies which make them worse. I would not wish to assert anything that would do injustice to the afflicted, but I am obliged to say that although it may be produced from excessive exhaustion of the powers of life, by laborious employment, unwholesome air and food, profuse menstruation, the use of tea and coffee, and frequent childbirth, it is far oftener caused by direct irritation, applied to the mucous membrane of the vagina itself.

LIFE, HEALTH AND HAPPINESS OF WOMAN.

In all classes of society, and in which, consequently, affect more or less directly the welfare of the entire human family. The means that exist for procuring education and marriage, causes the years that nature designed for corporeal development to be wasted and perverted in the restraints of dress, the early confinement of school, and especially in the unhealthy excitement of the ball room. Thus, with the body half clothed and the mind unduly excited by pleasure, perverting in midnight revels the hours designed by nature for sleep and rest, the work of destruction is half accomplished. In consequence of this early strain upon her system, an unnecessary effort is required by the delicate votary to retain her situation in school at a later day, thus aggravating the evil. When an excitement is over, another in prospective keeps the mind morbidly sensitive to impression, while the now constant receipt of fashionable dress, absolutely forbidding the exercise indispensable to the attainment and retention of organic health and strength, the exposure to night air, the sudden changes of temperature, the complete prostration produced by excessive dancing, must, of necessity, produce their legitimate effect. At least an early marriage cures the climate of misery, and the unfortunate one, hitherto so delicately nurtured, becomes an awfully long subject of medical treatment. This is but a truthful picture of the experience of thousands of our young women.

FOR FEMALE WEAKNESS AND DEBILITY.

WHETHER OR LEUCORRHOEA. TOO PROFUSE MENSTRUATION. EXHAUSTION. TOO LONG CONTINUED PERIODS. FOR PROLAPSUS AND BEARING DOWN. OR PROLAPSUS UTERI. WE OFFER THE MOST PERFECT SPECIFIC KNOWN.

Helmhold's Compound Extract of Buchu.

Directions for Use, Diet and Advice accompany.

FEMALES IN EVERY PERIOD OF LIFE.

From infancy to extreme old age, will find it a remedy to aid nature in the discharge of its functions.

STRENGTH IS THE GLORY OF MANHOOD AND WOMANHOOD.

HELMHOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU.

IS MORE STRENGTHENING THAN ANY OF THE PREPARATIONS OF BARK OR IRON.

Infinitely Safer and More Pleasant.

HELMHOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU.

Having received the endorsement of the most prominent physicians in the United States, we now offer to all who desire a CERTAIN CURE for the following diseases and symptoms, from whatever cause originating.

TO INSURE THE GENUINE, GET THIS OUT. Ask for HELMHOLD'S, TAKE NO OTHER. Sold by Druggists and Dealers everywhere. Price $1.25 per bottle, or six bottles for $6.25. Delivered to any address. Describe symptoms in all communications. Address H. T. HELMHOLD, DRUG AND CHEMICAL WORKHOUSE, 564 Broadway, New York.

THE CRESCENT'S DISPATCHES.

WASHINGTON.

The Connecticut Town Elections—Both Parties Claim Gains.

THE EPISCOPAL CONVENTION AT NEW YORK.

Grand Reception for McClellan in Philadelphia.

THE BURNING OF A STEAMER—14 LIVES LOST.

CUBAN AFFAIRS—PERSONAL MATTERS.

INTERVIEWS WITH THE PRESIDENT—CUSTOMS AND REVENUE RECEIPTS.

DELAY IN SOUTHERN MAIIS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—The Republicans have eighty-three Connecticut towns, Democrats fifty-nine; divided, six; unheard from, thirteen. The vote is small. Both parties claim gains on the aggregate vote.

Forty-two bishops and one hundred and fifty lay delegates are at the Protestant Episcopal triennial convention at New York to-day.

The propeller Perseverance burned yesterday fifteen miles from Pottsville, Pa., and the captain and fourteen persons, out of nineteen on board, perished.

Cuban affairs have not been discussed in cabinet, nor has Mr. Seward expressed any views regarding the recent telegraphed proposals of Spanish troubles.

Internal revenue receipts to-day, $33,800. Governor English of Connecticut had a long interview with the president to-day.

General Hancock telegraphed hopefully of reaching here on Monday next.

The Supreme Council of the Brotherhood of the Union visited the president to-day. The president visited to his having been a member of the order, now knew better than himself the good the order had effected throughout the country, or were more delighted with the wide-spreading influence and growing strength of the order.

Receipts from the sale of the 21st to the 30th ult. inclusive, $6,000,000.

New Orleans newspapers from the first to the fourth inclusive reached here to-day.

FROM EUROPE.

The New Spanish Constitution—American Ship Alike—Anticipated Abolition of Slavery in Spain.

MADRID, Oct. 7.—The provisional Junta will free the children of blacks in anticipation of the abolition of slavery by the Cortes.

MADRID, Oct. 6, 10 p. m.—The definitive provisional constitution and the provisional government, with Prim and Serrano at its head, is considered an accomplished fact.

Long before the ability to exercise the functions of the generative organs they require an education of their nervous system, composed of what is called the testes, which is, in common with the female breast and lips, evidently under the control of mental emotions and associations at an early period of life; and, as we shall subsequently see, these emotions, when excessive, lead, long before puberty, to habits which are very injurious to their nature as well as completed their development.

FROM SOUTHWEST PASS.

SOUTHWEST PASS, Oct. 7.—Noon.—Barometer 29.60. No wind. Arrived—Steamship Mexico, 20,000. No wind. Arrived—Steamship Mexico, 20,000. No wind. Arrived—Steamship Mexico, 20,000.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Discharge of Kells and Others.—The Naval Engagement in Hesperia Waters—Burning of a Steam Elevator at Troy, N. Y.

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—Gutman discharged Rollins, Harlan, and others implicated, declaring there was nothing in the evidence to justify his holding them.

Particulars of a naval engagement in the Haytian waters have been received, which state that the batteries at Le Petit Gouave were silenced by the Galeon, (since named the Alexandre Peton), and that the troops on shore stormed and took the place.

TROY, N. Y., Oct. 7.—A grain elevator burned here to-day with 300,000 bushels of grain in it.

MARKETS.

LONDON, Oct. 7.—Noon.—Securities unchanged. Foo Chow advices report exports new crop tea at 560,000 pounds. Oct. 7.—Noon.—Cotton steady and unchanged. Sales 10,000 bales.

FRANKFORT, Oct. 7.—Bonds firm, 67.12. PARIS, Oct. 7.—Bourse dull; rates 69.12.

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—Cotton steady and unchanged. Sugar almost steady, 24.84.

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—Cotton heavy at 1/2 to 1/4 lower. Sales to-day, 12,000 bales. Middlings 25 1/2.

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—Money easy at 104 1/2. West 11 1/2. City 11 1/2. 1864 110 1/2 @ 111 1/2. 1865 108 1/2 @ 109 1/2. 1866 106 1/2 @ 107 1/2. 1867 104 1/2 @ 105 1/2.

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—Gold dull at 139 1/2. Government steady.

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—Cotton dull and nominal. Middlings 23 1/2. No sales. Receipts 568 bales. No exports.

CHARLESTON, Oct. 7.—Cotton market dull and prices have declined 1/2 c. Sales to-day 120 bales. Middlings 24 1/2. Receipts 617 bales.

SAVANNAH, Oct. 7.—Cotton market dull. Sales 56 bales. Middlings nominally 25. Receipts 694 bales.

SPRINGFIELD, Oct. 7.—Tobacco dull and unchanged. Superfine No. 1 $2.86. Wheat declined 1/2 c. Corn 25 1/2 @ 26. Cuts 50 @ 55. Pork 33 @ 35. Bacon—clear rib sides 16 @ 16 1/2. Shoulders 12 1/2 @ 13. Lard 20 @ 21.

CINCINNATI, Oct. 7.—Family flour $5.50 @ $5.75. West 11 1/2. City 11 1/2. 1864 110 1/2 @ 111 1/2. 1865 108 1/2 @ 109 1/2. 1866 106 1/2 @ 107 1/2. 1867 104 1/2 @ 105 1/2.

TO THE PUBLIC.

The frequent articles that have appeared in the Times during the past week in reference to the city printing, while they attracted my attention, did not demand any reply or explanation from me further than could be given from my seat in the Board of Assistant Aldermen, from the fact that I do not consider myself personally assailed, and better had not the advantage of the powerful leverage of a press to back me.

The article in the Times of yesterday evening, as follows, requires some notice from me.

THE COUNCIL AND THE DOWRY FRAUDS.—It will be seen from the report of the proceedings of the City Council last night, that the exposure made in the Times in regard to the recognition, by certain officials of the corporation, of the obligation to pay two printers one dollar and forty cents per square for work already contracted to be done by one of them for forty cents, have elicited inquiry and action of a prompt and decided character.

We owe it to the majority of the council to express the belief that they were ignorant that warrants had already been issued to the printer in payment of his extortionate demand.

So confident, indeed, were these gentlemen on the subject of the printer's bona fides, that an indignant denial of the statements in the Times when it was suggested to them that the Times did not usually make unauthorised allegations, and had many sources of knowledge not, perhaps, enjoyed by themselves, led them to believe that the controller's office, when they learned, for the first time, that warrants had issued to the printer for work for which warrants had not been issued, would have been glad to retract the resolutions introduced into both boards last night, and the honest indignation of the members, that an attempt should have been made to bind the council to the printer.

The indignation thus manifested and the inquiry directed, are precisely those which prompted the editor of the Times to publish the following remarks in the Times of the 29th September:

"There must be said recency or complicity somewhere, or those intrusted with the protection of the city's financial interests would not permit the printer to be so grossly deceived without a word of protest. We hear curious whispers of arrangements between Radical and Democratic partisans, which require explanation."

For the statement of the printer, that he was a mark, a furious assault was made upon the Times, with a result which, we feel assured, is satisfactory to the public. Had we remained silent under the circumstances, we should have been pronounced by the independent journals and failed in our obligations to our readers and the tax-payers of this city. But we were rather old in the harness to be thus thwarted of our own good sense.

We determined to get at the bottom of this new oppression to the burdened people of this city.

The result of the investigation, we feel satisfied, will assist and justify the editor of the Times in his assertions. On the authority of one of the witnesses we make the following statement, which we trust will not be regarded as "an unfounded and malicious calumny." Some time since the printer of the Times was introduced into the mayor's office by Mr. Thomas F. Fisher, chairman of the finance committee of the Board of Aldermen; the Republican proprietor then demanded the printing, with the apparent sanction of the chairman of the Board of Aldermen.

The exact reply of the mayor we are not prepared to give, but we believe it did not recognize the claim. Subsequently, according to the statement of our informant, the chairman of the finance committee proceeded to the printer's office, and that officer, under advice and direction of said chairman, issued the warrant or warrants to the proprietor of the Republican for the printing of the Times already done by the City Council, and paid for.

The facts are with our readers. To them we feel bound to vindicate the truthfulness, justice and fidelity to the public interest which have ever been characteristic of the Times. Independent of all questions, rings and partisan entanglements, without the ambition or the capacity to be organ and tool of any party, or faction, or individual, the Times will continue to maintain and defend the integrity of the Republic.

I propose to make my explanation and comments as brief as possible. I deem it only proper to state here, however, that the cowardly attacks of the Times upon my official acts when I have had no opportunity of replying without going beyond my duties as a city officer, have possibly had the effect of prejudicing the public mind (at least of those who were not otherwise informed) against me, are based upon the fact that I refused to vote for that paper for official journal, giving, amongst other reasons, that one of the proprietors, and the principal one, was notoriously a Black Republican, and as I believed opposed to the party that had elected me to office. I paid no attention to the articles that appeared in that paper so long as it confined its strictures to my official acts, but on one occasion it stepped out of the limits of official criticism, and as I thought, attacked me personally, upon which I demanded and received an explanation and a retraction, publicly, of any intention to attack my personal character. The retraction, while it was not entirely satisfactory to me, was so to the mind of my friend who accompanied me, and I therefore submitted to the decision.

With regard to the article in yesterday's evening Times, except as hereafter stated, I pronounce its statements false.

Sometime in the month of August, while leaving the City Hall, I met on the steps Gen. A. L. Lee, the proprietor of the Republican, who stated that he was on the way to see the mayor, and asked me to accompany him, saying that his business was to ask that the mayor should comply with the State law, with regard to sending the city advertising in his paper.

When we reached the mayor's office, and Gen. Lee's business was stated, and my advice was asked, I gave it very freely, which was that so long as we recognized the General Assembly as a legal body, (which we did by asking them to pass a bill permitting the city to issue bonds, levy taxes, &c.) that we were bound to respect the act regarding the publication of city advertisements until the courts decided the act to be illegal, from the fact that the act itself rendered all of the ordinances and other acts of the city null and void unless published in the Republican, and that the city could not in its present condition afford to run the risk of violating contracts, and of having all of the acts of the government nullified.

"The proposition," said Gen. Lee, "is to have a representative of the people in the council, not in my capacity as chairman of the finance committee."

The portions of sections 11 and 12 of the printing bill, bearing on the subject, reads as follows: "Sec. 11. Be it further enacted, etc., that in addition to the other duties herein imposed upon the State printer, he shall be required to publish in his official journal * * * all municipal advertisements of every description whatsoever of the corporation of the city of New Orleans, whether the same may be authorized by a law of the State, an ordinance of the Common Council, or by any officer or department of the city government. And any such publication or advertisement, whether parochial or municipal, shall be utterly null and void, unless so published in the official journal; provided, that the advertisements of the city of New Orleans may be published in one or more additional papers, whenever in the opinion of the Common Council the public interests may demand such additional publication."

"Sec. 12. Be it further enacted, etc., in each month the State printer shall render once in each month a detailed statement of all advertising done for the corporation of New Orleans or any department or officer thereof; and it shall be the duty of the said controller to examine the same, and if found correct he shall immediately give his warrant on the city treasurer in payment; and it shall not be necessary for any other officer or department of the city government to examine or approve said account."

"If the editor of the Times would stop the people as much on facts as he endeavors to perpetrate to suit his own purpose, he would state that neither the City Council nor the finance committee, much less one member of the latter, could have power to order a bill to be paid or not paid. The bill was warranted for by the controller under the law, and when my opinion was asked upon it, I gave it freely that he would be sustained by the law, and in this opinion I have always been open and free.

TO THE PUBLIC.

With regard to the City Council being ignorant of the fact that the Republican was being paid for city printing, I need only refer to the proceedings of the Board of Assistant Aldermen of 8th September, in which a resolution was introduced by me repealing the ordinance requiring specifications to contracts to be published in the official journal. In the debate that followed it was fully explained that the city was paying the Common Council 40 cents per square, and the Republican 51 per square for these advertisements, and the argument was made that a large sum could be saved from the Republican's bill by stopping this particular species of advertising, and if the Times had reported the debates in the council as fairly and honestly as it does sometimes unfairly and unjustly, it might have saved itself some little reputation for truth, which it does not now bear in the community. With regard to the action of the mayor and controller, I have nothing to say, except that they have themselves to defend from the wanton, unjust and unmanly attack of the corrupt paper, and I presume they will not do so to their credit, but bear me out in my sentiments.

THOS. F. FISHER.

LOCAL POLITICS.

Will confer a favor upon the editors of this column by sending to the Cassinier office after each meeting of the several clubs which they represent, a copy of the proceedings. We are compelled to ask them from them, as the rapidly increasing number of Democratic clubs in the city render it impossible for a local paper, however large, to attend every meeting. We are, therefore, creating a complete compendium of local political intelligence, and, with the aid of our friends, will certainly do so. But such assistance is necessary to us to enable us to do so.

We trust that the Democrats of the city will give it.

The Blair Zouaves.

The long looked forward to event of the banner presentation to this great club took place last night. It will be remembered that we were originally intended to have come off on last Saturday evening, but the inclemency of the weather, and the bad state of the streets since, necessitated its postponement until last evening. The event proved that rather than having lost by this delay the Zouaves had, by the gaining of time, been enabled to do more than to make the affair one of the most brilliant of the campaign.

In accordance with an invitation, a 5 o'clock yesterday evening found our correspondents at the residence of the general club officer at the residence of the various clubs who were to turn out had already assembled. First in the procession was the Workingmen's Club of the South Ward, the members looking in the most magnificent array of red caps each adorned with a bushy fox's brush, a pleasing and novel sight; last were the Zouaves themselves, 330 strong, in red pantaloons with white leggings, blue and white shirt with red cuffs, the right cuff bearing the letter B, the left the letter U, in white, red zouave caps with long tassels, making altogether a brilliant appearance, which was intensified by their torches. The Zouaves were accompanied by their Junior Club, an organization of boys, uniformed similarly to their seniors.

The procession marched out Eighth street to St. Charles, thence back to Magazine, where turning lower left, the members of the various clubs entered the hall; next were the Swamp Fox Rangers, with their red caps each adorned with a bushy fox's brush, a pleasing and novel sight; last were the Zouaves themselves, 330 strong, in red pantaloons with white leggings, blue and white shirt with red cuffs, the right cuff bearing the letter B, the left the letter U, in white, red zouave caps with long tassels, making altogether a brilliant appearance, which was intensified by their torches. The Zouaves were accompanied by their Junior Club, an organization of boys, uniformed similarly to their seniors.

The procession marched out Eighth street to St. Charles, thence back to Magazine, where turning lower left, the members of the various clubs entered the hall; next were the Swamp Fox Rangers, with their red caps each adorned with a bushy fox's brush, a pleasing and novel sight; last were the Zouaves themselves, 330 strong, in red pantaloons with white leggings, blue and white shirt with red cuffs, the right cuff bearing the letter B, the left the letter U, in white, red zouave caps with long tassels, making altogether a brilliant appearance, which was intensified by their torches. The Zouaves were accompanied by their Junior Club, an organization of boys, uniformed similarly to their seniors.

The procession marched out Eighth street to St. Charles, thence back to Magazine, where turning lower left, the members of the various clubs entered the hall; next were the Swamp Fox Rangers, with their red caps each adorned with a bushy fox's brush, a pleasing and novel sight; last were the Zouaves themselves, 330 strong, in red pantaloons with white leggings, blue and white shirt with red cuffs, the right cuff bearing the letter B, the left the letter U, in white, red zouave caps with long tassels, making altogether a brilliant appearance, which was intensified by their torches. The Zouaves were accompanied by their Junior Club, an organization of boys, uniformed similarly to their seniors.

The procession marched out Eighth street to St. Charles, thence back to Magazine, where turning lower left, the members of the various clubs entered the hall; next were the Swamp Fox Rangers, with their red caps each adorned with a bushy fox's brush, a pleasing and novel sight; last were the Zouaves themselves, 330 strong, in red pantaloons with white leggings, blue and white shirt with red cuffs, the right cuff bearing the letter B, the left the letter U, in white, red zouave caps with long tassels, making altogether a brilliant appearance, which was intensified by their torches. The Zouaves were accompanied by their Junior Club, an organization of boys, uniformed similarly to their seniors.

The procession marched out Eighth street to St. Charles, thence back to Magazine, where turning lower left, the members of the various clubs entered the hall; next were the Swamp Fox Rangers, with their red caps each adorned with a bushy fox's brush, a pleasing and novel sight; last were the Zouaves themselves, 330 strong, in red pantaloons with white leggings, blue and white shirt with red cuffs, the right cuff bearing the letter B, the left the letter U, in white, red zouave caps with long tassels, making altogether a brilliant appearance, which was intensified by their torches. The Zouaves were accompanied by their Junior Club, an organization of boys, uniformed similarly to their seniors.

The procession marched out Eighth street to St. Charles, thence back to Magazine, where turning lower left, the members of the various clubs entered the hall; next were the Swamp Fox Rangers, with their red caps each adorned with a bushy fox's brush, a pleasing and novel sight; last were the Zouaves themselves, 330 strong, in red pantaloons with white leggings, blue and white shirt with red cuffs, the right cuff bearing the letter B, the left the letter U, in white, red zouave caps with long tassels, making altogether a brilliant appearance, which was intensified by their torches. The Zouaves were accompanied by their Junior Club, an organization of boys, uniformed similarly to their seniors.

The procession marched out Eighth street to St. Charles, thence back to Magazine, where turning lower left, the members of the various clubs entered the hall; next were the Swamp Fox Rangers, with their red caps each adorned with a bushy fox's brush, a pleasing and novel sight; last were the Zouaves themselves, 330 strong, in red pantaloons with white leggings, blue and white shirt with red cuffs, the right cuff bearing the letter B, the left the letter U, in white, red zouave caps with long tassels, making altogether a brilliant appearance, which was intensified by their torches. The Zouaves were accompanied by their Junior Club, an organization of boys, uniformed similarly to their seniors.

The procession marched out Eighth street to St. Charles, thence back to Magazine, where turning lower left, the members of the various clubs entered the hall; next were the Swamp Fox Rangers, with their red caps each adorned with a bushy fox's brush, a pleasing and novel sight; last were the Zouaves themselves, 330 strong, in red pantaloons with white leggings, blue and white shirt with red cuffs, the right cuff bearing the letter B, the left the letter U, in white, red zouave caps with long tassels, making altogether a brilliant appearance, which was intensified by their torches. The Zouaves were accompanied by their Junior Club, an organization of boys, uniformed similarly to their seniors.

The procession marched out Eighth street to St. Charles, thence back to Magazine, where turning lower left, the members of the various clubs entered the hall; next were the Swamp Fox Rangers, with their red caps each adorned with a bushy fox's brush, a pleasing and novel sight; last were the Zouaves themselves, 330 strong, in red pantaloons with white leggings, blue and white shirt with red cuffs, the right cuff bearing the letter B, the left the letter U, in white, red zouave caps with long tassels, making altogether a brilliant appearance, which was intensified by their torches. The Zouaves were accompanied by their Junior Club, an organization of boys, uniformed similarly to their seniors.

The procession marched out Eighth street to St. Charles, thence back to Magazine, where turning lower left, the members of the various clubs entered the hall; next were the Swamp Fox Rangers, with their red caps each adorned with a bushy fox's brush, a pleasing and novel sight; last were the Zouaves themselves, 330 strong, in red pantaloons with white leggings, blue and white shirt with red cuffs, the right cuff bearing the letter B, the left the letter U, in white, red zouave caps with long tassels, making altogether a brilliant appearance, which was intensified by their torches. The Zouaves were accompanied by their Junior Club, an organization of boys, uniformed similarly to their seniors.

The procession marched out Eighth street to St. Charles, thence back to Magazine, where turning lower left, the members of the various clubs entered the hall; next were the Swamp Fox Rangers, with their red caps each adorned with a bushy fox's brush, a pleasing and novel sight; last were the Zouaves themselves, 330 strong, in red pantaloons with white leggings, blue and white shirt with red cuffs, the right cuff bearing the letter B, the left the letter U, in white, red zouave caps with long tassels, making altogether a brilliant appearance, which was intensified by their torches. The Zouaves were accompanied by their Junior Club, an organization of boys, uniformed similarly to their seniors.

The procession marched out Eighth street to St. Charles, thence back to Magazine, where turning lower left, the members of the various clubs entered the hall; next were the Swamp Fox Rangers, with their red caps each adorned with a bushy fox's brush, a pleasing and novel sight; last were the Zouaves themselves, 330 strong, in red pantaloons with white leggings, blue and white shirt with red cuffs, the right cuff bearing the letter B, the left the letter U, in white, red zouave caps with long tassels, making altogether a brilliant appearance, which was intensified by their torches. The Zouaves were accompanied by their Junior Club, an organization of boys, uniformed similarly to their seniors.

The procession marched out Eighth street to St. Charles, thence back to Magazine, where turning lower left, the members of the various clubs entered the hall; next were the Swamp Fox Rangers, with their red caps each adorned with a bushy fox's brush, a pleasing and novel sight; last were the Zouaves themselves, 330 strong, in red pantaloons with white leggings, blue and white shirt with red cuffs, the right cuff bearing the letter B, the left the letter U, in white, red zouave caps with long tassels, making altogether a brilliant appearance, which was intensified by their torches. The Zouaves were accompanied by their Junior Club, an organization of boys, uniformed similarly to their seniors.

The procession marched out Eighth street to St. Charles, thence back to Magazine, where turning lower left, the members of the various clubs entered the hall; next were the Swamp Fox Rangers, with their red caps each adorned with a bushy fox's brush, a pleasing and novel sight; last were the Zouaves themselves, 330 strong, in red pantaloons with white leggings, blue and white shirt with red cuffs, the right cuff bearing the letter B, the left the letter U, in white, red zouave caps with long tassels, making altogether a brilliant appearance, which was intensified by their torches. The Zouaves were accompanied by their Junior Club, an organization of boys, uniformed similarly to their seniors.

The procession marched out Eighth street to St. Charles, thence back to Magazine, where turning lower left, the members of the various clubs entered the hall; next were the Swamp Fox Rangers, with their red caps each adorned with a bushy fox's brush, a pleasing and novel sight; last were the Zouaves themselves, 330 strong, in red pantaloons with white leggings, blue and white shirt with red cuffs, the right cuff bearing the letter B, the left the letter U, in white, red zouave caps with long tassels, making altogether a brilliant appearance, which was intensified by their torches. The Zouaves were accompanied by their Junior Club, an organization of boys, uniformed similarly to their seniors.

The procession marched out Eighth street to St. Charles, thence back to Magazine, where turning lower left, the members of the various clubs entered the hall; next were the Swamp Fox Rangers, with their red caps each adorned with a bushy fox's brush, a pleasing and novel sight; last were the Zouaves themselves, 330 strong, in red pantaloons with white leggings, blue and white shirt with red cuffs, the right cuff bearing the letter B, the left the letter U, in white, red zouave caps with long tassels, making altogether a brilliant appearance, which was intensified by their torches. The Zouaves were accompanied by their Junior Club, an organization of boys, uniformed similarly to their seniors.

The procession marched out Eighth street to St. Charles, thence back to Magazine, where turning lower left, the members of the various clubs entered the hall; next were the Swamp Fox Rangers, with their red caps each adorned with a bushy fox's brush, a pleasing and novel sight; last were the Zouaves themselves, 330 strong, in red pantaloons with white leggings, blue and white shirt with red cuffs, the right cuff bearing the letter B, the left the letter U, in white, red zouave caps with long tassels, making altogether a brilliant appearance, which was intensified by their torches. The Zouaves were accompanied by their Junior Club, an organization of boys, uniformed similarly to their seniors.

The procession marched out Eighth street to St. Charles, thence back to Magazine, where turning lower left, the members of the various clubs entered the hall; next were the Swamp Fox Rangers, with their red caps each adorned with a bushy fox's brush, a pleasing and novel sight; last were the Zouaves themselves, 330 strong, in red pantaloons with white leggings, blue and white shirt with red cuffs, the right cuff bearing the letter B, the left the letter U, in white, red zouave caps with long tassels, making altogether a brilliant appearance, which was intensified by their torches. The Zouaves were accompanied by their Junior Club, an organization of boys, uniformed similarly to their seniors.

The procession marched out Eighth street to St. Charles, thence back to Magazine, where turning lower left, the members of the various clubs entered the hall; next were the Swamp Fox Rangers, with their red caps each adorned with a bushy fox's brush, a pleasing and novel sight; last were the Zouaves themselves, 330 strong, in red pantaloons with white leggings, blue and white shirt with red cuffs, the right cuff bearing the letter B, the left the letter U, in white, red zouave caps with long tassels, making altogether a brilliant appearance, which was intensified by their torches. The Zouaves were accompanied by their Junior Club, an organization of boys, uniformed similarly to their seniors.

The procession marched out Eighth street to St. Charles, thence back to Magazine, where turning lower left, the members of the various clubs entered the hall; next were the Swamp Fox Rangers, with their red caps each adorned with a bushy fox's brush, a pleasing and novel sight; last were the Zouaves themselves, 330 strong, in red pantaloons with white leggings, blue and white shirt with red cuffs, the right cuff bearing the letter B, the left the letter U, in white, red zouave caps with long tassels, making altogether a brilliant appearance, which was intensified by their torches. The Zouaves were accompanied by their Junior Club, an organization of boys, uniformed similarly to their seniors.

The procession marched out Eighth street to St. Charles, thence back to Magazine, where turning lower left, the members of the various clubs entered the hall; next were the Swamp Fox Rangers, with their red caps each adorned with a bushy fox's brush, a pleasing and novel sight; last were the Zouaves themselves, 330 strong, in red pantaloons with white leggings, blue and white shirt with red cuffs, the right cuff bearing the letter B, the left the letter U, in white, red zouave caps with long tassels, making altogether a brilliant appearance, which was intensified by their torches. The Zouaves were accompanied by their Junior Club, an organization of boys, uniformed similarly to their seniors.

The procession marched out Eighth street to St. Charles, thence back to Magazine, where turning lower left, the members of the various clubs entered the hall; next were the Swamp Fox Rangers, with their red caps each adorned with a bushy fox's brush, a pleasing and novel sight; last were the Zouaves themselves, 330 strong, in red pantaloons with white leggings, blue and white shirt with red cuffs, the right cuff bearing the letter B, the left the letter U, in white, red zouave caps with long tassels, making altogether a brilliant appearance, which was intensified by their torches. The Zouaves were accompanied by their Junior Club, an organization of boys, uniformed similarly to their seniors.

The procession marched out Eighth street to St. Charles, thence back to Magazine, where turning lower left, the members of the various clubs entered the hall; next were the Swamp Fox Rangers, with their red caps each adorned with a bushy fox's brush, a pleasing and novel sight; last were the Zouaves themselves, 330 strong, in red pantaloons with white leggings, blue and white shirt with red cuffs, the right cuff bearing the letter B, the left the letter U, in white, red zouave caps with long tassels, making