

The New Orleans Crescent

OFFICIAL JOURNAL OF THE CITY OF NEW ORLEANS. S. O. NIXON, Editor and Proprietor. OFFICE, No. 94 CAMP STREET.

AMUSEMENTS THIS EVENING. NEW OPERA HOUSE—Hale's opera in three acts, 'The Queen's Rivalry'.

THE RACES.

There are two for to-day. The first will be mile heats. There are three entries, Wisenbunt, who was unexpectedly beaten by Faro, last week, Tom Green, and Jack Gamble, Jr.

The following correspondence will explain itself. METAIRIE OFFICE, 18 Carondelet street, New Orleans, Dec. 4, 1898.

I am directed by the president of the Metairie Jockey Club to invite yourself, Brother Adalaid, and the little boys that compose the brass band to visit the races over the Metairie Course on the three mile day.

From the above it will be seen that there will be, to-day, additional attractions on the Metairie. It is the last day of the meeting. The attendance will probably be excellent, as every one who can get away from town will surely see the three mile race.

The latest news from Europe contradicts the reports of an emeute in Paris which were circulated last week, and which originated in the telegram of Saturday night from England.

The facts of this case present a not uncommon, though a profoundly horrible, tragedy. All its incidents, and all its circumstances, are sadly and terribly suggestive.

The Board of Public Works yesterday awarded the contract for the reconstruction of Grand Levee to Mr. Kennedy. This gentleman is a contractor of large experience in levee building, and we presume that he will do this work thoroughly—at least we hope so.

CUBA.

We publish, this morning, a letter from our correspondent in Havana, giving the aspect of the situation at the date of writing. When we say "the aspect of the situation," we mean the situation as seen by the government and the partisans of the government; for our correspondent evidently takes the "truly loyal" view of the insurrection which the Spanish authority at Havana imposes upon the public within reach of its power as a test of "truly loyal" orthodoxy.

TO THE PEOPLE.

When the pure medicinal restorative, now so widely known as Wolff's Scleroderm Schnapps, was introduced into the world under the indorsement of four thousand leading members of the medical profession some twenty years ago, its proprietor was well aware that it could not wholly escape the penalty attached to all new and useful preparations. He, therefore, endeavored to invest it with the most positive safeguard against counterfeiters, and to render all attempts to please difficult and dangerous.

These satisfactory credentials from professional men of the highest rank were published in a condensed form, and included with each bottle of Schnapps, as one of the guarantees of its genuineness. Other precautions against fraud were also adopted; a patent was obtained for the article, the label was copyrighted, a fac simile of the proprietor's autograph signature was attached to each label and cover, his name and that of the preparator were embossed on the bottles, and the cork was sealed with his private seal.

Complaints have been received from the leading physicians and families in the Southern States of the sale of cheap imitations of the Scleroderm Schnapps in those markets; and travelers, who are in the habit of using it as an antidote to the baneful influence of unwholesome river water, testify that cheap, put up in Scleroderm bottles, is frequently palmed off upon the unwary.

The following letter and certificate from the leading physicians and chemists of this city will prove to the reader that all goods sold by the undersigned are in all respects represented by the original.

I feel bound to say that I regard your Schnapps as being in every respect pre-eminently pure and devoid of all adulteration. At all events, it is the purest possible article of Scleroderm Schnapps obtainable, and as such may be safely prescribed by physicians.

Very respectfully,
CHAS. A. SEELY, Chemist.

Dear Sir:—I have made a chemical examination of a sample of your Scleroderm Schnapps, with the intent of determining if any foreign or injurious substance had been added to the simple distilled spirits.

The examination has resulted in the conclusion that the sample contained no poisonous or harmful admixture. I have been unable to discover any trace of the deleterious substance which are employed in the adulteration of liquor. I would not hesitate to use myself or recommend to others, for medicinal purposes, the Scleroderm Schnapps as an excellent and unobjectionable variety of Gin.

Very respectfully,
DAVID L. MOTT, M. D., Pharmaceutical Chemist, New York.
