

WANTS! RENTS! SITUATIONS! REAL ESTATE! AUCTION SALES! & OTHER CLASSIFIED ADS.

The Topeka State Journal guarantees every day it is printed, to give a local circulation more than double that of any other paper, and by far more than all other papers combined. This makes this paper the cheapest, as well as the best daily advertising medium in Topeka, the classified advertisements being costed as follows:

FIVE CENTS A LINE, or 20 cents a line for a week; 10 cents by the month. Circulation every day exceeds 5,000—total circulation over 1,000. Special rates for advertisements of circulation presented on application.

SITUATIONS WANTED—FREE. Are you in need of work? If so, you are at liberty to use these columns for assistance in that direction. While this notice appears in the State Journal, it will be published in the State Journal, Monday and Tuesday, for Topeka or Kansas papers, all orders of "Situations Wanted," not exceeding thirty days, will be published free of charge. Provided that all advertisements of this nature be sent to the office of the State Journal, Thursday and Friday, all advertising of this class being in by six o'clock Wednesday morning.

Her Past. There is among Boston celebrities a certain small bodied, sensitive composer of music who is gifted with a very witty wife. Her latest bonnet was the result of a recent afternoon tea. Certain very giddy girls were clustered about the composer exclaiming ecstatically on the quality of his music. "I don't see, Mr. —," said Miss Gushington, "how you managed to write all those lovely passionate things without being worried all the time. Dear me, I should be as nervous as a witch!"

"Certainly, you would be, my dear," said Mrs. —, with a suggestion of scorn, born of the proximity of so many youthful faces, "but John only composes music. I compose John."—Boston Budget.

More Binding. "The best thing to seal a proposal is a kiss, is it not?" "No, dear, a witness."

The Green Stage Manager's Suggestion. In his younger days Eugene Jepson and his brother managed a company and started on a tour through Ohio. They were booked to appear at a little country town which boasted of an "operay house" and arrived in the settlement early in the morning.

The opera house was built over a little grocery store, and the lanky 20-year-old son of the grocer acted as stage manager. After breakfast one of Mr. Jepson's employees went to inspect the theater. There he found plenty of scenery, but no furniture.

The deficiency was explained to the grocer's son, and he was told to borrow the necessary "props" from the neighbors in exchange for passes. "Then," continued the man from the east, "we want some snow."

"Snow!" was the despairing answer. "Can't you get along without it?" "No," was the response. "It's absolutely necessary."

The raw manager thought awhile and then moved off down the street, where he found Mr. Jepson, to whom he at once put the query, "Do we need snow?" "Yes," was the answer.

"Why, I can't get a bit of snow at this season of the year," said the frantic man, but then, as if struck by an idea, he continued, "Won't it do just as well?"—Philadelphia Call.

She'd Been There. He stood on the corner of Woodward avenue and Woodbridge street with an unlighted cigar in his hand, waiting for a smoker to come along. By and by a little old woman, with a bundle under her arm, who had evidently crossed the ferry, came along and observed the situation and queried:

"Waitin' for a light?" "Yes'm," was the reply. "Well, I guess I can accommodate ye."

She put down her
