Fifty-nine People Reported Killed by Indians.

The Report Not Authentic and Details Are Meagre.

LOADS OF SOLDIERS.

Forty-four Cars Start for Scene of Trouble.

POCAHELLO, Idaho, July 26.—Reports from Market Lake say that the Rexburg, Idaho, paper reports fifty-nine people killed by the Bannocks near Jackson's Hole, but there is no way to confirm the report and it is not believed here. A courier is expected here from the vicinity of Jackson's Hole with the latest news. No news has been received from Market Lake for three days of an authentic nature.

Forty-four car loads of United States cavalry left Cheyenne last night for Market Lake with provisions, horses, tents, etc. They will reach Pocatello this afternoon. The troops will be immediately piloted to Wind river and it is not likely that any trouble will occur after their arrival. It is feared that the Indians will take advantage of the small number of settlers and commit wholesale murder before the troops can interfere.

Four hundred Indians are said to have joined the Bannocks on Fall river and are preparing to make an onslaught on the whites. It is probable that Governor McConnell will be called to aid in suppressing violence. Several parties of tourists are in Pocatello awaiting the result before making their departure for Yellowstone park.

CARRIE LANE INCIDENT.

No Official Report of the Affair Made as Yet to Washington.

WASHINGTON, July 26.—The reported firing on the Carrie E. Lane, an American schooner, by a Spanish cruiser off the Cuban coast, has not yet been reported officially to the state department, and in the absence of any definite statement, the officials decline to express an opinion on the subject. The important point to be established in this case is the exact location of the Lane when she was signalled to stop. The captain's statement is that this was off Cape Antonio, but he does not say whether or not he was in the three mile limit. If he was he could not claim exemption from responding to a demand to establish his identity, as was contended by Secretary Gresham in the Allianca case, for his was not a vessel following a regular route, but one cruising from port to port in the West Indies. In view of the fact that several filibustering expeditions have succeeded in landing in Cuba from the coast of Jamaica and other of the West Indian islands, officials here are not surprised that the Spanish commanders should exercise every precaution to make sure of the innocent plying of any small sailing craft seen hovering about the Cuban coasts, and it is felt that this particular commander acted within his rights if he fired a shot across the Lane's bow if she failed to stop when signalled in regular form. The small size and appearance of the schooner, it is said, was against her, and calculated to excite suspicion as to her object.

THE DURRANT TRIAL.

San Francisco's Sensational Murder Case Begins.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 26.—A number of young women struggled with other curiosity seekers to obtain admission to the trial of Theodore Durrant for the murder of Blanche Lamont yesterday. The proceedings opened with the district attorney's attempt to controvert the defendant's application for a change of venue. After a number of affidavits had been presented stating the defendant would have a fair trial in San Francisco, Judge Murphy decided the defendant's application for a change of venue, giving Durrant the right to renew the motion later on.

The court announced the so-called play based upon the Emanuel church murders could not be produced during the trial or while the action was pending in the Superior court. The impaneling of jurors then commenced. Fifty of the jurors offered excuses which were accepted by the court. Of the other hundred jurors who had been summoned an attempt was then made to secure twelve talesmen. Durrant, who was accompanied in court by his father and mother, maintains his calm and unconcerned demeanor.

CAPT. BECK EXPLODES

A Stirring Session at the Winnebago Indian Agency.

Beck Talks of "Infamous Liars and Scoundrels."

TOLD TO SIT DOWN.

Senator Allen Puts a Stop to His Effervescence.

FENNER, Neb., July 26.—Captain Beck and the congressional delegation had a stirring session yesterday morning and violence was imminent for several minutes at the Winnebago agency. He offended the entire Nebraska congressional delegation in his office and would have ordered the senators and congressmen from the room had it not been for Senator Allen. The proceedings began when Senator Allen stated that the two senators and three representatives of the congressional delegation of Nebraska had come for the purpose of informing themselves as to the condition of affairs. In reply to this Captain Beck made a short statement. He stated that the Flournoy company had systematically robbed the Indians and that it was a corrupt concern generally. Captain Beck said the members of the Flournoy company and every one of its friends and sympathizers were infamous liars and scoundrels. Just as the captain finished, John F. Meyers, the treasurer of the company, entered the office.

"You are not telling the truth and you know it," he said. If a giant firecracker had been exploded under the captain's feet he could not have been more excited.

"Get out of here," he cried, "get out of here. This is my office. I will not have you in it. I am master here. You have been arrested by the United States marshal and ought to be in jail. I will not have you here. Get out before I have you thrown out."

An exciting scene ensued. Senator Thurston remarked: "I wish to know whether or not this convention, representing a majority of the members of the Nebraska congressional delegation, is to proceed without a repetition of such scenes as the one we have just seen enacted. We are amply able to preserve order without the interference or assistance on the part of any one. If this delegation is here without right—the right of American citizens to know how their own affairs are being conducted, I, for one, am ready to resign at once."

Captain Beck jumped to his feet and excitedly exclaimed that he did not recognize the authority of the delegation. "Sit down," Senator Allen spoke the words. The captain sat down. The investigation proceeded without further trouble. Captain Beck submitted letters and telegrams to show that he had the approval of the interior department in everything he did.

The sentiment of the Nebraska congressional delegation, investigating the Flournoy leases of Winnebago lands came in the shape of the following telegram to Hon. Hoke Smith:

"Investigation now in progress leads us to urge you to suspend approval of leases of Winnebago lands, made by Captain Beck, and to promptly suspend further evictions until we communicate with you further. Evictions will result in tremendous loss of crops to innocent settlers."

The telegram was signed by all the delegation and will be followed by a letter detailing the entire situation.

GENIUS, WORK AND DISEASE.

Their Relations to One Another Clearly Defined.

Genius, say some, is but a capacity for hard work. This is not the whole truth, says the New Science Review. There must be work in accordance with law. The miner who digs for gold on the seashore will never find it, though he dig so laboriously, but if he study gold and the geologic strata in which it lives he has begun to put himself into harmony with law. Mere work, unless properly directed, is like riding a hobby-horse—there is energy and motion, but no progress.

For years Napoleon was living in miniature the battles he was to fight, analyzing strategic moves and positions, and training his mind to thus grasp a new situation on the instant. Von Moltke studied the military topography of all Europe, and with marvelous foresight thought out how to win. His victory was no triumph of mere fortune or special inspiration. It was but the logical outcome of his trained mind, and a trained mind ever lights the torch of its own inspiration. Leonardo da Vinci always carried in his girdle his sketch-book in his walks in Florence constantly looking for picturesque faces. "In the silence of the night," he would counsel himself, "recall the ideas of the things you have studied. Design in your spirit the contours and outlines of the figures you have seen during the day." There is a theory held by scientists that genius comes from disease. Disease, insanity, depravity and other failings often do occur as consequences due to over-concentration or misuse of powers, but they do not create genius any more than the vultures of the plains create the carcasses upon which they feed. The genius, too, being of finer mental material, is more likely to show a flaw, as Dresden china reveals a mar not noticeable in a red clay flower pot. In support of this disease theory the most insignificant, commonplace ailments of ordinary humanity, when found in genius, are magnified and exaggerated. The weaknesses thus pointed out are, it is worth noting, usually shown in the part of mind or of body where the genius was not exercised.

"I supposed you remember my dog, Dagobert?" asked the man with the ginger beard.
"Can't say as I do," said the grocer, "though I remember hearin' your say you had such a dog."
"Well, one time I lost him. I waited about four days 'lowin' probly he was away on some of his own business. Then I advertised in the country paper and what do you think, but the dog comes in home as cool as you please the day after I put in the advertisement."
"Wasted your money, eh?" said the man from Potato Creek.
"I thought that away myself," said the man with the ginger beard, "till I heered the straight of it. You see, me and the dog had a little fallin' out an' I said in his presence that I didn't care much of I lost him. Next day he was gone. I found out afterwards he had gone to one of the neighbors an' he made hisself useful chasin' haws an' killin' rats, so they let him stay. But they tells me that every mornin' Dagobert he would get the paper an' look over the 'lost' colyum an' as soon as I put that notice in he give one bark an' started for home as fast as he could leg it. Second time we had a quarrel, though, the lost dog business didn't work worth a cent."
"So it was just a coincidence the first time, was it?" said the man from Potato Creek.
"Naw. The next time I had to put in one of them there 'come home and all will be forgiven' personals."
The man from Potato Creek looked sad.

ACCEPTED DESIGN FOR THE MONUMENT TO THE FATHER OF HOMEOPATHY.

The result of the competition among sculptors for the design of the Hahnemann monument, to be erected in Washington by the homeopaths, has been determined and a precedent has been established which will probably be widely imitated. The physicians composing the Monument committee secured the assistance of an Advisory committee, composed of five well-known men—three sculptors and two architects—and received some very sound advice. The report of the committee is a model one of its kind, and the following are its salient points: Messrs. Daniel C. French, George E. Bissell, Thomas Hastings, Olin L. Warner and Russell Sturgis announce that in their judgment the first prize of $500 should go to design 20-21, which is that of Charles H. Niehaus, of New York, because the author has shown more ability than any of the others, and that under the circumstances of undetermined site, etc., it is better to select a man who shows the most ability than the general scheme which comes the nearest to general approval.
