"WHY CAN'T WE?"

Questions Insurance Agents Are Asking About Combining.

Nearly Every Other Business Has Its Unions.

BARBERS ARE CITED.

Secretary Elliott Shows How They Control Prices.

State Association Now in Session in Topeka.

Because the barbers of Topeka recently made the price of neck shaves 5 cents and forced people to pay it, Secretary Charles S. Elliott of the Kansas association of local fire insurance agents believes the insurance men should be permitted to at least protect their business. Mr. Elliott figures that if the local agents' association is a trust, then the 5 cent neck shaving business is also a trust. Mr. Elliott says in his annual report to the association today:

"All of you are familiar with the organization of printers; with the organization of miners; who yearly meet and fix the price of their labor, thus affecting the price of printing and coal. The barbers of Topeka have recently raised the price of a neck shave from nothing to 5 cents and enforced it."

"Insurance agents of Kansas, than whom there is no more intelligent class, are prevented from protecting their own business. This can be remedied if we as a body are willing to make some sacrifice of time and money for the common good and concerted action against the evils which exist and menace us."

Mr. Elliott recommends that the annual dues be raised from 50 cents to $1.50 so as to include dues and membership for the annual association of insurance men.

Secretary Elliott in his report to the association stated that some difficulty has been experienced in securing new members. Mr. Elliott explained this by saying:

"Some of the companies oppose the organization fearing a violation of the 'anti-trust law'. The Kansas association of Local Fire Insurance Agents was organized in Topeka June 24, 1899. For several months the association existed with fear and trembling, the members believing that the attorney general and superintendent of insurance were plotting to prevent the association from coming into being. The printed by-laws and constitution, which were forwarded to the superintendent of insurance, were not returned until after the association had been organized. The superintendent of insurance has since the uncertainty concerning its future terminated the same, and the members and doing business."

That the association does not feel thoroughly satisfied with the attitude of the present administration, is indicated by the statements in the call for the first meeting of the association today.

The call for the meeting contains the following:

"Never probably in the history of insurance business, was the necessity of organization so urgent as at the present time."

Trusts and combines of all kinds trade through the state of Kansas unimpeded; and yet, let the local agents in two or three get together and immediately there presents itself the specter of a 'trust' or 'combine' against the evils which exist and menace us."

The meeting today is called to discuss "the evils which exist and menace us."

DEWEY'S FUTURE.

The Admiral May Have a Special Naval Place Created For Him.

New York, Feb. 5.—A special to the Herald from Washington, D. C., says: There is considerable gossip in naval circles as to the duty which Admiral George Dewey will be assigned, now that he has practically completed his work as a member of the Philippine commission.

There has been talk in the navy of the creation of a special board to consider matters relating to the preparation of plans for new ships, the president of which should be the admiral. Secretary Long, however, says he is not considering the organization of such a board.

There is reason to believe a detail of the character of Dewey's duty would not be made until Admiral Dewey. He has very decided views on the question of ship construction, and is especially opposed to the construction of battleships and armored cruisers. The experience of the battle of Manila Bay demonstrated, in the admiral's opinion, that covered turrets are a disadvantage, and it is his belief that barbets which would provide protection for the gun crews would give much greater advantage. It is understood that the admiral has approved the finding of the board which examined Lieutenant William P. Elliott, on duty in the Cavite navy yard, commanding that he be given a year's probation, at which time he will be again re-examined for promotion. The board found that the admiral's views were generally unfit for promotion at this time.

TO UNITE DEMOCRACY.

A Committee at Work to Harmonize Eastern and Western Members.

New York, Feb. 5.—According to the Herald there is to be no total surrender by the Democratic leaders to the gold standard men. If men like Mr. Bryan and Chairman Jones have their way, the silver plank of the Chicago platform will be emphatically re-affirmed, and at the same time it will be the policy of the party managers to devise a platform that will have enough planks to give standing room for all classes of men opposed to the Republican administration.

With a view to bringing about as much harmony as possible, Senator Jones recently designated Senators Money of Mississippi, Bacon of Georgia, Tillman of South Carolina, and Turley of Tennessee, to act as a sort of advisory committee and get together material available for platform making purposes.

These senators are now going through former platforms of the party and looking out arguments against trusts, expansion, ship subsidies and other subjects that they believe will be useful in the approaching campaign.

It is understood that the party managers are so much unanimous as possible in the platform of the several state conventions on these subjects, leaving each state to deal with the silver issue as best suited to its particular locality.

SMOKED OUT.

County Officials and Court House Visitors Undergo Fumigation.

Everyone who visits the court house today is seized with a cough. The corridors count the basement to the garret, and all the offices, which have not been kept closed, are filled with the fumes of burning sulphur. The court house is being fumigated.

For the past two weeks there has been a case of measles in the basement. Mrs. Laptad, the janitress of the court house, lives in the basement, and her little grandchild was taken with the measles and had to be kept in Mrs. Laptad's apartments. The child has now recovered, and the rooms were fumigated with sulphur today. The fumigation is not confined to the apartments where the child was sick, but the odor permeates all parts of the building, with the possible exception of the district court room, which has been kept shut in order to keep the fumes out.

There have been an unusual large number of visitors to the court house today, and many people could not stay in the building more than a few minutes at a time. The district court is always called in the district court on Monday morning, and brings 50 or 60 lawyers to the court house, in addition to a large number of other persons. This is also pension day, and several hundred people have visited the county clerk's office to clear up their pension papers.

Dr. Callahan, clerk of the district court, is troubled with asthma, and the fumes were especially offensive to him. "I do not see how this kind of fumigation could not have been done yesterday when the court house was shut up. But here the health authorities, who are ever so ready to wait, waited until Monday morning, the busiest time of the week, for it."

Most of the other officers and those whose business compels them to remain in the court house, had similar complaints. They managed to get along by stopping their work every few minutes and going out to get a breath of fresh air.

County Clerk Wright was the only one who did not complain. He had indicated to his secretary by this time to close in his office to kill any possible malarial microbes which might lodge in along with the crowd of poor people who came to have their pension papers made out, but the sulphur fumigation saved him the trouble.

WILL KILL SMALL DEALERS

New Freight Rates Said to Promote Big Department Stores.

New York, Feb. 5.—The Merchants' Association of this city has sent a protest to the western classification committee at Chicago, against the new classification which has recently been adopted for all railroads west of the Mississippi river. This classification, it is contended, affects eastern shippers almost as much as did the one put in force the first of the year on eastern lines, and will be particularly severe on the strong protests against. The protest is addressed to J. T. Ripley, chairman of the classification committee.

The association objects to the widening of the difference between carload rates and less than carload rates, and asserts that the abolition of mixed carload or even train load lots, thus placing eastern grocery houses. The new classification limits the area of distribution, and cuts off the power of consumption.

There is also strong opposition by the association to the rule that certain rates will apply only to packages made of wood, contending that wood-pulp boxes are lighter in weight, and that a considerable saving can be made by the use of such boxes.

The association claims that such a rule appears as if the committee had been trying to make a prohibitive rate and thus compel the shipper to use the wood packages.

The variance between carload and less than carload rates, it is asserted, tends to promote department stores, thus crushing out the small dealers. The difference comes out of the fact that large dealers are able to buy in carload lots or even train load lots, thus placing the smaller dealer where he cannot compete successfully.

"DISHONORABLE CONDUCT"

Trading in Puts and Calls So Classified at Chicago.

Chicago, Feb. 5.—By a vote on the board of trade, trading in puts and calls was classified as dishonorable conduct in a war against privilege trading begun a month ago when the new administration for 1900 came into power.

The vote was on an amendment to the rules making it dishonorable for any member of the board to trade in puts and calls either on the board or elsewhere. The result of the balloting was expected by the members, who had declared against the custom, and all the big commission houses had bound themselves to abide by the ruling of the officers.

QUARANTINE RAISED.

Coffee Steamers From Santos May Unload at the Piers.

New York, Feb. 5.—Steamships arriving here from Santos with coffee may be permitted in future to land their cargoes at piers in the city, instead of being forced to unload at quarantine by means of lighters.

A decision in the matter will be given today by Dr. A. H. Doty, health officer of the port, who says that the extremely strict regulations following the outbreak of bubonic plague at Santos may be modified as a result of correspondence between himself and the health officers of Boston, New Orleans and other ports.

Steamers from Santos since November 18 when the J. W. Taylor arrived with bubonic plague on board, have been detained in quarantine and thorough disinfection and detention of their crews during the period of incubation of the plague, have been compelled to transfer their cargoes to lighters down the bay.

Another so-called "plague ship," the Mozart, which arrived from Santos today, was detained by Dr. Doty.

Mr. Doty when asked directly if he intended to release the Pamarrana, now held at quarantine, declined to reply, but said he had been in consultation with Washington and with health officers elsewhere and had concluded that the rules now in force were perhaps somewhat too rigid. It is probable that the Pamarrana's cargo will be the first to be landed directly since the Taylor's arrival.

RYAN WAS FOOLED.

Breidenthal Told Him He Would Not Be in Race For Governor.

W. H. Ryan of Crawford county who is a candidate for the Populist nomination for governor, arrived in Topeka today to attend the meeting of the Populist state committee. Ryan was the first candidate to reach Topeka and he immediately fired a bomb into the Breidenthal camp.

Ryan and his friends will under no circumstances go to Breidenthal in the event the situation becomes too complicated for the Crawford county candidate to land the nomination. This is gleaned from statements made by Mr. Ryan today.

He said:

"Upon Breidenthal's announcement that under no circumstances would he enter the race I launched my boom. I did not want to interfere with Breidenthal's announcement, but I was a candidate for governor I wrote to Mr. Breidenthal, asking him if he expected to enter the contest. He replied promptly, stating that he would not be a candidate. I have his letter yet."

"Then I became a candidate, upon this assurance and I am in the race to stay."

SHE SCORES ENGLAND.

Maud Gonne Makes Bitter Speech to a Vast Audience.

New York, Feb. 5.—The Academy of Music was crowded from pit to dome Sunday night with men and women who cheered Miss Maud Gonne, Irish Joan of Arc, in her bitter denunciation of England's policy in South Africa. Miss Gonne did not confine her remarks against the present war with the Boers, but in no uncertain tones told her hearers that now is the time for the Irishmen to strike an effective blow and throw off the shackles that have bound them for more than 700 years.

"England's difficulty is Ireland's opportunity, and if you are minded to see the freedom of Ireland at heart now is your time," she declared, amid great applause. The crowd cheered itself hoarse in its approval of the speaker, the greatest crimes the world ever witnessed being perpetrated in South Africa by England today. Actuated as she always has been by the acquisition of territory and a lust for gold, England, the robber nation of the world, has brought want, war and desolation to the untrodden lands of a South African. The history of England is a long and shameful record of cruelty and hypocrisy. I have studied her history, and I have seen the mad and wicked woman, and I say that it matters not what nation England is at war with, right or wrong, it is Ireland's duty to throw a thwart and hinder her to every step. America knows but too well the lies and the calumnies that were cast out against her by England when she tried to make permanent her foothold on American soil. Today she is your vanquished tyrant."

HO WAS AN EASY VICTIM.

A McCune harness dealer was in Parsons Monday looking for a tramp harness maker. The harness making tramp had worked for the McCune man a week or more and he was also a telegraph operator. He told the McCune man he was going to make some extra money Sunday working in the place of the operator, and as he was out of a time piece would the McCune harness dealer kindly lend him his good watch so he would know when to look for the train. The harness dealer obligingly loaned the tramp his watch, and now he will have to tell the time by looking at the sun—Parsons Sun.

THE DESIRE TO SING.

How It Follows Men and Women of Peeling Through Life.

All persons of feeling long for every possible form of expression. Through the lives of such persons the desire to sing is a constantly recurring phenomenon. The man who doesn't know Home, Sweet Home, or Yankee Doodle, cannot be prevented from bursting into song—no matter how unimpaired—when the musical spirit is on him. A wish for the knowledge of how to sing is well nigh universal. It is in this wish which will make the Shakespeare lecture and recital at the Grand opera house, on the 14th inst., a Shakespearean, and the great English vocalist, will tell his hearers how they "might, could, would or should sing" and will illustrate his exposition of the art in most charming manner. All lovers of the vocal art will be sure to hear him.
