

SNAPSHOTS AT HOME NEWS.

Here is a crowd which may be read and followed with profit by a good many people, particularly at the present time. Let others frame their crosses; mine is to...

The moon will be "full" tonight. The annual Stahl picnic will be held at Stahl's grove Thursday.

The next Stahl Sunday school picnic, on Thursday, will be the twenty-fourth time it has been given.

Sheriff Hatzman, of Jackson county, is still working in North Topeka aiding in the search for bodies.

Chief Wilmarth has had danger cards printed which he posts on all buildings which he finds to be unsafe.

Mr. Holmes Meade, eldest son of J. M. Meade, is at Christ hospital for a serious surgical operation.

The Topeka water company has increased its capital from $50 to $500. The graduating class of the high school will hold the graduation exercises at the high school Friday night.

Emma McCall, who was tried on the charge of insanity in the probate court Monday, was found to be sane.

Freeman Sardon's fancy cherries $2.15 case at Sam Hindman's, sole agent. Leave orders early. Don't wait.

The State Journal has received a notice from Gus Johnson of Osage City, claiming the pocketbook found in the Kansas river.

Topeka is said to be in danger of a peanut famine. So far as is known, however, there is no danger of the popcorn and lemonade running out.

The Auditorium will probably remain the headquarters for relief work until this time, food which has been taken care of. The idea of moving the headquarters has been abandoned.

The Hidden Land & Cattle company has brought an injunction against S. H. Harrington to prevent Harrington from building a dam across a draw near the Hidden ranch in Jackson county.

Merriam, a town ten miles southeast of Topeka, was inundated by a cloud-burst Monday afternoon. Lynn creek got up out of its banks and caused considerable trouble for a short time.

Edward Wilson appeared before the county commissioners Monday afternoon to protest against the jointists paying $1000 to the relief fund and having the cases against them dismissed.

A special appeal has been sent out by Grand Master R. W. Turner of the S. O. U. W. of K. to the relief fund.

Mr. S. V. Vester had a pot of money buried under the floor of his barn in North Topeka. The barn was swept away but VanVleet found the money and brought it to this side of the river and put it in a safe.

Congressman Charles Curtis says he is troubled with blood poisoning brought on, it is supposed, by exposure during the flood. There are several people who were also exposed who haven't yet reported.

Among the hard working women are those serving at the fire station in Chief Wilmarth's office. Mrs. J. H. Ladd and Mrs. Wilmarth are in charge, making clothing and bedding for the people who were driven from their homes by the flood.

George Altie, an Abilene street car conductor, came to Topeka today to try to find out something about his sister who lived in North Topeka. Nothing has been heard of her or her husband since the flood.

John Strickland was in Kansas City Monday making arrangements to have 25 half-ton outfits made from the photo-graphs he took of the flood, to be used in the book of flood stories which he will issue. Strickland has in all over 100 views of the flood in North Topeka.

O. F. Sawyer, formerly president of the Topeka Cash Dry Goods company of this city, and now proprietor of the O. F. Sawyer Dry Goods company, of Canon City, Col., sent $20 for the relief fund which was received today.

The exhibition to be given by the senior class of the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium Friday night will include work on the high bar, parallel bars and rings. There will also be side-wrestling, tumbling and a fencing bout between Messrs. Kenker and Vaughn. The proceeds will go to the relief fund.

L. M. Crawford has notified Mayor Beardsall that he will hold a number of benefit meetings in the theaters on his circuit, the proceeds to be devoted to the relief work in Topeka, owing to the largeness of the theatrical season he expresses doubts about being able to secure attractions for some of his engagements.

The women of Topeka will know all about "The Song of the Shirt" before they get enough sewing done to meet the needs of the flood sufferers of the North side. There is a great demand that has not yet been filled, despite the constant efforts of hundreds of women who have worked ever since the first day.

The streets and walks committee of the city council visited North Topeka Monday and made a hasty examination of the condition of sidewalks and pavements. It will perhaps take about $25,000 to repair the damage done. The brick pavement again proved its superiority over all other kinds. It came through the flood in better shape than either the granite blocks or the asphalt.

TO CITY OF GALVESTON.

Acknowledgment of the Generous Donation Is Made.

In acknowledgment of the receipt of the gift of $1000 by the city of Galveston, Texas, to Topeka, the following message was sent today to the Tribune, the newspaper through which the donation was made:

"To Tribune, Galveston, Tex.: Your most generous gift will be used to good account. Galveston is indeed kind in our distress. We realize that your city has been restored and is well builded anew."

KENT'S KASH KOAL CONCERN

I take this way of announcing to my patrons and friends in Topeka (both north and south) that owing to the recent unpleasantness north of the Kaw river I find myself long on sand, but very short of coal, feed and hay. Just as soon as I can dispose of the stock of sand, will stock up with coal, mill feed, corn, oats, hay, and be prepared to do business. Don't propose to meet you with any sad stories of total wrecks, everything lost, etc., so come in and see me and let's talk about your winter coal, feed for your stock and also plan for the future North Topeka. Hoping to see all my old patrons and many new ones on both sides of the river, I am, very truly, yours, KENT'S KASH KOAL CONCERN.
