A VISIT FROM THE KING
 Charles, of Portugal, Is Expected by Admiral Cotton.

Lisbon, July 29.—King Charles is expected to visit the United States European squadron on Saturday.

The reception accorded to Rear Admiral Cotton and the other American officers by the King and Queen Amelia at the Royal Castle at Cintra, 11 miles from Lisbon, Monday was most cordial. Admiral Cotton, who was accompanied by Mrs. Pina, mother of the King, and the Duke of Oporto, brother of his majesty.

There were 20 guests at the banquet given at the ministry of marine last night in honor of the Americans and at which all the cabinet ministers were present. Admiral Cotton, who was seated with Admiral Furguson, and the other officers, made a speech during which he eulogized Portugal and thanked the officials for the hearty reception accorded to the American warships. He also referred to the excellent accounts of a petty squabble which occurred between the police and some sailors ashore and declared that the relations between the two forces were most friendly. The minister of foreign affairs, the minister of marine and United States Minister, Bryan also made speeches.

Admiral Cotton and his officers will entertain a large number of Portuguese ladies at a reception on the Brocklyn August 4 and Minister Bryan will give a garden party August 5.

AUTOS FOR VISITORS.
 Big Machines to Carry Passengers from Hotels to World's Fair.

St. Louis, July 29.—An automobile service, carrying visitors to the World's Fair grounds, will add to the transportation facilities of the exposition at St. Louis next year. At least 200 machines will carry passengers along the line between streets and parks of the city and discharge them at points of vantage within the grounds. A company called the World's Fair Automobile Company, has been organized for this purpose, with Lilburn G. McNair as president. The machines to be used will carry from two to forty passengers each and steam, gasoline and electricity will be the motive power. The large machines will be in the style of trolleybuses. These vehicles will collect passengers at the hotels, Union station and other points in the downtown district. Coupon tickets will be sold entitling the passenger to a ride and admission to the World's Fair grounds. Stations will be provided at suitable points within the exposition grounds for discharging and collecting passengers. Automobiles will also be operated within the grounds over certain routes at a specified rate of speed. This service will be of great advantage to visitors, taking them practically from their hotels, saving them the trouble of buying tickets in the crush at the gates and the crowds at the turnstiles, and landing them within the grounds thoroughly rested and ready for sightseeing.

VETERAN WOMAN ENJOINED
 Mrs. Pressler, of Toledo, O., Alleges False Ejection Is Planned.

Toledo, O., July 29.—The local courts have placed a temporary injunction on the National Veteran Women of America, restraining the order from expelling Mrs. Susan E. Pressler. Mrs. Pressler in her petition states that she found in the order and was its first president, but that there has arisen, within its ranks, a cabal of women who have brought charges against her affecting her moral character. She says that if the charges are preferred and acted upon without a fair trial it will appear to substantiate them. Mrs. Pressler furnishes bond to have the case in issue the injunction is not made permanent.

POLICE PRACTICE FOR COMING BALL GAME.

and the challenge has been accepted. They have to admit it, but they are almost sure they will look like 30 cents in Confederate coin after the game. Bets are nine to one that it will be the only game played by the police men.

Uncle Andrew Dupree got a cruel shock in police court last evening. Uncle Andrew is supposed to be a jointer of the persistent type and the court made a horrible example of him. Instead of the minimum of $100 and 30 days, he got just double that amount on one count.

Frank Ferguson thought he needed a gun, but he was mistaken. The weapon was the cause of ten dollars' worth of grief to the owner.

A gentleman called upon the police this morning to assist in firing his hired girl. He had discovered that she was in the habit of putting loose articles belonging to the family in her trunk. Having read reports of the burglarious Sunday night stories about the danger of firing an over-loaded hired girl, the gentleman called for an expert. John Lewis was chosen as the expert.

The police have received word from W. D. Kier of Los Angeles, Cal., concerning his wife who is supposed to be in this locality. She left Junction City June 15, presumably to visit relatives near Topeka, but has not been heard from since. Mr. Kier says that he fears his wife is slightly demented on religious subjects.

ABOUT TO VISIT HOLLAND.
 Head of Trappist Monastery at New Mellary, Iowa, Goes to Europe.

Dubuque, Ia., July 29.—Abbot Albric Dunlop of the Trappist monastery at New Mellary, just outside Dubuque, has left for Holland, where abbots of the Trappist monasteries of the entire world will be in conference in August. On account of the expulsion of religious orders from France, the abbot will visit that country in the hope of securing recruits for the New Mellary monastery, the membership of which has been decreasing rapidly. The object of the conference is not known.

POLICE JOTTINGS.
 Officers Enjoyed a Good Old Fashioned Joint Raid.
 Five Bartenders Were Gathered Into the Hold-Over.
 UNRULY HIRED GIRL.
 Police Were Called Upon to Help Discharge Her.
 Andrew Dupree Was Fined $200 by Judge Hamilton.

The regular field night for jointists was last night. The great trouble with pulling joints is the scarcity of men to make the pinch. It takes three men to a warrant, and warrants are usually served in bunches of five. It is hard scraping to get a dozen officers at night, so the raiding business is something of a nuisance.

Last night Messrs. Matt Cave, Jos. Allen, Fred Branner, C. W. Mann and Ike Kicker were gathered. As a rule the officers only brought a sample of the brew on tap to use as evidence. None of the booze dealers were locked up, with the exception of Kicker, who failed to secure bond. It was late in the evening, almost if not quite bed time, when the good people were brought in. Their trusty retainers at once picked out to get bond, and then hit the boulevard for Judge Hamilton's residence in Potwin to get them approved. They all succeeded except Kicker's agent, who was five minutes late. He arrived at the court's residence with the bond, but it was not good for some reason, and he had to hurry back to town and get another one. When he left the court at that time limit on his return, and although he made a goodly effort he didn't make it within the accepted time. The court had retired to his couch and peaceful slumber. Therefore it was up to the jailer to furnish Mr. Kicker with a lodging for the night. All booze parlor cases were continued until Monday.

The court failed to convict Mrs. Johanna Dupree-Clay-Adams on a nuisance count this morning. The officers testified that they raided the Adams home they found beer and booze in plenty, but nothing which indicated that it was being sold. The case against "Bea" Adams, husband of the other defendant, was also dismissed.

It would seem that the only thing left for Bess Lane to do is to purchase a pair of wings. A ferocious landlord chased her out of her happy-home, the coppers chase her out of the park, and then she was arrested. The usual happened to her last night. It has been reported that it would be the case of her negro lover, Haytl Weatherly, to take her away to the seashore, thereby ridding the town of two "birds" at one swoop.

Mr. Streeter, the prodigal husband who home Monday and introduced himself by chopping up his wife's sewing machine, is sorry that it ever occurred. It would be very hard indeed to explain being sold satisfactorily, and he was unable to make good with the court. Disturbing the peace comes high on some occasions, and this was one of them. Fifty, please.

A MARRIAGE TANGLE.
 Chicago Woman Must Give Up All to Former Wife of Late Husband.

Winamac, Ind., July 29.—Mrs. Courtney of Chicago, the second wife of John E. Courtney, late of this city, will be forced to give up valuable property in this county to Mrs. Courtney, the first wife of the same man. It has been discovered that Courtney was not divorced from his first wife, although by an error in the newspaper, he supposed to have been. Mrs. Courtney, his first wife, believed the same.

In 1888 Mr. Courtney brought proceedings for divorce against his wife, Janet Courtney. Soon after the proceedings were instituted the couple separated. Mr. Courtney going to Kansas and his wife to Vermont. As both were absent from Indiana their respective attorneys in consultation withdrew the cases, both of their clients being non-residents. The only newspaper in the county, however, by a mistake announced that a decree had been granted and friends of the couple sent them copies of this newspaper.

DEATH OF DR. KNIGHT.
 Laramie, Wyo., July 29.—Dr. Wilbur Clifton Knight, professor of geology and mining engineering at the University of Wyoming and curator of the state museum, died last night, at 6:59 o'clock of pneumonia. He was born at Rochelle, Ill., December 13, 1858, and was graduated from the University of Nebraska. He was a fellow of the Geological Society of America, a member of the American Mining Institute of Engineers and a member of the Geographical Society of America.

PETROLEUM WORKS BURN.
 Baku, Russian Trans-Caucasia, July 29.—The extensive petroleum works at Batakhamy have been burned. The fire is believed to have been of incendiary origin. Large numbers of boring towers and reservoirs of naphtha were destroyed, including those belonging to Nobel Bros. and to the Caspian companies.

HOME FROM THE POINT
 Norman Ramsey Is Spending First Furlough in Topeka.

A West Point cadet, who is an object of awe and wonder to the ordinary civilian and of wonderful admiration to womankind the world over, may have his unformidable moments. Norman Ramsey, of Topeka, who is at home from the United States military academy for his first furlough, and who is having almost all the buttons snatched off his clothes by the summer girls, puts in the time when he is not at the club or in the garden, in his honor mowing the lawn and hoeing the garden at the home of his father, J. A. Ramsay, 1511 West Sixth avenue.

NORMAN RAMSAY.
 But whether he wears the regimentals of the West Point cadet on dress parade, or the khaki trousers and shirt waist in which he weeds his mother's garden, Norman Ramsey is a fine, handsome figure of a young fellow, and looks "every inch of him a soldier and a man."

For a young man just a little past his majority, Norman Ramsey has had something of a career. Unlike most of the West Pointers, this Topeka boy knows something of actual war and realizes that a military career means something besides gold and glory and fond, fatuous female hero worshipers. He has experienced the long monotony of life in camp or barracks in time of peace, and he has seen active service. He has tramped a day through miles of marshy rice fields, mopped on a spoonful of embalmed beef and a piece of hardtack at night and slept in a driving rain with another comrade under the same poncho. He has heard the Mauser bullets whizzing about his ears and peppering a bamboo fence behind him and has looked to the right or the left just long enough to see a comrade go over with a groan beside him. He knows what outpost duty in time of war, which is wandering shadow magnifies itself to the nervous fancy as a creeping enemy with a vicious bolo knife.

In 22 boats an skirmishes of the Philippine Insurrection Norman Ramsey fought with the famous Twentieth Kansas and received with the others when the regiment was mustered out the honorable discharge reading "Honest and faithful," which is one of the finest tributes a man can be paid.

Norman Ramsey left the high school to join the Twentieth Kansas when the regiment came back he returned to his studies and was graduated with the class of 1900. The next year he was appointed cadet-at-large for Kansas and he has now been at the Point two years and is enjoying his first furlough. He is what the cadets call a "Yearling." He has been home for six weeks and his furlough will last about three weeks longer. Then back for his junior year.

There are ten Kansas men at the United States Military Academy, and although they have no club or organization they "hang together" pretty generally and uphold the honor of Kansas among the other cadets. No one of the Kansas present delegates has distinguished himself in scholarship. They're all "good fellows" and good average students but none of them is rated as a star. The Kansas boys from the different congressional districts are Earl McFarland of Topeka, from the First district, appointed last year; Donald C. Cubblison of Kansas City, a brother of Senator J. C. Cubblison, from the Second district; Andy Candy, of Independence, a "pleb" just appointed from the Third district; Sidney Guthrie of Marysville, Fourth district; Arthur H. C. C. of Lawrence, Fourth district; Matthew A. Cross of Ellis, Sixth district, and Arthur D. Minnick of Wichita, Seventh district. The two senatorial appointees are Walter S. Dwyer of Lawrence and Merrill E. Spaulding of Concordia. Calvin P. Titus, who scaled the wall at Pekin, is from Wichita, and although appointed by the president and not counted among the Kansas delegates he always calls himself a Kansas man and goes with the Kansas crowd at West Point.

SMALL DOCKET.
 District Court Calendar Contains 254 Cases for Trial.
 Judge Hazen Makes Low Record for Coming Term.
 SMALLEST IN 20 YEARS
 Largest Docket on Record Numbered 1,407 Cases.
 Will Be 40 Criminal and 29 Divorce Trials.

The docket for the September term of the district court was completed today, and contains 254 cases. Of these, 32 are appeals from decisions of the court of Topeka, 111 are jury cases, 71 are court cases, divorce, injunction, etc., and 40 are criminal. This is the smallest docket of the court for 20 years. The largest docket on record was 1,400 cases.

There are 29 divorce cases pending the time when Judge Hazen is ready to grant or turn down the petitions. The petitioners allege about all the domestic misdemeanors known to any court. Among the criminal cases are two for murder, one manslaughter in the third degree, and a few burglaries.

The case against Nell and Peterson, two asylum attendants who are accused of killing a helpless patient, will come up during the September term. This case was the direct cause of the asylum investigation which was closed Tuesday. There had been a great deal of complaint about the way the asylum was managed and of the treatment of patients, and the death of the patient assaulted by these two attendants, which occurred while the legislature was in session, brought on the investigation.

The other murder case to be tried this term is that against Elmer Mundin, Claude Mundin, Ed Thompson and Cornelius Callahan, young men who were at "Mother" Mahanna's road house on East Fourth street when a young girl, Mary Mahanna, was shot and killed by a member of the party. The preliminary in city court established the fact almost conclusively that Elmer Mundin fired the shot which caused the girl's death, but the prosecution chose to hold the entire gang and try them all as being equally guilty of the crime, after the manner employed in convicting the Chicago Haymarket rioters.

The case against J. A. Shields, a colored physician, who is charged with causing the death of a colored girl by criminal practice, will also have a hearing. The charge against him in the district court is manslaughter in the third degree.

The docket contains three cases against Blanche Boles, the smasher, who celebrated last Valentine's day by breaking the windows of several joints and drug stores. Miss Boles was committed on one charge of this kind, malicious trespass, last term, and given a fine of $100 and 30 days in jail. The case was appealed and she is not in jail.

Two of the visiting pickpockets who attended the president's day parade are in jail awaiting the September term, having been bound over from the court of Topeka. They are Fred Wilson and William Brown, and are charged with larceny from the person of Lincoln Lowry, the negro who shot "Smoke" Williams and Paul Pease in Parkdale last May, will have a hearing on the charge of assault with intent to kill.

George Marla, charged together with E. W. Wilson with selling mortgaged cattle, is slated for trial next term, but attorneys say it is doubtful if the case will come to trial. His partner, Wilson, was convicted about three weeks ago and sentenced to the penitentiary, but appealed to the supreme court.

Homer Woodcock, the Pauline youth who had a mania for shooting valuable horses, will also have a hearing. He is fortunate in having a shorter time to remain in jail than some of the others.

Anthony Peacher, the bad colored man who shot holes in a Union Pacific passenger coach, narrowly missing several passengers, among them Attorney Joseph Waters, will also be tried. The penalty in his case is not great.

Some days ago two little fellows of 7 and 8 years heard other people speaking of skeletons. The 7-year-old boy listened intently to the conversation, when the elder brother, with an air of superior knowledge, said abruptly: "You don't know what a skeleton is and I do."

"So do I!" replied the younger. "I do know. I know for certain. I do." "Well, now, what is it?" "It's bones with the people off!"—Lippincott's.
