COUNTER NUMBER 19 B M RA TIME FILED 9:38 A M CHECK 20

MARSHALL BROS.,
Topeka, Kansas

Memphis, Tenn.

After long, strenuous fight we are declared sole proprietors and distributors of the Nott Hair Formulas. Your order has been shipped.

HESSIG-ELLIS DRUG CO.

The secret of the wonderful NOTT Hair Formulas has never been out of the possession of the Hessig-Ellis Drug Co. There are two formulas—one for Q-BAN HAIR RESTORER, the other for Q-BAN HAIR TONIC. The long strenuous fight to which the above telegram refers, has been carried on by several wholesale druggists at an expenditure of a great many thousand dollars. This shows the opinion of these wonderful remedies held by those who KNOW.

We have just received a large consignment of both the Hair Restorer and the Hair Tonic and offer them for sale under the iron-clad, money-back guarantee that if Q-BAN HAIR RESTORER fails in a single instance to change gray hair back to its natural color, or if Q-BAN HAIR TONIC does not stop falling hair, eradicate dandruff and cure scalp troubles, we will return promptly the money paid for either.

Better begin using these remedies immediately. Delays are disastrous.
Price of Q-BAN HAIR TONIC $1.00 per bottle. Price of Q-BAN HAIR RESTORER 50c per bottle.
Don't forget to ask for the "money-back" guarantee when you buy.

JONES GETS A RHINO.

Plainsman Also Ropes Giraffes, Leopards and Cheetahs.

New York, April 1.—A cablegram from Nairobi, British East Africa, from Buffalo Jones, the Kansas plainsman, who headed a party to Africa, the scene of Theodore Roosevelt's hunting exploits, where it is now engaged in lassoing wild animals instead of slaying them, was received today by F. W. Bird, a lawyer, at No. 31 Nassau street. According to the cablegram, the venture is proving a success. Buffalo Jones says he and his associates have lassoed a number of rhinos, giraffes, leopards, cheetahs and other animals, all of which will be shipped to the United States.

One rhino bull is reported to have charged the photographer and other members of the party scores of times, but no one was injured. The country of the lion and buffalo will be invaded this week and several captures of importance are expected. Buffalo says he sets 'em every throw.

In the expedition, which is financed by Charles S. Bird, a wealthy manufacturer of East Walpole, Mass., are Guy H. Scull, a Harvard man; Marshall D. Lovejoy, a cattle man of Roswell, N. M.; Ambrose I. Means, a cow puncher of southern Arizona, and Arthur A. Fowler, an iron merchant and hunter.

MANY WANT TICKETS.

No Trouble to Dispose of Jeffries-Johnson Seats.

New York, April 1.—John J. Gleason, partner of "Tex" Rickard in promoting the Jeffries-Johnson prize fight, said today that while not a ticket had been sold for the contest which is to take place at Emeryville, Cal., on July 4, demand for reservations had been received from many parts of the world. "We have even a request from China for 150 seats," said Gleason, "and Hugh McIntosh is to bring a big delegation from Australia. A man in Macon, Ga., has asked for seats for himself and wife.

"We have made arrangements with all railroads whereby those who travel to see the contest may pay for their seats at the same time they get their railroad tickets and their seat coupons will be attached to their railroad tickets. We will have no trouble in selling all the seats from $5 to $50 each."

CARNEGIE IN PITTSBURG

Says He Has Been Stormed by Reporters During Entire Trip.

Pittsburg, April 1.—Andrew Carnegie and party arrived here from Chicago at 9:15 o'clock this morning and were taken in automobiles to the Hotel Schenley, where they will remain during their four days' stay in this city. As Mr. Carnegie stepped from his private car at the Union station he was besieged by reporters and photographers. He said: "I have been stormed by reporters ever since I left for the west coast and I think you Pittsburgers might let me have my rest here without wanting me to talk all the time."

VILLAGE WIPED OUT.

Stream of Lava Overflows 50 Houses at Cavilero.

Catania, April 1.—A river of lava from the active crater of Mt. Etna today invaded Lizi plain, flowing in the direction of Cisterna and Regina. Boorello does not appear to be in danger. Another stream is advancing slowly toward Mount Nocella. Late today the lavatic flow engulfed Cavilero, a village of 50 houses. The inhabitants escaped.

FINDS HER SANE.

Lunacy Body Reports Mary Vollstedt of Sound Mind.

Assailant of Street Car Man to Face Jury This Term.

SHE IS A STUDY TO HIM

Dr. L. M. Powell Thinks Woman Should Not Be Imprisoned.

Law Prevents Doctors From Finding Her Insane.

Mrs. Mary O. Vollstedt, assailant of Conductor L. H. Daniels was found not insane by a lunacy commission today and will be tried as a criminal during the April term of the district court, which begins Monday.

It was the opinion of the doctors that neither the asylum nor the penitentiary was a suitable place for the patient. Compelled to act under the statute defining "insane," however, the commission was forced to find her sane.

Drs. L. M. Powell and S. A. Johnson, as witnesses, branded the Kansas definition of insanity as weak and lame, regretting also that the state provides no place of detention for patients of this class.

Detention for a year in some suitable place, and following that a new trial for sanity giving ample time to determine whether or not the court room demeanor of Mrs. Vollstedt was sham, was prescribed by both physicians as the proper procedure in the case.

Both medical men concurred, in reply to questions, in their opinion that the woman would not be able within the brief period of thirty days to conduct a defence in a criminal action, or to suggest to her attorneys evidence to be obtained, or to intelligently testify for herself.

Dr. Powell, whose opinion and testimony has been awaited because he had performed a delicate operation upon the woman, gave his opinion today that she is now sane. He had thought her peculiar during a year's stay at the asylum, but without the act of shooting Daniels and the circumstances thereof showing the effect of such personalities, he would not have judged her insane.

A Study to Him. "She was a study to me," he said. "She would talk quite intelligently about most topics. But there was something in her make up which suggested a woman of no responsibility. She seemed not to appreciate that she was a wife and the head of a home, I noticed.

"The shooting was neither the act of a criminal nor of an insane person—simply evidence of a weak mind. The act of an undeveloped child. It occurs to me as strange that she should show an indifference to the crime after incarceration."

Dr. S. A. Johnson, appointed examining physician by Judge Schoch, testified for the commissioners and the judge what his findings and opinions were.

"One witness testifies of severe sickness," he said, "but that would hardly be sufficient to cause insanity. She fell once, she says, but there was no harm from that. My opinion is that under the statute there the woman can not be called insane. I believe it is capable of any act at any time under impulse without any excuse for it. I think she knows right from wrong and is responsible for her conduct, but under impulse would not control her own will."

"She has a child's mind, but under the law I think she ought to go to the penitentiary. It is my opinion that it is better for the state to have her provided for this class of social menace. There ought to be a place of detention for them different from those for criminals."

What the Law Says. The statute of the state of Kansas defining "insane" and under which commissions in lunacy have labored in such cases as those of Mary Vollstedt, Fred Evans, and other weak minded persons, and to which physicians refer as lame and weak, follows:

General statutes 1905, Section 7589. The word "insane" in this act shall be construed to mean any person whose mind, by reason of brain sickness, has become unbalanced, rendering such person incapable of managing or caring for his own estate or rendering him dangerous to himself or others, or who is in such condition of mind or body as to be a fit subject for care and treatment in a hospital for brain disease or insanity.

No person idiotic from birth, or whose mental development was arrested by disease or physical injury prior to the age of puberty, and no person who is afflicted with simple epilepsy, shall be regarded as insane, unless the manifestations of abnormal excitability, violence or homicidal or suicidal impulses are such as to render such restrictions called for and find the afflicted, as herein provided, a proper precaution to prevent him from injuring others or himself.

The lunacy commission, which under such restriction could not find Mrs. Vollstedt insane, was composed of Dr. O. P. Davis and Dr. L. A. Ryder.

FIVE CARS BLOWN UP.

Dynamite Is Again in Use on Philadelphia Streets.

Philadelphia, April 1.—Five cars were dynamited in this city during last night and early today. Windows were shattered but no one was injured. The company has offered a reward of $500 for the arrest and conviction of any one placing explosives on the tracks. John Mitchell, accompanied by Dennis Hayes, fourth vice president of the American Federation of Labor, went to New York today. It is rumored a meeting of labor leaders may be held there today and another effort made to settle the Philadelphia street car strike. The police department has refused a permit for a parade of women strikers on Saturday, but preparations for the march are being made.

Judge Holmes Dead. Kansas City, Mo., April 1.—George Holmes, judge of the Jackson county court, died at his home here today, aged 77 years. He was a pioneer live stock dealer here, having retired from that business in 1900.

ADVICE FOR MR. MURDOCK.

Insurge If You Must, but Be Moderate, Said Myra McHenry.

Washington, April 1.—"Victor, I'm glad to see that you're not smoking today."

Thus was the Kansas insurgent representative, Victor Murdock, accosted by a trim little old lady with a black satin sunshade, as he was leaving the house office building in great haste just before noon yesterday, in order to reach the floor in time for the opening. It was Mrs. Myra McHenry of Wichita, the congressman's home, and she wanted to talk to him about loss of things. Mr. Murdock had to forego the opening of the house, for Mrs. McHenry, who was at one time Mrs. Carrie Nation's right hand in the Kansas anti-whisky fight, is an insistent conversationalist. "I am trying to stop smoking," Mrs. McHenry, said the congressman. "I find that I was doing a little too much of it."

"Oh, Victor, I'm so glad," she answered. "Now, I want you to quit insurging, too, but if you must insurge, don't insurge all the time; be moderate about it. Be temperate. I know your mother well, Victor, and she would be better pleased if you wouldn't insurge so much. Really, I don't believe she'd like it at all if she knew how you were going on."

Mr. Murdock bowed and hastened to the house. Mrs. McHenry is almost as much of a regular as Uncle Joe Cannon," he said.

BRIGHT FOR MINERS

Indianapolis, Ind., April 1.—The miners in the bituminous coal fields of the United States today divided their time between celebrating the anniversary of the eight hour work day and serious deliberation with the operators of the coal mines as to methods and terms of settlement on a new wage contract. Until the new contract is signed the mines will be closed, 300,000 men will be idle and serious inconvenience will be caused to industry and business. Disasters from the districts in which the work has been suspended, indicated that the miners in the general view, were making progress toward realizing their demand for an increase of wages of 5 cents a ton.

From Dubois, Pa., came the news that the operators and miners had agreed. At Terre Haute there seemed no doubt that on Wednesday the operators would grant the miners' demand. The situation in Iowa and Ohio also seemed to promise a fair prospect. The difficulties in the southwest, western Pennsylvania, Illinois, likely will be more troublesome in their solution.

Railroads Are Hampered.

Danville, Ill., April 1.—The suspension of work in the coal mines already has had its effect upon the railroads in this territory. The Chicago & Eastern Illinois railroad laid off 25 freight train crews, the Chicago, Indiana & Southern 10 crews and the Big Four 10 crews. As the strike continues more crews will be withdrawn, the companies say.

PLEADS NOT GUILTY.

New York, April 1.—Albert W. Wolter today pleaded not guilty to an indictment charging him with murdering 15-year-old Ruth Wheeler, after two motions to throw out the indictment had been made by his counsel and denied by Judge Mulqueen. Wolter was remanded to the Tombs. Assistant District Attorney Frank Moss says he will be ready to go on with the prosecution by April 11.

The police today reported that they had traced another girl to Wolter's flat, but are unable to find out who became of her. The detectives give her name as Elsie Schwartz, who is said to have called on Wolter the day before Ruth Wheeler was killed.

Overcharge for Grain Shipments.

Complaint had been made to the state railway board about the practice of certain railroads of the state, especially the Union Pacific, to charge a shipper full capacity weight for a carload of grain. Often the grain does not weigh up to the capacity of the car upon which it is loaded, but the shipper must pay for that weight. The board has reached an agreement with the road that hereafter the car is not loaded to capacity that only the actual weight of the grain shall be charged for.
