WHITE ELEPHANT.

State Has One on Its Hands, Says Nation.

Heating Plant Is Proving a Costly Experiment.

THE BILLS RUN HIGH.
About $26,000 a Year to Keep It Running.

Need $20,000 More to Make Needed Improvements.

The next legislature will have another public utilities problem to solve besides that of control of utilities.

It is none other than the state's own lighting and heating plant here in Topeka.

The plant cost originally $35,000, so the interest on the money invested amounts to $3,000 per year.

These figures bring the total cost to the state for the light and heating plant up to the round sum of $38,000 per year.

The service is only fair, there being a vigorous "kick" from many of the officers in cold weather and suspended elevator service some of the time.

It is said that the state has been offered light and power for the capitol building for $1,000 a month.

The next legislature likely will be called upon to appropriate $20,000 to be used in digging a tunnel and laying new pipes from the heating plant to the state house.

When this bill comes up for discussion it likely will bring forth the aforementioned facts in connection with state ownership of the light and heating plant.

Does it pay? Will be the question asked by the legislators.

The auditor is wondering what to tell the Indiana man in this connection.

The state executive council has charge of affairs relating to the heating plant and they occupy about one-half of the entire time and are responsible for most of its worries and gray hairs.

It is not likely that the council will make any recommendations. In this connection, the legislature, that body can dispose of the question on its merits.

It may give the $20,000 without a murmur, or it may spend a week on the $20,000 item and hear committee reports on the little plant at the corner of Tenth and Jackson.

SHERMAN IS CONTENT.
Vice President Says Saratoga Platform Is a Good One.

Utica, Sept. 29.—Vice President Jas. S. Sherman of this city, in speaking of the state convention said:

"I am entirely content with the result of the Saratoga convention. The platform is exceptionally clear and forceful save only in reference to direct nominations.

In that regard it needs an explanation of its meaning and explanation will differ. I prefer the minority plank which was clear and unequivocal in declaration.

The ticket named is most excellent. Of course the convention was dominated by one man and his every action was taken at his bidding. That, however, I regard as not basic. I accept the result completely and shall of course support the ticket nominated."

FUNERAL OF CHAVEZ IS HELD

Great Demonstration for the Daring Aviator Who Flew Over Alps.

Domodossola, Sept. 29.—The funeral of George Chavez, the South American aviator, who was fatally injured after having accomplished the unprecedented feat of flying from Switzerland over the Alps to Italy, was held today.

The occasion was remarkable in the matter of tributes paid to the courage of the youth. General Spingard, Italian minister of war, sent a special representative and the populace of the town and surrounding country followed the body to the church.

Floral tributes came from all parts of Europe and thousands of peasants, tramped down the mountain sides with arms full of mountain flowers.

One little girl laid on the casket a bunch of Edelweiss, that blooms alone amid the eternal snows of the Alps, bound with a ribbon, on which had been written, "Gathered among the mountain peaks over which you flew."

An autopsy revealed that the aviator's heart was displaced by the shock of the fall when a wing of his aeroplane collapsed as he was attempting to alight.

BROOKINS BEATS TRAIN.

Aviator Has No Trouble to Keep Ahead of Special Train.

Gilman, Sept. 29.—Greeting the passengers on the special train at Gilman, Aviator Brookins expressed chagrin at his failure to bring more oil for his engine, saying had he provided sufficient he could have maintained his flight to Springfield without effort.

The special train was held at Gilman until Brookins was about ready to resume his flight, and during the regular race between the train and airship ensued.

The aviator went up about 1,500 to 2,000 feet, following directly above the train. At Thawville the train was even with Brookins but during the regular stop the aeroplane passed almost a mile ahead.

At Guthrie, passed by Brookins at 1:25 he was two miles ahead of the special.

Gilman, 19 miles from Gilman, was passed at 1:36 and Harpster 114 miles from Chicago and 24 from Gilman at 1:45.

Brookins passed Bellflower, 40 miles from Gilman at 1:55 and flew over Weedman, 125 miles from Chicago at 2:07.

In passing Weedman, 46 miles from Gilman, the aviator had completed two-thirds of his flight to Springfield and had maintained his schedule throughout. He was one minute ahead of the special train.
